☞ We learn that the Union men of this city and vicinity purpose attending in force a Union mass meeting at Kittery on Wednesday evening next. The Portsmouth Cornet Band and the Band at Fort Constitution will furnish the music and escort the delegations from this city and Newcastle. They will march over and all having torches are expected to bring them along. Speeches are expected from Hons. John A. Peters of Bangor, E. H. Rollins of Concord, and others.

☞ We acknowledge the Corn—two handsome ears of the Dutton variety, the first ripe corn we have seen—from Mr. G. C. Berry, of Rye; gathered Sept. 1st, a few days later than last year. He also dug a bushel of potatoes from 32 hills, a day or two since—and don't seem to think that we are to have a famine yet, despite the croakers.

☞ Should the Draft be commenced today in this District, we shall publish the result in the Chronicle to-morrow morning, and continue the same daily.—Price of the Chronicle during the draft, 10 cts. per copy; to subscribers, extra copies 5 c. Usual price 5 cents—to subscribers 3 cts. $3 per year, in advance.

BENEFIT OF MR. S. E. BROWNE.—The celebrated tragedy of Richard 3d, with a laughable farce, will be performed at the Temple this evening, for the benefit of Mr. S. E. Browne. It is needless to call the attention of our readers to the fact, as the single announcement of Browne's benefit is sufficient to fill the hall to overflowing.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,

and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Many years have abundantly shown us to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their mitigating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the latent impurities which breed and give contagion, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing testimonials for their neighborhoods of the cures of their cases of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all disorders which require a general medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstructions of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they say are just as good on. Demand AYER's and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Brackett Hutchings, J. H. Thacher, W. E. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists. Jy2tiuSw2m 7u

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,
and the best remedy ever prepared for
Diseases of the Liver,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with considerable medical science and a knowledge of the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves purgent and disagreeable, are by a new and scientific process of the inhalation of ether (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicines. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new discoveries in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are found through the stomach and bowels, half-dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain in the parts connected with their operation.

One pill dissolved, remains entire, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy and vigorous action to the Stomach and Bowels, Liver, Lungs, Kidneys, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions through the whole system.

A single pill will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance for a short period. A second pill will produce a DIAPHORETIC effect, which will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or clear SCROFULOUS ERUPTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It invites the various organs of the system to set their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM, GOUT, FEVER, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions to their diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common use, that which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the ills which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS; the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1825.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to any person who may not be benefited by the use of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 12 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston. ap8—3moeds&W

CHEROKEE REMEDY
AND
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in the cases of Fever Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as anally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and will be found invaluable in the cases for which it is used, viz: Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fiour Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all smarting, heat, disease and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or send to us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Price—CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

DR. WRIGHT'S
REJUVENATING ELIXIR.
OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.
Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,
Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern Vegetable Physic, and is the product of being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.

A few doses cure Hysterics in females.

One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.

A few doses restore the organs of generation.

From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.

A few doses restore the appetite.

Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.

A few doses cure the low spirited.

One bottle restores mental power.

A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, broken-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The listless enervated youth, the over-tasked man or woman, the nervous invalid, the depressed, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir of Essence of Life.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express, on receipt of money, to any address.

CHEROKEE PILLS!
SUGAR-COATED.
FEMALE REGULATOR.
Health Preserver!!
CERTAIN AND SAFE.

☞ For the Removal of Obstructions, and the Insurance of Regularity in the Recurrence of the Monthly Periods.

They cure or obviate those numerous diseases that spring from irregularity, by removing the irregularity itself.

They cure Suppressed, Excessive and Painful Menstruation.

They cure Green Sickness (Chlorosis).

They cure Nervous and Spinal Affections, pains in the back and lower parts of the body, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, Giddiness, &c., &c. In a word, by removing the irregularity, they remove the cause and with it ALL the effects that spring from it.

Containing a simple vegetable extract, they contain nothing deleterious to any constitution, however delicate, their function being to substitute strength for weakness, which, when properly used, they never fail to do.

They may be safely used at any age and at any period, except during the first three months of pregnancy, which the unfailing nature of their action would infallibly prevent pregnancy.

All letters seeking information or advice will be promptly and discreetly answered.

Full directions accompany each box.

☞ Price $1 per box, or six boxes for $5.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top, there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the abundant supply of air brought in the block, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best heat, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

ESTABLISHED 1852. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY, SEPT. 6, 1864. VOL. XXV. No. 56

The Chronicle.

"YOU FIRST, SIR."—It will be remembered that the noble Com. Craven was among the victims of the torpedo explosion which sent his vessel—the monitor Tecumseh—to the bottom of Mobile Bay. A correspondent states that at the time of the explosion the gallant commander was at his post of duty in the pilot house, and as the iron vessel went down, the pilot and himself naturally moved towards the only place of exit. But even in that hour of peril, when the surging waters were rushing into the open ports and into the demolished portions of the vessel, the brave Craven was cool and undismayed, and turning to his companion mildly remarked, "You first, Sir." This command was obeyed, and the pilot was saved; but he, for whom every patriot now mourns, unable to extricate himself from his iron cage, disappeared beneath the waves. Among the many acts of heroism which have been displayed during the rebellion, none have been more brilliant than that, and the historian, in recording the part which has been taken by the navy in this contest for right and liberty, can but accord to the brave Craven the position upon the list of its victims which he accorded to his pilot when he himself passed into eternity.

The platform adopted by the convention and the speeches of the delegates are all one way. They are for peace and opposition to the war, while the platform and resolutions of the convention which nominated Mr. Lincoln are for a vigorous prosecution of the war. This, then, is the issue—peace or war; and this is the question the people will be called upon to decide in casting their votes for Gen. McClellan or for Abraham Lincoln.

The Herald does not indicate its future course, but (as a cotemporary remarks,) the peace platform of the convention is antagonistic to its expressed views, and the nomination of McClellan is a bitter pill. How can War Democrats support the Chicago ticket? The issue is a disgraceful peace, or war till armed rebellion is suppressed. It is submission on the part of the North, or the destruction of the power of the rebel leaders, exercised through treasonable organizations at the North, as well as in the rebel States. It is a disruption of the Union and reconstruction with New England left out or "One Country, One Constitution and One Destiny."

A German locksmith has a plan for making strong boxes without keys. Inside the box is placed a clock-work, the hand of which the owner places at the hour and minute when he wants access to the box. The clock-work begins to move as soon as the lid is shut, and opens the lock from the inside at the moment which the hand of the clock indicates. Time, dependent upon the owner, is the key to the lock, a key which can neither be stolen from him nor imitated.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that success is MORE EFFECTUAL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful solicitors with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMOND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN of which, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself.
Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making their Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The President has issued four congratulatory orders in relation to the recent glorious Union successes at Atlanta and Mobile. He recommends that Sunday next be observed as a day of Thanksgiving to God; also of Prayer for Divine protection to our brave soldiers and their leaders in the field, and for blessing and comfort to the sick, wounded, and prisoners, and to the orphans and widows of those who have fallen. He also tenders the national thanks to Adm. Farragut and Gens. Canby and Granger, and their officers, and sailors, and soldiers; and to Gen. Sherman and his officers and soldiers. And he directs that on Tuesday, 6th, at 12 o'clock, a salute of 100 guns be fired at each Arsenal and Navy Yard in the United States for the brilliant achievements at Mobile; and on Wednesday, at noon 100 guns at each Arsenal for the successes at Atlanta.

A Mobile dispatch of Wednesday last says six of Farragut's vessels were then lying close to Dog River Bar and in plain sight of the city.

Sec. Stanton communicates Gen. Sherman's official report of the capture of Atlanta. It is dated 26 miles south of Atlanta, Saturday morning, and says:

The army withdrew from about Atlanta on the 30th—made a break on the West Point road and reached a good position from which to strike the Macon road, the right (Howard) near Jonesboro', the left (Schofield) near Rough and Ready, and the centre (Thomas) at Couch's. Howard found the enemy in force at Jonesboro' and intrenched his troops, the salient within half a mile of the railroad. The enemy attacked him at 3 P. M. and was easily repulsed, leaving his dead and wounded. Finding strong opposition on the road, I advanced the left and centre rapidly to the railroad, made a good lodgment and broke it all the way from Rough and Ready down to Howard's left near Jonesboro', and by the same movement I interposed my whole army between Atlanta and the part of the enemy intrenched in and around Jonesboro'. We made a general attack on the enemy at Jonesboro', Sept. 1, the 14th corps, Jeff. C. Davis, carrying the works handsomely with ten guns and about one thousand prisoners. In the night, the enemy retreated South, and we have followed him to another of his hastily constructed lines near Lovejoy Station. Hood, at Atlanta, finding me on his road—the only one that could supply him, and between him and a considerable part of his army—blew up his magazines in Atlanta and left in the night time, when the 20th corps, Gen. Slocum, took possession of the place—so Atlanta is ours and fairly won. Since the 5th of May we have been in one constant battle or skirmish, and need rest. Our losses will not exceed 1200, and we have possession of over 300 rebel dead 250 wounded and over 1500 well.

A later dispatch from Gen. Slocum, dated at Atlanta, Sept. 3d, 9 P. M., states that the enemy, on evacuating Atlanta, destroyed 7 locomotives and 81 cars loaded with ammunition, small arms and stores, and left 14 pieces of artillery, most of them uninjured, and a large number of small arms. Deserters are constantly coming into our lines.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept 3, 1864.

Dear Chronicle:—

I have reliable private information confirming the rumor current several days since, that a commissioner from the Georgia State Government had passed through Gen. Sherman's lines, and which enables me to state further that this commissioner has been received at Washington, and his official documents tending to the restoration of Georgia to the Union, been approved by the President, and that he returned two days since.

The propositions embrace five distinct points—of the particulars of which I am advised—but am not at liberty to make them public at present.

No work need be expected from Sherman while these negotiations are pending. N.

☞ The U. S. frigate Niagara has seized the rebel steamer Georgia, 20 miles off Lisbon, for which port she recently sailed from Liverpool. The Niagara landed her captain and crew at Dover; put a prize crew on board and sent her to New York. When seized the steamer was under the British flag, and her captain has entered a protest against the seizure. There was a doubtful rumor in England that the British Government consented to the seizure. The steamer was recently "sold" in England, and sent to Lisbon to carry the mails.

— Gen. Sherman has evidently knocked Hood into a cocked hat. Gen. Grant will soon do the same thing for the "cockade city."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Belknap Gazette, published at Laconia, announces that its publication will cease this week.

—— On Monday morning the house of Mr. Austin, about one mile from the depot in Newton, was burnt by an incendiary. A child of Mr. Austin, 8 months old, perished in the flames. The father is in the army.

—— A petition is being circulated in Manchester, asking the Mayor and Aldermen to fit up rooms in the City Hall building, for the Post Office. It is alleged that the present location does not afford proper accomodation.

—— Last Saturday night Dr. Young, of Deerfield, was arrested for the murder of Sarah M. Atwell, formerly of Manchester, by procuring an abortion. Miss Atwell came to Dr. Young's place from Clinton, Mass., under the name of Fannie. Dr. Young is to be tried on Wednesday.

—— A barn on Court street, Exeter, belonging to the heirs of the late Joseph T. Gilman, was burnt on Saturday night, with about 25 tons of hay, some grain, a cart and wheels, some farming tools, &c. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Insured for $500.

THE LAKE REGION.—The Pemigewasset House, at Plymouth, is quite full, and, the Concord Monitor says, is kept in better style than ever hotel was kept before in the State of New Hampshire. The Pavilion at Wolfborough has also been crowded this season, as it well deserves.—The old favorite Senter House, at Center Harbor, also holds its own A1 position among all the new ones.—And there is no better time to make the trip to the Lake, and vicinity, or the Mountains, than September. The steamers Dover and Lady of the Lake of course run as usual.

We have on our hands now one of the most extensive Indian wars of modern times. Twenty thousand Indian warriors are said to be in arms. They have already murdered more than two thousand whites, destroyed a great amount of property, driven in the settlers on the frontiers, and cut off our means of communication over the Plains.—To suppress this war will call thousands of soldiers from fields where they are needed, and cost millions of money. Why have we this war? It is nonsense to attribute it to Mormons or rebels, British agents or outlaws; it has come from the frauds we have perpetrated upon them, and are now perpetrating. Send honest agents and deal honestly and truly with them, and we shall have no more trouble with the Red Men than William Penn had. We have cheated them, despoiled them of their lands, stolen their money, and shot them down like dogs. Now we are reaping our reward!—We have a war in which we shall kill the rest of them.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The Herald says the Democrats of Newburyport have fixed upon the 17th inst., the anniversary of the adoption of the national constitution, for a universal jubilee in the ratification of the Chicago nominations. It is to be a national affair, and meetings will be held all over the country. They have commenced preparations in Newburyport, raised their money, engaged Gen. Cushing and other speakers, and are getting ready their flags, banners, transparencies, &c. It is expected that the surrounding towns will unite and devote the whole day, after the fashion of a Kentucky barbecue, having a procession in the forenoon, possibly a big clam bake for dinner, speeches in the afternoon and evening, and close with fireworks and illuminations.

TROTTING IN ENGLAND — MATCH AGAINST TIME.—In England recently a Brighton mare called Teddington trotted seventeen miles within the hour. The mare is old and plain-looking, but a good one. Of late she has been in the service of a lady as a saddle mare. It was odds against her at the start, that old Time would beat her; she carried 105 lbs. Although this feat is a mere nothing on paper to that of Trustee and some others in this country, it must not be forgotten that the circumstances were different. Instead of a good, smooth course to go over, the mare's feat was performed on a hilly turnpike road. This must needs make a very great difference, though, as the mare went under saddle, it was not as much against her as pulling a sulky would have been.—Wilkes's Spirit.

— A "life" convict, who had lived 15 years in solitary confinement, died last week in the State Prison of Michigan. He murdered his father 17 years ago.

— Judge Claypool, of Drayton, Ind., granted a divorce a few days ago to a man who ten minutes afterwards obtained a license to marry another woman.

— The Navy Department on Saturday night received a dispatch announcing the burning of the U. S. frigate Brandywine, storeship at Norfolk, with all her stores.

— Last year there were in England and Wales 5995 known thieves at large under sixteen years of age, and 28,261 above that age.

— A German woman recently inquired of a gentleman "where Straight-Ahead street was?" She had been told she would find a store she was looking for "straight ahead." The story is told by a Boston paper, but it couldn't have been in that city, for no one could think of going straight ahead there.

JOSEPH B. MORSS, Esq., of Newburyport, has retired from the editorship of the Boston Traveller, which he has so ably conducted for the past seven years. His adhesion to McClellan is the probable cause; but we hope that he will not retire from journalism. He is among the first and best editors of the country, thoroughly understanding what a newspaper should be, especially for a commercial community, and being able from experience to do and perform all the work thereon, from the setting of the type to the writing of leaders, finished, eloquent, and statesmanly. We had hoped that he would remain in the newspaper field till he should be called to a seat in Congress, to the duties of which he could carry more real and practical ability than can be found in the united delegation of some of the States.—Newburyport Herald.

True, every word of it—and nothing gives us more pleasure than to join our humble meed of commendation with that of the Herald. We had the good fortune to spend a couple of years in that same old Herald office, in the employ of Messrs. Morss & Brewster: and from Mr. Morss we received the first encouragement to start this Chronicle. Mr. Wm. H. Brewster, (a well-known son of Portsmouth,) as treasurer and manager of the Traveller Printing Company, has evinced the same eminent business talent which, conjointly with Mr. Morss' editorial ability, secured the success of the Herald years ago, and has more recently so greatly improved the Traveller in every respect. Mr. M.'s retirement will be a loss to the profession and the public.

P. S. The Traveller of Monday evening states that Mr. Morss has not dissolved his connection with the Traveller, and it is not his intention so to do.

MCCLELLAN AND THE NOMINATIONS. The nomination of Gen. McClellan was informally announced to him at his country residence in Orange, by a procession and serenade of his neighbors. He thanked the assemblage in the following speech:

MY FRIENDS: The events of the day are so new and of such vital importance to us, to our children and our country, that I cannot as yet realize them; nor do I yet fully comprehend the position in which I am placed. I thank you sincerely for coming here, for I know from daily experience the fatiguing walk you have taken and the difficult hill you have had to climb. I am sure that you do not expect me to make a speech. If the action of to-day leads to the results we all expect, I think that you will have no cause to regret what has been done. Most sincerely do I thank you, my friends and neighbors, for this kind visit and these hearty congratulations.

A CURIOUS HARVEST. — A Vienna letter speaks of the crops in Austria as finer than for fifty years past, and then makes the following singular statement:

"Contrary to all expectation, Hungary, which last year suffered so severely from scarcity, will now be sure to have an abundant crop, and already many of the proprietors are offering the authorities to return the loans in corn which were made to them last year for their sowings. This may perhaps be explained by the fact that the land in those countries has lain for a year in fallow. On this subject some rather curious facts are mentioned.—The peasants of the Wallachian countries of the Banat, who are rather lazy, did not cultivate their ground, in consequence of the calamity of last year, because they had neither cattle nor seed. Nevertheless, in one of these districts where nothing was sown, thirty-five thousand meiz (sixty-one litres each) of wheat have been produced. The seed sown two years ago, and which could not sprout last year on account of the drought, has this year grown up quite vigorously. That curious circumstance has inspired the peasants with very singular ideas. They have been heard to say, very seriously, that labor is not absolutely necessary, and that when God wishes to assist men he makes rye and wheat spring up without the necessity of its being sown. In many places the clergy have been obliged to combat those ideas from the pulpit."

In the United Service Museum (Whitehall-yard) are exhibited the "jaws of a shark," wide open and enclosing a tin box. The history of this strange exhibition is as follows:—A King's ship on her way to the West Indies, fell in with and chased a suspicious-looking craft, which had all the appearance of a slaver. During the pursuit the vessel chased threw something overboard. She was subsequently captured and taken to Port Royal to be tried as a slaver. In the absence of the ship's papers and other proofs, the slaver was not only in a fair way to escape condemnation, but the captain was anticipating the recovery of damages against his captor for illegal detention. While the subject was under discussion, a vessel came into port which had followed closely the track of the chase above described. She had caught a shark; and in its stomach was found a tin box which contained the slaver's papers. Upon the strength of this evidence the slaver was condemned. The written account is attached to the box.—New Zealand Paper.

A few days since Dr. Johnson, a physician of Newburyport, who is so much like his twin brother, the City Clerk, that few people can tell one from t'other, was called upon by a young gentleman, with a fair damsel on his arm who was all smiles and blushes, to obtain a certificate of marriage. "Oh," respondied the physician, in his bland manner, "it is my brother that you call on before marriage; my call comes afterwards."

The best exercise is that, in general, which we most like to do.

An editor out West offers his entire establishment, subscribers' accounts, etc., for a clean shirt and a good meal of victuals.—He has been trying the experiment of endeavoring to please everybody.

JOHNSTON'S TACTICS.

Joe Johnston, retreating fell back a long distance.
He thought that for Yankees a "draw game" was good,
So he made what the jokers now call "stern resistance,"
But showed very much that he lacked Hardee Hood. —N. O. Picayune.

REWARD OF MERIT.—Benjamin Balch, Esq., of Newburyport, received by express on Saturday, from a few of the stockholders of the National Banks in Boston, a handsome testimonial for his distinguished services in projecting the law, in the shape of a magnificent gold watch and new beaver hat.—Herald.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce or which we think they can yet been made by anybody. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital energies of the body, cause the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow disease, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the mildest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Numerous testimonials, which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to preclude the suspicion of untruth, from eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for their use, and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Mood and Function of the Bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an efficacious medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstructions of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Make them AYER's and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Brackett Hutchings, J. H. Thacher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists. Jy26eod1w 2m Tu

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for the number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1841

DR. SWEET: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweet's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HAIR" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

Her masts were cut away, and cargo thrown overboard, but after nine days the crew abandoned her, being taken off by the C. Lombert, and landed at Port Stanley.

☞ Engine Companies Nos. 2 and 6 paraded some of the streets last evening, in full uniform, accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, previous to attending, by invitation, Browne's benefit at the Temple. Browne is little, but he can make a stir occasionally, if he tries. All his friends were out, and some of them were in to see him last night.

☞ The supply of Substitutes in this city on Monday was much greater than the demand, and the price accordingly fell.—They were offered at $900, with no takers. Massachusetts' quota being filled, there are more than the usual number of substitutes here, and a good opportunity is thus offered those who wish to put in representative recruits or substitutes.

☞ Saturday, Sunday and Monday were cold enough to render overcoats and fires not uncomfortable. Such weather has a decided tendency to cause a general skedaddling from the Shoals and the Beaches.

☞ The funeral of Carpenter Andrew J. Hough, U. S. N., on Monday afternoon, was attended by the N. H. Lodge of Odd Fellows, and the St. John's Lodge of Free Masons—the Portsmouth Cornet Band furnishing the music.

☞ The Portland Press has turned the U. S. sailing sloop Vandalia into a frigate, and, not content with that, says she has been ordered to this port for recruiting purposes. The Vandalia has been the receiving ship at this station for several months; and persons desiring to enter the naval service can be examined and received here just as well as at Portland or elsewhere. Send them along, if they can't stand the Press in Portland.

☞ Mrs. B. F. Chandler was robbed of her purse containing quite a sum of money, a few days since, while returning from this city to her home in Massachusetts, via the Eastern Railroad.

☞ Acting Master William H. Baldwin, of Nantucket, has been promoted to be Volunteer Lieutenant, and ordered to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, to take command of U. S. schooner Beauregard.

☞ Brown & Pike's Dramatic Company will give their farewell entertainment at the Temple this evening. Their success has been highly flattering. The bill offered this evening is an excellent one, and should attract a large audience.

☞ $300 Reward has been offered for the detection of the miscreants who changed the switch on the C. & P. railroad on Friday morning last.

☞ I. Goodwin Hobbs, of North Berwick, has been appointed an Acting Assistant Paymaster in the Navy.

— Cousin Sal's friends in this part of the country don't rejoice much over the capture of Atlanta, just now.

— There are petitions before the Vermont legislature for charters for five railroads.

— Gen. Sherman has done the biggest thing of the war. He is one of the peace makers.

— Gen. Fry announces that Government bounties will be continued until further orders.

— Deserters from the rebel army are not subject to enrollment and draft, nor are they acceptable as substitutes or recruits.

☞ We learn that the Union men of this city and vicinity purpose attending in force a Union mass meeting at Kittery on Wednesday evening next. The Portsmouth Cornet Band and the Band at Fort Constitution will furnish the music and escort the delegations from this city and Newcastle. They will march over and all having torches are expected to bring them along. Speeches are expected from Hons. John A. Peters of Bangor, E. H. Rollins of Concord, and others.

— Gail Borden, of Winstead, Conn., condenses all the blackberries sent him for the army gratuitously, and furnishes all the sugar at his own expense.

— It is rumored that a revolution may at any moment take place in Spain. At Grenada and at Malaga the shops have been closed several times in fear of a pronunciamento.

— The statement is made on official information that legal tender 5 per cent. coupon treasury notes will be received and accrued interest allowed in payment of subscriptions to the new loan of 1881.

— The famous brown stallion, lately called Robert Fillingham, but whose name is now, by action of his owner, changed to George Wilkes, has been matched to trot with the black gelding Ben Butler, two-mile heats, the best three in five, Sept. 7th, on the N. J. Fashion course, for $10,000. It will be a slashing race, sure; but both horses can't very well beat, though the friends of each feel certain, or back their horses as if they did.

A round of pleasure sometimes renders it difficult to make things square.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

CHRONICLE PRICES AND TERMS.

The price of the Daily Chronicle is $10 a year, or $8 in advance; 75 cents per month—20 cts. per week—5 cents per copy.

The (Weekly) N. H. Gazette $2 per year in advance—6 cents single copy.

Terms Cash—or all bills for Advertising, &c., to be presented at the pleasure of the publisher.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—From this date our Carriers of Subscribers' lists are not allowed to sell copies of the Chronicle, nor to receive pay for any subscriptions, except when furnished by us with receipts for the same,—which will not be given for less term than 1 month, 75 cts., or 3 months $2 in advance. If any prefer to pay weekly, they can do so at our counting room only. Will all concerned please remember this, and thus aid in the more prompt and accurate delivery of our papers. Sept. 1.

STARTLING! BUT TRUE.—The volunteers are braving the dangers of fever, scurvy, wounds and cholera. Many a gallant fellow will leave his bones to bleach, who, by the aid of Holloway's Pills and Ointment, would have returned to his family strong and healthy. Soldiers, try them.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 226

A TRUE AIM.—It has not been the aim of the proprietor of Hunnewell's great preparations, advertised on our inside columns, to base a false reputation by long and unmeaning advertising, but a real one by true results, to which all who try them will cheerfully assent. See advertisement.

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank, "
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We told him a stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

"AM I FOR PEACE? YES"

Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, that grand old democrat of New York, being written to by a lady, and the inquiry being made of him if he was for peace, returned this ringing reply.—(Iron Platform.

For the peace which rings out from the cannon's throat,
And the fusion of shot and shell,
Till rebellion's spirit is trampled down
To the depth of its kindred hell.

For the peace which shall follow the squadron's tramp,
Where the brazen trumpets bray,
And, drunk with the fury of storm and strife,
The blood-red chargers neigh.

For the peace that shall wash out the leprous stain
Of our slavery—foul and grim—
And shall sunder the fetters which crank and clank
On the down-trodden black man's limb.

I will curse him as traitor, and false of heart,
Who would shrink from the conflict now,
And will stamp it with blisting, burning brand
On his hideous, Cain-like brow.

Out! Out of the way! with your spurious peace;
Which would make us rebellion's slaves;
We will rescue our land from the traitorous grasp
Or cover it over with graves.

Out! out of the way with your knavish schemes,
You trembling and trading pack!
Crouch away in the dark like a cowking hound
That its master had beaten back.

You would barter the fruit of our fathers' blood,
And sell our the Stripes and Stars,
To purchase a place with rebellion's votes,
Or escape from rebellion's scars.

By the widow's wall, by the mother's tears,
By the orphans who cry for bread,
By our sons who fall, we will never yield
Till rebellion's soul is dead!

☞ The Springfield Republican mentions a new dodge attempted to be played by a large number of men on Dr. Duncan, surgeon of that district:

They want to get their names from the enrollment, and offer themselves for examination with a category of ailments sufficiently to think of, but none of a kind at all perceptible to the surgeon, who accordingly refuses them exemption. Presently they return, having enlisted, and the same story as before. This time their own confession precludes their acceptance, and they are rejected, only to turn immediately and renew their request that their names be stricken from the enrollment. They do not understand that there are a different set of instructions for examining volunteers and drafted men. A volunteer who had lost the index finger of his right hand would be rejected, while the same loss would not exempt a conscript. There is more reason to this than would appear at first thought, though not much to brag of. The surgeon, however, has only to follow his instructions in any case.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves purely and decidedly medicinal, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and nauseous pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no supplemental reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new claims in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are forced through the stomach and bowels, half-dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, occasion action, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the system, mixed with the blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating the secretory and excretory vessels throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will be followed by a mild and confidence inspiring assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface, when a few days will see our disease, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fearful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their appointed part, and will effectually subdue RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, or poisonous herbs, but is a powerful tonic, and stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless purgative—has a focused, salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet wrapped each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated BLOOD ROOT WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1822.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir that he hereby offers to each and every person who will purchase of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 17 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 11 Hanover street, Boston. 3m6 Sunc6&W

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhea, and is recently recommended in those cases of liver disease Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

This is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which lead to premature decay.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and is prepared in the following manner, which is adapted in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites: Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, free to any one who will send free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Price—CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Sent by express to any address on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE GREAT

INDIAN MEDICINE,

COMPOUNDED FROM

ROOTS, HERBS AND LEAVES.

CHEROKEE CURE.

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by the Solitary Vice, Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficult Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pimples, Pustules, Dreaming, Consumption, and all the dreadful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated it has been filled in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn cases.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ For full particulars, get a circular from any drug store in the country, or write the proprietors, which will be sent free by one desiring the same, a full treatment in pamphlet form.

☞ Prices, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express to all parts of the world.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

DR. WRIGHT'S

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tried by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.
A few doses cure Hysterics in females.
One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.
A few doses restore the organs of generation.
From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.
A few doses restore the appetite.
Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.
A few doses cure the low spirited.
One bottle restores sexual power.
A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the impotent, the worn-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The listless enervated youth, the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir of Life and Essence of Life.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express, on receipt of price, to any address.

Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper boiler, and the oven has also the warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the grate can be dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who have been using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cover can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron R. Hill,	Charles H. Mendlum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

WHY I DIDN'T MARRY HER.—I was sitting last summer smoking a cigar with my friend Tom Fairbanks. It was at Rockaway, and we were lounging in our own room, with our feet elevated on a window bench. Tom was a fast friend of mine and a fine fellow—yes, a fine fellow, there was something in him. He was fond of society and a great favorite among the ladies; and now as I looked over the dancing waves and mused—cigars promote reflection, they're a real moral institution, and that's why the clergy patronize them I suppose—as I smoked and mused I wondered why he had never been caught in any of the nets spread for him.

There was a tall dark eyed beauty who made a great impression on his heart. He had danced and flirted through a whole New York season with her, and from the way in which they both denied it, I had really believed them engaged. But Tom had suddenly drawn off, and left the young lady to point her toes and curl her ringlets for some one else. I had never known the reason for this, and with my mind full of these thoughts, I suddenly turned to Tom, and asked him how it was that he did'nt marry Flora Goodman.

Tom made no reply, but threw open his collar a little more—Tom and I had mounted Byron collars since we came to Rockaway. There seemed no getting anything out of him.

"Did the lady cut you, Tom?"

I thought this would rouse him. "No," was the emphatic response.

He then knocked off the ashes of the cigar, saying, "And so you want to know why I didn't marry Miss Goodman?"

"Yes; I thought papa had been spoken to, and the bridal dresses ordered."

"No: I never had anything to do with Mr. Goodman, further than to settle myself in his chair when he left the parlor clear for me in the evening. Flora generally sat on an ottoman—long-waisted people look better on ottomans, you know."

"Well, you didn't tire of long waists, did you? I thought you admired every thing about Miss Flora."

"So I did, then; that's my reflection now. And she was a very beautiful girl—a very fine one in many respects."

"And she had the go about her, too; something very stylish. What's the reason she didn't suit you, Tom?"

"She did in all but one thing."

"You were very long in finding that out, then."

"It was something I saw that let me into the secret."

"Well out with it, or I'll duck you the very next time we go bathing."

"You shall have the story. You may call me foolish to take notice of such a thing, but I am a little peculiar sometimes. I waited on Miss Goodman to a party. I had ordered a magnificent boquet, and talked to my washerwoman an extra half hour about the getting up of my linen. I got my moustache trimmed and got a new pair of patent leathers. I really looked well that night. Though I believe there is no connection save the alliteration between sensibility and scrubbing brushes, even the housemaid gazed at me with a sort of pathetic admiration, as I came down stairs.

I never saw Flora more enchanting, and I glanced around Mr. Goodman's richly furnished drawing-rooms, thinking it would be quite comfortable to walk in and hang up my hat there. I handed Miss Flora into the carriage as tenderly as possible. She kept me waiting a long time in the dressing-room, a thing I abominate, but I was enough of a lover to be as patient as Job. I tucked the young lady under my arm, and we descended to the parlor. We made our entree in style that night. Flora's smile and bend were faultless, and I can make a pretty good bow. The evening passed—Flora's behavior to myself and others hit the ladylike thing to a nicety. Her courtesies were shown so gracefully and so generally as to exhibit no marked preference, and yet there was an air, a light manner, visible only to myself, in her way of receiving my attentions, that was flattering in the extreme.

Supper came. Terrapins and champagne make one feel very complacent; but I was not quite so much exhilarated as not to notice every thing Flora did.

She was standing near an old gentleman, quite an aged man, over seventy I should think, with a kind, benevolent face. He seemed attracted by her beauty, and was talking to her with a pleased expression of interest that made one love as well as reverence the silver hairs upon his temples. But she seemed uneasy. She did not attend to what he was saying.

Suddenly she interrupted him in the middle of a sentence with "I beg your pardon, sir," and, turning her back upon him, commenced conversation with a fellow who walks Broadway with his gloves half off to show his diamond rings. As she took his arm to promenade she caught the old gentleman's look, surprised, hurt, and aggrieved. But no expression of regret came over her countenance. Her head was carried as easily as before, and her glances as bright. It was enough for me. I never forgot Flora Goodman's rudeness to that old man. To say the least, there is nothing more ungraceful in a young lady than any lack of respect or attention to old age; it shows a great want of something, a great deal defect somewhere. The jig was up for that night; and that, my dear fellow, is why I did not marry Flora Goodman."

Which is the most difficult punctuation? Putting a stop to a woman's tongue.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State-street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of any claim of a patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, of all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, I cannot but recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!
DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the latest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases. I offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubos, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to be as patient as Job. I tucked the young lady under my arm, and we descended to the parlor. We made our entree in style that night. Flora's smile and bend were faultless, and I can make a pretty good bow. The evening passed—Flora's behavior to myself and others hit the ladylike thing to a nicety. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Sheridan's forces continue to have engagements with the enemy. On the night of the 3d Gen. Crook was attacked, but repulsed the enemy, taking 100 prisoners. On the same day Lomack's division of five brigades of cavalry attacked Gen. Averill, but were gallantly repulsed, although greatly outnumbering him. At first Gen. Averill maintained the defensive in order to allow the enemy to develop his strength; he then assumed the offensive and drove the rebels from the field in great haste through woods, and past rifle pits and rudely constructed breastworks, a distance of 5 miles. Then they attempted to make a stand, but our troops charged upon them, and they again fled.

The rebel papers admit that our forces have destroyed twelve miles of the Weldon railroad, and regard any attempt to repossess themselves of the road as hopeless.

The rebel pickets at Petersburgh are very friendly, and have their pockets filled with copies of a proclamation from Jeff. Davis offering protection and safe conduct to deserters from our army. Our batteries along the whole line saluted the enemy with a terrific fire for an hour, late on Sunday night, in honor of the fall of Atlanta. The rebels replied sharply, and the air was filled with burning shells. All was quiet on Monday morning.

Our army is in full possession of Atlanta. We took 2000 prisoners, including a Brigadier General; also large amounts of war material. The rebel Gen. Kelly has died of his wounds; Gen. Haskell is also reported killed. The rebel loss was 3000 killed and wounded. Forrest's raid is a failure. He has joined Rhoddy and both are retreating toward Florence.

Gen. Gibson reports that he surprised, defeated, and killed John Morgan at Greenville, Ky., Sept. 4. He took 75 prisoners, among them Morgan's staff, and one cannon and caisson. The rebel killed were scattered for miles, and probably numbered 100.

— There has been a terrible tornado in Ohio, especially severe at and near Dayton.

— The army worm is making sad havoc in the cotton near Baton Rouge.

— There are upwards of 4000 troops at Gallouple's Island, Boston harbor.

— Wilmington, Del., has filled its quota with volunteers.

— It is said that Gen. Hunter has been relieved at his own request, and is succeeded by Gen. Crook.

— Two rebel cruisers are said to be fitting out at Nantes. Probably the French government will stop them.

— Brown University celebrated her centennial anniversary yesterday. President Sears delivered the address.

— The N. Y. Tribune of Tuesday says: "Hereafter we fly the banner of Abraham Lincoln for the next Presidency."

— A great meeting was to be held in Faneuil Hall, last evening, to rejoice over the victories.

— 1950 children died in New York city in August. Only 200 were the children of native-born parents.

— About 4000 volumes of the best works belonging to the Louisiana State Library have been recovered.

— If "Little Mac" is so popular with the army why do the Democrats of New Hampshire so bitterly oppose any practical plan for letting the soldiers vote?

— A conspiracy, to effect an insurrection of slaves in Brooks county, Ga., has been discovered, and persons accused of being chiefs in it have been put to death.

— Gov. Brown, of Georgia, in his recent proclamation, said the capture of Atlanta by the Union army "would be a formidable step toward the ruin of the Confederacy."

— Up to the seventeenth of August not a single case of yellow fever had been reported in the New Orleans hospitals or among the physicians of that city.

— Maj. Reed Sanders, a son of George N. Sanders, died at Fort Warren on Saturday, where he was confined a prisoner of war.

— A burglar stole a draft for $11,000 on William Chandler of Boston, from a house in Springfield on Sunday night, besides considerable jewelry and silver, and $400 in money.

— There is a woman in Troy, N. Y., who has been married four times to soldiers since the war commenced, and is now a widow. With four pensions she may be able to get along without marrying again.

— Catherine Campbell, of Hartford, made a complaint against her husband for being a common drunkard, which accusation he indignantly denied, and said the "boot was on the other leg;" that Catherine had been sober for six weeks. He offered to let any one have her on trial for a month or two and he would pay her board.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

THE CONGRESSIONAL COM. EXCURSION—7.

At Home, Sept. 7.

Dear Chronicle:

Now that the Draft is not to come off just this minute, at any rate; and that copper and gold stocks are down a little, and Union and peace looking up; I feel rather more heart, and have more time to think and write, and enjoy the pleasures of the passing hour; and you can spare me more room for talk of matters perhaps not at present vitally important—though really at any moment liable to become such. So I will continue my notes of that most pleasant of all trips, and get home with them if I can.

Our sail from Mt. Desert to Eastport, and thence to Calais, and back next morning, was our last in the little cutter Mahoning. Then we cut-her, or she cut us; the vessel remained on her own revenue cruising ground, while our party took passage in one of the packet steamers for St. John, which was most politely placed at our service, as was everything else down east.—Before reaching Eastport, at the suggestion of Chairman Rice, of the Cong. Com., the party was organized into a deliberative assembly, by choice of a chairman and secretary, and a series of resolutions adopted, thanking everybody who deserved thanks, (which might well enough have included almost everybody aboard,) for the great success and pleasures of the trip—especially to the officers and crew of the ship, (who were also more substantially remembered by a donation of $300 and upwards, made up from their guests,) to Capt. Flowers, of Bangor, agent of the G. T. R. R., who admirably filled the position of Admiral on the trip; to J. E. Carter, Esq. of Portland, the caterer on the occasion, whose supplies were of the very best—and to Horace H. Day, Esq., the india rubber man of New York, the stretch of whose private hospitality seemed as boundless as that of his fabrics; and others whom we need not, cannot mention. Brief speeches were made in reply, by Capt. Webster, of the cutter, Mr. Day, Mr. Poor, and others; and Mr. Dunbar, of the Boston Advertiser, who was called up by Mr. Poor, in response to "the press," in general, and the large delegation of the profession happily present, spoke briefly and to the point.

Pretty soon it was said that the steamer New England, one of the line which runs between St. John and Boston, touching at Eastport and Portland, was coming up; and as two or three of our party were desirous of reaching Boston, it was decided to stop boats and put them aboard if possible. So our cutter whistled at her, and ran across her bow; the salute was returned, and when they met, both stopped, and the passengers changed boats. As this was during the pirate Tallahassee excitement, the scene was one of some interest to all, and we doubt not of fear to some timid ones aboard the passenger boat, which, as usual with this line, was crowded with ladies and gentlemen.

We arrived at Eastport just at dusk—too late for the public reception, dinner, &c., which was got up in honor of the party, and gone through with without us. The U. S. gunboat Pontoosuc (one of the double-enders built at Portland) was lying in the river. She was in search of the Tallahassee, and like the fox-hunt in which the old farmer said "the dog was a leetle ahead," the Pontoosuc sailed down the coast of Maine, only five hours before the pirate; and while the P. came to an anchor in Eastport, the T. kept on to Halifax. And it was said by the people of Eastport, that after hearing of the arrival of the Tallahassee at that "neutral" port, Capt. Stevens of the Pontoosuc lay at Eastport for a couple of days or so, when he should have been lying in wait for the pirate off Halifax. There was much indignation expressed about the matter by the Eastport people, and by our party; and we now see it stated that an investigation is to be made into it.

When our cutter steamed into Eastport, the Pontoosuc piped all hands to quarters, and had her guns run out, and kept them bearing on our boat as we made the circle of her in getting up to wharf. The reason we don't know—but some said, and we think truly, that her guns were shotted, and her captain was determined to be ready for the Tallahassee, in case our U. S. revenue flag might prove a decoy; while others thought it simply for the practice of the crew at the guns. Be that as it may—after considerable delay, during the first portion of which, many on board our boat seemed to be quietly reckoning the chances for getting "killed or wounded," (and after giving time enough to unshot the guns,) a glorious salute was fired for our Congressmen, which woke the most sublime echoes among the distant hills, each gun sounding and resounding exactly as if two discharges, many seconds apart, with the thunders, rumbling slowly, following each for a long time. It was a rare display of acoustics, worth almost the entire journey to enjoy.

It was at Eastport that we first began to realize what the Eastern tides are—a perpendicular rise and fall of water, of from 20 to 60 feet, along the coast—three or four times as much as with us; at Eastport about 35, we believe. This, at St. John for instance, at low water, leaves bare wharves as high as a common four-story building; and a huge steamer which at high tide will tower above the wharf, will by and by, with the going out of the tide, sink down almost out of sight.

And speaking of tides, reminds us of some interesting conversation respecting tides and other matters, which we enjoyed at St. John, with a Mr. Mills of New York, who is engaged in a geological survey of the Provinces, on account of private parties in the coal interest. And among other things, talking of coal, our coppery brother of the Journal of Commerce laughed at the idea, as ridiculous, of setting the Pennsylvania mines on fire, as it was said some time ago the rebels designed or desired; but our scientific friend said no—that the great Picton mine, of Nova Scotia, has been on fire in one part for about five years, and a mine at Pittsburgh, opposite the old fort, has been burning ever since the old French war! Respecting tides also, Mr. Mills told us that the total tidal wave of the earth is thought to be but about two feet, and that the differences of situation, or formation of coast, cause the variations in different places. For instance, the great depression or hollowing in, from a straight line, of the eastern coast, causes the increasing tide as you go east, terminating in the tremendous flow at the head of the Bay of Fundy, or the point of the tunnel, Peticodiac river; while a few miles yet farther round these abutting eastern points, the tides are but three or four feet.

Our party were afterwards afforded a fine opportunity for seeing what is perhaps the most extraordinary exhibition of tide in the world—"the boars," about which everybody has read—at Monkton, N. B. Here, the narrow river, from dead low water and flats, rises four feet in an instant; that is, the river's narrowing causes the water in this tunnel's point above mentioned, final ly to run up in a wave about four feet high, which, as it rushes and rolls along the muddy flats, looks at a little distance precisely like a drove of dirty hogs; and hence the name, perhaps.

It was while our party were at St. John, and on an excursion by railway to Shediac, that the train was stopped for an hour, to witness the phenomenon—for such it certainly is. Reaching the bend of the Peticodiac river, it was found to be much too early for the coming of the boars; and some wit who was tired of waiting declared that "the boar" of the Bend was the greatest bore he had ever heard of, but the majority waited patiently. As the time for its appearance approached, much anxiety was manifested to obtain as early a glimpse of it as possible. The crowd on the wharf with eager eyes looked down the river, but still it did not come up. The water in the deep channel still rushed downward, or overflowed the muddy banks, and spread in a shallow stream over the sand bars in the river. Presently a white speck was seen in the distance far down the gorge—and all eyes were turned to the place, as round the point and up the river the boar came rushing on in one broad wave like a wall of dingy snow. We could see it curling up the banks on its outward edge—and bearing a crest of foam like a huge tusk along the rim of the marsh. As it neared us, its roar fell on our ears like the sound of a distant cataract, and we could see that it carried upon its front huge logs and roots and pieces of timber. As it passed the wharf where we stood, we could see that it was going at the rate of ten miles an hour, and that the front of the wave was about five or six feet high. Every one present declared that it was a sight worth going over half the continent to see. Anecdotes were told us of hogs, cattle, dogs, &c., being overtaken and alarmed by this rush of waters, like that which overwhelmed Pharaoh: but it gives such nonsy notice of its approach, that it has opportunity for but little damage. At the point where we saw it, Monkton, the tide rises about fifty feet.

But we have given you too much for today, already; and most return to "America," at Eastport, once more, and start again—the next time, I hope, if you don't, to end our journey, which, even in its recollections, entirely overflows us.

Yours, F.

— The good folks of St. Louis are having a lively dance of terror just now, seven anacondas, lately "imported" from the East, having escaped from the tank in which they had been kept.

— The maritime provinces of British North America are holding a convention at Charlestown, (Prince Edward Island,) for the purpose of promoting the union of those provinces under one government. The provinces are New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island.

— The king of peach growers is Ben Reed, who expects to market 100,000 baskets this year. His orchards are in Ocean and Monmouth counties, N. J. H. Gerker, of Kent county, Del., will have 50,000 baskets, from 600 acres of young trees that are not yet in full bearing condition.

THE FIRST NEWSPAPER.—Several contradictory statements have been made in regard to the commencement of journalism. The able and learned Agnes Strickland, in her life of Queen Elizabeth, says that the first genuine newspaper was the English Mercurie, which was issued by the Government during the progress of the Spanish Armada, to prevent the circulation of false reports. This paper was printed by Christopher Barker, the Queen's printer, and the first number was dated July 23d, 1588.

A CHEAP WAY TO CLEAN CLOCKS.—Common brass clocks may be cleaned by immersing the works in boiling water. Rough as this treatment may appear, a writer in the Scientific American says that it works well, and he has for many years past boiled his clock whenever it stops from an accumulation of dust or a thickening of the oil upon the pivots. They should be boiled in pure or rain water and dried on a warm stove or near the fire.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "Dye," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

PORTSMOUTH'S POETS AND POETESSES. A new Portsmouth book, which is a collection of the poetry from the pens of Portsmouth's Sons and Daughters, far and near, will soon be issued in a rich dress by the Boston publishers. This elegant work, comprising the productions of about thirty different writers, and filling from four to six hundred pages, will be among the gems of the season. No home among us should be without a copy of it. It is a local work, in which every Portsmouth man at home or abroad, should be interested. The editors, Messrs. A. M. Payson and Albert Laighton, have spared no pains to make this work as complete and interesting as possible. For the past year their attention has been given to the collecting and arranging the manuscripts, an undertaking in itself arduous and perplexing; and we trust they will be rewarded for the pains they have taken in the matter, by receiving the patronage of our citizens and those abroad. To make the publication a success, it is intended that the edition shall be subscribed for before it is issued. The Portsmouth Sons and Daughters in Boston, New York, and other places, are taking hold of the matter, and will subscribe for many copies. Let Portsmouth not be behindhand. Subscription papers may be found at J. H. Foster's, J. H. Head's, J. F. Shores' and W. B. Lowd's bookstores, and at Mr. Preston's and N. P. Thacher's drug stores. H.

REMEMBER the Union Mass Meeting at Kittery this (Wednesday) evening, in honor of the recent glorious achievements at Mobile and Atlanta. The Portsmouth Cornet Band and the Band at Fort Constitution will furnish the music and escort the delegations from this city and Newcastle. They will march over, and all having torches are expected to bring them along. Speeches are expected from Vice President Hamlin, Hon. Lot M. Morrill, Hon. John A. Peters of Bangor, Hon. E. H. Rollins of Concord, and others.

The procession, under Capt. Alfred J. Hill as chief marshal, will form at the Court House, and move precisely at half-past 7 o'clock, through Court and Pleasant streets, to Newcastle bridge—there receive the Newcastle delegation and escort them through Water, State, Pleasant and Market streets, to Kittery Foreside.

As the time fixed is necessarily late, let all be promptly on hand at the appointed hour. PER ORDER.

MORRIS'S MINSTRELS.—This excellent Co. which has made gorgeous the street corners with their fine show bills, appear at the Temple to-night. Of a recent performance in Troy, N. Y., the Times says:

"Last night Mand's Hall was crowded to excess with people anxious to hear the Morris Minstrels, a troupe second in talent to none that ever visited this city. Every thing was 'applauded to the echo, which did applaud again.'"

☞ The order for the salute of 100 guns in honor of the victory at Mobile not having been received at the Navy Yard in time for it to be given yesterday noon, the salute will probably be fired to-day, commencing at 12 o'clock noon.

LYCEUM.—We are glad to learn, as our readers will be, that the committee who so successfully projected the Lyceum last year are to continue on with the second course this season. Some of the best speakers in the country have already been engaged.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement that Messrs. Bidwell and Pike have organized a new Dramatic Company, and will open with Uncle Tom's Cabin at the Temple on Monday evening next.

☞ A sum of money was left at store No. 18 Market street on Tuesday, which the owner can obtain on application.

— Gen. Meade is absent from the army on a short leave of absence. Maj. Gen. J. G. Parke being at present ranking officer in the Army of the Potomac, assumes command in Gen. Meade's absence.

— By the destruction of the old frigate Brandywine by fire at Norfolk the Government losses over a million of dollars in naval stores, clothing, &c. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

— A New York paper says that by the breaking of some lock-gates on the Oswego canal a large crowd of boatmen were collected, and proved to be unanimous for McClellan. So Little Mac will have plenty of friends to take him up Salt river.

— Mrs. Tom Thumb's baby is three months old—a little, cunning, crying doll of a thing, and in no respect peculiar or remarkable, except in the promise it gives of being a full sized child, and if it lives, of becoming as big again as either of its immediate ancestors.

— Some time ago a circular was issued by the War Department, requiring that all officers promoted should re-enlist for three years, before receiving their commissions. This has caused much dissatisfaction among many officers, who will not accept their commissions on these terms. The whole matter has, in consequence, been referred to Gen. Grant.

— By the capture of Atlanta, the system of rebel railway communication in the far South has been entirely severed. It was because Atlanta was the centre of a network of railways that the rebels strove so hard to preserve possession of the place. Its fall is a terrible blow to them.

— The bathing at the English watering places is rather shocking to delicate tastes; but neither the Englishman nor woman is at all squeamish. The only bathing dress of the female Bull is her chemise, and of the male the smallest of drawers. The London Times is trying to inveigle the bathers into the adoption of the French and American bathing costumes; but reforms are slow in Britain.

CHRONICLE PRICES AND TERMS.

The price of the Daily Chronicle is $10 a year, or $8 in advance; 75 cents per month—20 cts. per week—5 cents per copy.

The (Weekly) N. H. Gazette $2 per year in advance—6 cents single copy.

Terms Cash—or all bills for Advertising, &c., to be presented at the pleasure of the publisher.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—From this date our Carriers of Subscribers' lists are not allowed to sell copies of the Chronicle, nor to receive pay for any subscriptions, except when furnished by us with receipts for the same,—which will not be given for less term than 1 month, 75 cts., or 3 months $2 in advance. If any prefer to pay weekly, they can do so at our counting room only. Will all concerned please remember this, and thus aid in the more prompt and accurate delivery of our papers. Sept. 1.

☞ Special attention is asked to Hunnewell's preparations, advertised on our inside columns. They are based on true medical laws, used largely by Physicians, and most undoubted testimonials are in the hands of the proprietor, always open to inspection. Let Portsmouth and its vicinity bear testimony by a confidence to test them, which will be sacred.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. Its use always brings a smile to the household; it keeps them in health; it helps make the weak strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. As you value health, use it. Most of the grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ We have had occasion to test the merits of Speer's Sambuci wine lately in one of those complaints for which it is recommended, and are convinced that it must eventually take the place of port and the adulterated stimulants prescribed heretofore in cases of debility. H. H. Hay has just received a large invoice of the wine direct from the vineyard.—Portland Advertiser.

THE HORRORS OF WAR can be greatly mitigated by that sovereign remedy, Holloway's Ointment, as it will cure any wound, however desperate, if it be well rubbed around the wounded parts, and they should be kept thoroughly covered with it. A pot of ointment should be in every man's knapsack.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 227

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank,
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and
ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and afford

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, he flatters himself in giving or presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms resulting from this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest stilings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness at the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions, for medicine receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotte, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females

IN DELICATE HEALTH.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all disease incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and a speedy cure guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield underit, and the afflicted learn about rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, schowledges no superior in the United states.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. exclusive, upon all delicate and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which induces patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a chemical and scientific process (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE.

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicine.

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—as they must be dissolved before the stomach and bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, secondes action, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused thru and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy action to the secretions to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions throughout the system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, purifying the stomach and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It cures all the various organs of the system is not their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the influence of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions of the whole shell, native secrets. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, and there can be no medicine prepared for Costive Bowels, no which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the sets which they are obliged to undergo from a change of climate, or water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and has been successfully member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby pledges himself to every purchaser, that will use one-half of a bottle of the Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the vintage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THATCHER, opposite the Post Office; by Dr. W. H. Hayes, 18 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston.

SPEER'S

SAMBUCI WINE,

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD.

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physician's Use, Females, Weakly Persons and Invalids.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys and Urinary Organs; very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated for SPEER'S Winery, recommended by physicians and chemists as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, for the aged and infirm, nursing mothers, and beneficiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other Wines, as it contains no admixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

Make One Trial of this Wine.

Liquors, Wines, Cordials or Bitters,

to the list of choice goods enumerated below, which are constantly on hand in large quantities in the largest and spacious

Wine Store and Bottling Establishment,

99 Washington street, Boston.

First on the list, as a reliable pure stimulant, stands the celebrated and widely known

Golden Sheaf Bourbon Whiskey,

made from Wheat, Rye and Corn, warranted for five years old. Put up in unique style, each bottle in a paper box, in cases of one dozen each, the large and increasing sales of which convince the proprietor that no extended advertisement is needed to extol its real merits. It will recommend itself on trial.

Golden Sheaf Cordial.

A delightful and healthful beverage, aromatic, with a rich ginger cordial, made from the pure Golden Sheaf Bourbon.

Golden Sheaf Bitters.

The best Tonic Bitter ever offered to the public. Mingled with these, and other kindred goods, are a number of other ingredients for restoring the appetite and imparting life and vigor to the whole system.

Golden Sheaf Punch.

Made from fresh, ripe lemons, and other articles, combined as a whole into a fine rich

Bourbon Whisker Punch.

All the above put up full strength of the whiskey, and in cases of one dozen each. These articles commend themselves to all who can appreciate the

THE BROOK.

Up in the wild, where no one comes to look,
There lives and sings a little, lonely brook;
Liveth and singeth in the dreary pines,
Yet creepeth on to where the daylight shines.

Pure from their heaven, in mountain chalice caught,
It drinks the rain, as drinks the soul her thought,
And down dim hollows, where it winds along,
Bears its life-burden of unlistened song.

I catch the murmur of its undertone,
That sigheth ceaselessly—"alone! alone!"
And hear afar the rivers gloriously
Shout on their paths toward the shining sea!

The voiceful rivers, chanting to the sun,
And wearing names of honor, every one;
On reaching wide, and joining hand with hand
To pour great gifts along the sinking sand.

Ah, lonely brook! creep onward thro' the pines!
Press through the gloom to where the daylight shines!
Sing on among the stones, and secretly
Tell now the floods are all akin to thee!

Drink the sweet rain the gentle heaven sendeth;
Hold thine own path, howeverward it tendeth;
For, somewhere, underneath the eternal sky,
Thou, too, shall find its river, by and by!

A REPORTED FLYER FOR MR. BONNER.—A green horse has recently been brought on to New York from Chicago, of whom it is boasted that he can trot wonderfully fast. Thirty-one seconds to the quarter, and half a mile in one minute and four seconds are what the parties talk about. Of course, the notion of the said parties was, "there is a horse for Mr. Bonner to jump at." But the latter is too wary a bird to be caught with chaff, and immediately proposed that the parties should set their bay horse the three little tasks that his gray mare has done. Then, if he cypher up those small sums in arithmetic, Mr. Bonner will be willing to give the owners twice as much as they ask for him, and throw the gray mare into the bargain. This is fair, we think. It is something like what Mr. Bonner proposed to the Maine gentleman who offered to sell him the "fastest horse in the world." "I don't want the best horse in the world," says Robert, "unless he can beat my gray mare." The three feats of the mare are, first, half a mile to wagon and driver of 335lbs, 1m. 11 1-2s. A mile to wagon and driver of 266lb, 2m. 23 1-4s. Two miles to wagon and driver of 266lb, 4m. 58s. If the Chicago horse can beat these, let him sail in."—N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

A SOLDIER'S VIEWS OF DUTY AND OF THE PROSPECT.—Says an exchange paper: We have been permitted to read and make the following extract from a private letter, from a captain in the 29th Maine Regiment, a Portland man, to his friends in that city. The letter is dated "Near Hallstown, Va., Aug. 27." The writer says:

"We, here in the army, look on the rebellion as on its last legs. Atlanta, Richmond, and Mobile, are all doomed; all that is wanted is the men, and we look to you at the North to furnish us the men, and then you may look for good news. Enforce the draft, by all means. Let the Government see that you all sustain it, and by next spring we will settle this rebellion. Everything lies with you at home. The whole army go in for "Old Abe" for the next President, so stand by him and he will be elected. Every thing goes right with us. Fighting is our trade at the present time, and we mean to fight it out. Just let us see that we are sustained at home and all will be well."

MCCLELLAN'S OPINION OF JEFF. DAVIS.—Col. Metcalf, of Kentucky, made a Union speech at a public meeting not long ago, at which he related an anecdote of Gen. McClellan, showing how he regarded the rebel leader. He said:

"I got my eyes opened on that young Napoleon in the spring of 1861. I went to see Gen. McClellan, and in the course of the conversation I said to him that Jeff. Davis was a scoundrel and a traitor. He (McClellan) straightened himself up quickly, and said: 'I do assure you, sir, that you are mistaken. Jeff. Davis is a perfect gentleman, and will not do anything unbecoming a gentleman.' Well, if a traitor, conspirator, thief, repudiator, and the civil devil who is instigating all this murder, is his beau ideal of a 'perfect gentleman,' I hope our country will never be cursed with his morality and virtue at the head of affairs."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Also, Patents, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of patents furnished. Information concerning One Dollar Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all, for which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on this part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of them was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

The Old Established Hospital,
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Bliss, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. Teller they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. Teller broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER'S great work on the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid, to those who enclose the price, as above, in money or postage stamps. The Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. DR TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

DR. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a safe remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and obstructions of the females.

CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P.M.

N. B.—Information of absence can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, and sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle, at retail everywhere.

But its cost to the purchaser is really nothing, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.

☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.

Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1864.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— Only 15 per cent. of landsmen are hereafter to be enlisted into the Navy.

— A salt mountain has been discovered in Nevada.

— Able seamen, ordinary seamen, firemen, &c., are still wanted in the navy.

— A motion has been proposed in the Chilian Chamber, in favor of an offensive and defensive agreement between all the South American Republics.

— The Sanitary Commission at San Francisco has sent eighteen thousand dollars in gold to the East. The Fair of the Christian Commission, it is said, will yield $25,000 more.

— The "peace" which the copperheads and secesh sympathizers cry out for, and which they are going to fight for, so they say, is a peace which passeth all understanding of loyal men and christian citizens.

— George Sanders telegraphs of the Chicago convention: "Platform and Presidential nominee unsatisfactory. Vice President and speeches very satisfactory. Tell Phillmore not to oppose."

— Sec. Seward said in a speech at Auburn, N. Y., last Saturday: "We shall have no draft, because the army is being reinforced at the rate of 5000 or 10,000 men per day by volunteers."

— The Montreal Witness says: Because McClellan did not hurt the rebels nor slavery, the whole South, the Democratic party of the North, and a large portion of the British press consider him the very man to command the Northern armies.

— The Upper Mississippi River is said to be very low, lower than it ever before has been since the first steamboat landed at Fort Snelling. A Winona paper states that the boats in some places between Winona and St. Paul are obliged to blow their whistles to drive the cattle out of the channel.

— Nearly all brave men have been of finely organized and thereby nervous temperament. Julius Cæsar was nervous, so was Bonaparte, so was Nelson. The Duke of Wellington saw a man turn pale as he marched up to the battery. Said he: "There is a brave man; he knows his danger and faces it."

— The French are humiliated at seeing the English take possession of Mexico with their capital as soon as the new French Empire is established. The English have taken the contracts for the new railroad system of the country, and English merchants have already forestalled the markets with the products of English manufacture.

— Brigham Young is no longer young, though he is still himself, the inimitable Brigham. In a recent discourse to his people, he commences:—

It is some time since I have spoken to the people in this place. The congregations are very large, and when I have met such congregations as we have here, in former years, and they were a little noisy, with babies crying, I have said, "cry on; I can talk louder than you can cry," but I cannot do so now. I wish to favor myself, for there are many things to be said to the Latter-day Saints, as well as to those who do not believe the gospel, and I desire to live to be able to speak to the people.

☞ The arrival at Boston of Mr. Goldwin Smith, Professor of Modern History in the University of Oxford, is an event which may be emphasized, as he is a literary man of great distinction, and one of the most eminent champions of our cause, out of Parliament, in England. The N. Y. Tribune says;

It is unfortunate for the repute of English humanities, that their writers hitherto who have visited us have almost universally been sketchy artists, utterly unable to grasp the moral and politico-economical aspects of the great question for which so many have fought and died, and which has involved an expense during the period of three years greater than ever was borne by any nation in the same time. These writers, while they can hit off a place or a person, are unequal to the demonstration of a vast principle, or the grasp of a generalization. We trust and believe the hiatus will be supplied by what Professor Goldwin Smith will observe and express while in this country.

☞ The Irish papers say that the emigration from that island has nearly ceased for the present, a plentiful harvest at home and the disturbed state of affairs in this country making the people contented to stay at home.

☞ A large and beautiful series of caves has been opened by the miners in the Patagonia and Mowry Mine, in Arizonia, as they are boring for water. One of the caves is ly 50 feet wide, 40 feet high, and 150 feet ng, the interior being covered with beautiful formations of stalactites of various colors.

☞ A chimney built in 1793, in an old house in Northampton, Mass., and lately taken down, furnished bricks enough to build three modern chimneys, an underpinning to a house, eight piers in the cellar, a cistern, and a drain three hundred feet long, besides a wagon load sold and a lot left.

INCIDENTS OF BATTLE.

CAMP BEFORE PETERSBURG, VA.,
August 30, 1864.

Dear ——: You have doubtless received the account ere this of the severe engagement of the 2d corps on the 25th inst. at the Weldon railroad. The brunt of it fell on the 1st division, who were overpowed by sheer force of numbers, and driven from their position. While engaged in destroying the road in the vicinity of Ream's station, they were attacked by the enemy and three times handsomely repulsed them; but the rebels being heavily reinforced, the fourth time they succeeded in breaking the line held by our division. Nine pieces of artillery and a large number of prisoners were lost, but not before great slaughter had been inflicted on the enemy. Indeed, it is estimated that their loss in killed and wounded is as large as ours in killed, wounded and missing.

The last time the rebels advanced they came five lines deep, and notwithstanding the frightful gaps made in their ranks by shot, shell and canister, swarmed over our temporary breastworks like bees. Then came the most terrible of all fighting, a hand to hand conflict. Many are the cases of individual heroism I could relate, by men whose names will never appear in reports of the battle. Muskets were clubbed, and even fists were used; — a good place for the professors of the "manly art," etc. A private in my regiment called upon a rebel officer to surrender, and received for reply an axe flung with good aim at his head. He dodged. The rebel left, receiving a shot in his rear, which unfortunately failed to stop his retreat. Another shot a rebel color-bearer, and as he seized the flag to bear it off a bullet passed through his heart. As the orderly carrying our brigade flag was trying to climb the steep railroad bank, a rebel seized the color, when quickly jerking it away, the orderly struck him with the staff, and, bringing it around, knocked over another "bent on like intent," then throwing the flag up the bank, scrambled after it and got safely away.

An artillery sergeant and one man, all that were left at a battery, loaded, sighted, and discharged their piece after they had been repeatedly called upon to surrender. As the sergeant pulled the lanyard the rebels crowded around the gun and took him prisoner. A sergeant in my regiment was taken prisoner, and started on the road to Richmond. He had "been there" before, and had a "realizing sense" of all the horrors of prison life in Richmond. He determined to escape if possible, and after dark managed to elude the vigilance of the guards. After wading through swamps, creeks, and rivers, and dodging rebel pickets and scouts for three days, he finally reached our lines. He says: "I had my choice, a winter in hell upon earth, or a winter at home (his time is out this fall), and I preferred home. So I played my hand, and luckily 'twas the winning one." Twain's draw poker, but draw prisoner.

Back again in the old camp at Petersburg, — will a few days' rest be allowed? Between Deep Bottom and the Weldon railroad the "boys" are pretty well "played out." The weather is much cooler and pleasanter than it has been for some time past.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— They have raised a thirty-six pound cabbage (vegetable) in Concord.

—— Three more companies of heavy artillery are to be raised in this State.

—— The 18th regiment is half full. The Lieut. Colonel is James Carr, late of the Second.

—— Manchester and Concord have rejoiced in great public meetings over the victories at Mobile and Atlanta.

—— The dwelling house in Newton, mentioned yesterday as burned, belonged to John Austin, who is in the 11th Regt. N. H. V., and was occupied by his family. Mrs. Austin got out her own two children, and went back for a child a year old, of which she had the care, but was unable to rescue it from the flames. House valued at $500; no insurance. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an incendiary.

—— The following officers have been appointed in the companies of Heavy Artillery now being organized:

Third Company of Manchester, Capt. James O. Chandler; 1st Lieut. James R. Carr; 2d Lieut. James G. Burns.

Fourth Company of Dover, Capt. Geo. W. Colbath; 1st Lieut. Wm. S. Pillsbury; 2d Lieut. Wm. F. Thayer.

Sixth Company of Nashua, Capt. Daniel J. Flanders; 1st Lieut. Major A. Shaw; 2d Lieut. Milton A. Taylor.

The officers for the 5th, 7th and 8th Companies have not been appointed.

☞ Danvers, Mass., is fast filling her quota with men of the right stamp. Thirty-three of her citizens have just enlisted, and have been paid bounties by the town, amounting to $9900. Of this sum only $300 have been taken with them by these men, the balance being left on deposit for their benefit. Groveland has also filled her quota from among her citizens, thus securing a good class of men, an ex-senator and a member of the board of Selectmen being among the number.

— The Toronto Globe christens Gen. Lee as McClellan's greatest electioneering agent.

— The Chicago Tribune says there is double the amount of wheat and corn in store in that city that there was a year ago.

— The average price of day laborers throughout the British Isles and Europe is is about thirty-seven cents per day.

COLONEL HARRIMAN.

Col. Harriman, a volunteer soldier, returned to New Hampshire from battle and captivity, has recently made a patriotic speech in Concord, reported in the Monitor, from which we copy the closing paragraphs.

During his confinement, said Col. H., he had talked with all classes of men, from Major General Cobb to the humblest citizen. The rebel chiefs who inaugurated the rebellion still persist that they shall succeed. Not so the people. They are heartily sick of the contest, and would gladly welcome the old government. The rebellion is hard pressed. The ringleaders have become alarmed. The last call of the President for 500,000 more struck terror to their very hearts, and the anxious inquiry is when will the war end. Their troops fight well; he would give them all the credit honestly due them, but he thought they were not equal to our troops in courage. They fight well, because military rule is arbitrary. A Georgia soldier (and, said the Colonel, the Georgia soldiers are our friends) told him they fought because they were commanded to.

Do you know what keeps the breath of life in this rebellion? It is the division and dissension among our own people of the North. The ringleaders, when they precipitated the rebellion upon the country, did not believe the fighting would be entirely south of Mason and Dixon's line, but in our own streets; but in this they have been for the most part disappointed. A fearful responsibility rests upon the people of the North who have opposed the Government in its measures for the suppression of the rebellion. With them Union victories are not of much consequence, but rebel defeats are a great calamity. Such men may call themselves Democrats, but they are nothing but poor miserable traitors, such as Jackson would have hung, and looked for the authority afterwards.

Col. Harriman then gave a short account of his interview with Gen. Howell Cobb, who treated him kindly and talked very frankly with him. On the subject of the Presidency he very candidly stated that he hoped to see the Union candidate defeated. On being asked if he would return to the Union in the event of the election of an opposing candidate, he replied: Return to the Union — never! Rather than return to the Union, under any man, he would cut his throat and those of his wife and children.

The speaker concluded by saying that he sounded no party gong. He had always been a Democrat, and he had not abated any of his principles. He had taken his stand at the commencement of this controversy, and by the blessing of God he would continue on to the end. He called upon the people to stand firm for a few months longer. We'll have Mobile; we'll have Charleston; we'll have Atlanta; we'll have Richmond; and we'll have the Union purified and regenerated as by fire. The November election will substantially end this war. If a Peace man be elected President the Confederacy will be acknowledged abroad, and the Union will be torn into fragments. But if you elect a President who is in favor of pursuing the rebellion with fire and sword the rebel chiefs cannot stand much longer. Then we shall have Union; then we shall have peace.

NEW HAMPSHIRE "ALL RIGHT."—At the grand Union demonstration held by the people of Concord, to express their joy over the fall of Atlanta, Gov. Gilmore made a brief speech, in which he said:

"I have never doubted that this rebellion would be put down, any more than that Jehovah sits upon the throne of the universe. And it will be. When I went down State street, in Boston, to day, people anxiously inquired, How is New Hampshire? I told them she was all right, and that she would fill her quota, and that without a draft. And she will do it. (Loud cheers.) If I conceived it to be my duty, I would enlist in this war, not for one year, but for three years. I believe it would be a good business operation, for I should get my three years' bounty, with a pretty tolerable certainty that this rebellion will be finished within a year, and I be allowed to return home. I should go for making the most by it. I am with my Government clear up. Some say that I have joined the Copperheads. I want you to understand that you will find me to-day where you have always found me. First, last and always, I am with my Government, and go for putting down every rebel and traitor in Christendom."

— The brigands in Tuscany lately robbed a Marchioness of $50,000 worth of diamonds.

— The skins of dogs and cats are now being extensively used for the manufacture of boots and shoes.

— About twenty-five thousand widows are receiving pensions under laws passed with reference to the present war.

— Gen. Paine has issued an order prohibiting trade between Cairo and Kentucky until further orders.

— Gen. Dix declined to allow the use of his name as a candidate before the New York Republican State Convention.

— During the last ten days the number of men mustered into the army have averaged 3000 a day. On the 2d inst. 4136 were mustered in, and on the 3d 6100.

— The Free Military Academy for instructing applicants for command of colored troops, instituted at Philadelphia, Pa., will be closed on the 15th inst.

— The English papers generally speak of the seizure of the Georgia as legal, as a rebel war vessel could not legally be sold in a British port.

— Vermont on Tuesday increased her Union majority by 3000. Three Union Congressmen were elected. 20,000 majority.

— The 24th of July was the seventeenth anniversary of the arrival of the pioneer Mormons at Great Salt Lake Valley, and it was joyously celebrated by that singularly successful people inhabiting Utah.

— Gen. Rosecrans has assessed the rebel sympathizers in Caspareto, Boone County, Mo., for $10,000, to indemnify in part the mother and sisters of a man who was shot by bushwhackers there.

Draft Notice.
To the Citizens of Portsmouth:
The undersigned, having been appointed by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, a Committee to lay before the Board of Enrollment the names of all persons who claim exemption from the following causes, viz: Alienage, Non Residence, Unsuitableness of Age, Manifest Permanent Physical Disability, and persons who have been in the service two years during the present war, would give notice that they will be in session on and after Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1864, from 2 till 5 o'clock and from 7½ to 9 o'clock P. M., at the City Rooms, for the purpose of receiving evidence in such cases.
The Enrollment list can be seen during the same hours, and every person who can present a claim for such exemption is respectfully requested to attend as above, and by this means correct the Enrollment, so that our quota can be reduced.
It is the duty of every citizen, whether enrolled or not, to see that the Committee have all the information in his power to give in the above matter, in regard to any person, and we trust that every enrolled man will urge the importance of the subject upon all those who are exempt for the above causes, as it is a matter of interest to all.
Any information in regard to matters connected with the above will be cheerfully given.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR RESTORATIVE" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

COPPER AND COPPERHEADS.—Quite an excitement among the "uninitiated" portion of our community was occasioned on Wednesday, by the discovery of a large number of rifles concealed in different parts of the city, evidently for the repetition of scenes—of greater magnitude—but similar to those which occurred in our midst at the time of the last draft, in which two or three men were shot and others severely wounded. It seems that Marshal Dresser, with police officers Fredson and Abbott, have been on the track of certain citizens, whom they suspected of having concealed somewhere a quantity of guns, ammunition, &c.; but not until Wednesday were they fortunate enough to make the discovery, which will, when developed, show up in their true light the peaceful intentions of those inimical to the cause of the preservation of the Union and our free government.

About two weeks since Chief of Police Kurtz of Boston, was informed of the arrival there of a schooner having on board quite a lot of copper, which was suspected as having come from the Portsmouth Navy Yard. Accordingly he set Officer Scott at work to find out the facts in relation to the matter; he, by exercising his skill as a detective, succeeded in discovering that one Sampson L. Russell, of this city, was recognized as the person who consigned the copper, as the parties to whom it was sent (T. B. Barnes & Co., of Boston) knowing nothing of the illegitimacy of the transaction, answered all questions concerning the matter. Mr. Scott then proceeded to Portsmouth, and calling upon Mr. Russell, at his store on Water street, with a search warrant, found another lot of ingot copper stowed away under the counter.

And it was while this business was going on, that the rifles were discovered; sixteen of them being found concealed, carefully done up, and each directed to the party who apparently was to use it.

Mr. Russell was arrested on the charge of purchasing stolen copper, and taken before Commissioner Hackett, who ordered him to give bonds in the sum of $600 for his appearance before him on Tuesday next.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Adams served the writ of arrest on Russell; and while Marshal Dresser and Assistants were searching his premises under their search warrant, they found two musket boxes, partially empty and marked George B. French. Of this Provost Marshal Hall was at once informed, and he despatched Officer Kent to French's place of business. Search being made two empty musket boxes and four muskets were found.

It is said said that about $600 worth of copper has been sold to the Russells, from off the Navy Yard, stolen by some person or persons yet to be found out. Quite a number of the Navy Yard workmen were implicated in the theft by Mr. Russell, but on examination the charges could not be sustained, and they were discharged.

Among them was Mr. Charles H. Rowe, of this city, who was not only charged with copper thieving, but it was reported that his name was on the covering of one of the rifles found in Russell's possession. Mr. Rowe is a young man who has always sustained a good reputation, loyal enough to serve his country's cause two or three years in the Navy, and has, since his return, deported himself in a manner above suspicion or reproach. Nothing being found against him, he was discharged.—There were also others arrested, who deserve similar mention; but the real actors in the matter, whoever they may be, will, we trust, receive their just deserts. The discovery of these concealed weapons will perhaps open the eyes of some to the real intentions of our pretended peace-loving friends. None are so blind, however, as those who won't see. It is stated that 1800 or 2000 of these Enfield's have been distributed about New Hampshire, for the use of these precious peace makers!

☞ It will be noticed by those interested, that Mr. Lamprey announces his Fall Term of Dancing School, to begin next Wednesday. Mr. L. has proved himself one of the most competent, faithful and trustworthy professors of the calisthenic art we ever had among us; and it is worthy of observation that, notwithstanding the rise in everything else, and the great trouble and expense to him of procuring the famous new dances which he embraces in his programme this season—his price of tuition is kept at the old low figure. He ought to have a hall full, with the attractions offered.

☞ The Union men of this city and Newcastle marched to Kittery last evening. The music of the bands, the torches, the fireworks, the ringing of the bells, etc., all combined to make quite a lively time of it.

☞ Mr. N. P. Thacher on Wednesday morning threw to the breeze a beautiful American flag, bearing the names of Lincoln & Johnson—the first in this city.

☞ We are requested to state that the City Council meets this (Thursday) evening at half past seven o'clock.

THE UNION MEN of York County, Maine, will have a Grand Mass Meeting at Saco and Biddeford, on Friday, Sept. 9th. Among the speakers will be Hons. Green Clay Smith of Kentucky, E. B. Turner of Texas, John A. Peters, Lot M. Morrill, and Nathan Webb of Maine. There will be a procession, including a grand cavalcade; and 100 guns will be fired in honor of the recent victories. Music will be furnished by the celebrated 17th. U. S. Band.

An excursion train, at half fare, will leave Portsmouth for Saco at 7 o'clock Friday morning. Returning, leave Saco at 5. Fare for the entire trip, $1.40.

☞ Our friend L. S. B. wants to know where we should expect to find copper, except among copper-heads? He survives, after perpetrating the above.

☞ We are requested to state that the fall term of the Girls' High School will commence this (Thursday) morning.

☞ That salute of one hundred guns—on account of recent victories—will be fired at noon to-day, at the Navy Yard.

☞ The Washington Star deplores the profane, dissipated character of the present Sunday amusements of that city as follows:

"We have now Sunday papers, Sunday street-cars, Sunday dress parades, Sunday gardens, Sunday displays of cyprian equestrianism and barouche exercises, Sunday suburban 'free-and-easy,' and latest and fastest of the fast and furious amusements of our modern Sunday carnival, we have the Sunday down river excursion, where the gay and festive—those sufficiently sober to stand upon their feet—can trip it on the light fantastic toe to the music of the Marine Band."

— A ponderous gold guard chain has just been completed at a chain and jewelry manufactory in Springfield, for a man in New York, who has a fancy for "big things." It is four feet long, weighs a pound and a quarter, big enough to chain an ox with, and costs about $900.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

CHRONICLE PRICES AND TERMS.

The price of the Daily Chronicle is $10 a year, or $6 in advance; 75 cents per month—20 cts. per week—5 cents per copy.

The (Weekly) N. H. Gazette $2 per year in advance—6 cents single copy.

Terms Cash—or all bills for Advertising, &c., to be presented at the pleasure of the publisher.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—From this date our Carriers of Subscribers' lists are not allowed to sell copies of the Chronicle, nor to receive pay for any subscriptions, except when furnished by us with receipts for the same,—which will not be given for less term than 1 month, 75 cts., or 3 months $2 in advance. If any prefer to pay weekly, they can do so at our counting room only. Will all concerned please remember this, and thus aid in the more prompt and accurate delivery of our papers. Sept. 1.

☞ Special attention is asked to Hunnewell's preparations, advertised on our inside columns. They are based on true medical laws, used very largely by Physicians, and most undoubted testimonials are in the hands of the proprietor, always open to inspection. Let Portsmouth and its vicinity bear testimony by a confidence to test them, which will be sacred.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. Its use always brings a smile to the household; it keeps them in health; it helps make the weak strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. Ask you value health, use it. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

THE HORRORS OF WAR can be greatly mitigated by that sovereign remedy, Holloway's Ointment, as it will cure any wound, however desperate, if it be well rubbed around the wounded parts, and they should be kept thoroughly covered with it. A pot of ointment should be in every man's knapsack.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 227

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank, "
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and
ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and afford

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE "KILKENNY CATS."—A late number of Notes and Queries gives the following account of the origin of the phrase we have placed at the head of this article. The writer says:

"The story has been so long current that it has become a proverb, "as quarrelsome as the Kilkenny cats," one of the cats in which city are asserted to have fought so long and so furiously that nought was found of them but two tails! This is manifestly an Irish exaggeration; and when your readers shall have learned the true anecdote connected with the two cats they will understand why only two tails were found, the unfortunate owners having fled in terror from the scene of their mutilation. I am happy in being able to state that neither Ireland nor Kilkenny is at all disgraced by the occurrence, which might have occurred in any other place in the known world.

"During the rebellion which occurred in Ireland in 1798, or may be in 1803, Kilkenny was garrisoned by a regiment of Hessian soldiers, who—as usual—it was the wife together in one of their barrack-rooms two cats by their respective tails, and then to throw them face to face across a line generally used for drying clothes. The cats naturally became infuriated, and scratched each other in the abdomen until death ensued to one or both of them, and terminated their sufferings. The officers of the corps were ultimately made acquainted with these barbarous acts of cruelty, and they resolved to put an end to them and punish the offenders. In order to effect this purpose an officer was ordered to inspect each barrack-room daily, and to report to the commanding officer in what state he found the room. The cruel soldiers, determined not to lose the daily torture of the wretched cats, generally employed one of their comrades to watch the approach of the officer, in order that the cats might be liberated and take refuge in flight before the visit of the officer to the scene of their tortures.

"On one occasion the 'look out man' neglected his duty, and the officer of the day was heard ascending the barrack stairs while the cats were undergoing their customary torture. One of the troopers immediately seized a sword from the arm rack, and with a single blow divided the tails of the two cats. The cats, of course, escaped through the open window of the room, which was entered almost immediately afterward by the officer, who inquired what was the cause of the two bleeding cat's tails being suspended on the clothes line, and was told in reply that 'two cats had been fighting in the room; that it was found impossible to separate them; and they fought so desperately that they had devoured each other up, with the exception of their two tails' which may have satisfied Captain Schummelkittel, but would not have deluded any person but a beery Prussian."

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of NINETEEN YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves powerful and disagreeable, are, by a process of science, (the process of extracting in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and nauseating pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation, it only possesses

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicine.

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are found through the stomach and bowels, half-dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain in the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, scrubs an action, will produce more mechanical and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence in the speedy and CERTAIN RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and produce an eruptive SCURVY OR AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their allotted part, removing the cause of LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA AND NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which spring from a torpid state of the stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the ELIXIR.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious ingredient, but is a vegetable tonic, and stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, for one dose of which we have prepared, for common family use which possesses upon every.

Travelers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

For the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated DANDELION WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1828.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to such purchaser the money which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

—AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Diabetes, Mucus, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus restoring the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally to the above, and to be used in connection therewith, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and diuretic; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.
A few doses cure Hysterics in females.
One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.
A few doses restore the organs of generation.
From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.
A few doses restore the appetite.
Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.
A few doses cure the low spirited.
One bottle restores mental power.
A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, broken-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The listless enervated youth, the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir or Essence of Life.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room, and the smoking and blacking up of the sashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, which can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Those using it in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or building dwellings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and healthy—and no portion of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the smoke pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air from the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of coal over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Clement, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Daily Morning Chronicle

ESTABLISHED 1852. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY, SEPT. 9, 1864. VOL. XXV. No. 60.

The Chronicle.

☞ The Scientific American very quietly gives the following illustration of the difference between scientific knowledge and guess work:

In the year 1853 the daily papers of New York announced a great invention by John Ericsson, which was to supersede the steam engine as a more economical and efficient motor. The Scientific American quietly but distinctly expressed the opinion that the invention would prove a failure. But our modest voice was drowned in the general hurrah over the brilliant invention. A great ship was constructed with enormous engines, and for a whole year we carried on the controversy against the leading papers of the city in regard to the practicability of the scheme. The invention was a failure; the air engines were taken out of the ship and steam engines were introduced in their place.

We have recently been engaged in another controversy with the daily press of the city in regard to another invention of Mr. Ericsson's, the monitors. On this occasion the positions are reversed—the Scientific American believing in the soundness of the mechanical appliances employed, while the daily papers agree in denouncing the invention. The recent brilliant triumph of the monitors in Mobile Bay is as conclusive proof of the soundness of our position in the present case as was furnished by the result in the former controversy.

THE TELESCOPE VS. THE MICROSCOPE.—Wm. Lloyd Garrison recently wrote a letter to Prof. Newman of Oxford, which contains advice as appropriate for this as for the other side of the Atlantic. We commend it to those hypercritical persons who overlook the great and glorious achievements of the past, and the noble deeds of President Lincoln, in their search for and impatience over matters of comparatively small amount. Mr. Garrison says:

"My dear sir, I beg you to take a telescopic rather than a microscopic view of our affairs; and, instead of dwelling upon and magnifying to huge dimensions those incidental errors and outrages which are inevitable in the midst of such an awful civil war, and which are sure to be corrected, fix your gaze upon those sublime and glorious acts of the President's administration, whereby slavery has received its death warrant, and the haughty slave power been laid low in the dust, and still feel justified in looking on this struggle with serene satisfaction as a sublime sacrifice for a magnificent future."

A MONSTER FRUIT CAN.—The Cleveland Herald has the following account of a novel structure now going up in that city:

The building is eighty feet by forty-four and a half, the side walls being twenty-two feet high. The front of the building, occupying about one fourth of the whole size, is to be used as a store, or ordinary warehouse, and will be constructed in the ordinary manner. The remainder of the building is to be walled entirely with iron, perfectly tight, and divided from the front part by similar walls. Within this enclosure is built another building, also of iron, with its walls about three feet distant from the walls of the outer building. The inner building is divided by iron walls into several smaller rooms, each of them being perfectly gas proof. The ground beneath the building was first packed with wet earth, the beams laid in coal tar, and the surface of the earth will be covered with coal tar. The space between the ground and the flooring will then be packed tight with sawdust, as will be the space between the outer and inner walls, and the hollow space in the iron lined doors. Overhead will be packed tightly with ice, which will be congealed by a peculiar process into a solid mass of hard ice, seven feet thick.

When all is completed the small rooms will be filled with fresh fruits, such as apples, grapes, &c., the oxygen of the atmosphere withdrawn by chemical process, and the room hermetically sealed. The vivifying elements being withdrawn, and the temperature being kept down by the peculiar process to about 30 degrees, the fruit remains perfectly fresh until the season for fresh fruit having passed away a high market is open for them, when the chambers are opened as wanted, and the fruit taken out as fresh as when first gathered.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Reverses, Specifications, Deeds of Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him also, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all of which one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIX FIFTY APPEALS, EVERY ONE of whom was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!
DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at the old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to performe cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syhilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married state, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER'S great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. Thirty odd copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
DR. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and obstructions, peculiar to females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which are contained any each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M., and on Sundays from 2 to 6 P.M.
N.B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle, at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Hood's official report of his loss of Atlanta does not differ materially from Gen. Sherman's account. He says that two rebel corps failed in an attack to dislodge the Union forces from the position they had taken near Jonesboro', and this made it necessary to abandon Atlanta. Hardee's corps, at Jonesboro', was assaulted by superior numbers, and being outflanked, was compelled to withdraw with a loss of eight guns. Other accounts represent Hood's army to be divided into two parts—one headed by Hood, and the other by Hardee, who won't stay killed. Gen. Sherman is reported to be 27 miles south of Atlanta.—His immediate object was supposed to be to fight these two bodies before they could effect a junction; but Sec. Stanton states that it is supposed to be Gen. Sherman's design to withdraw his advance columns and restore his railroad communications, broken by Wheeler and Forrest, and give his army rest in Atlanta, before making further advances. The rebels are fortifying Milledgeville, employing many slaves in the work. Is it, then, a great crime to use the military power of the Government to emancipate those working slaves? The voters of the North must answer that question. Vermont has.

A rebel working party was driven from Gen. Hancock's extreme left on the 4th, without much fighting. The health of our army is unimpaired, and troops continue to arrive from the north, averaging 1000 daily.

Sheridan's and Early's forces in the Shenandoah Valley continue to let each other alone very severely. It is the lull before the storm.

POLLARD, THE REBEL HISTORIAN.—Edward A. Pollard, of the Richmond Examiner, and author of a rebel "History of the War," was recently taken to Fort Warren. He was captured on board the blockade runner Greyhound. According to the Pittsburg Dispatch some stronghold like that in which he has been placed is the safest quarters Pollard can find, as he is a doomed man among the surviving prisoners who have been released from Richmond. It says:

"To his coarse, unfeeling brutality our men attribute no small share of the indignities and hardships heaped upon them in Richmond, and his voice was never heard but against them—never raised save to inculcate the justice or expediency of some newly devised brutality. He is one of that little band of malignants who have been engaged, heart and hand, for three years, in spreading among the ignorant masses of the South the most villainous representations of the Government and the Northern people, and who have done more, as journalists, to sustain the rebel cause than regiments of soldiers in the field. For his exertions in this line, however, we could afford to trust him to the vengeance of the Government; but for his unwarranted and unmanly efforts to oppress the already overburdened prisoners in Richmond we look to another source for punishment. Our young man, Col. Rose, and a score of others, well known and dear to us, have had a taste of this man's quality, and we ask for no other satisfaction than that chance may favor any one of them with a momentary meeting. There will assuredly be one educated villain less to labor in the rebel cause."

Pollard, who was held in custody in one of Boston's leading hotels after his capture, signed his name on the register "E. A. Parkinson." Orders were received from Washington to have Pollard sent to Fort Warren "forthwith," and he was accordingly taken down the harbor, and introduced there. He has made application to be furloughed on account of ill health, so that he can go and reside with his sister at Newburg, New York. Pollard did not seem to relish his trip, says the Boston Journal. He should if possible, says Uncle Toby, be set to work, with a ball and chain, and so should a number of traitor "historians" also, who live in Northern cities, and circulate poison for the ignorant dupes who read only such trash as they write

☞ The London Morning Post, which is supposed to speak Lord Palmerston's sentiments, upholds the seizure of the Georgia by the Niagara, and says that the British government cannot interfere to protect the Georgia, as no sale of a Confederate vessel could be made according to law in an English port. Once a Confederate cruiser, always a Confederate cruiser,—and so the Georgia could be taken wherever found, provided that the ship that found her was strong enough to snap her up,—as was the case with the Niagara. So those amiable copperheads who hoped that the Georgia's capture would cause England to attack us will be disappointed. Fortune is against them, everywhere, in the affair of the Georgia as much as in Georgia, at Atlanta; in Portsmouth, England, as well as in Portsmouth, N. H.

The supporters of Gen. McClellan are in a great hurry to tell us that if we do not vote for him there will be a Northern rebellion.—Tribune.

Are the hidden guns and stolen copper parts of this programme?

General McClellan is gravely advised to throw overboard Fernando Wood and Horatio Seymour for a couple of dangerous passengers. He may try it; but suppose, in the struggle, they should throw him over, who would go into the whale's belly then? —N. Y. Tribune.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dover pays $500 bounty to resident volunteers.

—— The 3d company of Heavy Artillery, Capt. Chandler, have left for Washington.

—— The Governor and Council have decided to send no more recruiting agents south.

—— The State's indebtedness is $1,174,866.05; valuation, $129,855,187. Not so bad as it might be.

—— Dr. William Young of Deerfield, arrested on a charge of causing the death of a young woman by procuring abortion, has been discharged.

—— Daniel M. Christie of Dover is the Union nominee for Elector in the 2d District; A. H. Dunlap of Nashua in the 3d District.

—— Maj. Larkin, of the 5th, has been promoted to be Lieut. Colonel of the same regiment, and Capt. W. A. Crafts has received his commission as Major.

—— Acting Ensign Charles W. Rogers of Exeter has been promoted to be Acting Master. Acting Ensign Christopher C. Gill, nephew of Charles Gill, Esq., of Exeter, has received a similar appointment.

—— The Exeter News-Letter says: A gentleman from South Newmarket informs us that at the late camp meeting in that vicinity the order-loving people had procured the services of twenty-five police officers, and each officer was armed with a revolver and a slung shot.

—— John W. Allard, Esq., of Dover, has resigned the place of Principal of Franklin Academy, and taken charge of the High School at Framingham, Mass. Mr. A. has been Principal nearly five years. He had recently been appointed a member of the Board of Education and School Commissioner for Strafford County.

—— The Musical Convention held in Keene lately was one of the best, says the Sentinel, ever held in that place. The three evening concerts were crowded, there being in the hall during one of them over 1000 persons; during another about 1300, and during the third 1350. The total cash receipts amounted to $717.62, and the expenses to $482.37.

—— At Concord, Monday, the train of the Vermont Central Railroad, which left Rouse's Point in the morning, was invaded by five men, drunk with whiskey. Three of them were discharged soldiers of the 3d N. H. regiment, two of them were gamblers or substitute brokers. The five desperadoes took their seats in the smoking car, and when asked for their fare, though all had money, a part of them told the conductor to go to ——, and used language offensive, rude and indecent. The conductor, engineer and brakeman finally got them off the train. But they jumped on to the rear car and came tearing through the train, threatening death to their assailants. Grasping the rope that is attached to the bell of the locomotive, they broke it, and, stopping the train, went to the rear car—drove out the ladies and took possession. Then the conductor, engineer and brakeman, with others, pitched battle with the rascals, of whom one was left insensible by the wayside, three were brought into Manchester and placed in charge of the police, and the fifth escaped.

IMMENSE FIRE IN ENGLAND.—A fire almost unparalled in extent in the history of England recently broke out in Woolmer Forest, and raged with fearful vehemence for more than a week. The united efforts of over one thousand persons were required to subdue it. The flames were distinctly visible for a circuit of twenty miles. Hats and cottages were consumed, and a village narrowly escaped the spreading conflagration.

A large military force was sent to the spot, which, by digging trenches, at last circumvented the fire, and prevented its further progress. Between seven and eight thousand acres of plantation, chiefly the property of the Government, were burned. The forest, once celebrated for its red deer, has been completely devastated, and thousands of stately fir and other trees destroyed. The damage done is immense. A tract extending seven miles in length and three miles in width, presents a charred and blackened appearance.

AFRICA UNDER THE EQUATOR.—The attention of commercial and Christian men is now wonderfully directed to the interior of Africa. Capt. Speake, celebrated for his recent discovery of the sources of the Nile, in a recent address in England, spoke of a zone of astonishing fertility he had discovered in Africa, stretching in a line with the equator, from east to west. Its altitude is between 3000 and 4000 feet, and in the very heart of the country is a great mountain group, which are the rain-bearers for fertilizing the country; so that throughout the year there is an average monthly fall of two or three inches of rain. The temperature, which is the same during the whole year, is as mild as of England in summer, and with the moisture, heat, and a rich soil, makes the country as fertile as any in the world. The climate is the most healthy of all the regions in which he travelled. Arab merchants and others told him that there is no place so healthy as the equatorial regions. He especially urged the importance of sending missionaries to this region, as the people are not purely heathen, but having emanated from the Abyssinian stock, have the germ of Christianity among them.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— Gold 236 1-2.

— A pirate chased the steamer Franconia off Cape Sable on Wednesday.

— A dispatch says McClellan accepts his nomination with a war letter.

— Trade is dull in New York; importations fall off largely.

— The net proceeds of one trip of a vessel just into Gloucester is $5400.

— The second Mrs. Yelverton has applied for a divorce.

— Arrangements have been made to release from close confinement in irons all prisoners of war on both sides.

— At the recent Commencement of Brown University Professor Goldwin Smith was made Doctor of Laws.

— The Lawrence Manufacturing Co. have declared a dividend of thirty dollars p r share.

— Lloyd's List, of Aug. 25, reports that the steamer Georgia was ordered to Boston by Com. Craven of the Niagara.

— A monitor has been launched at Callao, and a steamer is now being rapidly converted into an iron clad.

— The crop of tobacco planted in Connecticut this season is larger than ever before, and the yield is unprecedented.

— The negro Sims, of Boston celebrity, is at Nashville, Tenn., lecturing to the colored people there, on their "position, prospects and duties."

— Vermont gains largely—Union majority from 5000 to 6000 greater than it was last year; no copperheads in the Senate, only five in the House. Fall in, Maine.

— The Supreme Court has decided that San Francisco must issue bonds for $400,000 in aid of the Central Pacific Railroad. This aid will give the road a great impetus.

— Senator Wilson has completed his history of the legislation of Congress during the present administrative term, upon slavery and emancipation. It is in press.

— The New York Union State Convention, at Syracuse, nominated Mr. Fenton for Governor, Mr. Alvord for Lieutenant Governor, and Mr. Greeley and Mr. Preston King for Electors at-large.

— Five of the officers of the Kearsarge have arrived in Washington to give depositions respecting the action of the English yacht Greyhound in the recent naval fight. Capt. Winslow is expected soon.

— Sec. Stanton officially states that the draft will be made immediately for deficiencies in districts, beginning with those most in arrears, but credits for volunteers will be allowed as long as possible.

— The wife of George H. Pendleton, second on the ticket with McClellan, is the daughter of Francis S. Key, author of the "Star Spangled Banner." Her brother is a rebel sympathizer and has been a political prisoner.

— A locomotive got loose on the Brighton (England) railway not long since, tore along fearfully, made a clean hole through a station-house, carried away a tailor's shop part of a house, an entire wall, and at last brought up against a building substantial enough to arrest its progress.

— The pirate Florida arrived at Teneriffe Aug. 13th, coaled and provisioned, and sailed on the 14th, going South. She received no courtesies while there. The pirates expressed regret that they did not save the Electric Spark and cargo, and run them through the blockade. She was destroyed, then?

— The English papers chronicle the fact that a marriage had been celebrated in London, with some ceremony, between Lt. Samuel Wylde Hardinge, late of the U. S. Navy, and "Belle Boyd." The alliance was brought about while she was a prisoner to Lt. Hardinge in the U. S. steamer Conestoga. It is added that Hardinge is about to join the rebels.

— The opposition steamer Washoe exploded her boiler in Sacramento River on Monday night. Her upper works were shattered and stem blown off. 150 passengers were killed and wounded. 50 persons are dead or will soon die. The boat was running at a high rate of speed. The engineer said before he died that the cause of the explosion was rotten iron in the boiler.

— English opinion is favorable to the prosecution of the war here—that is, the peace party in America is believed by Englishmen to be a humbug. They are growing wise on the whippings of their Southern friends, and begin to realize that the "people of the United States" formed a much "more perfect Union" and government, in 1783, than the rebels or themselves had believed or thought possible.

— The resolution of the Chicago Convention, threatening revolutionary resistance to the Government, at the North, in the event of the copperheads being outvoted at the coming Presidential election, was, it seems, the handiwork of Ex-President Pierce, who sent the substance of it in a letter to Spofford, one of the Massachusetts delegates. This is proved by the publication of the letter itself in the Boston Post.

Draft Notice.

To the Citizens of Portsmouth:

The undersigned, having been appointed by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, a Committee to lay before the Board of Enrollment the names of all persons who claim exemption from the following cause, viz: Alienage, Non Residence, Unsuitableness of Age, Manifest Permanent Physical Disability, and persons who have been in the service two years during the present war, would give notice that they will be in session on and after Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1864, from 2 till 5 o'clock and from 7½ to 9 o'clock P. M., at the City Rooms, for the purpose of receiving evidence in such case.

The Enrollment list can be seen during the same hours, and every person who can present a claim for such exemption is respectfully requested to attend as above, and by this means correct the Enrollment, so that our quota can be reduced.

It is the duty of every citizen, whether enrolled or not, to see that the Committee have all the information in his power to give in the above matter, in regard to any person, and we trust that every enrolled man will urge the importance of the subject upon all those who are exempt for the above causes, as it is a matter of interest to all.

Any information in regard to matters connected with the above will be cheerfully given.

Let there be no delay.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ The Union meeting at Kittery on Wednesday evening, was quite successful in point of numbers and enthusiasm. Speeches were made by Hon. John A. Peters of Bangor, Hon. E. H. Rollins of Concord, Mr. John S. Daggett of Maine, and J. P. Morse, Esq., of this city. Several dwellings were illuminated. The delegation from this city and New Castle returned about half past ten; and the Band subsequently serenaded several of our prominent citizens till pretty near the small hours.

☞ Mr. Charles E. Rand, who for eight years past has been a clerk in the post office in this city, has resigned his position, and accepted that of Paymaster's Steward on board the U. S. steamer Colorado. For the past three years or more he has been chief clerk in the post office, and has discharged his duties in a manner acceptable to the public generally, having ever been found attentive, courteous, and obliging.

☞ That salute of 100 guns, in honor of the victory at Mobile, was fired at the Navy Yard on Thursday noon; and the bells of the city for an hour rang out their joyful peals. The flags were displayed on the U. S. vessels at the Navy Yard, and the receiving ship Vandalia looked especially gay with its multitude of flags and streamers.

☞ On Wednesday night there was a frost which destroyed vines in low lands. Thin ice made on standing water — the thermometer falling a little below 32 degrees.

☞ The U. S. steamer Albatross, which was taken into the Dry Dock at the Navy Yard, to be re-coppered, was undocked on Tuesday, and will be fitted for sea as soon as possible.

☞ Morris' Minstrels appear at the Temple to-night, for the last time. Full houses, tip-top programmes, excellent music, and fun enough to last a week. Go and see them.

☞ Co. A, Maine State Guards, of Bangor, having been relieved by Co. B, also of Bangor, on Wednesday left for home, accompanied by a band which came up from Bangor for the purpose.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL PURSUIT OF A SWINDLER.—Some two months since, a gang of swindlers and bogus lottery dealers was arrested at Haverhill, and committed to await their trial at the criminal term at Lawrence, in October next. The principal of the gang, Henry Bragg of Haverhill, was smart enough not to get trapped, and left for parts unknown. The Post Office was watched with the greatest vigilance, and finally information was obtained that he was in Michigan. Sheriff Cary immediately called upon Gov. Andrew, who granted him at once an executive warrant upon the Gov. of Michigan for the arrest of Bragg. Thus armed, he called to his aid Constable Tuck of Haverhill, and they proceeded to the distant West. On their arrival, the warrant was given to the Governor, who in return gave them his warrant for the arrest of the aforesaid Bragg. During the day the party was arrested and taken to a hotel. While at dinner the attention of the officers was momentarily diverted from their prisoner, when he made his escape. The officers calling upon the hotel waiters to assist them, made a bold push for the offender. The Sheriff led off in the chase, followed closely by Tuck and the whole retinue of waiters. Bragg took to the woods, the Sheriff lost his wind, Constable Tuck gave out, and the waiters faltered. Several days were fruitlessly spent in searching for the fugitive, but no tidings could be had of him. With heavy hearts they took up their line of march for home.—On arriving at Montreal, the first individual who greeted them on landing, was the aforesaid Bragg, who received them very cordially and invited them to his hotel to take a private drink. The only consolation left the officers is that the State pays all the bills.—Newburyport Herald.

AN EVENTFUL LIFE.—A native of Newburyport, Mr. James Morse, a gentleman well known in literary circles, who died in New York City some weeks since, aged 54, stood beside Elijah P. Lovejoy when (in 1835) he was murdered at Alton, Ill., while defending the third press which he had purchased and brought to that city whereon to print a religious paper which should be open to the discussion of Slavery along with other moral evils. Mr. Morse, a native of Newburyport, Mass., had then been several years in the West, living mainly at St. Louis, where he was engaged in mercantile pursuits. He afterward lived several years in Washington and removed thence to New York, where he acted as correspondent for several leading journals, and where he witnessed and aided in resisting the shameful and formidable pro-Slavery riots of last year. Having received the martyred Lovejoy in his arms, when he fell pierced by the bullets of his murderers, he noted the operations of the same spirit in New York where hundreds joined in the chase of one poor frightened boy, suspected of no crime but the color which God had seen fit to give him. Mr. Morse, therefore, though dying in the mature prime of life, may be said to have borne a part in the events which marked the beginning and almost the close of one of the greatest moral revolutions which any age or country has experienced.

A DRIVING CLOUD.

"O, gaze upon the driving cloud!
Rushing o'er hills and plains!!
"But why call that a driving cloud!"
"Because it holds the rains (reins)!!"

JOE POLIS, THE INDIAN GUIDE.—"Suppose," said I, "that I should take you in a dark night right up here into the middle of the woods a hundred miles, set you down, and turn you round quickly twenty times, could you steer straight for Oldtown?" "O yes," said he; "have done pretty much same thing. I will tell you. Some years ago I met an old white hunter at Millinocket; very good hunter. He said he could go anywhere in the woods. He wanted to hunt with me that day; so we start. We chase a moose all the forenoon, round and round, till middle of afternoon, when we kill him. Then I said to him, now you go straight to camp. Don't go round and round, where we've been, but go straight. He said, I can't do that, I don't know where I am. Where you think camp? I asked. He point so. Then I laugh at him. I take the lead and go right off the other way, cross our tracks many times, straight camp." "How do you do that?" asked I. "O, I can't tell you," he replied. "Great difference between me and white man.—Thoreau's Maine Woods.

THE UNION MEN of York County, Maine, will have a Grand Mass Meeting at Saco and Biddeford, on Friday, Sept. 9th. Among the speakers will be Hons. Green Clay Smith of Kentucky, E. B. Turner of Texas, John A. Peters, Lot M. Morrill, and Nathan Webb of Maine. There will be a procession, including a grand cavalcade; and 100 guns will be fired in honor of the recent victories. Music will be furnished by the celebrated 17th. U. S. Band.

An excursion train, at half fare, will leave Portsmouth for Saco at 7 o'clock Friday morning. Returning, leave Saco at 5. Fare for the entire trip, $1.40.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—From this date our Carriers of Subscribers' lists are not allowed to sell copies of the Chronicle, nor to receive pay for any subscriptions, except when furnished by us with receipts for the same.—Bills which will not be given for less term than 1 month, 75 cts., or 3 months $2 in advance. If any prefer to pay weekly, they can do so at our counting room only. Will all concerned please remember this, and thus aid in the more prompt and accurate delivery of our papers. Sept. 1.

☞ Special attention is asked to Hunnewell's preparations, advertised on our inside columns. They are based on true medical laws, used very largely by Physicians, and most undoubted testimonials are in the hands of the proprietor, always open to inspection. Let Portsmouth and its vicinity bear testimony by a confidence to test them, which will be sacred.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. Its use always brings a smile to the household; it keeps them in health; it helps make the weak strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. As you value health, use it. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

THE HORRORS OF WAR can be greatly mitigated by that sovereign remedy, Holloway's Ointment, as it will cure any wound, however desperate, if it be well rubbed around the wounded parts, and they should be kept thoroughly covered with it. A pot of ointment should be in every man's knapsack.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 227

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK,

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

Morning Chronicle.

COULDN'T SEE IT.—The other day we noticed that a presentation had been made to an Inspector at Colt's, who was about leaving for Springfield. Since then the following particulars have leaked out. When the gentleman had made up his mind to change his situation he hinted to his workmen that a presentation would be kindly received. They at once fell into the idea, told him to get his supper ready, &c., all of which he did, and so on Wednesday night, all being prepared, the men and employees met at Charter Oak Hall, where a fine supper was spread, to which justice was done. Then came the sensation of the evening, the presentation speech, which was duly made and responded to by the happy man. The present was done up in a neat package, which modesty prevented him from opening until the company had left, but when he did open it, instead of the handsome gold-mounted glass he expected to find, he found a pair of leather goggles. He acknowledged himself sold and left for Springfield, a "sadder and wiser man," concluding doubtless that his would wait in future for presents without hints.—Hartford Post.

THE POWER OF IMAGINATION. Once, at a large dinner party, Mr. Rogers was speaking of an inconvenience arising from the custom, then commencing, of having windows formed of one large sheet of plate glass. He said that a short time ago he sat at dinner with his back to one of those single panes of glass; it appeared to him that the window was wide open, and such was the force of imagination that he actually caught cold. It so happened that I was sitting just opposite to to the poet. Hearing this remark, I immediately said, "Dear me, how odd it is, Mr. Rogers, that you and I should make such a different use of the faculty of imagination.—When I go to the house of a friend in the country, and unexpectedly remain for the night, having no nightcap, I should naturally take cold. But by tying a bit of pack-thread tightly round my head, I go to sleep imagining that I have a nightcap on; consequently I catch no cold at all." This sally produced much amusement in all around, who supposed I had improvised it; but, odd as it may appear, it is a practice I have often resorted to. Mr. Rogers, who knew well my free regard and respect for I had for him, saw at once that I was relating a simple fact, and joined cordially in the merriment it excited.—Passages from the Life of a Philosopher, by Charles Babbage.

☞ A gentleman in New Jersey recently enlisted a substitute, for whom he paid $800. When they parted the recruit promised to write at the first opportunity. The gentleman was some time afterwards a little surprised at receiving a letter from his man dated Quebec, informing him that his money had enabled the substitute and his wife to set up a corner grocery, and they were doing well, and if the patron would give him a call, he should have a drink gratis.

☞ A paper substance to be used for book binding has just been invented in England. It appears to receive gilt impressions with the distinctness of morocco, and it can be washed with soap and water when dirty; it may be surmised that hereafter the phrase "musty literature" will fall into disuse. It is said that its cost will be something like one-half of the present price of embossed cloth.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate victims of vice that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND ALL SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region of generation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending the class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest siblings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Blotches on the face, Pimples, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotten, warranted the most effective. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females

IN DELICATE HEALTH.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressions, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of the women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus or Whites, in which all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

DR. WRIGHT'S

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and shortcut method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.
A few doses will cure Hysterics in females.
One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.
A few doses restore the organs of generation.
From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.
A few doses restore the appetite.
Three bottles cure the worst cases of Impotency,
A few doses cure the low spirited.
One bottle restores mental power.
A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, worn-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The ladies enervated with the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir or Essence of Life.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than any other, the oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is kept in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objections raised at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fine or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

VEGETABLE INSTINCTS.—A tree which is fond of water, when planted near some brook, will set off all its principal roots in that direction. How does it know the water to be there? And how does it know it will be able to reach the border of it? To say, in proper phrase, that the water attracts the roots in that direction, is to invent a new and very remarkable art of attraction. An attraction that pulls at roots in the ground, and turns them at the point of starting, is a something created to account for the fact in question, which is even more difficult than the fact itself. Mr. Madison, for example, had an aqueduct of logs which, in reaching his house, passed a tree specially fond of water, at a considerable distance from it. Abreast of the tree there was an auger hole in the log that had been filled with a plug of soft wood. Exactly thitherward the tree sent off a long stretch of roots, which forced their way through the plug, choking up the passage, and were found there drinking, like so many animals. Was it then the soft wood plug that attracted these roots? It certainly should be, on the attraction principle, for the water was just as near at other points as here. It is said that a strawberry planted in sand, with good earth a little ways off, will turn its runners all in the latter direction; and if the good earth be too far off to be reached, the plant will make no effort on that side more than on the other—which is equivalent to saying that the plant has, in its life-principle, an instinct of measurement. It does not measure the ground and then measure itself, and then compare the two; but it has an adaptive power by which, without comparison, it graduates its action by its possibilities.

CURIOUS FACTS ABOUT WATER.—The extent to which water mingles with bodies apparently most solid, is very wonderful. The glittering opal, which beauty wears as an ornament, is only flint and water. Of every twelve hundred tons of earth which a land holder has in his estate, four hundred are water. In every plaster of paris statue for sale, there is one pound of water to every four pounds of chalk. The air we breathe contains five grains of water to each cubic foot of its bulk. The potatoes and the turnips which are boiled for our dinner, have in their raw state, the one seventy-five per cent., the other ninety-five per cent. of water. A man weighing ten stone were squeezed flat in a hydraulic press, seven and a half stone of water would run out and only two and a half of dry residue remain. A man is, chemically speaking, forty-five pounds of carbon and nitrogen, diffused through five and a half pailfuls of water. In plants we find water thus mingling not less wonderfully. A sunflower evaporates one and a quarter pints of water a day, and a cabbage about the same quantity. A wheat plant exhales, in a hundred and seventy-two days, about one hundred thousand grains of water. An acre of grown wheat, on this calculation, draws and passes out about ten tons of water per day. The sap of plants is the medium through which this mass of fluid is conveyed. It forms a delicate pump, up which the particles of water run with the rapidity of a swift stream. By the action of the sap, various properties may be communicated to the growing plant. Timber in France is, for instance, dyed by various colors being mixed with water and poured over by the root of the tree. Dahlias are also colored by a similiar process.

A day in the moon, according to an English astronomer, is equal to fourteen days upon the earth. The day begins with a slow sunshing, followed by a brilliant sunshine and intense heat, about two hundred and twelve degrees Farenheit; the sky is intensely black, there being no atmosphere like ours, to which blue sky is due; the stars are visible and the horizon is limited; there is dead silence; the cold in the intensely black shadow is very great, and there is no aerial perspective. Thus the moon is no place for man, or any animals or vegetables that we know of. The night of the moon, fourteen of our nights, begins with a slow sunset, which is followed by intense cold, about 334° below zero.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even even walking out for weeks together and very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrups, &c., but she obtained no relief until she tried I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOHN L. SEAVEY.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEETS PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, NO. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claim of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, has ceased since that great delay there. are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part induces me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN ACTUAL SPECIFICATIONS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, fingered oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, HEALTH.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects you from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A Cairo telegram of the 4th inst. states that Gen. A. J. Smith and Gen. Grierson, with their staffs and troops, have reached Memphis, and are now en route up the river. They are to be paid off at Cairo. Their destination is of course contraband news for the present. Gen. Smith arrived at Cairo on the 7th inst.

Gen. Sherman states that Hood's army was pursued to Lovejoy's station, 20 miles south of Atlanta, where he was found strongly entrenched; and Gen. Sherman, thinking it would not 'pay' to assault him, as Atlanta, the great object of the campaign, had been gained, returned leisurely to that city, in and around which his army is now going into camp. The result is—the capture of 27 guns and over 3000 prisoners the rebels have lost Atlanta, a large quantity of stores, 500 killed, 2500 wounded, and 3000 prisoners; while our entire loss was less than 1500. Gen. Sherman adds: "If that is not a success, I don't know what is."

Gen. Rousseau is still driving Wheeler, who is trying to get across the Tennessee. We have taken many prisoners.

Our troops have effected a landing at Cedar Point, 3 miles above Dauphin Island, and 25 miles from Mobile, the road to which is held by the rebels. It is said, however, they have no fortification in the road, except near the city.

A PLEA FOR THE CRIMINALS.—Suppose ye that the two criminals, who stole the copper and concealed the guns, are sinners above all the partisans whom they call brethren? I tell you Nay. They are only a small portion of a great conspiracy against the life, liberty and property of honest and loyal men. What else was Franklin Pierce's speech about the Mausoleum of Hearts, than a crafty invitation to scenes of violence and bloodshed in New Hampshire, in case elections could not otherwise be carried by his confederates? What else does his late letter mean, addressed to "my dear Spofford" at Chicago? They are both calculated to stir up and encourage such miscreants as made the riots in New York, and as stole the copper and bought the arms in New Hampshire. And while the low thieves and would-be murderers, now unmasked, deserve censure and punishment, the sleek hypocrites of higher degree, here and elsewhere, who urge them on, deserve a deeper condemnation and a more severe punishment.

The disclosures just made here are valuable and timely. With the fact staring them in the face, that the pretended exclusive friends of peace are actually plotting rebellion, and arming for assassination and murder,—it seems certain that many worthy men who have hitherto followed these leaders can follow them no longer—but will either disappear from the polls, or vote, as many of them now do, for Union and Liberty, Law and Justice. U. T.

LETTER FROM GEN. GRANT.—The Boston Advertiser's dispatch gives the following extract from a letter from Gen. Grant to Hon. E. B. Washburne, dated Headquarters, City Point, Va., Aug 16:

I state to all citizens who visit me that all we want now to insure an early restoration of the Union is determined unity of sentiment in the North. The rebels have now in their ranks their last man. The little boys and old men are guarding the prisoners and railroad bridges, and forming a good part of their garrisons for entrenched positions. A man lost by them cannot be replaced. They have robbed the cradle and the grave equally to get their present force.

Besides what they lose in frequent skirmishes and battles, they are now losing from desertions and other causes at least one regiment per day. With this drain upon them the end is not far distant, if we are only true to ourselves. Their only hope now is in a divided North. This might give them reinforcements from Tennessee, Kentucky, Maryland, and Missouri, while it would weaken us.

With the draft quietly enforced the enemy would become despondent, and make but little resistance. I have no doubt the enemy are very anxious to hold out until after the Presidential election. They have many hopes from its effects. They hope a counter revolution; they hope the election of a peace candidate; in fact, like Micawber, they hope for something to turn up.

If our peace friends expect peace from separation they are much mistaken. It would be but the beginning of war, with thousands of Northern men joining the South because of our disgrace in allowing separation. With peace on any terms the South would demand the restoration of the slaves already freed, indemnity for losses, a treaty which would make the North a slave hunter for the South, and pay for or restoration of every slave escaping to the North.

— The Herald states that Charles Conners, an Irish boy of 14 summers, was before the Newburyport Police Court on Thursday, for robbing several stores: one of tacks, knobs, castors, &c., in all, to the amount of $45; from another, two boxes of Spanish cigars; and from another two boxes of buttons. The articles were sold to a party in Newburyport, from whom they were recovered. Conners was sent to the County House for nine months.

— Southern journals are striving to make it appear that the loss of Atlanta is no loss to their side, — but they are bitter as death on Hood.

GEN. McCLELLAN'S LETTER.

ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 8th, 1864.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter informing me of my nomination by the Democratic National Convention, recently assembled at Chicago, as their candidate at the next election for President of the United States. It is unnecessary for me to say to you that this nomination comes to me unsought. I am happy to know when the nomination was made the record of my public life was kept in view.

The effect of long and varied service in the army during war and peace has been to strengthen and make indelible in my mind and heart the love and reverence for the Union, Constitution, Laws, and Flag of our Country. Impressed upon me in early youth, these feelings have thus far guided the course of my life, and must continue to do so to its end.

The existence of more than one government over the region which once owned our flag is incompatible with the peace, the power and the happiness of the people.

The preservation of our Union was the sole avowed object for which the war was commenced. It should have been conducted for that object only, and in accordance with those principles which I took occasion to declare when in active service. Thus conducted the work of reconciliation would have been easy, and we might have reaped the benefits of our many victories on land and sea. The Union was originally formed by the exercise of a spirit of conciliation and compromise. To restore and preserve it the same spirit must prevail in our councils and in the hearts of the people.

The re-establishment of the Union in all its integrity is, and must continue to be, the indispensable condition in any settlement. So soon as it is clear, or even probable, that our present adversaries are ready for peace upon the basis of the Union, we should exhaust all the resources of statesmanship practised by civilized nations and taught by the traditions of the American people, consistent with the honor and interests of the country, to secure such a peace, re-establish the Union and guarantee for the future the constitutional rights of every State. The Union is the one condition of peace. We ask no more.

Let me add what I doubt not was, although unexpressed, the sentiment of the convention as it is of the people they represent—that when any one State is willing to return to the Union it should be received at once with a full guarantee of all its constitutional rights. If a frank, earnest and persistent effort to obtain these objects should fail, the responsibility for ulterior consequences will fall upon those who remain in arms against the Union. But the Union must be preserved at all hazards. I could not look in the face of my gallant comrades of the army and navy, who have survived so many bloody battles, and tell them that their labors, and the sacrifice of so many of our slain and wounded brethren had been in vain; that we had abandoned that Union for which we have so often peilled our lives. A vast majority of our people, whether in the army or navy or at home, would, as I write, hail with unbounded joy the permanent restoration of peace on the basis of Union under the Constitution without the effusion of another drop of blood. But no peace can be permanent without Union.

As to the other subjects presented in the resolutions of the convention I need only say that I should seek in the Constitution of the United States and the laws framed in accordance therewith, the rule of my duty and the limitation of executive power, endeavor to restore economy in public expenditure, re-establish the supremacy of law, and by the operation of a more vigorous nationality, resume our commanding position among the nations of the earth.

The condition of our finances, the depreciation of the paper money and the burdens thereby imposed on labor and capital show the necessity of a return to a sound financial system; while the rights of citizens and the rights of States and the binding authority of law over President, army and people, are subjects of not less vital importance in war than in peace.

Believing that the views here expressed are but those of the convention and the people you represent, I accept the nomination. I realize the weight of the responsibility to be borne should the people ratify your choice. Conscious of my own weakness, I can only seek persistantly the guidance of the Ruler of the Universe; and relying on His all-powerful aid, do my best to restore the Union and peace to a suffering people, and to establish and guard their liberties and rights. I am, gentlemen, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. B. McCLELLAN.

To Horatio Seymour and others, of the Committee.

GUILTY OR NOT GUILTY?—The Richmond Dispatch of June, 1862, distinctly charges upon General George B. McClellan, that in a letter to a distinguished officer of the Confederate army he had expressed a desire to serve in that army.—The Dispatch challenges a denial, and offers to prove the charge by unquestionable evidence.

The charge was published in the New York Tribune, June 25, 1862, and in other papers throughout the land. Yet, up to this hour, no denial has appeared. No explanation has been offered, by either Gen. McClellan or his friends.

The charge is now reiterated by the Richmond Enquirer, with corroborating circumstances, and it is furthermore alleged that after the battle of Peach Mountain McClellan and Rosecrans both said they would rather lead an army against Massachusetts than against Virginia. Can this be true? Guilty or not guilty?

The writer of this article was a defender of Gen. McClellan for two years, when he most needed friends, but has been obliged to give him up, though with an aching heart. J. N.

The above article is from the Portland Courier, and the initials are doubtless those of JOHN NEAL.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— The Boston Post calls the Vice President Hamblin. What is fame?

— Gen. Butler returned to the army on Thursday.

— They are getting up a cat show in London now.

— James C. Robinson is the Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois.

— 7700 men were put into Gen. Grant's army on Wednesday. About 30,000 have been mustered in since Sept. 1.

— A retired sportsmen near Paris has opened a store for the sale of dead game to unsuccessful votaries of the rod or gun.

— A driver on the Salem Horse Railroad has been fined $5 and costs for fast driving. The bill amounted to $11.15.

— A movement is on foot to purchase a house in New York for the family of Lieut. Gen. Grant.

— Counterfeit bills on the Freeman's Bank, Bristol, R. I., are in circulation in Newburyport.

— Acting Masters' Mates are needed by the Navy Department. Recommendations showing sea service must accompany the applications.

— Philadelphia courts have decided that street cars running on Sunday disturb the rights of worship and rest, and that their drivers may be arrested.

— The Hon. E. R. Ingersoll, successor to Owen Lovejoy, has been unanimously nominated for re-election by the Union Convention of the fifth Illinois District.

— The Black Warrior warehouse, in Milwaukee, was burned on Sunday, and 20,000 bushels of wheat were destroyed.—Loss, $50,000; fully insured.

— The Maryland State Convention has adjourned. The new constitution will be submitted to a vote of the people on the 12th of October.

— They hung Spencer in Maine some time ago for murder; and now the first case of murder in that State since the execution has occurred in Spencer's town.

— Rumors of danger to our commerce have induced Collector Barney of New York to order four armed revenue steamers to cruise in such waters as are likely to attract the visits of rebel vessels.

— The lecture associations and literary societies of the Northwestern States have formed a permanent Northwestern lecture association, and agreed to employ only first-class lecturers.

— The annual beach gathering of the towns of Salisbury and Amesbury will take place on Wednesday next, Sept. 14. A band of music has been provided, and speakers far and near have been invited.

— Adm. Farragut has been instructed by the Navy Department not to exchange his prisoners excepting for officers and men belonging to our naval forces who were a long time ago captured by the rebels and who are confined in Texas.

— Adm. Davis, Col. Bowman, of West Point, and Orison Blunt, of New York, have been appointed a Board of Commissioners to examine the grounds and select a site for a new Navy Yard and Naval Depot for the West.

— The following novel item appears in an English public document just issued: "Paid the sealer of the Court of Chancery, for wax expended by him in sealing patents, £114 5s. 6d." This charge is for one year.

— There is a family in the town of Seymour, Conn., in which there is a child whose father, grandfather, great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather are all living—a most remarkable instance of constitutional health and longevity.

— Mrs. Alice Gordon Bennett, daughter-in-law of the editor of the New York Herald, has been arrested as a rebel spy, while attempting to pass through our lines at Atlanta. She says her husband is on the gunboat Winona, of Farragut's fleet.

— The New York Express contains a notice of marriage between Mr. Richard Kidd and Miss Henrietta Knapp. This case of "kidnapping" has caused quite a sensation among the friends of the parties concerned.

— The sudden call for five hundred thousand sovereigns in England on Spanish account, not only caused the recent advance in the rate of interest by the Bank of England, but caused a loss in public and private securities of forty millions of pounds.

— Gov. Buckingham of Connecticut officially proclaims that her volunteers in the army have the right to vote in the coming elections. The popular vote in the State was 24,000 for it, 14,000 against. Majority in the State 10,000. Every county in the State gave a majority in its favor.

— A baptismal font has been presented to St. James (Episcopal) church of Amesbury, Mass., by the widow of Capt. William Derr. Capt. Derr was killed at Spottsylvania. A few years ago his father, Dr. Derr, of Philadelphia, presented to this society a silver communion service.

Draft Notice.
To the Citizens of Portsmouth:
The undersigned, having been appointed by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, a Committee to lay before the Board of Enrollment the names of all persons who claim exemption from the following causes, viz: Alienage, Non-Residence, Unsuitableness of Age, Manifest Permanent Physical Disability, and persons who have been in the service two years during the present war, would give notice that they will be in session on and after Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1864, from 2 till 5 o'clock and from 7 to 9 o'clock P. M., at the City Rooms, for the purpose of receiving evidence in such cases.
The Enrollment list can be seen during the same hours, and every person who can present a claim for such exemption is respectfully requested to attend as above, and by this means correct the Enrollment, so that our quota can be reduced.
It is the duty of every citizen, whether enrolled or not, to see that the Committee have the information in his power to give in the above matter, in regard to any person, and we trust that every enrolled man will urge the importance of the subject upon all those who are exempt for the above causes, as it is a matter of interest to all.
Any information in regard to matters connected with the above will be cheerfully given.
Let there be no delay.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

CLEAR AS MUD.—It is held to be perfectly natural, in the course of lawful trade, as expounded now, for copper dealers to have sixteen rifles, marked with the names of sixteen customers, who never bought them; and very common for dealers in ladies' dry goods to peddle muskets to regular customers; also quite constitutional for citizens to keep and bear arms, hidden, by the boxful. In short, the doctrine is, that every species of treason, stealing, and murder, is upheld by constitution, law and usage—and that nobody is to blame, except officers or good citizens, who do what they can to prevent such evils, or to punish the evil doers.

☞ We are indebted to Sergt. J. W. Plaisted, Co. D, 3d N. H. Vols., 10th Army Corps, for a copy of the Richmond Whig, of Sept. 2,—a very dingy-looking sheet.

☞ Ex-President Pierce visited the Navy Yard on Friday, and was honored with the usual salute.

POLICE COURT, Friday.—James Davidson, for assault on John Murphy, at the Eastern Railroad depot, was fined $5, and costs $5.74, which he paid.

John Murphy, for an assault on James Davidson at the same place, was also fined $5, and costs $5.74, which he paid.

Mary Carr, for night walking, was sent to the house of correction for two months, and ordered to pay costs, taxed at $4.03.

John Walsh, for being drunk, was fined $3, and cost $2.92, and for the want of that small sum was committed.

☞ There are several persons who have papers partially filled at the Enrollment Committee's office at the City rooms; and the Committee would urge upon said persons to see that these papers are completed as soon as possible.

☞ Sampson L. Russell was again brought before U. S. Commissioner Hackett on Friday, charged with receiving and concealing cordage stolen from the Navy Yard; and was ordered to give bonds in the sum of $400 for his appearance on Tuesday next at 10 o'clk.

☞ No business of public interest was transacted by the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening.

SPEECH FROM PROF. GOLDWIN SMITH.—At the centennial celebration of Brown University on Tuesday, 6th inst., Prof. Goldwin Smith, the accomplished English scholar and friend to the North, made an admirable speech, from which we take the following:

I most heartily thank you for the compliment you have kindly paid me, and the great University—the eldest sister of this institution, whom I have the honor to serve. I am no practised orator myself. I am a student, not an orator, and the only public meeting it has been my privilege to address was the great meeting in the Free Trade Hall in Manchester, England, to protest against the outrage of sending forth the Alabama. * * It is true there have been causes of estrangement, and I am afraid that in this great struggle you have too much reason to complain, not only of a want of sympathy, but also of positive antipathy. But this is not true of the whole people; it is true only of certain classes, and that it is true of them I most deeply regret.

You must not think that the nation is against you, though it were idle for me to deny that the privileged classes, our aristocracy and clergy, are opposed to you in this struggle. You have been a standing menace to them, not in a military sense, but in a moral and political sense. Their instinct teaches this, no matter what their lips may say. They know that your principles are certain to endure; they know that their doom is linked with the destiny of this nation. The feeling is not one of malignity, but of natural opposition to your political views and theories of government.

When we come to the middle classes there is a better feeling. They are very rich, and wealth has made them indifferent to what would once have greatly moved them, but the feeling of this class is not a feeling of real hostility.

The London Telegraph is the great paper of the middle class. It has a circulation nearly treble that of the London Times. It has been against the war, but not in hostility to this country and its free institutions; and such is the character of much of the war talk which you read. I have now with me, I believe, a letter from one whom you know to be one of the best friends of America, my honored friend Mr. Bright, in which he says, if he envies me my visit to this country, he pities me also. His sorrow at the calamities that have overwhelmed you, is almost anguish. He is truly a most cordial friend to this nation. Others may feel with equal strength that this war is a calamity, and express that feeling, and yet they may be, like him, the friends of your cause.

But of the intelligent laborers, the mechanics and working men in our large cities and towns, there are few indeed whose hearts are not with you in sympathy, few indeed have not followed your fortunes, and from the moment when the broad issue was made between freedom and slavery, they, in spite of great suffering and great temptations, have warmly and steadily adhered to your side. We alone have been able to hold great public meetings, and the enemies of your cause have tried in vain to hold such meetings.

I dare not trust myself to speak what I think of the London Times. Trust me, that it does not represent the feelings of the nation, and its utterances are not the voice of the English people. It has been sold by the editor for what he considers as a sufficient compensation, invitations to aristocratic houses and the patronage of aristocratic society.

Surely there is not a Pennsylvanian or a Marylander so blind as not to see that underneath the Chicago scheme of stopping the war and giving a long armistice for a convention that would never meet is the purpose of the rebels to transfer the war from the South to the North. If the Democrats succeed in stopping the war, it will not be shoved back into Virginia until after Pensylvania and Maryland are ravaged and ruined.—Tribune.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself went wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

THE CHICAGO PLATFORM.

The Chicago Convention, says the N. Y. Independent offers a platform on which no well wisher of his kind, can find room for the soles of his feet. Unpatriotic, inflamatory, calamitous to the country, this document will be gratifying to Jefferson Davis and grievous to loyal men. Not a word against the Rebellion, but only against the Government putting it down! Not a hint that the war is waged for a just cause, but by implication for an unjust one! Not a cheering word to the soldiers to go forth and conquer, but only of pity for their hardships in the service of a tyrannous usurpation!

The long familiar utterance of patriotic war democrats, that the rebellion must be conquered, is here hidden to silence—a gagging hand laid across its lips. Peace against Richmond: War against Washington?—this is the new battle-cry: the war pusillanimously declared a failure, an open surrender made to the enemy, and all this at a time when the enemy could least expect such weakness in a triple-strong antagonist! Hostilities suspended, a Convention of the thirty-four States is to be called—all on equal terms, the innocent and the guilty—to make an adjustment wherein South Carolina shall say what punishment shall be visited upon Massachusetts, and wherein Mississippi shall offer a rope for the hanging of Abraham Lincoln!

Was there ever a more monstrous scheme for confounding right with wrong?

There is not a guerilla tatterdemalion in the South, mangling our wounded and rifling our dead, who can find in this platform any rebuke of his crimes—but only in this mingled Chicago and Richmond crimination of the National Government a new incitement to his bloody deeds!

Where stand the true Democrats hwo have urged men and money for the war? What will they say to this insult thrown into their teeth? smite it on the cheeks in scorn!

Fellow countrymen! the crisis is imminent, but the way is plain. All wise and sound men, both Democrats and Republicans, know that there is but one method of restoring the Union, and that is, by conquering back its rebellious parts. This we are doing day by day—and doing well. What can be better done than Grant and Sheridan and Farragut are doing? What is more full of hope and promise than the general military situation to-day? Nothing but good auguries everywhere! For as the lightning that lightens in the east lighteneth also unto the west, so is the fiery storm that is gathering to break upon Richmond, Atlanta and Mobile. O troubled hearts, praying for the salvation of the country—courage and good cheer! A crown of victory is now falling through the air which will in due time alight upon our banner!

OUR RECENT VICTORIES.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, Sept, 5, 1864.

To Major General Dix:

The President has issued the following recommendations and orders in relation to the recent success of the United States forces at Mobile and Atlanta. (Signed) E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, Sept. 3, 1864.—The signal success that Divine Providence has recently vouchsafed to the operations of the U. S. fleet and army in the harbor of Mobile, and the reduction of Fort Powell, Fort Gaines and Fort Morgan, and the glorious achievements of the army under Maj. Gen. Sherman, in the State of Georgia, resulting in the capture of the city of Atlanta, call for devout acknowledgement to the Supreme Being, in whose hands are the destinies of nations.

It is therefore requested that on the next Sunday, in all places of public worship in the United States, thanksgiving be offered to Him for His mercy in preserving our national existence against the insurgent rebels, who have been waging a cruel war against the Government of the United States for its overthrow; and also, that prayer be made for the Divine protection to our brave soldiers and their leaders in the field, who have often and so gallantly perilled their lives in battling with the enemy, and for blessing and comfort from the Father of Mercies to the sick, wounded and prisoners, and to the orphans and widows of those who have fallen in the service of their country, and that He will continue to uphold the Government of the United States against all the efforts of public enemies and secret foes.

(Signed) ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Sept. 3, 1864.

The National thanks are tendered by the President to Admiral Farragut and Major General Canby for the skill and harmony with which the recent operations in Mobile harbor and against Fort Powell, Fort Gaines and Fort Morgan were planned and carried into execution, also to Admiral Farragut and Maj. General Granger, under whose immediate command they were conducted, and to the gallant commanders on sea and land, and the sailors and soldiers engaged in the operations, for their energy and courage, which, under the blessing of Providence, have been crowned with brilliant success, and have won for them the applause and thanks of the Nation.

(Signed) ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Sept. 3, 1864.

The National thanks are tendered by the President to Major General William T. Sherman, and the gallant officers and soldiers of his command, before Atlanta for the distinguished ability, courage, and perseverance displayed in the campaign in Georgia, which, under Divine favor, has resulted in the capture of the city of Atlanta. The marches, battles, sieges, and other military operations that have signalized this campaign, must render it famous in the annals of war, and have entitled those who have participated therein, to the applause and thanks of the Nation.

(Signed) ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

THE RIOTS AT BELFAST, IRELAND.—The last English papers state that the riots at Belfast (Ireland) still continued, and the violence of the mob was on the increase. The Northern Whig, of the 15th inst, says:—The riots this day were totally unparalleled in the dreadful excess to which they reached. The whole town was almost in a state of siege during the day. The houses of business were closed. In many cases the workers did not go to their employments. Riots went on all day. The military were called out.

A Belfast dispatch of the 16th says:—"The town continues in a very excited state. One of the persons who received a gunshot wound during the riots yesterday, died this morning. Mr. Sullivan, the sub-editor of the Ulster Observer, the Roman Catholic organ, was brutally maltreated while professionally engaged at a fire last night, and is in a dangerous condition. It is said that five or six others out of the the 20 or 30 wounded yesterday, died during last night and this morning, but up to the present such has not been confirmed. It is rumored that the navies of the Roman Catholic party, to the number of 400 or 500, have challenged the ship carpenters, who all belong to the Orange side, to-day, and a terrible battle is therefore expected.

REBEL PRISONERS TUNNELLING AT ELMIRA, N. Y.—On Monday evening, an attempt was made by the rebel prisoners in Elmira, to escape from their confinement. They managed to dig a trench under ground a distance of some forty feet past the enclosure of the grounds, and under the hospital building. The rebels when discovered were briskly engaged at work in the trench, and were aiming for the sutler's tent. The ditch was only about two and a half feet high, and about three feet under ground, and only two men could get in at a time. They had no tools to work with, and how they managed to get so far in hard, gravelly soil, is a mystery.

Laws of New Hampshire,

PASSED AUGUST SESSION, 1864.

AN ACT to facilitate the raising of troops.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. The Governor may, with the advice of the Executive Council, appoint State agents, not exceeding ten in number, to recruit in the insurgent States, agreeably to the act of Congress passed in the year 1864, entitled "An act further to regulate and provide for the enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes." And the men so raised shall be credited to the several cities, towns, sub-districts and places in proportion to the quota of each city, town, sub-district and place.

SEC. 2. Said agents shall receive from the State Treasurer a sum fixed by the Governor and Council, not exceeding three dollars per day for the time actually employed, and ten dollars for each man by them enlisted and mustered for the term of one year; twenty dollars for each man enlisted and mustered for the term of two years, and thirty dollars for each man enlisted and mustered for the term of three years, which shall be in full for their services and expenses.

SEC. 3. The Governor shall commission an agent for any town or sub-district in this State which may desire the same, or for several towns or sub-districts uniting together for that purpose, to recruit in the insurgent States, and the recruits obtained by such agents shall be credited to the respective towns or sub-districts for which the agent recruiting the same may be commissioned. The expenses of such agents shall be paid by the town, sub-district, or association of towns or sub-districts for which such agents may be commissioned. Towns or subdistricts are authorized to unite in sending agents to recruit in the insurgent States, upon such terms as said towns or sub-districts, by their selectmen or agents may agree. And cities and towns are authorized to advance the State bounties provided for in this act, and to raise money for that purpose; and any city, town or place, at any legal meeting duly notified for that purpose, may raise money and appropriate the same for the purpose of paying the expenses of agents as provided in this section.

SEC. 4. The agents appointed by the Governor and Council to recruit for the State or for any subdistrict in the State, within the insurgent States of our Union, are hereby authorized to pay, on behalf of the State of New Hampshire, for each recruit who may be accepted and mustered as a part of our quota, a sum authorized by the Governor and Council, not exceeding one hundred dollars for one year's service; three hundred dollars for two years' service, and five hundred dollars for three years' service. Said bounty to be paid to each recruit whenever the proper United States officer shall certify that such recruit has been duly mustered into the service of the United States, and credited on the quota of this State.

SEC. 5. The Governor may, with the consent of the Executive Council, appoint State paymasters, not exceeding four in number, who shall continue in office during the pleasure of the Governor and Council, and whose duty shall be to pay each recruit secured by the agents authorized to recruit for the quota of the entire State, the bounty authorized to be paid by the preceding section.—The said paymasters shall, before entering upon the duties of their office, severally give bonds in an amount double the sum which is entrusted to their hands, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the Governor and Council, with condition for the faithful discharge of their duties, and accountability for all money entrusted to their care; said bond to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. Each paymaster shall also make a return under oath to the Governor and Council of all moneys disbursed by him as often as they shall require. The said paymasters shall receive one hundred and fifty dollars per month during the time actually employed, in full for their services and expenses.

SEC. 6. The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, is authorized and empowered to issue his proclamations, (from time to time) offering bounties of one hundred and one hundred dollars for one year's men, two hundred dollars for two years' men, and three hundred dollars for three years' men, and in the same proportion for any other term of service, to each person who shall be mustered into the military, naval or marine service of the United States, to fill the quota of this State during the present war, whether such person shall have voluntarily enlisted, or volunteered as a substitute for a drafted or enrolled man, or as a representative substitute for any citizen not enrolled, and not exceeding two hundred dollars to each drafted man for one year who shall be mustered into said service to fill said quota during said war; provided, that all men mustered into the naval or marine service of the United States since the first day of June, 1864, and credited upon the quota of any town or sub-district in this State, whether he shall have voluntarily enlisted, or volunteered as a substitute for a drafted or enrolled man, or as a representative substitute for any citizen not enrolled, shall receive the State bounties authorized in this section.

SEC. 7. Any city may, by vote of its City Council, and any town or place may, at any legal meeting thereof, duly notified and holden for that purpose, upon or in anticipation of any call of the United States Government, for troops during the present war, raise money and appropriate the same as bounty to each person except those enlisted in or from insurgent States, who shall be mustered into the military, naval or marine service of the United States, or shall have been mustered into said service since the call of the President, dated the fourth day of March, 1864, and prior to the passage of this act, to fill the quota of such city, town or place, whether such person shall have voluntarily enlisted, or volunteered as a substitute for a drafted or enrolled man, such bounty in no case to exceed, in addition to the State bounty, the sum of one hundred dollars for each one years' man, two hundred dollars for each two years' man and three hundred dollars for each three years' man, and in the same proportion for any other term of service, and such city, town or place, may make such distinction in the bounties to be paid between volunteers and substitutes of drafted or enrolled men as it may deem expedient; and any city, town or place in the same manner may raise money and appropriate the same as bounty to each man drafted for one year therefrom who shall be mustered into the service of the United States as part of the quota of such city, town or place, in addition to the State bounty, sum not exceeding two hundred dollars. And any city, town or place in the same manner may raise money and appropriate such sum as they may deem expedient to be paid as such bounty to any person who may for three months preceding have been an inhabitant of such city, town or place enlisting on the quota of such city, or any ward therein, town or place, and actually mustered into the military, naval or marine service of the United States, and said cities, towns or places may make such distinctions between the bounties to be paid men volunteering for one, two or three years, as they deem expedient.

SEC. 8. No city, town, place or its agent shall pay, or offer to pay, either by way of brokerage, commissions, agents' pay, expenses, or otherwise, directly or indirectly, to any drafted man, volunteer or substitute, any greater sum than that in this act authorized, under a penalty not less than one hundred dollars, or more than five hundred dollars for each offence, which may be recovered by indictment, one-half to the use of the prosecutor; and in case any city, town or place, by its agents or authorities, shall hereafter pay or agree to pay any drafted man, volunteer or substitute, any greater sum than in this act authorized, which said sums are to be paid in currency and not in coin, such drafted man, volunteer, substitute or their assigns, shall not receive the State bounties offered by this act.

SEC. 10. All cities, wards, towns and place shall be credited on their respective quotas for all men by them furnished or furnished by any inhabitant of such city, ward, town or place, and mustered into the military, naval or marine service of the United States in excess of all former quotas, and prior to the sixteenth day of July, 1864, and upon such excess being duly certified by the Assistant Provost Marshal General for the State to the State authorities, the same State bounty as provided in section six of this act for volunteers, shall be paid for the men so furnished to the city, ward, town, place or persons entitled thereto.

Provided, however, that such bounty shall in no case exceed the sum actually paid for such men, and that any such State bounty heretofore paid to the men constituting such excess shall be duly allowed and deducted.

SEC. 11. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent substitutes for enrolled men, or representative substitutes for men not enrolled, or their assigns or principals, from receiving the bounties provided for in sections six and seven of this act. Provided, that in no case shall said principal receive a larger sum than he has actually paid for said substitute.

SEC. 12. The bounties provided for by this act shall be paid to the cities, towns or places, and to the drafted men, volunteers, substitutes, or their assigns, provided that in all cases where bounties have been advanced by a principal the warrant shall be made payable to such principal, satisfactory evidence of such advancement being made to the Governor and Council, at the time of drawing such warrant, and the Governor is hereby authorized to draw his warrant from time to time upon the Treasury for all sums of money required to be paid by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 13. Any meeting for the purposes contemplated by this act of any town or place holden within twenty days from its passage, may be warned by posting up the warrants therefor upon the outside of the outer door of at least one schoolhouse in each school district in said town at the place of meeting and at the post-office in said town five days at least before said day of meeting.

SEC. 14. This act shall take effect upon its passage, and all and parts of acts inconsistent with its provisions are hereby repealed. Provided that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent the cities and towns in this State from applying any money by them heretofore legally raised for the purpose of furnishing the quota to which said cities or towns may be subject under the call of the President for five hundred thousand men.' SPEER'S

SAMBUCI WINE,

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD.
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physician's Use, Females, Weakly Persons and Invalids.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs; very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Sambucus Fruit, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by physicians and chemists as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and invigorating bodies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquor, but is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and tonic properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

None genuine unless the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!
The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is strongly recommended in the cases of Water Brash or Whites in females, where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is powerful and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any dealer in the country, or write to us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Price—CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Sent by Express to any address on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE GREAT

INDIAN MEDICINE,

COMPOUNDED FROM

ROOTS, HERBS AND LEAVES.

CHEROKEE CURE.

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-pollution, such as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Sight, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficult Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the direful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands it has failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn cases.

If you have tried with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and sixteen thousand quack doctors have failed!

☞ For full particulars, get a circular from any drug store in the country, or write the proprietors, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatment in pamphlet form.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express to all parts of the world.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

DR. WRIGHT'S

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.

A few doses cure Hysterics in females.

One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.

A few doses restore the organs of generation.

From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.

A few doses restore the appetite.

Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.

A few doses cure the low spirited.

One bottle restores lost memory.

A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, worn-down and despairing devotees of sensual pleasure.

The listless enervated youth, the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, and those suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this invaluable medicine.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express, on receipt of money, to any address.

Sold by all druggists everywhere.

CHEROKEE PILLS!

SUGAR-COATED.

FEMALE REGULATOR.

Health Preserver!!

CERTAIN AND SAFE.

☞ For the Removal of Obstructions, and the Insurance of Regularity in the Recurrence of the Monthly Periods.

They cure or obviate those numerous diseases that spring from irregularity, by removing the irregularity itself.

They cure Suppressed, Excessive and Painful Menstruation.

They cure Green Sickness (Chlorosis).

They cure Nervous and Spinal Affections, pains in the back and lower parts of the body, Heavyness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, Giddiness, &c., &c. In a word, by removing the irregularity, they remove the cause and with it ALL the effects that spring from it.

Composed of simple vegetable extracts, they contain no deleterious drugs to any constitution, however delicate, their function being to substitute strength for weakness, which, when properly used, will never fail to do.

They may be safely used at any age and at any period, except during the first three months, during which the nauseating nature of their action would infallibly prevent pregnancy.

All letters seeking information or advice will be promptly, freely and discreetly answered.

Full directions accompany each box.

☞ Price $1 per box, or six boxes for $5.

Sent by mail, postage free, on receipt of price.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the ovens larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater connected, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large capacious reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, now are using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reasons of these failures. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 25 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal without filling a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

CAN AN INFANT BE MADE A BANKRUPT?—This novel question was raised at the Liverpool County Court, in the case of a lad 15 or 16 years of age, named George William Smedley, the son of a painter and glazier living in Toxteth Park, who petitioned in forma pauperis to be adjudicated a bankrupt. At the last sitting of the Court of Passage an action was brought against the petitioner on behalf of a child named Mary Melross, whom he had seriously assaulted and crippled. Judgment was allowed to go by default, and £20 damages was awarded, the costs, £12 10s, bringing up the amount to £32 10s. Neither the youth nor his friends paid the money, and he was imprisoned at the suit of the creditor who had obtained the judgment against him. After remaining in gaol for five weeks he petitioned to be adjudicated a bankrupt, in order that he might regain his liberty. The main question at issue was whether a person under age could be adjudicated a bankrupt upon his own petition, or whether a youth so placed would remain in prison till he was 21 before he could obtain his release. After hearing the arguments on both sides, his Honor reserved judgment until the 9th.

COERCION.—Long John Wentworth, in his speech at the Chicago Convention, said:—

Vallandigham told you that the Government could never be held together by coercive force, that power brought to apply upon the unruly could never reduce them to obedience. Was there ever a greater heresy uttered by the mouth of man. No coercion! Why, gentlemen, the coercive power of the Government is the only safety and salvation of society. No government, no community can exist an hour without it. It was the weakness of the articles of the old confederation that they conferred no coercive power, and the statesmen of that day saw the pressing necessity of the new Constitution. Take to-day from municipal and government organization the power of coercion and society goes at once into anarchy and chaos. The weak would become the modern prey of the strong, and might would indeed become right. I have been told that there are those who would disturb the quiet of the gathering in this city. We, the authorities of the city, coerce them into respect and quiet. Surely you should not denounce coercion.

SINGULAR ISSUE OF A WEDDING CEREMONY.—One of the most singular illustrations of the well known aphorism, "There's many a slip between the cup and the lip," occurred, we are informed, in Antrim. The clergyman in the chore of the service, asked if any present knew of any just cause or impediment why the aspirants for matrimony before him should not be joined in that holy estate. The query was responded to by a young gentleman in the body of the church, who protested that he had just reason to forbid the banns; and requested permission to put the question to the bride. This was accorded him, and in a manly voice he asked her if she had not, some two years since, pledged her troth to him. The fair fiancee hung her head and answered, "yes;" and while her intended husband, in concert with the entire assemblage, gazed in utter bewilderment on the scene, the fickle fair one put a climax to the proceeding by adding, "and I will keep my word!" Instantly seizing her former lover by the arm, she swept with him in majesty from the church, and, entering one of the carriages which had driven the party to the sacred edifice, drove off at locomotive speed with her recovered swain to the residence of her mother, leaving the poor fellow in the church to ruminate over the inconstancy of fickle woman.—Northern Whig.

WHERE CAIN WENT TO.—A teacher in one of the Oakland Sabbath schools, a couple of Sundays ago, put the following question to his class: "What became of Cain after he killed Abel?"

The class got "stuck" and like the darkey, were about to "gub it up," when a bright little one sung out:

"I know what became of Cain after he killed Abel."

"Well, little one," said the teacher, "What did become of him?"

"He became a vagabond, and went round the saloons a bumming!"

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swayne's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's do, in the treatment of this kind of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with diseases at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (until the fire of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions, and opinions or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." THADDEUS WOOD, LAGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of whom was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend in counsle and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. J. broken down in health, now rejuice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. Teller's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The only Medical Work for the Married Happy. A Lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

THE LADIES.

DR. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Nichols's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and obstructions of the females.

CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see Pamphlet which accompany each package, for the guidance of those who apply in person. Price $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P.M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really nothing, as it makes the soles wear enough tougher to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A Cairo dispatch of the 5th says that since Gen. Sherman captured Atlanta, the order for the movement of Gen. Smith's force from Memphis up the river has been countermanded. A portion of Gen. Smith's troops are already organizing for a new expedition. All up-bound vessels are pressed into service at Memphis. White River, Ark., is presumed to be the destination, though this is a mere conjecture.

There is a very doubtful report brought by deserters, that Mobile has been surrendered, the rebel troops being withdrawn.

There have been several successful expeditions into Florida recently, in which horses, cotton, etc., were captured.

The rebels have made a profitless demonstration on Berwick City, La., and are reported to be preparing to attack Brashear City.

Lee is said to have changed his headquarters to near Ream's Station, and to be massing troops in that vicinity to give battle.

Gen. Averill reports that Early retreated on Thursday morning towards Winchester; that he was on his heels, and had whipped Vaughan's cavalry, capturing all his train which was not burned, and taking two battle flags—Vaughan having no artillery; and that he had cut off Imboden.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10, 9 P. M.

Sec. Stanton reports that the War Department has received dispatches from Gen Sherman down to 10 o'clock, Friday A. M. His army is concentrated at Atlanta, his troops being in possession, and well. He says Wilson and Stedman are stirring up Wheeler pretty well, and hopes they will make an end of him, as Gen. Gillet did of Morgan. The weather is beautiful, and all things are bright. No recent intelligence has been received from Mobile. No movements are reported in the Shenandoah Valley, or the army of the Potomac. Recruiting is going on vigorously in most of the States.

The mail messenger from Gen. Sheridan's headquarters arrived in Washington on Saturday night. He reports that considerable skirmishing took place on the morning of that day near Winchester, where the enemy seems to be in strong force.

The N. Y. Post's Washington dispatch says news is received from the Army of the Potomac that a heavy artillery duel took place on Thursday with no important result; and that Lee is still massing troops on our left.

A dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, states that Vallandigham arrived there on Friday, en route to address the people in various places, but meeting McClellan's letter of acceptance he promptly authorized the Democratic Chairman of Ohio to withdraw his name from appointments of speakers in that State, and returned home. The peace men are determined to maintain their integrity, and will soon call a meeting to decide upon their course of action.

NATURAL ALLIES.—A late rebel paper, the Richmond Examiner of August 8th, cries out for invasion of the North, the pillaging and burning cities, &c., that the democrats may be enabled to carry the election. It says:

The peace party at the North needs help from us, to enable them to get rid of the present regime and the war. The only rational and effectual aid we can render them will be carrying fire and sword into their cities and farms. If any one knows a more judicious method of assisting the peace party for the pending Presidential campaign, let him divulge it.

— Gold 222 7-8.

— Gen. Banks is coming North soon.

— Rev. Dr. A. L. Stone, of Boston, has received a call from San Francisco.

— The Boston Traveller says great naval operations are in preparation, and Adm. Porter is to direct them.

— One of McClellan's "quaker guns," captured at Manassas, was borne on wheels in the Union procession at Saco on Friday.

— Hon. Lewis Cass pronounces the Democratic platform a most ignominious surrender to the rebels, and says that he cannot support it.

— The Charleston Mercury says a new blockade runner, the steamer Mary Bowers, ran on an obstruction near Long Island recently, and proved a total loss. Officers and crew saved.

— The rebel government has removed Gen. Winder from his command at Andersonville, Ga., because of his inhumanity to prisoners. Winder is an absolute scoundrel.

— Fitzhugh Lee calls Gen. Sheridan's army "Harper's Weekly," because, as he says, it reaches Harper's Ferry once a week. A very pleasant joke, which might be improved by noticing further that Sheridan's army illustrates the career of the rebel commander by numerous cuts.

☞ If the principal use of words were to conceal or disguise our real sentiments, then Gen. McClellan's letter of acceptance would be a piece of fine writing. Translated into plain English, it means—I wish to be President, but I can't come in, unless I please the army on the one hand and the copperheads on the other: So I'll try to be as much of a War and Union man as I can without offending the rebels or hurting slavery. The ultra brawlers, who say Peace and buy Rifles, will make wry faces over his talk, and wish him in the Red Sea or some worse place while they vote for him. His vote from the U. S. army will be smaller than he supposes,—and his overcautious political strategy places his party in a condition where they can neither advance safely nor retreat without loss. The Chicago convention caught at a straw to save treason from drowning—but the straw is a poor one, weak and soggy.

It happened, without any special contrivance, that in the Daily Chronicle of Saturday morning the letters of Gens. Grant and McClellan stood side by side. The contrast was striking. In one were the plain, manly words of a tried soldier, faithful and without disguise: in the other the cautious ambiguities of a crafty office seeker, trying to be all things to all men, if by any means he might catch some votes; and it betrays weakness as well as craft. Candid men will read both and ponder them well. Grant's words, like his acts, are solid; the other's, when weighed in the balance of truth and equity, are found wanting.

Gen. Grant writes to the point, and his advice and suggestions should be of the utmost weight with all voters. His opinion is, that the enemy are on their last legs, they have brought out their last reserves and their only hope left is a divided North. They wish to hold out until after the Presidential election, trusting that we may elect a peace President, or that a counter revolution may occur, or that something may turn up. The General shows that we have only to do our duty to obtain a peace that shall come early and be honorable. The course of the peace-at-any-price men, he is convinced, would lead to a long war. Separation means war, not peace. He takes the ground that the rebels, in the event of allowing us to have peace, would demand payment for all their lost slaves. U. T.

A ROW IN THE CAMP.—Fernando Wood's organ, the New York Daily News, is out in an editorial against McClellan. It says the Democracy must seek a candidate who will stand upon a platform, for they cannot consistently support one who is in collision with the convention that tendered him the nomination. The Executive Committee is urged to call the Convention together again, either to remodel their platform to suit the nominee, or to nominate a candidate that will suit the platform. It is a bad fix for the peace men, and it is not strange that they desire to reassemble the "perpetual convention." It would afford them a capital opportunity to re-enact the scenes of 1860, during which those rifles and other dry goods might be of good service; and we would respectfully suggest Charleston as for the second time a most fitting place in which to hold it. They could then consult much more conveniently with their Southern friends and co traitors, than they did at Chicago, with those necessary appendages of the convention at Niagara Falls. Denunciations of the Administration and of the war would be even more loudly applauded there, and Harris of Maryland would, probably, have no occasion to let his angry passions rise and to knock a bystander down for calling him a traitor. Cousin Sal knows her friends.

"CAP IN HAND."—Two months after the firing on Fort Sumter, the Richmond Whig said of the Northern people:

> We must bring these enfranchised slaves back to their true condition. They have long very properly looked upon themselves as our social inferiors—as our serfs; their mean, niggardly lives, their low, vulgar and sordid occupations, have ground this conviction into them.
> But the editor of the Whig, feeling in better spirits than he does now, wrote that the "uprising of the North had all the character of a ferocious servile insurrection," and he concluded his article in the following words:
> This war will enable us to restore them to their normal vassalage, and teach them that cap in hand is the proper attitude of the servant before his master.

The copperheads have now assumed the attitude this Richmond editor has assigned them, and, "cap in hand," now stand before their masters, ready to do their bidding! What say the war democrats and the working men of the free States? Are they ready thus to hold their caps and assume the attitude assigned them?

— Gen. McClellan would be compelled, if elected President, to act according to the meaning and intent of Vallandigham, Voorhees, Harris & Co. If quaker guns frightened him at Manassas, what could he do when these men, to say nothing of Fernando Wood, were waging war against him? He would speedily make a change of base.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— The Democrats of Missouri have nominated Thomas L. Price for Governor.

— Hereafter no person is to be enlisted in the naval service for less than two years.

— Thaddeus Stevens has been re-nominated for Congress.

— Since January 1st 21 ships with full cargoes have sailed from Boston for San Francisco.

— The U. S. steamer Mahaska, from the South Atlantic Blockading Squadron, arrived at Charlestown Navy Yard on Friday.

— Counterfeit bills, of the denomination of 3s, Lynn Mechanics' Bank, have been put in circulation within a few days.

A young lady who knows informs us that there are to be 22 Portland ladies married this month and next.—Portland Courier.

— A Medical writer spends a quire of paper to answer the question "What shall we eat?" We come to a more brief conclusion—Eat what you can get.

— The records of the General Land Office show that the present demand for public land is greater than at any time during the past three years.

— Jeff. Davis lately sent an envoy to Maximilian to open diplomatic relations, but Max wouldn't have anything to do with him.

— Many of the opposition papers didn't feel happy over the fall of Atlanta. They announced the event as "Atlanta again reported captured."

— The race between George Wilkes and Gen. Butler (two horses, mind you,) on the Fashion Course did not take place—the former paying $2500 forfeit.

— In an old copy of apprentice's indenture, which an exchange publishes, the young man agrees not to play "at cards, dice or any other unlawful game." Uncle Toby's Indentures read in the same way.

— During the last fortnight the staff of clerks, inspectors, weighers, &c., in the New York Custom House has been reduced one hundred and fifty-two men, which will make a saving in salaries of $150,000.

— At a public meeting in Antwerp, one of the speakers being coughed down, quietly produced a pack of cards, and asked one of his neighbors to join him in a game of piquet till the noise should cease. The noise stopped.

— The English Government has made a gratuity of £20,000 to Sir Rowland Hill, for his indefatigable labors in systematizing the postal system of the realm. He commenced his work about twenty-five years ago.

— Edmund Burke says that the perfection of conversation is not to play regular sonata, but, like the Æolion harp, to await the inspiration of the passing breath. But suppose the passing breath wafts to you the odor of onions?

— Robert Heller, professor of the "black art," it is said, has prepared a set of automata, two feet high, which go through the clog dance, break-down, chorus, jokes, bone rattling, and all the other familiar feats of negro minstrelsy.

— In West Africa, through the labors of sixteen Protestant missionary societies, native churches are rising up along 2000 miles of coast line, numbering, it is said, at least 80,000 converts. One fourth of these are under the care of Episcopal missionaries.

— A woman was arrested in St. Louis last week for carrying brass knuckles, but her lawyer got her off by reading the city ordinance, dwelling upon the passage "in his possession," contending that the possessive pronoun "his" could not by any possible construction apply to a woman.

— The rebels have made a naval raid on White River, and captured two federal gunboats, and destroyed a third. They had also done some damage near Duval's Bluff. A fight had occurred seventeen miles from Baton Rouge. Clinton, La., was taken by a federal force, led by Gen. Lee, on the 25th of August.

— A meeting has been held in Sumpter, S. C., to procure corn for Lee's army, as the supply of the article in that army has given out, and it can be renewed only in the Palmetto State. This was frankly admitted by the speakers at the meeting.

— A German statistical writer remarks that the invention of the sewing machine has enabled one woman to sew as much as a hundred could sew by hand a century ago; but, he continues, one woman now demands as much clothing as a hundred did a century ago; so that the situation is not much changed after all.

— The Georgia was built at Greenock for a privateer, named the Japan, bought by the rebels, re-christened, smuggled out of port under pretext of going on a commercial voyage, got her armament at Cherbourg, pillaged, burnt and sunk American vessels while registered as owned by a British merchant, her crew deserted or got tired of the service, she put into Liverpool last spring, was nominally repurchased, and sailed again, ostensibly chartered by a Portuguese firm for its government—being captured off Lisbon, on her first voyage.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETS' "Physiological Hair Regenerator" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "Dye," and will not stain a particle. It will "Restore Gray Hair" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new Hair in all cases on Bald Heads, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "Regenerator" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "Gray Head" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ The schooner L. M. Stewart arrived at the Navy Yard on Friday, bringing as a part of her freight a 15-inch Dahlgren gun, weighing 25,983 pounds,—16 feet in length and 4 feet in diameter. This formidable gun is one of four designed to operate within the turrets of the Agamenticus.

Marriage of Belle Boyd.—On the 25th, a most interesting ceremony of marriage took place at the church of St. James, Piccadilly, London. The bridegroom, Lieut. Samuel Wilde Hardinge, who is about 24 years of age, was an officer in the U. S. Navy, holding the rank of lieutenant on board the American war steamer Connecticut. The lady, who is about the same age as the gallant bridegroom, was the daughter of Gen. Boyd, of the army of the Southern States, who lately expired in prison, having been made prisoner by the Federals. The lady's career is full of the most eventful, heroic, and romantic features. Her father, who possessed vast estates in Virginia, early embraced the cause of Southern Independence, was soon entrusted with command, obtaining the rank of general. His daughter, the bride, enthusiastically embraced the same cause, followed her father to the field, and accompanied him throughout his campaign with the celebrated "Stonewall" Jackson, and on two occasions, heroically, as a modern Joan of Arc, led on the troops to battle; she was, however, in a skirmish captured, and made prisoner, and conveyed to Washington, where she was imprisoned. Here she remained 13 months, when she was exchanged for Gen. Cochrane, who had been made prisoner by the Confederates.

On her return to the South, she went on board the Greyhound, Confederate steamer, which was captured by the Federal steamer Connecticut while running the blockade. Lieutenant Hardinge was sent on board the Greyhound as a prizemaster, with his young heroine as a prisoner. The result was that they mutually became enamored and escaped together from the ship, and found their way to this country, the bride having succeeded in withdrawing her lover from his allegiance to the United States flag, and enlisted his sympathies and support for the South. It is the intention of Lieutenant Hardinge with his bride to leave this country at the end of September, to run the blockade, and enter the service of the Southern States. The marriage cortege was comparatively private, being confined to the bridesmaid and two or three lady friends, the bridegroom being attended by a number of American gentlemen connected with the South. After the conclusion of the ceremony the parties repaired to the Brunswick Hotel, Jermyn street, where the bridegroom has resided since his sojourn in this country, and partook of an excellent dejeuner.—European Times.

The above account of the exploits of the "heroine" is, of course, highly colored. The officer who has thus become a traitor, deserted his flag, and been made a fool of by a woman, is understood to be a son of the late Capt. Samuel Harding of this city. It is to be regretted that our city should be compelled to bear the odium of having one of its sons act such a spooney's part as he has done. If the happy couple should happen to be caught while attempting to run the blockade, we know not that any one need complain. A fellow who turns his back upon his flag, turns it also upon his friends.

☞ An armistice, says the Richmond Examiner, in any intelligible sense whatever, could mean nothing less than a cessation of every act of war for the time agreed upon, both naval and military; nothing less than a withdrawal of the invading troops from every part of the Confederate States, and a suspension of the blockade of the coast. The occupation of Grant's camp at Petersburg, and of Sherman's at Atlanta, the occupation of Chattanooga, Knoxville and Harper's Ferry, are all acts of war. The presence of a blockading squadron off Wilmington, to stop and destroy our merchant vessels, is an act of war. An armistice intended to be real, and not illusory, would be the stoppage of all these operations and occupations. This is what the peace at-any-price party ask for.

George H. Pendleton.—"Occasional," the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, speaks as follows of the Democratic candidate for Vice President:

I could name, without disrespect to Mr. Pendleton, fifty young barristers in Philadelphia who are his superiors. His nomination, however, was a tribute, not to his talents, nor to his experience as a statesman, nor to his claims upon the country,—but because he is (after Mr. Vallandigham, who is his bosom friend, and with whom he resided in the city of Washington almost ever since he was first elected to Congress) the most determined and bitter enemy of the war in the National Legislature. Mr. Pendleton is a Virginian, now resident in Cincinnati, Ohio, with all the prejudices of his school. His very name indicates that he has no more feelings in common with those who really desire to see the Union restored, and peace secured on the basis of this restoration, than those of his family in the Old Dominion who are now fighting in the ranks of Jefferson Davis against the old flag.

—— Hon. Abel Baker, the father of Ex-Gov. Baker, died last week.

— The Grafton County Fair will be held at Littleton on the 21st and 22nd of Sept.

—— Fifty-two colored substitutes left Concord for the front on Thursday morning.

Which do you prefer?—An able conservative paper states the case as follows:

According to some disclosures, the Democratic plan for the "reconstruction of the Union" amounts to something like a "restoration," but a restoration of that Confederation which the patriots of 1787, headed by George Washington, labored so zealously and so successfully to get rid of. We are to have a bad imitation of the German Zollverein, instead of that firm and powerful Political Union which endured for seventy-two years, and which never would have been shaken, in this century at least, but for the action of the democracy, who claimed to be the best friends of the nation, and yet led the way in effecting its disruption, and who would now crawl before the slave holders in the hope of being once more admitted to the bliss there is in office-holding. The question, therefore, which the people will have to decide in November is this, Whether they will have an American Nation, or a bundle of weak, jarring, selfish Confederacies, ready at any moment to go to war with each other, and to prepare the way for the utter extinction of all unionism on this continent? Once break up the Union, once formally abandon the old policy that was made by the greatest and the purest men that America ever had in her service, and there will be an end to American nationality; and, at the very best, we shall enter upon a series of foolish experiments, which would fail as badly as those which we have been accustomed to laugh at when we saw them tried in Spanish America. Perhaps the time would come when we should be glad to have some European despot send us a proconsul, with the title of Emperor or King, as Napoleon III. sent Maximilian to Mexico. We must have nothing to do with attempts to cook up new arrangements, but stick to the Union as it was, less slavery; and we must depend upon the army to break up the rebel armies that stand in the way of reunion, and the people should exert themselves to support the army and the government in their exertions to conquer a true peace. Material support must be lavishly afforded to our champions, and the moral support that comes from great majorities should be accorded them at the fast-approaching elections. Every man who loves his country has a duty to perform, and every man should perform that duty as if the fate of the Republic depended upon his own individual exertions.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

It is a National Savings Bank, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

VALUE OF AMUSEMENT.—The world must be amused. It is entirely false reasoning to suppose that any human being can devote himself exclusively to labor of any description. It will not do. Rest will not give him adequate relief. He must be amused. He must enjoy himself. He must laugh, sing, dance and be merry. He must chat with his friends, exercise his mind in exciting gentle emotions, and his body in agreeable demonstrations of activity. The constitution of the human system demands this. It exacts variety of influences and motion. It will not remain in health if it cannot obtain that variety. Too much merriment affects it as injuriously as too much sadness; too much relaxation is as pernicious as none at all. But, to the industrious toiler, the sunshine of the heart is just as indispensable as the material sunshine is to the flower; both soon pine away and die if deprived of it.

One of our most eminent physicians says, that, commencing with the month of May and ending with September, he restricts the members of his family, and all his patients, to two ounces each of animal food per day, requesting them to use freely, during the summer months the vegetable products nature lavishes upon us so abundantly. He has kept, during twenty years or more, a record of the mortality in the families of those who followed his advice, and estimates the deaths in the meat-eating families as about four times more numerous than in the households of those who curb their desires for animal food during the summer months; subsisting almost entirely upon a farinaceous and vegetable diet. If this testimony has no weight with those who think "they know better," it is to the hoped they will discover the reality by a little experience, and, as they look upon the pale face of some dear one lying "cold in death," become convinced that there is more virtue in the prevention of illness, than in the "pound of cure" the doctors prescribe for disease that originate in a morbid appetite for strong meat.—New York Sun.

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is intended which, in medical science next in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and depressing, yet, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and WHITHING pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible, and when taken are forced through the stomach and bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating griping and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions through the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the disease and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their allotted parts, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM AND GOUT, PILES, DIZZINESS, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a disordered state of the Liver and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious herbs, no alcoholic stimulant, but simply the extractions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, and has been in use for many years, by a number of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1829.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to such person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Would most respectfully invite the attention and examination of all Grocers, Druggists, Apothecaries and Private Individuals, desiring to sell or USE STRICTLY PURE

Liquors, Wines, Cordials or Bitters,

to the list of choice, and as enumerated below, which are constantly on hand in large quantities in his Large and Spacious

Wine Store and Bottling Establishment,

99 Washington street, Boston.

First on the list, as a reliable pure stimulant, stands the celebrated and widely known

Golden Sheaf Bourbon Whiskey,

made from Wheat, Rye and Corn, warranted for five years old. This fine old whiskey, each bottle in a paper box, in cases of one dozen each, the large and increasing sales of which convinced the proprietor that no extended advertisement is needed to extol its real merits. It will recommend itself on trial

Golden Sheaf Cordial,

A delightful cordial beverage, aromatic, with a rich ginger cordial, made from the pure Golden Sheaf Bourbon.

Golden Sheaf Bitters.

The best Tonic Bitter ever offered to the public. Mingled with the rich flavor of the Bourbon are a number of other ingredients for restoring the appetite and imparting life and vigor to the whole system

Golden Sheaf Punch.

Made from fresh, ripe lemons, and other articles, combined, as a whole into a fine rich

Bourbon Whiskey Punch.

All the above put up full strength of the whiskey, and in cases of one dozen each. These articles improve by age, and no exposure of climate can affect them

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY

—AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is extensively recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites, as it effects are lasting, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain to which it is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION, further has medicine at the same time all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

DR. WRIGHT'S

REJUVENATING ELIXIR.

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the worn-out nauseous medicines of the age.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.

A few doses will restore Hysteria in females.

One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.

A few doses restore the organs of generation.

From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.

A few doses restore the appetite.

Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.

A few doses cure the Nervous Ague.

One bottle restores mental power.

A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, worn-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The fallacious notion of youth, the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir or Essence of Life.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual, having two plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelfuls of ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, from the top, which is convenient day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe and chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot rise and are forced up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION A PERMANENT REVOLUTIONARY BODY.—The Chicago Convention, which decided to recommend to all Democrats that immediate efforts should be made for a cessation of hostilities, did not dissolve at the close of its business but only adjourned. There are many who think that this indicates its determination that hostilities should begin against loyal men as well as cease against the public enemy; that it is, in fact, a sort of minor Jeff. Davis Congress, to foster and direct the elements of insurrection against the Federal Government, now fermenting in those States, into which General Heintzleman forbid the importation of powder and fire arms. The New York Times, in reference to this matter, remarks:

The Chicago Convention, to quote Mr. Wickliffe's resolution, which was unanimously adopted by that body, "is not dissolved by the adjournment at the close of its business, but is to remain organized, subject to be called at any time and places that the Executive Na. tional Committee may designate.' In other words, a permanent, self-constituted revolutionary body was thus created, to inaugurate civil war at the North in case the action of the Government should not square with its wishes and plans. A casus belli was stated by the convention to be a repetition of military interference in the State elections of Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware and Missouri. The object of such interference, as is well known, was to prevent those in open arms against the Government from voting at the polls. So large a proportion of the people of Kentucky, for example, was traitorous, that the Union population was literally at the mercy of the former, and could oppose no effectual resistance to wholesale robbery and murder, much less defend themselves from invasion from without. Government simply interposed to prevent cutthroats and rebels from outside its borders from seizing the political power of the State. No man loyal or disloyal, in fact, that was willing to take the oath of allegiance was prevented from voting. Such interference the convention resolved, was revolutionary, "and its repetition to be resisted with all the means and power under our control." Hence the necessity of making the convention a permanent body, to raise the standard of revolt, and organize the means of resistance to the action of the National Government. A political assemblage is thus to become the paramount authority of the land, and is to be the judge of the law as well as of the occasion on which it will exercise its revolutionary power.

—"The Chicago platform says the war has continued four years. We would like to know what progress was made for the six months that James Buchanan was commander-in-chief?

— Senator Wilson has completed, and has now in press, a history of the legislation of Congress, during the present administrative term, upon the subject of slavery and emancipation.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that never, since the first time they produced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Tumors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The mental effects are those no man can be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, Self-distrust, Love of solitude, &c., are but a few of the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving the description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females
IN DELICATE HEALTH.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cures of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

Boston, April 7, 1864.—eodly.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on which 9 of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which were decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle, at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A movement by the 2d division of the 2d corps on Friday night on the advanced rebel picket line, surprised the rebels and captured 100 prisoners,—nearly their entire line. Our loss was very slight. We hold the ground taken.

It is reported that Gen. Rousseau has concentrated all the forces of Gens. Stedman and Granger with his own at Athens, Ala., and moved towards the Tennessee. The rebel Gen. Dick Taylor is said to have joined Forrest.

Quantrell, the Missouri guerrilla, has been captured at Indianapolis, Ind., being recognized on the street by a refugee.

THE MAINE STATE ELECTION took place on Monday—the people voting for State officers and five members of Congress. The election possessed a national importance, the result being regarded as a precursor of the issue of the October and November elections. Gov. Cony was elected last year by a majority of 17,500. But the chief interest centered in the first congressional district, now represented by Lorenzo D. M. Sweat, democrat, of Portland, who was elected two years ago by 127 majority, over John N. Goodwin, the Republican nominee. The total vote then was, Sweat 10,332, Goodwin 10,205.

The candidates for Governor were Samuel Cony, Union; and Joseph Howard, Democratic. For Member of Congress, in the 1st District, John Lynch, Union; and Lorenzo D. M. Sweat, Democrat. Below we give returns received by telegraph and express on Monday evening, by which it appears that Gov. Cony is re-elected by an increased majority, and that Lynch is elected to Congress in the 1st District, the only one regarded as doubtful.

Kittery gave Cony 465, Howard 181—Union gain 195. Joshua H. Sanborn, Union, was elected Representative.

York, Cony 298, Howard 288—Union gain 32.

Eliot, Cony 215, Howard 196—a Union loss of a few votes.

Lynch's majority in 20 towns is 2161,—a Union gain of 628.

By special arrangements which we made on Monday we were to have in season for this morning's Chronicle all the returns received in this city by telegraph last night. If any were received which do not appear above, the fault does not lie at our door. It was our intention to obtain a sufficient number of returns to indicate the actual majority in the State: circumstances beyond our control have rendered it impossible for us to do so. We give enough, however, to indicate the glorious result,—the election of the Union candidates by large majorities. Indeed there is not variety enough in the figures to make them exciting. Our sister State has done well,—the Dirigo state still leads.

— Henry C. Lord declines the Democratic nomination for Congress, in the Second District of Ohio. James C. Butler has been nominated in his stead.

— John G. Lewis, contractor on the Norfolk County Railroad, was robbed of $2,500 on Thursday night, on the highway between Woonsocket and Blackstone, R. I., by three men who probably followed him from Boston for the purpose.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Brig. Gen. Gilman Marston is dangerously sick.

—— Col. Henry O. Kent is the Union candidate for Elector in the 3d District.

—— Orlando Lund has obtained a patent for improvement in Safety Guards for Locks.

—— A dispatch from Fortress Monroe says that Col. Donahoe, of the 10th N. H. regiment, has gone to the front to command a brigade.

—— Mr. Joseph C. Mason, of Peterboro', was admitted at Nashua on Thursday to practice as attorney and counsellor at law in the courts of this State.

—— Two or three weeks ago a man in Nashua was so poor that he was unable to pay the rent of a house, and it being very warm weather, he and his family camped out in the open air. Last week he enlisted in the Heavy Artillery, and was seeking to purchase a farm to invest his $1200 in.

—— As Dr. Aiken, of Fitzwilliam, was riding through that village on Saturday last, his horse was attacked and bitten by a mad dog, and became unmanageable. He ran violently down a hill, dashing the carriage and its occupants against a fence, fracturing Dr. Aiken's arm in two places and otherwise bruising him. The lady with him was thrown over the fence but was uninjured.

—— The Hillsborough County Agricultural Fair will be held at Milford, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 28 and 29. The Merrimack River Agricultural Fair at Nashua on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 5 and 6. The Grafton County Fair at Littleton, on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 21 and 22. The Claremont Agricultural Fair in Claremont Oct. 4. The Cheshire County Fair in Keene, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 20 and 21.

— A back driver has been fined $5 and costs, in Portland, for mutilating a shade tree by hitching his horses to it.

— A safe, containing $15,000, was stolen from a stage-coach between Portland and Gallipolis, Ohio, one day last week.

— Ex-Gov. Downey and Hon. James Coffroth have been nominated for Congress by the Democracy of California.

— Twenty-five thousand dollars was offered and refused for the trotting stallion Gen. Knox last week.

— Gen. Paine, commanding the department of the West, has been removed. Gen. Merideth succeeds him.

— The largest tannery in the United States is being built in Maine. The main building is to be 600 feet long, wings some hundred feet in length.

— Mr. William Manning, who established a daily stage route between Boston and Salem, in 1801, died at Salem on Monday aged 85 years. He was an uncle of the late Nathaniel Hawthorne.

— Spontaneous combustion in bituminous coal is causing some excitement in Boston, and measures are being taken by the City Government to prevent the landing of it upon city wharves.

— The story of Gen. Couch dispersing a camp of a thousand copperheads at Sunbury, Pa., had only this basis—a deputy marshal was fired at and wounded by one man who attempted to escape the draft.

— Rebel papers announce the arrival of the Tallahassee at Wilmington, (where she still was, Aug. 30,) and publish a list of her captures, which number 35 vessels, principally schooners. She is preparing to go out again.

— The Machias Union says, "George B. McClellan is emphatically the coming man." If he doesn't come faster than he went towards Richmond, he will find the White House occupied by an older, a taller, and an infinitely better man, with a lease of the premises, signed by an overwhelming majority of the people, for four years from the 4th of March next, before he gets round.—Portland Press.

— On Saturday Capt. Ebenezer Ames attempted to enter Newburyport harbor by the South pass, alone in a whaleboat, and when directly on the bar a curling wave dashed down, swamping his boat, and he was not afterwards seen. He was a native of Maine, but had long resided in Newburyport, and was a hardworking man, about 60 years old.

— The Loyal Sunrise says the recent rains in Aroostook county have wonderfully improved the later crops, and there is a prospect of an abundance of fall feed for cattle. The wheat crop is excellent. Oats, although not so large a growth of straw as usual, are very bright and the crop good. Buckwheat never looked better, and potatoes and turnips promise an abundant yield.

— The storeship Brandywine, burned at Norfolk, Va., caught fire in the forehold, where was stored a large quantity of oil, turpentine, etc. The officers and men worked with great zeal, and assistance was received from the Norfolk Navy Yard and a steam tug; but, although an immense body of water was thrown upon the fire, it was impossible to extinguish the flames. Commander Glasson was the last man to leave the ship.

HOW THE ROTHSCHILDS MADE MONEY. — I did not know, till I heard it from Alava, the exact circumstances of the first arrival of the news of the battle of Waterloo in London. It seems that one morning a partner of the house of Rothschild came to Lord Liverpool, informed him that he had a few hours before received the glorious news, or at least the bare outline; that having made all the advantage which this exclusive knowledge could give him on the stock market, he came to impart it to the government. He would not answer any inquiries as to the means by which he had acquired this intelligence, could not give any particulars, only repeated the assurances of the truth of the information. Lord Liverpool thought it cruel, on such vague foundations, to raise hopes or fears. To one of his colleagues, Vansittart, I think, who happened to come in, he told the circumstance, and they agreed to conceal it from every other human being till more was known. There was a cabinet dinner that day at Lord Harrowby's; not one word was said respecting the news, and Lord Liverpool was returning home full of anxiety. In the street his carriage was stopped by an unknown, who, with some apology, said that he had just come from Downing street; that a carriage with six horses dressed with laurels, French eagles, and colors hanging out of the windows, had arrived; that the glorious news was instantly spread; and that the messenger was gone to Lord Harrowby's in pursuit of him through another street from that in which he was met.

This, I think, I heard at the time, but certainly till now never heard the thing accounted for. It seems that the Duke of Wellington, after writing his despatch home, said to Pozzo di Borgo, "Will you write to Louis XVIII. at Ghent? tell him only that Napoleon is utterly defeated; that in less than a fortnight I shall be in possession of Paris, and hope very soon after to see him reinstated. Say that excessive fatigue prevents me from writing." A messenger was of course immediately sent off to Ghent. When he arrived, Louis and his little court happened to be assembled at breakfast in a room whose windows, down to the ground, were wide open. The embraces, the ejaculations, of course instantly apprised those under the windows of the arrival of good news. Among these was a spy from the house of Rothschild, who had many days been upon the watch. He no sooner heard the news than he rode post to Ostend; there, happening to find a vessel just sailing, he embarked, and got one tide before the English messenger, who arrived shortly afterwards.—Diary of a Lady of Quality.

COOKING IN NEW ZEALAND.—The plan adopted by the Maories of cooking their viands is not peculiar to them, but commonly practiced in various South-Sea Islands. It has been called baking, and one has heard about New-Zealand ovens; but steaming, we fancy, is the more fitting designation. By whatever term designated, the process is as follows:—A party of Maories will, we must first assume, have obtained the meat; and, as the case may be, vegetables. Hunger may press, and it is desired to cook the meat. Let us overlook the Maori cooks, and notice how they set about it. There will be nothing to shock our humanity now, cannibalism having ceased these thirty years. The New Zealand Soyer will, if times are easy, exercise his art on a pig; else it may be a dog, the latter always having been considered good eating by the Maories. Rats, too, may have been trapped; wild-duck, wild pigeon, or parrots may have been caught in snares; eels may have been netted out of the nearest brook: every New Zealand brook contains plenty, but hardly any other fish worth the catching. Whatever the prey, it is cooked in this wise, viz.: first a hole is dug in the earth of convenient size — a hole, in days that were, ominously like a man's grave; a fire is next lighted hard by, and stones, gathered promiscuously, are heated in that fire. When hot enough, the stones are laid flat in the pit, and covered over with a thin layer of leaves. A little water being now poured upon the leafy covering, the creature comforts are carefully arranged upon the leaves, just as a baker arranges his loaves upon the floor of an oven. Next an upper layer of leaves, by way of coverlet, to keep the dinner warm, and upon that coverlet, all the earth that had previously been dug out of the pit, Necessarily, under this treatment the materials to be cooked are soon bathed in an atmosphere of steam. It is a treatment under which, we are informed, the very hardest integuments grow soft.

TO THE POINT.—Gen. Truman Seymore while stopping in Brattleboro', Vt., last week was serenaded, and in response to a call for a speech he made the following pithy remarks:

"My friends, I am glad to see you. I am going to the Army of the Potomac in a few days. A good many of you look able to go, and I should like to have you go with me. Good evening."

VINEGAR AND OLIVE OIL.—A great part of the vinegar consumed in Paris is produced by the distillation of vine stalks. It is much stronger than vinegar produced from the distillation of wine, and it is consequently reduced by the addition of water previous to being offered for sale. The neighborhood of Orleans produces the greatest quantity of white wine vinegar sold in Paris. A great proportion of what is sold for olive oil is either poppy oil or beech oil flavored with olive oil. Unadulterated olive oil, which is scarce and dear in Paris, comes from Provence (where the production is constantly diminishing), from Genoa, and the island of Candia. Algeria now supplies a large quantity of olive oil. Grape oil is produced chiefly in the departments of the Ford, the Pas de Calais, and Calvados, where the cultivation of the plant is a great source of wealth. It is used for the lamp, for painting, and in various manufactures. Fish oil, brought to France by the boats engaged in the northern fishery, is chiefly employed in dressing leather.

— A speaker in the interior of the State of New York thus eulogized the peace nominee: "Little Mac" fought fair, never took any undue advantage, in fact, never took any advantage; but Grant was mean, he kept "flanking," and he had "flanked" Lee and our other Democratic brethren with him all the way from the Rapidan to Richmond, and if we don't elect McClellan, Grant will "flank" Lee into the Gulf of Mexico.

OBITUARY.

Died on board U. S. gunboat James S. Chambers, while lying in Indian River, Florida, HORACE J. CHACE, of this city, aged 20 years and 4 months.

The deceased was the only son of Mrs. Grace Chace of this city, and dearly beloved by his mother and sisters, who are left to mourn his sudden death and to feel the bitterness of the great disappointment which his removal brings upon them. He entered the service nearly three years ago, and having nearly served his time, they were expecting that in about three months he would return once more to them. To that time they were looking forward with joyful anticipations, making preparation to welcome him back after his long absence in a manner such as should make his coming, to them and him, a season of pleasure. But alas! they were doomed to disappointment. Instead of the return of the loved one, there came a letter from the acting commander of the vessel, stating that he died of yellow fever and was buried at sea, on the tenth of August last.

Thus another life, precious and dear to kindred and friends, has been sacrificed to the rapacity of this unholy rebellion, which had its birth from love of power, and lives to-day because of the wicked sympathy of professed lovers of country with men whose only wish is to stab to the heart our national life.

But let mother and sisters, while they mourn, rejoice, as did the son and brother, that the life so dear to them was given for a country and institutions such as make it honorable and glorious thus to die. Let thoughts of his loyalty and truthfulness have power to take from their present sorrow much of its bitterness; and the fact that he realized his condition, knew that he must die and was willing there and thus to depart, believing in Him whose power robe death of its sting and the grave of its victory—let this fact gild with brightness the present gloomy hours, and bid them hope for a meeting hereafter, beyond the reach of war and death.

Draft Notice.

To the Citizens of Portsmouth:

The undersigned, having been appointed by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, a Committee to lay before the Board of Enrollment the names of all persons who claim exemption from the following causes, viz: Alienage, Non-Residence, Unsuitableness of Age, Manifest Permanent Physical Disability, and persons who have been in the service two years during the present war, would give notice that they will be in session on and after Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1864, from 2 till 5 o'clock and from 7½ to 9 o'clock P. M., at the City Rooms, for the purpose of receiving evidence in such cases.

The Enrollment list can be seen during the same hours, and every person who can present a claim for such exemption is respectfully requested to attend as above, and by this means correct the Enrollment, so that our quota can be reduced.

It is the duty of every citizen, whether enrolled or not, to see that the Committee have all the information in his power to give in the above matter, in regard to any person, and we trust that every enrolled man will urge the importance of the subject upon all those who are exempt for the above causes, as it is a matter of interest to all.

Any information in regard to matters connected with the above will be cheerfully given.

Let there be no delay.

C. A. SHANNON,
JAMES C. BROWN,
JOHN E. RIDER,
Committee.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

TERRIBLE AFFLICTION.—Miss Eveline Caswell, of Gosport, and Miss Lydia Varrell, of Rye, two young ladies, lost their lives at the Isle of Shoals on Saturday evening, by being washed from the high rocks by the waves, and drowned. Everybody who has spent much time at Gosport, Star Island, has been shown, and doubtless sat in, "Miss Underhill's chair," a fatal rocky seat, whence a young lady was washed and engulphed by the treacherous sea, just sixteen years ago on Sunday last. She was teaching school there, and was in company with her lover, seated just below the high brow of the cliff, admiring the dashing and frothing of the breakers far below her, when one of those huge "accidental" waves, which are known and feared at all such places, and especially at the Shoals,—and which, in some unaccountable manner, rise several yards higher than any preceding or following wave—took her in its resistless grasp and bore her to a hopeless watery grave below, in full view of her half-crazed but utterly helpless companion. Rev. Mr. Beebe, also, as we sat in that same chair of death, told us of several other instances of very narrow escapes from a similar fate which occurred near this spot.

On one occasion, when he himself was admiring the heavy sea, a peculiarly high wave admonished him to leave that "chair," which he had hardly done when it was covered fathoms deep, and he escaped being swept from the very top of the cliff, far above, by grasping one of the piles of stones which all visitors remember there; and was devoutly thankful to accept a thorough drenching as the only penalty of his carelessness.

Ever since the loss of Miss Underhill, care has been taken to warn all strangers of the danger of approaching, in times of heavy sea, the grand old rocky cliff, which seems absolutely inaccessible to old ocean, usually so far below; and even the ladies resident on the island are not usually allowed to visit the fatal spot unattended by gentlemen. But on Saturday afternoon, as owing to the continued easterly winds, there was a heavy sea running, a party of about a dozen young ladies went to the bluff to view the magnificent display.—Among them were Miss Bragdon, of this city, now teacher of the school there; a daughter of Mr. Beebe; Miss Eveline Caswell, aged 11 years, daughter of Mr. John Caswell of Gosport; and Miss Lydia C. Varrell, of Rye, aged 17 years, daughter of Mr. William Varrell. These last two were seated in Miss Underhill's chair—a smooth granite seat, with a back some yards in height, and without any object near, by which to hold when the waters surge over any unfortunate victim—and they were swept away by a mighty wave, in plain sight of their agonized companions. One of them was seen no more; the other, Miss Varrell, was for a brief and terrible moment left on a lower ledge or shelf rock by the receding wave; and a boy who bravely attempted to give her his hand to help her up, but barely escaped sharing her own sad fate, when she went down forever with the next rise and fall of the mighty waters.—Several others of the ladies were in great peril, and escaped only by hurrying back from the seething flood in time.

At least two or three men were to have accompanied the ladies, but waited to settle, before starting, some matter of discussion as to the date of another accident of a boat's capsizing; and ere reaching the spot the accident occurred. All they could have done, had they been there, would be, perhaps, to prevent the girls taking that dreaded seat; for once in the embrace of those mad waters, and no mortal aid availeth—that sea surrenders no victims to any power save the king of terrors, who can hardly assume a more terrible form than this.

One of the bodies, that of Miss Caswell, was recovered on Sunday—being washed ashore round the Point, near the Atlantic House; and it was thought, when our informant left, that the other was to be seen at a distance, and would be secured. It is needless to say that the whole population of the Islands is suffering deeply in sympathy with the afflicted parents, and that a general gloom pervades the town. Especially to the young ladies accompanying the fated girls at the time, is the blow a severe one. And we are informed by a man who was on the spot immediately after, that it was with great difficulty that Rev. Mr. Beebe, who lives near, could be prevented from leaping from the cliff to try to save them, so intense was the excitement of the occasion. But ten thousand men were of no more avail there than a straw. The sea in all the unbroken force of open ocean breaks up on that side of the Shoals; the cliff is very high, and the water of great depth.

☞ Gov. Gilmore, Adj. Gen. Head, Sec. Tenny, Judges Fowler and Upham, Hon. John H. George, Dumas of the Phenix Hotel, and other Concord gentlemen, with Hon. John P. Hale, Hon. Amos Tuck, and a large party of friends of all political parties, from all parts of the State, including this city, took a trip to the Shoals in the steamer Pioneer, one day last week, stopping at Fort Constitution on their return. All enjoyed the sail much, (those who were not seasick,) and had a good time generally.

☞ The Portland Argus, (copperhead,) wants to make out a case, and makes the following astonishing statement:

The great "meal tub plot" of New Hampshire turns out to be just sixteen rifles found hidden, which had been stolen!

That is a little too bad, and the owners of the rifles can well cry, "save us from our friends." It is but just to say that the rifles were not stolen.

POLICE COURT, Monday.—Michael Kelly, for being drunk, was fined $3, and costs $3.09. Paid.

Oliver Dennett, 2d, for same offence, was sentenced to pay a like fine and costs.

Martin Garrity was brought up, charged with keeping a noisy and disorderly house on Fleet street, opposite the Franklin House; and the case was continued until Saturday next, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

SUCCESS OF THE PORTSMOUTH BOOK. A subscription paper was recently forwarded to a son of Portsmouth in Boston for him to obtain subscribers. In twenty-four hours after it been received 200 copies had been subscribed for, and the paper returned to the editors. About two or three hundred copies have already been subscribed for in this city. As a limited number will be published, it will be well for all who are desirous of procuring copies to subscribe at once.

THAT VERDICT. — In explanation of a recent singular verdict returned by a coroner's jury in this city, which astonished everybody else, and we think must have surprised the jury themselves, the Portsmouth correspondent of the Ballot says:

The evening train ran over Mr. John Swindell, brewer, at the creek, and instantly killed him. A coroner's jury (upon which there served as a juror a lawyer who is conducting a suit for damages for the family of a man who sometime since committed suicide by throwing himself in front of the engine of a passing train) has reported that Swindell was killed and murdered by the railroad, by running their trains at an unlawful rate of speed.

☞ We are indebted to Hon. John P. Hale for a copy of the report of the Senate committee on naval supplies.

— Gold 214 3-4.

— A stage was upset in Buxton, Me., on Saturday, while having nine passengers outside and a full complement inside. One man was killed, and a lady had her shoulder dislocated, and sustained a severe injury on the hip. The other passengers escaped without injury.

THE HORRORS OF WAR can be greatly mitigated by that sovereign remedy, Holloway's Ointment, as it will cure any wound, however desperate, if it be well rubbed around the wounded parts, and they should be kept thoroughly covered with it. A pot of ointment should be in every man's knapsack.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 227

DEATHS.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of notes to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the 1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H, Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank,

and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and afford

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

Morning Chronicle.

Gen. HOOKER is now awaiting orders at the residence of his brother-in-law in Watertown, N. Y., the citizens of which town a few evenings since celebrated the fall of Atlanta. The procession halted in front of a house where Fighting Joe had been "taking tea," and sent up a deafening shout for Gen. Hooker. After some moments, the hero came forward to the portico and said:

Fellow Citizens: You have come to rejoice at the success of the Union arms, in which I am ready to join you heart and hand. My business is fighting and not speech-making; but let me now tell you that the army of Sherman is invincible, and cannot be disheartened. We must treat this Rebellion as a wise parent would a vicious child—he must whip him into subjection—no milder discipline will answer the purpose. Some are crying peace; but there can be no peace as long as a rebel can be found with arms in his hands. Woe be to those who cry peace where there is no peace! This Union must be preserved, and there is no way of preserving it but by the power of our arms—by fighting the conspiracy to death. This rebellion is tottering now while I speak; it is going down, down, and will soon tumble into ruin. Politicians may talk as they want to about the cause of the war, but I say put down the rebellion, and then if you choose, inquire into the cause of it. But first put down the insurgents—first whip them, and then talk about the cause if you have nothing else to engage your attention. I believe in treating the rebellion as Gen. Jackson treated Indians—whip them first and treat with them afterwards. The Union cannot be divided, let politicians talk as they may; for if division commences, where are you to end? first, the South would go, then the Pacific States, then New-England, and I hear that one notorious politician has advocated that the City of New York should secede from the Empire State. In such a case there would be no end to rebellion. Gentlemen, every interest you have depends upon the success of our cause, every dollar you possess is at stake in the preservation of the Union. It will better accord with my feelings to see the limits of our glorious country extended, rather than circumscribed, and we may feel it a national necessity to enlarge our borders at no distant day. This Union, gentlemen, cannot be dissolved, as long as the army have guns to fight with; furnish men and muskets, and the Union is secure. Fellow citizens, I am thanking you for the honor of your call and the patriotic spirit you manifest, I bid you a cordial good night.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR
Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for
COSTIVENESS,
and the best remedy ever prepared for
Diseases of the Liver,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with more intellectual science and skill than the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting, in this Elixir, rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicines. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are forced through the stomach and bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain in the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, occasion costiveness, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy and vigorous action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions through the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of a SPEEDY DILATE RELIEF. Perseverance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS APPEARANCES. Purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It invigorates the various organs of the system to act their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and vitiated condition of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the use of this Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the system in a mild and effective manner. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1829.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of the Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. TRACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 12 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston. aug—3moo&W

First on the list, as a reliable pure stimulant, stands the celebrated and widely-known
Golden Sheaf Bourbon Whiskey,
made from Wheat, Rye and Corn, warranted for five years old. Put up in unique style, each bottle in a paper box, in cases of one dozen each, the large and increasing sales of which convince the proprietor that no extended advertisement is needed to extol its real merits. It will recommend itself on trial.
Golden Sheaf Cordial.
A delightful and healthful beverage, aromatic, with a rich ginger cordial, made from the pure Golden Sheaf Bourbon.
Golden Sheaf Bitters.
The best Tonic Bitter ever offered to the public. Mingled with this rich flavor of the Bourbon are a number of other ingredients for restoring the appetite and imparting life and vigor to the whole system.
Golden Sheaf Punch.
Made from fresh, ripe lemons, and other articles combined as a whole into a fine rich
Bourbon Whiskey Punch.
All the above put up full strength of the whiskey, and in cases of one dozen each. These articles improve by age, and no exposure of climate can affect them.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
AND
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.
CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa; and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.
It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.
It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all putrilaginous matter which have induced disease.
CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites, its effects are healing, soothing and ameliorating; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.
☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time, all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.
For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.
Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.
Sent by Express to any address on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the CHEROKEE STOVE, there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelfuls of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, mild and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of oxygen through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will burn from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used.
We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron R. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

COMICAL ANIMALS.

We had a very intelligent Scotch terrier who was much attached to one of my sons, but we often observed that if we laughed at him he would look up at us with an expression of sorrowful indignation very curious to behold; indeed, I have seen my boy purposely pretend to laugh at our poor "Crab," who would walk away as if unable to endure it. Certainly man may be described as a laughing animal in contradistinction to other animals, for who ever saw the risible faculty excited in any of our household pets? I am not sure that we may not value them more because they cannot laugh at us, yet how fond of frolic and fun they often are. Poor "Crab" (now remembered with a sorrowful pleasure as belonging to the past) would join my children at a game of hide and seek with the greatest zest. One of the party would hide some small article, the rest turning their backs and covering their eyes to avoid seeing where it was deposited. We always showed "Crab" what was to be hid, and then covered his eyes also; and he seemed perfectly to understand the game; for when "Hid!" was called how impatient he was to be off, being always the first to find, no doubt owing to his sensitive nose. Once a D'Oyley was placed in a china jar on the mantelpiece, and when the dog was let loose he immediately looked up, and springing on a chair, would have vaulted from thence to the chimney-piece, had he not been restrained in his playful eagerness. * * The odd habits of animals are endless in their variety, and often highly amusing. I once knew a dog that would fly at any one who said "Pork" to him. You had but simply to say "Pork, Bob," to be immediately seized by the trowsers, and, perhaps, the leg, and worried. Dogs abominate music, as a rule, and a cornopean will usually set nine dogs out of ten howling fearfully. I have read somewhere of a dog that would rest quietly enough on a rug while its mistress played tune after tune, but the moment she glided into "Annie Laurie," up he would spring, and bark himself almost into a fit, flying up at the performer's arms incessantly to induce her to cease; the tune changed, he would relapse into his former careless condition. Sporting dogs are often highly peculiar in their habits. I have known dogs that would not hunt for a bad shot; so that Leech's old caricature of the two dogs standing still in the turnip-field and proposing to go home and not hunt any longer for such a muff as their master, is not so very wild a caricature. A friend of mine had an old setter, who, if he got four or five points at the beginning of the day, and the shooter missed every shot, would sit down on his haunches and howl as though in mortal agony; if another shot was missed after this, down would go his tail, and away he would trot home, and nothing would induce him to stop. A friend, who had borrowed the dog, once came home in a great perturbation; he had "lost the dog." "Well," quoth my friend, "old Rock is not easily lost in this country. How did it happen?" The shooter explained. "Ah," said my friend, "you missed the first five or six shots, I expect, and the old dog will not stand that. He is safe enough in his kennel, I warrant." And sure enough, when they went out, there was old Rock, who saluted the unlucky gunner with a low growl that caused him to make a speedy retreat. As regards parrots, they often do know, to some extent, what they are saying.

I will not quote at full length Simoen's famous story of the parrot-talking match, where the last bird that was brought into the room, seeing so many cages of parrots, gravely exclaimed, "My G—, what a lot of parrots," and thereby won the prize; but will recount an instance of parrot humor that happened to myself at Falmouth many years since. I was walking up the hill one day when I heard some one call out behind me, "Hoy." Thinking it was intended for me, I looked round, but seeing no one behind me I continued my walk, when "hoy" was repeated louder than before; again I stopped and looked round: not a soul was in sight, and again I continued. "Hoy." Thinking some one was poking fun at me from some secure hiding-place, hard by, I did not look round this time, when "hoy, hoy, hoy," was repeated in the most urgent tones. Again I came to a full stop, and looked completely puzzled, for I could not make out where the rascal was who was thus fooling me, when an uproarious shout of laughter, a downright peal of intense enjoyment, ensued, and, my gaze following the sound, I detected Master Polly hung up in and half hidden by a large shady vine. Seeing he was detected the rogue cocked his head on one side, and looking at me with a most cunning expression, said: "Sold again! only Polly! sold! sold! sold!! Ha! ha! ha!" and, quite disgusted with being chafted this way, I walked on, followed by shouts of laughter and choice selections of nautical phrases. I have no doubt whatever that, although the bird had been unquestionably taught this little amusement, and often practiced it, that he had sufficient sense to connect cause and effect, and to enjoy the embarrassment he created. — Francis Francis.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continue to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents and invention—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent, and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. In such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part he has made me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syhilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargemgnt of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Bilss, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are peculiar the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. Teller when in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER'S great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published. Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M., and on Sundays from 9 to 5 P.M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, and sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself.
Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

As the Richmond Examiner tells the story of the capture and death of the guerrilla chief John Morgan, he was on a reconnoissance, and took lodgings in a house near Greenville, Tenn., which proved to be occupied by the wife of an officer on Burnside's staff, named Williams. While he slept Mrs. Williams mounted his horse, rode fifteen miles and returned with a squad of soldiers. Morgan broke from the house, but was surrounded. He drew a revolver, swore he would not be taken alive, and attempted to break through the line, and was killed by a volley. Here is another dispatch from Gen. Gillem, at Greenville, Tenn., who has suddenly acquired distinction through the surprise and death of Morgan. It is dated Aug. 23, 9:30 P. M.:

Dr. Brownlow:—Whipped the enemy to-day. Killed forty and lost twenty-five. Capt. Karner, my A. A. G., mortally wounded in a charge. John safe, tell Mrs. B. ALVAN C. GILLEM.

Gen. Gillem telegraphs from Bull's Gap, East Tennessee, Sept. 6th, that all Morgan's papers fell into his hands, and show his forces to have exceeded 1800. His dead exceed 75. His command fled in great confusion after his death. Gen. Gillem pursued them eight miles, but the chivalry use the spurs with more vigor than the sabre.

15,000 rebels are reported to be concentrating at the mouth of the Red river, keeping up a constant fire.

— Gold 227 1-8.

— Mosby has been killed again, — this time in a duel.

— A large portion of the recent loan will be appropriated to the pay of the army.

— Gen. Sherman is compared to Joshua. See the account of the capture of the city of Ai, in the eighth chapter of Joshua.

— The draft in the deficient districts in Massachusetts is to commence on Monday next.

— A hard paper—the Iron, Hardware and Industrial Reporter, published weekly at New York. It ought to be filed.

— A New York dispatch represents the gold market to be "very weak and terribly excited."

— A fire in Cairo, Ill., on Monday morning, destroyed two hotels and a number of stores, to the amount of $200,000. Insured for $40,000.

— The Union majority in Vermont is not less than 21,000. 230 towns elect 210 Union and 20 opposition representatives.—The Senate is unanimously Union.

— The English blockade runners "Elsie" and "A. D. Vance," recently captured, together with their cargoes, are worth probably half a million of dollars.

— The New York Times of Saturday says: "Gen. Fremont has been in town several days, discussing the desirability of withdrawing. His letter is believed to be in the hands of an ex-Major of his staff."

— The blockade runner A. D. Vance was captured, her officers say, because of the bad coal on board. The obstruction of the Weldon Railroad by our army prevents the supply of a better article to blockade runners.

— By order of the Secretary of War, all sick and wounded soldiers will be discharged upon the expirations of their terms of service, but will be entitled to medical treatment in hospitals and the usual rations so long as it may be necessary for them.

— John Lackey on Saturday night quarrelled with some strangers in a New York dining saloon, fired at them, and by mistake shot Peter Jobs in the left shoulder, inflicting a dangerous wound. A very bad job for that lackey.

— A letter dated at Toronto says that desertions from the British army, under the Yankee bounty temptation, are so great that nearly one thousand of the Queen's troops have left during the past year. Hence all are ordered to Quebec, for the present.

— It is estimated that at least one-third of the slave element of the South has now been converted into the Federal service, military and civil, and that this element now constitutes nearly one-third of the Federal force employed, directly and indirectly, in the suppression of the rebellion.

— The entire amount of money offered for the new loan is little short of $73,000,000, or over $41,000,000 above the sum asked for. Nine-tenths of the amount are at four per cent premium, or upward. The bonds in payment of the loan were ready for delivery at the Treasury Department on Monday morning at ten o'clock. Such prompt delivery is unprecedented.

— A daring attempt was made on the night of the 6th inst., to set fire to the large Government warehouse at the corner of Washington avenue and Second street, St. Louis. The warehouse contains over a million dollars' worth of Government stores, a part of which are boxed and ready for shipment — clothing, harness, tent-cloth, tents, &c. The flames were extinguished with little damage.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

THE NEW ENGLAND FAIR, &c.

At the suggestion of the Massachusetts Board of Agriculture, delegates from the various agricultural societies in New England met last March to organize the N. E. Agr. Society, whose first annual exhibition was held at Springfield last week—and which it was our good fortune to attend—Among the officers of the Society, Dr. Geo. B. Loring of Salem is President; Hon. Frederick Smythe of Manchester one of the Vice Presidents; Charles L. Flint of Boston, and Henry Clark of Poultney, Vt., Secretaries; and Hon. Moses Humphrey of Concord one of the six N. H. Trustees. And to these gentlemen we are especially indebted for every facility to witness and enjoy the splendid exhibitions. Of the Fair we do not propose to give any detailed report, but only to make very brief mention of the chief and general features.

The N. E. Agr. Soc. is a thing of the future, rather than the past. It is not yet a year old, but has in its babyhood a vigor which might well become its prime. The plan embraces an annual exhibition, to be held in the six States alternately. Maine is talked of for next year, in which case probably Portland will be the place.

This first Fair was eminently a success in every particular—the display of all departments, the character and mass of the attendance, and pecuniarily. Springfield is one of the most beautiful cities in New England; and Hampden Park, where most of the show was held, furnishes the finest exhibition ground we ever visited, and Gen. Burnside said there, the best in the country. It lies just along the bank of the Connecticut river, from which it is separated only by a verdant earth-wall, in one part surmounted with trees; and with its two good tracks of half a mile and a mile, the large extent of buildings for stock, seats for about 5000 people—in fact, the completeness of all its appointments, and the beauty of its formation, location and surroundings, it is a charming place indeed.

The proceedings were very much as at other fairs of the sort, only more so. The stock show—cattle, horses, sheep and poultry, was pronounced the best and most complete ever had in New England. The display of fruits, vegetables, flowers, farm and mechanic manufactures, ladies' work, and fancy goods generally, in the elegant and spacious city hall, was very extensive, and superb as a whole and in detail. There was the usual amount of curiosities, impossibilities and monstrosities; and we thought more than the average excellence. In the large tent on the ground was an immense collection of farming and household tools and machines—sufficient to do all the work for the yeoman and his wife, almost without human superintendence, if you could believe all the agents' stories about them.

Speaking of the success of the exhibition, the Springfield Republican says, "The great Fair is ended—the crowds have all gone home tired and happy." Yes, and it might have said, that no such crowd would consider themselves happy unless they were tired. The attendance was unparalleled. Commencing with 3000 on Tuesday, it ran up to 12,000 on Wednesday, and culminated with 20,000 on Thursday—the falling off to 12,000 again on Friday, the last day, being solely on account of the threatening clouds in the morning. Pecuniarily, as well as otherwise, the fair was also all that could be desired. More than enough was realized to cover all the immense expenses, (estimated to count up nearly to $20,000) and the new society starts off free from debt and with the great impetus and prestige which always attends a successful opening.

The Republican calls the Horse Show "something wonderful;" and well it may, with time shown on a slow half-mile track, so good as 2:31 1-2 and 2:33; stallions good enough to beat staunch old Draco, and to be unsuccessfully bid for at $20,000 and $25,000, and colts of a week old held at above $6000.

Chief among the horse exhibitors were G. C. Hitchcock of Preston, Conn., with his stud of 20 fine animals; T. S. Lang of No. Vassalboro', Me., with the splendid trotting stallion Gen. Knox, and another; J. R. Poor of Somerville, with Draco and Draco Prince; and others whom we have no time or room for. Mr. Lang bought Gen. Knox of Mr. Denny (of Southbridge, Mass., the owner of Pocahontas and other flyers,) when a colt, for $1000; and now Mr. Denny offered Mr. L. $20,000 for him back; and Mr. Beckwith—a famous but unsuccessful sporting gent, of Hartford, offered $25,000, in vain! The mare Highland Maid had a six-days old colt by her side, for which Mr. Hitchcock also refused $4000.

Gen. Knox beat Draco, mile heats, best 3 in 5, 2:31 1-2, 2:37, and 2:34 1-2. Knox made no skip or break, but Draco was not in good condition. A beautiful little bay mare from Amherst, N. H., also won glory as well as money, for Mr. Peter H. Jones, her owner—trotting six heats and winning two purses, without a skip or break. She wore no check-rein or blinders, and needed neither urging or pulling, and has brains and muscle, wind and bottom enough for about the best of them. She beat the famous Belle of Hartford in 2:38 1-2, 2:42, 2:39; and next day left J. D. McMann's New York mare Goshen Maid nowhere, in 2:33, 2:42 1 4, 2:46. The Yorkers thought they had a sure thing in their Maid, and almost everybody else thought so too; but the little New Hampshire Empress left her quite out in the cold. In fact, all the few entries from the Granite State, we believe, took premiums. But enough of horse—we can't say a word of the splendid draft animals, including Gov. Sprague's majestic team of six or eight; nor of the superb matched pairs, nor saddle horses, ponies, mules, and what not. The fast horse, the trotter, has taken most of our time here, as he did of everybody's else there.

And among the men who helped enjoy the racing were mayors, governors, merchants, editors, principals of seminaries, professors, generals, and gentlemen of high degree in every branch of business. And nobody appeared to appreciate a fine animal any more than Prof. Agassiz or Gen. Burnside, who by their courteous, cordial, manly deportment won the personal esteem and regard of all who met them. Gen. Burnside wore a plain suit of gray, without a military emblem of any sort, and is a very fine-looking but unassuming gentleman—looking just like his pictures, as everybody already knows. It must be a great and pleasurable relaxation for men who are burdened with such fearful responsibilities and engrossing cares, as the two last named, to be able to participate in such joyous scenes as these.

Among the prominent men of our own State, J. T. Hoyt of East Concord was awarded several premiums for various grades sheep; Henry Lyman of Winchester, Moses Humphrey and J. S. McFarland of Concord, for stallions; and Wentworth G. Shaw of Concord for mares and geldings.

A monstrous four-year-old heifer from Dunbarton, weighing 2200 lbs., and very handsome, attracted much attention. She had never been bred to, but of course gave little promise of good milch qualities. There were also two sets of heifer triplets; one set two years old, pretty roans—the other, calves of a few weeks.

But we cannot say more now, at any rate, and must close with an expression of the universal feeling of gratification of all present, not only at the material success of the Fair, but also the rare good order maintained, in which, as in all other regards, there could be nothing more to ask for. Not a single arrest was made on the grounds, and the chief marshal informed us that only one person intoxicated was seen there; and notwithstanding the immense crowds, no accident occurred to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

The Press of Massachusetts, especially Boston, was well represented; and to Mr. Phelps of the Springfield Republican, we were indebted for various courtesies. Outside that State, there were not many of "our profession:"—one each from New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Maine, we believe were all, besides "yours truly" of these Jottings, and Mr. Clark of the Manchester Mirror, for New Hampshire.

Success to the New England Agricultural Society, with its motto, "Practical Science," say we; and with such officers as it has at present, and such strong popularity with the people, it can never fail of the highest. Yours truly, F.

MAINE ELECTION.—Returns from 95 towns give Cony 26,771; Howard 17,603; majority 9,168. In the same towns last year the majority was 8,332. Union gain 836. Mr. Stephen Berry, the Portland Agent of the Associated Press, whose estimates have always proved very correct, makes the following calculations: The vote in these 95 towns includes a little over fourtenths of the State, and the same relative gain will amount to 2000 gain in the whole State, making the total Union majority 19,500 to 20,000, against 17,629 last year. This will be the largest gubernatorial majority ever thrown in Maine. The aggregate vote in these towns falls short about 2000.

The amendment of the constitution permitting soldiers to vote will be carried by a large majority.

The 1st District in 86 towns gives Lynch 10,692, Sweat 8,736. Last year the same towns threw 12,040 Union to 10,818 democratic votes. Lynch's majority thus far is 1,956. Majority in the same towns last year 1,222, being a gain of 734. Sweat's plurality in 1862 in the whole District was 148. In 1863 the vote for Governor in the District was: Bradbury, democrat, 13,398; Cony, Union, 14,618; majority 1,215. The majorities in the other Districts will be increased.

The Counties have all undoubtedly gone Republican, electing all their State Senators and County officers. The House of Representatives will stand about the same as last year—124 republican to 26 opposition.

In the gubernatorial election in 1860, which preceded Lincoln's election, the republican majority was 15,925—about 4000 short of the probable majority this year.

PEACE RUMORS ONCE MORE.—The Washington Union of the 10th states that Horace Greeley has again entered into correspondence with Sanders, assuring him that commissioners will be quietly sent, if desired by Messrs. Clay and Holcombe, to Richmond, to negotiate for peace without conditions precedent.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 8th has a marked editorial, in which it looks for peace — a lasting and permanent peace — in Calhoun's doctrine that the Executive Department of the Federal Government be reposed in two agents instead of one.

— The rebel General Bee, of South Carolina, has been cashiered for cowardice in front of the enemy.

— Oysters are more abundant in the waters of Maryland than for many years past, and in excellent order.

— The Old Colony Sentinel says: "Fishermen are arriving with good fares. A fishing voyage is better than a share in a gold mine, now."

WHERE THE DOUGLAS DEMOCRATS ARE GOING.—The Boston Herald has boldly taken its position against the Chicago Convention, its platform and nominees, in a forcible article.

— The Indian names of some of our new war vessels are thus interpreted: Suwannee, buffalo soup; Shamokin, worn out pipe; Muscoota, musk rat; Winnepec, small pig; Ashuelot, burnt bones; Monocacy, sleeping baby; Mahongo, wounded boar.

— The city of Cincinnati has claims against the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company, and employed a lawyer as counsel, at a compensation equal to 15 per cent. of the amount recovered through his instrumentality. The proposed compromise puts into the city treasury $300,000, which will make the lawyer's fee $45,000.

— By an act of Congress passed in June last, an officer employing a soldier as a servant is subject to a reduction of his pay to the amount of the legal allowance for a servant or servants, and also to the cost of a soldier to the Government. Congress might have passed a law more just, as the soldiers taken for servants are usually such as are unfitted by wounds or sickness for their legitimate business.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

Local.

☞ A pair of good gray horses belonging to Messrs. Ferguson & Burley's livery stable in this city, and harnessed to a light buggy, were overdriven so severely on Sunday last, to Rye and Hampton beaches and elsewhere, or otherwise abused, chilled or wrongly fed, by a sailor and his female companion, that one died soon after reaching his stable in the evening, and the other has not yet recovered from his exhaustion. The seaman came here in the U. S. ship Colorado, and we hear has promptly paid the damage of $200 and more, by drawing pay in advance—he having fooled away about $1200 of pay and bounty for re-enlisting, in riotous living since his vessel arrived at this gay and festive port. He was naturally a very decent fellow, and would not have abused the horses, but for the influence of "her whose steps take hold on hell," and who is always lying in wait everywhere for poor Jack.

☞ The body of Miss Lydia Varrell of Rye, who was drowned at Gosport on the 10th, has not yet been recovered. In the hope that it may be found and identified, her friends have furnished this description, hoping it may be copied by papers on the coast of Massachusetts and Maine. Her age was seventeen; her hair was cut short; she had a gold ring on her finger, marked Mary; she wore new Balmoral boots, and a light calico dress, trimmed with dark round the bottom.

THE PORTSMOUTH WASHINGTON TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY held its annual meeting on Monday evening, Sept. 12, when the following officers were elected:—

Tobias H. Miller, President.
William C. Hatch, Vice President.
Frederick W. Rogers, Sec. and Treas.
John H. Slater, Benjamin Cheever, Meshech Bell, I. F. Waterhouse, John W. Fernald, Ex. Com.

The Society has labored in connexion with the Sons of Temperance, devoting their funds to lectures, and other operations, in promoting the common cause.

☞ Arrangements are in progress for the launching of the steamer Franklin at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Saturday next. No person is to be allowed to stand on the bridge leading from the Navy Yard to Kittery Foreside, for fear of accidents—so all concerned can govern themselves accordingly. Ample room and a splendid view are afforded on the banks of the river in Kittery to accommodate thousands of persons; therefore no one need despair of witnessing this novel launch on account of not being able to find a suitable place.

☞ Soon after the first bells on Sabbath morning last, the happy father of two nice little boys aged perhaps nine and seven years, living in the centre of this city, and who has recently been serving in the Navy, while with his wife in the lower part of the house, was startled at the report of a pistol, up stairs; and on going to his chamber, found that his oldest had got his father's pistol from its case, (where it was kept both loaded and capped) and fired off the charge. The ball passed through a door, but did no great damage; and the little fellow's face was considerably scorched and blackened with the powder, but it is hoped not permanently disfigured.

☞ On Wednesday last, Mr. Michael Burke, an industrious and worthy Irishman of this city, while at work on Mr. Shores' house in Middle street, carrying mortar up a ladder, fell 26 feet to the ground, and was stunned, and remained senseless till next morning. He was terribly jarred, of course, but no bones were broken, and only slight bruises are visible, and he is doing well.

☞ The examination of S. L. Russell came up before U. S. Commissioner W. H. Y. Hackett, on Tuesday, on the charges of receiving copper and cordage stolen from the Navy Yard. The case was postponed to Friday next, at 10 o'clock. Messrs. Hatch and Wm. H. Hackett appeared as counsel for the accused.

☞ Among the recent sales of real estate in this city, we note that Sam'l P. Long, Esq., has disposed of his beautiful residence, on Middle street, to Mr. J. F. Shores, jr., who is to occupy it speedily.

☞ Some of our citizens residing on State street, near Mason's Hill, have been greatly annoyed during a few evenings past by some bold intruder looking in at the back windows. He is respectfully advised, whoever he may be, to take good care not to get caught, as he may be roughly treated.

☞ Messrs. Bidwell & Pike are presenting Uncle Tom's Cabin at the Temple nightly, and the managers are doing their utmost to bring it upon the stage in such a manner as shall merit and receive the approbation of their audiences.

☞ Don't forget that Mr. Lamprey's Dancing School commences this (Wednesday) afternoon.

☞ The armament of the San Jacinto is being taken out, to afford room while making repairs.

☞ The Boston Traveller states that Belle Boyd's husband, "Lieut. Samuel Wylde Harding, late of the U. S. Navy," instead of being a lieutenant in the Navy, was an acting ensign in the volunteer naval service, and attached to the Connecticut, from which steamer he was sent to Boston as prize master of the Greyhound. Soon after his arrival he was placed on board the Receiving Ship Ohio, under arrest, where he remained for more than two months, during which time his ridiculous conduct made him the laughing stock of all the officers of the ship. He was finally dismissed the service upon numerous charges, among which were the following: Neglect of duty, in allowing the captain of the Greyhound to escape; improper intimacy with and accepting a present from a prisoner; and disgraceful conduct in the cars. These facts place his "repudiation" of the U. S. Government in an entirely different light.

☞ The Navy Department, on the recommendation of Adm. Dahlgren, recently promoted, for his good conduct and valor, Acting Master Frederic F. Baury (son of the Rev. Alfred L. Baury, of Boston) to a Lieutenancy in the Navy of the United States. This young officer is now attached to the frigate Colorado, Comodore Thatcher, about to sail from this Portsmouth Navy Yard to cruise in the Mediterranean.

☞ At the Provost Marshal's office in this city, on Tuesday, Sept. 13, fifteen substitutes were accepted in the Naval and Marine service, and seven were enlisted in the Infantry — all for enrolled men; and two volunteers enlisted in Heavy Artillery. Two were rejected.

☞ Col. James B. Fry telegraphs to Governor Gilmore that the draft has been ordered to commence in those States which have not filled their quota, on Monday, the 19th of September.

—— The 4th Battery of Heavy Artillery has started for Washington.

—— There were 333 N. H. soldiers in Philadelphia hospitals Sept. 1.

—— The term of service of the 4th N. H. Regiment expires Sept. 17; that of the 1st N. H. Battery on the 26th.

—— Hon. Allen Giffin, of Keene, is the Union candidate for Elector in the 4th district.

CHRONICLE PRICES AND TERMS.

The price of the Daily Chronicle is $10 a year, or $8 in advance; 75 cents per month—20 cts. per week—5 cents per copy.

The (Weekly) N. H. Gazette $2 per year in advance—6 cents single copy.

Terms Cash—or all bills for Advertising, &c., to be presented at the pleasure of the publisher.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—From this date our Carrier of Subscribers' lists are not allowed to sell copies of the Chronicle, nor to receive pay for any subscription, except when furnished by us with receipts for the same,—which will not be given for less term than 1 month, 75 cts., or 3 months $2 in advance. If any prefer to pay weekly, they can do so at our counting room only. Will all concerned please remember this, and thus aid in the more prompt and accurate delivery of our papers. Sept. 1.

THE HORRORS OF WAR can be greatly mitigated by that sovereign remedy, Holloway's Ointment, as it will care any wound, however desperate, if it be well rubbed around the wounded parts, and they should be kept thoroughly covered with it. A pot of ointment should be in every man's knapsack.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 227

☞ Special attention is asked to Hunnewell's preparations, advertised on our inside columns. They are based on true medical laws, used very largely by Physicians, and most undoubted testimonials are in the hands of the proprietor, always open to inspection. Let Portsmouth and its vicinity bear testimony by a confidence to test them, which will be sacred.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. Its use always brings a smile to the household; it keeps them in health; it helps make the strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. As you value health, use it. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank,
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

SALUTATIONS.

THE PARTING.

Her face she lifted, mine to greet,
And o'er her lips I softly bent,
Where kisses rose more soft and sweet
Than breath from wildwood flowers sent.

In vain would jealous Land, or Sea,
Or Time endeavor us to part;
The farther dwelt my love from me
The nearer lived she in my heart!

THE RETURN.

I spoke but softly in the hall;
Yet, torrent-like, her rushing feet
Dashed, like a hurrying waterfall,
Adown the stair my step to greet!

I scarce could whisper in the hall,
Nor end the words so oft begun;
For in that happy interval
Her beating breast and mine were one!

Please Look at This.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, for even years—so it affected the blood very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but the children had no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a large number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with ulcers at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841

DR. SWETT: Permit me to say to you, that I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced taking your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or more of Dr. Swett's medicines, can have their money back, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 1 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. Those are new elements in purgative medicine.

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are forced through the stomach and bowels, half-dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain in the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused thro' and throughout the system, and in its passage to the blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulates the secretory and excretory organs throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and cause the SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their allotted parts, removing all those of Indian RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical extract, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless specimen—has a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1822.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he has offered to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 12 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 61 Hanover Street, Boston. ap5—3mcodk W

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Mucous, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally, to assist in the effectual cure of GONORRHŒA, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites, its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them proscribed to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.
A few doses cure Hysterics in females.
One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.
A few doses restore the organs of generation.
From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.
A few doses restore the appetite.
Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.
A few doses cure the low spirited.
One bottle restores mental power.
A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, worn-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The ladies enervated youth, the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir or Essence of Life.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express, on receipt of money, to any address.

Sold by all druggists everywhere.

Health Preserver!!

CERTAIN AND SAFE.

☞ For the Removal of Obstructions, and the Insurance of Regularity in the Recurrence of the Monthly Periods.

They cure or obviate those numerous diseases that spring from irregularity, by removing the irregularity itself.

They cure Suppressed, Excessive and Painful Menstruation.

They cure Green Sickness (Chlorosis).

They cure Nervous and Spinal Affections, pains in the back and lower parts of the body, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, Giddiness, &c., &c. In a word, by removing the irregularity, they remove the cause and with it ALL the effects that spring from it.

Composed of simple vegetable extracts, they contain nothing deleterious to any constitution, however delicate, their function being to substitute strength for weakness, which, when properly used, they never fail to do.

They may be safely used at any age and at any period, except during the first three months, during which the unfailing nature of their action would infallibly prevent pregnancy.

All letters seeking information or advice will be promptly, freely and discreetly answered.

Full directions accompany each box.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With this Stove extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases have a greater than the air, to rush up the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are forced up by the admission of heat through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off, with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

EFFECTS OF A POPULAR PHRASE.—A letter from Paris in the Boston Post has the following curious paragraph:

The "event" of the 15th must not be forgotten. It consisted of the arrest, by the police, of some half score of mischievous lads whom the authorities choose to exalt into conspirators for the very irreverent cry of "Ohe Lambert!" with which the Emperor was assailed on his appearance on the Esplanade of the Invalides, with the very paternal intention of displaying his interest in the amusements of the people. The exact meaning of this foolish cry, like that of the popular salutations which appear almost periodically in all great cities, such as "Does your mother know you're out?" is unknown; but it has grown so immensely and so insanely the fashion amongst the populace that researches into its origin have been occupying thought worthy of the brains of some of our best writers for this fortnight past. They say that the first time it was heard was at the Polygone at Vernailles, where an elderly lady, too much occupied with the safety of her worldly goods, in the shape of watch chain and umbrella, had been painfully surprised to find her loss yet greater in the person of her husband, and that, suddenly arouse to a sense of her bereavement amid the noise of the artillery and the rush of the soldiers, she had rushed wildly up and down adjuring every trooper she met with the question, "Have you seen Lambert?" and interspersing her complaints with the dolorous call, in a loud shrill voice, of Lambert! Lambert! where art thou, oh, Lambert?" Of course the joke was likely to tell on the artillery ground, and was soon brought to Paris, where it took root on the instant, completely chasing "Zut alors" from the field. It nearly gave rise to an emeute in the Faubourg St. Antoine, where an individual quietly undressing in his own bedroom in the evening, totally unconscious that his shadow reflected on the window curtain and could be seen from the street, suddenly found himself the centre of attraction to a crowd of several hundred idlers, all bawling at the top of their voices, "Ohe, Lambert! where is Lambert?" until the whole quarter was alarmed, and the gens d'armes, more than any others, went tearing to and fro like mad, adding to the disturbance instead of quelling it by their officious aggression. On the 15th, the whole population being abroad, the cry became a nuisance of the kind most difficult to endure. And the crowd, respecting nothing on this earth, no sooner recognized the Emperor's carriage on the Esplanade, than the hated cry was set up on the instant, "Ohe, Lambert!—where is Lambert?" His Majesty startled by the question, naturally gazed about perplexed, when of course the joke became more keenly relished; the demand was repeated again and again, until the air reechoed with the laughter of the spectators. His Majesty, concious of being chaffed, retired from the ground; the gens d'armes dashed hither and thither amongst the crowd, and plucked both the meekest and most silent amongst them and marched them off to prison; and the Emperor, Empress, and Prince Imperial returning to St. Cloud after witnessing the works, as their carriage drove along the Champs Elysees again the cry was raised, "Vive Lambert!" Vive Madame Lambert!" Vive le petit Lambert!" Soon after an unhappy person, tall in stature, dressed in white and evidently a stranger, afforded much diversion to the gamins, who followed with the same torturing cry of "Voila Lambert!" The police are exercising their ingenuity to discover whether "Lambert" means anything in particular; if so, what it does mean; and who first set it afloat among the populace. It is a mystery, but the solution may soon be found at the Prefecture of Police.

THE KING OF THE BEGGARS.—Have you ever heard of the "King of the Beggars?" All Chinese cities have their kings, very dirty but very rich, and their retainers may be counted by the tens of thousands. Our "King" here is a mighty shrewd fellow. He now wears the "white button," and of course is saluted as a white-buttoned mandarin should be. Thus wise he was decorated: The high Footai of this province lost awhile ago forty thousand taels; he sent for the King of the Beggars, and asked him to find it. This gentleman is supposed to know all the riff raff of the settlement. He is a sort of chief of detective police, only with this difference, if he is employed to detect or ferret out a fellow, he goes to him and says, "I am offered so much for you or for your head, what will you give me if I don't expose you?" If the criminal can pay well he buys this immaculate king, and of course when you ask where the man is who has robbed you or broken into your house, his immaculate king-ship has not been able to find him! However in the case of the 40,000 golden taels, it was policy to discover the man if possible. Failing in ordinary means, the king asked permission to go into the fortress camp and open a gambling shop; this being granted, in a short time every "brave" was busy with the dice, and the shrewd "beggar-king" soon discovered who had golden bars and golden taels lying around loose. The forty thousand in gold was returned to the Footai within a week, and the coveted white button was soon on his ugly plate. These kings are to be found all over China. In some of the large cities their income amounts to over one hundred thousand taels per annum. Beggary is a sacred "institution" in the celestial empire. At marriages the beggars loom up strong. They send word before the happy event comes off that for consideration they will not come to the bride's or groom's house during the three days of the ceremony. Woe to the fellow who does not buy them off. Crowds of filthy humanity will swarm around such night, and force their way into the most private apartments. There is no use in remonstrating; it is "China cash." "Either give us money, or we will give you nuisance until your nostrils fairly ache with our stench."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Inventors who reside in American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense patronage of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all the patentees to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN ACTS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Dr. Teller has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 50,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unappoached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P. M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases attended to. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

VERNATELLA,
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning or evening dew.
At wholesale in Boston by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., 38 Hanover street; S. M. Colcord & Co., 56 Hanover street; M. S. Barr & Co., 26 Tremont st.; Carter, Rust & Co., 48 Hanover st.; and Wholesale Druggists generally. Also, by all the principal dealers in Boots and Shoes.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1864.

CAN WE AFFORD THE WAR? — Whether we can or not, we don't see but we must carry it on. But the practical reader will not fail to notice, that while the blatant political presses, for partisan purposes say among other things, that we never can or will pay the bills—all the substantial commercial and monetary papers in the land, looking at the matter in a business point of view only, have the utmost faith in the soundness of the United States that any loyal man could ask for.

For instance, the Scientific American concludes a mathematical calculation of our resources, thus: "It is therefore probable that in 1859 the wealth of the Loyal States was increasing at the rate of 800,000 millions per year — the average for the whole decade being 600 millions per year. This is quite equal to the cost of the war. It seems, therefore, that if arrangements could be made to hand over the increase of wealth to the Government, the country could support a war as gigantic as this for an indefinite period of time, without any diminution of national wealth."

The Boston Commercial Bulletin opposes the acceptance of any foreign loan, or the issue of any more gold-bearing bonds; and well says of U. S. securities, that "as to the safety of such investments, guaranteed as they are by the whole resources of the country, there has never been any question among American capitalists."

And the last number of Thompson's Bank Note Reporter makes the following sensible and truthful remarks: "Better take half—three quarters—yes, all you have, and give it to your country, rather than not have her ride successfully through this rebellion; for what are your houses and lands — your deeds and mortgages, your stocks and chattels worth—and can you even retain your bags of gold—if the Government is not sustained? The breaking-up of the Government is the rich man's doom."

THE TWO GENERALS.—It is well understood that Peace with the rebels, without their subjugation, means to establish their independence. This is the peace which some persons here insist upon, as the end of all our troubles. But it is a curious coincidence, just at this time, that Gen. Grant and Gen. McClellan both declare that this kind of peace would only be the beginning of a long war or series of wars.—General Grant says in his letter:

If our peace friends expect peace from separation they are much mistaken. It would be but the beginning of war, with thousands of Northern men joining the South because of our disgrace in allowing separation.

General McClellan says, as the first item of his views of the country, in his late letter:

The existence of more than one government over the region which once owned our flag is incompatible with the peace, the power and the happiness of the people.

And then again, at the close of his argument for peace, he repeats the sentiment in these words:—

But no peace can be permanent without Union.

Nothing can be plainer then this. We only add: the Union must not be a mere rope of sand. It must be a government, as it is, and will be. U. T.

☞ While the New York News and Record "pitch into" McClellan's letter, the N. Y. Express sustains it and him, and can't bear the idea of a recall of the convention for a new nomination, for the reason, chiefly, that there would be a terrible row. It says, in this connexion:

Nothing but the dissension of the Democratic party in Charleston and Baltimore, four years ago, brought on the war which has cost hundreds of thousands of lives, and hundreds of millions of money.

Exactly so, Mr. Express; the leaders of that party cracked the slave-whip over the shoulders of Douglas and his friends, once too often. Douglas and his friends had no particular objection to black men being slaves, but they did not like to be themselves ruled too roughly by the soul-drivers; and so they rebelled against the leaders whom they had served so long. From that moment the war was irrepressible in the party: and thence it spread into the nation, as we say: but the "State Right" critics will say No: we are not a nation, the States are sovereign but the United States are not.

We fancy, however, that we are more of a Nation to-day than the Confederates thought for, — and a better Union than their allies the traitors or quasi traitors suppose. Open treason and half-way loyalty are both at a great discount just now. U. T.

— Park Benjamin, well known as author, poet and historian, died in New York on Monday night, aged 56 years.

— Gen. Tower, Superintendent of the West Point Academy, has been relieved by Brig. Gen. Cullum, and ordered to duty at Nashville.

— The retort house and coal shed of the Worcester Gas Company was burned on Tuesday morning. It contained $25,000 worth of coal.

— The Nashville Times states that Gen. Sherman desires public notice to be given that no citizen will be allowed to go to Atlanta. No manufactures or trade are to be permitted there, and the whole town will be used for purely military purposes.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

THE NEW ENGLAND FAIR, &c.

We do not propose to say much if anything more respecting the Springfield Fair itself. But perhaps some readers would like to hear a word of the literary exercises of the occasion. Which we will preface only with the single remark, that the hotels of the city being full to running over, many private houses were thrown open to visitors, guests of the Society. In this way the three gentlemen representing Portsmouth, were furnished with nice lodgings, and we all procured excellent meals at the Massasoit House, which enjoys the high reputation of "setting the best table of any hotel in New England." It is a good house, undoubtedly; but there are plenty of others good enough for us; and many of them are to be shunned for their too much feed, rather than too little, as the man left boarding at the Astor because he couldn't eat through the bill of fare.

But let us have a little of the "feast of reason" which was enjoyed by the attendants on the Fair. And as it is always in order, in these times, to refer to "our flag"—let us say that an immense quantity of bunting was "flung to the heedless winds," from all parts of the Fair ground; our own red, white and blue, in all the combinations and shapes, with the yellow and green of other nations, flying from every tent-top, and numerous poles and posts all over the field, adding greatly to the beautiful display. One of the largest and most beautiful was the flag of the free city of Hamburg, presented to the state of Massachusetts, through Charles L. Flint, commissioner to the great agricultural fair in Hamburg, last year,—a large red flag with a three-turreted castle in white for a device. It floated from the staff in the rear of the president's tent, which tent was also furnished with every facility for the accommodation of the press.

The Fair was opened with a very interesting address from Dr. Geo. B. Loring, of Salem, the able and accomplished President of the Society. Then on each evening during the four days of the Fair, public discussions on agricultural subjects were held in the spacious basement of the City Hall. [And we will not entirely omit to mention the public spirit of the citizens of Springfield, which has led them to such gratifying success in the establishment of a splendid city library, and quite an extensive and interesting Museum, in the middle story of this same large and elegant edifice.]

The first evening the debate was on Cattle breeding, and was participated in by Dr. Loring, Prof. Agassiz, Solon Robinson of the N. Y. Tribune, (a patriarchal looking old gentleman, with flowing white hair and beard,) Dr. Holmes of the Maine Farmer, and many other experts. They advocated in-and-in breeding, especially in the male descent, and keeping first-class stock only, and objected to breeding from very young stock.

Prof. Agassiz agreed that the first connection of the female with the male had a lasting influence upon the former, for if it is with a good male she will rarely bear poor progeny afterwards, while if with a poor one, the subsequent progeny will be almost invariably poor, no matter what the conditions. With regard to determining in advance the sex of the progeny of cattle and other stock and controlling it, as it is frequently desirable to do, under certain circumstances, he said that he knew no positive method; but Prof. Tury of the University of Geneva, Switzerland, and Mr. Cornaz a gentleman farmer in that vicinity, have discovered a method by which the sex of their cows' calves can be decided in advance with absolute certainty, and he could vouch for the truth of their statements from a knowledge of their high reputation; and as soon as he could obtain information of the modus operandi, he would gladly make it known. If breeders could combine these two things—avoid the contamination of the female at the first impregnation, and control the sex of the issue, stock breeding would take a long step forward.

The second evening's discussion was on Sheep husbandry; in which the same general rules were applied as to cattle, and the question was as to the best kind of sheep.—Dr. Loring went in strong for the fine-wooled Merino, for wool or meat; and insisted that our climate and pasturage are not fitted for the heavier breeds. He also argued that New England can raise our own mutton to advantage, and should. But mutton aside, he thought that the most wonderful resource of New England is fine wool, and that if the farmers of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Massachusetts would sell off their poor cattle and devote their pastures to the wool sheep, their agricultural wealth would be increased one hundred per cent. in two years. The genial Doctor said that he had battled for Merino sheep in his State (Mass.) till he had raised a Merino party, and it was the only party he did have. [It should be remembered that he "battled" for Douglas at the last Democratic Convention, and bolted when Breckenridge was nominated.] Afterwards, in this discussion, the speakers' stand, which was formed by placing two or three portable counters together, and was rickety, gave indications of opening in the middle, and letting the speaker down, when some tired listener jumped to sit upon it — on which Dr. Loring stepped about pretty lively, and smilingly said, "Don't let me down on this platform," which was received with shouts of laughter. In conclusion, the speaker extolled the dog law of Massachusetts, calling it the most thorough protection to sheep husbandry that could be devised.

In the course of the sheep talk, several gentlemen from several States gave their experience, with the figures, showing how the wool lined their pockets; and in their remarks it came out that twenty-three ewes were sold, the other day, at Orwell, Vt., for $15,500. One thought that the sheep fever which prevails so alarmingly will subside when the war is over, and men who are making fortunes by selling sheep to western greenhorns for $50 to $2500 apiece, may be glad to sell for five cents to $5.

Prof. Agassiz made some interesting remarks upon the origin of breeds of sheep. On the islands of the Mediterranean may be found a wild sheep which is the parent of the Merino; and as it is a mountain animal, the inference may be drawn that the hills of New England are well adapted to it, for in Switzerland they thrive, and the French raise their best Merinos among the Pyrenees. The eastern sheep, the coarser wools, were probably derived from the sheep of Armenia.

On the afternoon of the third day, Gen. Burnside was introduced to the crowd, by President Loring; and from the judges' stand, made one of his brief, modest, telling speeches, in his pleasing and impressive manner. There was also a very agreeable social gathering of the officers and guests of the Society, ladies and gentlemen, members of the press, etc., to be introduced to Gens. Burnside and Gilmore, in the President's tent.

One or two other incidents, not exactly literary, it may be well enough to note. The only accident of the whole Fair was a little runaway, which occurred this afternoon. Wm. Patten's horse, attached to a carriage, was frightened at a parasol, and suddenly jumped with such force as to partially break down the track fence and drag the carriage over it, tipping over the carriage, and throwing out Mr. Patten and another gentleman, and breaking several of Mr. P.'s ribs. The stupid brute must have been of some dunghill breed; for horses with brains don't make such fools of themselves.

After the race Peter W. Jones of Amherst, one of the judges, handed a valuable watch, which he had borrowed from a gentleman standing near him, to use while timing the horses, to "any other man" than the rightful owner, mistaking him in the crowd for the person who loaned it to him. Mr. Jones didn't discover the mistake until some time afterwards, and then the man wasn't to be discovered. But never mind — his "Empress" made up for that afterwards, as we told you yesterday.

The discussion on this evening was on horse breeding, and was very interesting, though desultory and discursive. It was opened as usual by Dr. Loring, who spoke at length with regard to the New England horse, which he regarded as an animal distinct in himself. Its origin it is difficult to trace. There were formerly numerous importations of every kind, from the Arab horse to the Shetland pony, and they all conglomerated and made an extraordinary animal, which should be called the New England horse. It is an economical horse, for it is a horse of all work. Something more than soil and climate have helped to form him. The social life of New England, strange as it may seem, has done much to make him what he is. Dr. L., like Mr. Lang afterwards, was opposed to the "thorough bred," that is the English blood horse, for us here in New England, and never wished to hear the name again.

R. S. Denny of Watertown, the owner of Pocahontas, and a very successful stock-raiser, said that, in his experience, when he bred from unsound horses, whether their unsoundness was the result of accident or otherwise, the unsoundness was always sure to come out sooner or later.

The subject was discussed in its various aspects, by several gentlemen; and Prof. Agassiz stated, in reply to a question, that the different breeds of horses were undoubtedly the work of man, as there was originally only one species.

Then on Friday, the closing day, there was almost a surfeit of fat things in the intellectual line. Gov. Andrew's noble Address, on the field, in the forenoon—which everybody in New England has read, or ought to read; then the declaration of premiums in the afternoon; and the speeches after the Society's dinner, in the President's ample tent, in the early evening. Gov. Andrew's address was worthy of the orator and the occasion; a carefully prepared production, which will increase largely the governor's well-founded reputation as a thorough scholar and a brilliant orator, and will add not a little to the historical interest of the first fair of the N. E. Agr. Society.

The finale in the grand programme was the Dinner at the tent, which was gaily decorated and well lighted, and amply accommodated about three hundred guests at the tables, including a large number of ladies. The supper was excellent and bountifully supplied; and the "flow of soul" afterwards (there was no flow of liquors, here or elsewhere, that we saw, or that any man need see, during this whole grand exhibition, but nevertheless, the after-dinner talk) was spirited and sparkling. Dr. Loring opened with a humorous and characteristic speech, and called up Gov. Andrew. Afterwards Prof. Agassiz made a few interesting remarks, in his taking way; Gen. Burnside, in spite of himself talked a little; and Dr. A. L. Stone spoke as only he can speak. We may have a word to say of their speeches hereafter; but too much for now you have already. F.

THE REBELLION.

A part of Gen. A. J. Smith's forces, from Memphis, have gone out on a great expedition with cavalry, infantry, and artillery, into the White River region of Arkansas.

Southern papers give the following items: An attempt to blow up Fort Sumter with a mammoth torpedo recently failed, as it exploded prematurely. The rebel powder works at Augusta, Ga., exploded lately, destroying 30,000 pounds of powder, and killed nine operatives. Rockets sent up mysteriously from Charleston are annoying the rebel authorities. The Richmond Examiner thinks the hopes built upon the terrible things that Wheeler was to do with Sherman's communications were fallacious.

The rebels think Gen. Grant is massing troops to make a grand attack on some portion of their works. The extension of the Petersburg and City Point Railroad to the Weldon railroad was completed on the 11th. Gen. Weitzel has been made a Major General.

Early is reported to be retiring again, with Gen. Averill close upon his rear, with prospects of a fight.

Gen. Averill is reported to have reoccupied Martinsburg. Gen. Sheridan officially reports that in a brilliant charge on the rebels near Winchester on Tuesday, our troops captured the entire 8th S. C. regiment,—16 officers and 145 men,—its battle flag and Col. Hennegan, commanding a brigade. We lost only two men killed and three wounded.

MCCLELLAN APPROVED THE PLATFORM. — So well settled seemed to be the policy of the Democratic party, that, after a free and open interchange of opinion, those planks of the Chicago platform relating to peace, were, by common consent, agreed upon more than two months before the Convention met. Early in the month of July last the platform, with its peace planks, almost word for word as adopted, was presented to Gen. McClellan, and was by him approved both in its letter and in its spirit. What produced the sudden change which led to its subsequent repudiation, is for Gen McClellan and his friends and not us to say. Without the platform adopted at Chicago he could not have been nominated. Contrary to the usual course, it was first agreed on, and the candidate, not only with the consent of his friends, but after their active exertions, was placed upon it.

Between the time of its adoption and the nomination of the candidate for President, one entire day intervened. The platform was published on the afternoon of Tuesday in the city—the nomination was made on the following day. It was seen and read by Gen. McClellan, and he had full time to telegraph to his friends in Chicago his repudiation if he could or would not indorse it. He did no such thing. His confidential friends approved the platform, and they urged his nomination upon it. Its repudiation was an after thought, when he had secured the tempting prize for which, despite his assertion to the contrary in his letter, he had labored long; or else—and we should be sorry to believe this—it was a settled purpose to deceive, to secure the suffrages of the delegates, and then to use the entire influence which secured his nomination, and thus to deceive men whose only fault was believing him true to his professions and those of his friends. — *N. "A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

NAVAL CHANGES.—Commodore George F. Pearson, of this city, has been promoted to the position of Rear Admiral.

The Navy Department has selected Rear Admiral Pearson, at present commandant of the Naval Station here, to relieve Acting Rear Admiral Bell, of the Pacific Squadron. This is a particularly important appointment at this time, and Adm. Pearson's honorable record recommends him to the Department for any position required. We are pleased to hear of the appointment, not alone because the selection of the Department confers honor upon Adm. Pearson, but also because we, who know him, feel how fully his career and high character endorse the appointment and guarantee at this crisis, a faithful and efficient discharge of the duties of the position.

A NEW ROAD.—A petition to the Mayor and Aldermen of this city, signed by over 100 citizens, represents that the public would be greatly accommodated by a new highway commencing near the breweries and terminating at a new road in Newington, leading to Great Bay, the distance being about one mile and a half. It is singular that such a road had not long since been constructed, as it would avoid the present circuitous route from this city to that part of Newington, and thus be an annual saving of many hundred miles of travel. Commencing at the right point, the road may be laid out nearly in a straight line, upon very level ground, running southwesterly of several hills. Most of it can be made by the plough and barrow, with very little expense. The land is fertile on the route. At no distant day many house lots would be sold, and perhaps small farms, and probably a public house would be erected near Great Bay, as it would be a pleasant excursion to that large sheet of water, where sail boats would be kept in the summer season. It would be the means of affording an increased supply of products for this market. Opposition to the construction of new roads in Portsmouth has not unfrequently been made, but the roads once made, all have seen the public advantages. PRO BONO.

DELICACIES.—One of the special delicacies of modern times may be accounted Speer's Sanbuci wine, which combines with rare purity and nicety of flavor the good qualities of port and claret; it is neither insipid nor bitter, but hits the happy medium most to be desired in a constant beverage or in a drink for the sick. For invalids it is invaluable by virtue of its tonic qualities, and particularly its absolute freedom from all adulterations. Actual trial will show that the Sambuci wine has excellence of its own unrivalled by any other wine in the market. —[New Yorker.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient, as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank, "

and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

AGRICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC. Management of Restive Horses.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman—A Lewis County farmer—writes: "After your horse is harnessed to the carriage, procure a piece of webbing as a broad strap about ten feet long, fasten it securely around the off foot below the fetlock, then pass it up through the girths and lay the end over the dashboard; see that everything is right, then standing on the off-side of the wagon take the strap in the right hand, proceed to get in; if the horse attempts to start pull on the strap, at the same time saying 'whoa'—the strap brings his foot up and makes it a pretty effectual 'whoa'; slack up on the strap as soon as you have stopped him, and if he attempts to start again, repeat the operation. When you have got ready to start, give the horse the word, and go along. Repeat the operation until the horse will stand perfectly quiet at the word 'whoa,' always remembering not to whip your horse, but always treat him as you would a friend, with perfect kindness, and never say 'whoa' unless you want your horse to stand perfectly still.

No man should undertake to break a horse who cannot control his own temper. Every one knows the high reputation of the Arabian horses for docility, and a great many lay it to the breed of horses, but it is more in the breed of men than it is in the breed of horses; there they have a law punishing with death the man who flogs or overloads his horse, and would to God there was such a law here—we should have no balky horses and less balky drivers. The Arab treats his horse as his friend and companion, and when crossing the trackless deserts divides with him his last crust and handful of rice, and if beset by robbers this noble horse quickly carries him out of their reach. The difference between a well-broke and an ill-broke horse, is simply the difference between a valuable horse and a worthless one, and a man had better pay the full value of the horse to have him properly broke, than to have him broke for nothing and spoilt in the operation."

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an efficient cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting, made to produce MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicine.

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are formed into a hard mass in the bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with the passage.

One pill dissolved, occasion action, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partiality upon the bowels, but is equally diffused thro' and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy action to the secretions to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions through the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continued course, when carried will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check Scrofulous and Cutaneous Eruptions, purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSES OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM, GOUT, FEVER AND AGUE, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restore the action of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, to excite, but stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless specific—has a demand, salutary action upon the Liver, and does not have any equal, or one prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic and stomachic discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and nearly years practitioner, member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1828.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to any and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be convinced of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 18 Market Square and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston.

Would most respectfully invite the attention and examination of all Grocers, Druggists, Apothecaries and Private Individuals, desiring to sell or use

Liquors, Wines, Brandies or Bitters,

to the list of choice goods enumerated below, which are constantly on hand in large quantities in his Large and Spacious

Wine Store and Bottling Establishment,

99 Washington street, Boston.

First on the list, as a reliable pure stimulant, stands the celebrated and well known

Golden Sheaf Bourbon Whiskey,

made from Wheat, Rye and Corn, warranted for five years old. Put up in unique style, each bottle in a paper box, in cases of one dozen each, the large and increasing sales of which convinces the proprietor that no further advertisement is needed to extol its real merits. It will recommend itself on trial.

Golden Sheaf Cordial.

A delightful and healthful beverage, aromatic, with a rich ginger cordial, made from the pure Golden Sheaf Bourbon.

Golden Sheaf Bitters.

The best Tonic Bitter ever offered to the public. Mingled with the rich flavor of the Bourbon are a number of other ingredients for restoring the appetite and imparting life and vigor to the whole system.

Golden Sheaf Punch.

Made from fresh, ripe lemons, and other articles, combined as a whole into a fine rich

Bourbon Whiskey Punch.

All the above put up full strength of the whiskey, and in cases of one dozen each. These articles improve by age, and no exposure of climate can affect them.

JOHN AND ROBERT DUNSTER'S

CELEBRATED

LONDON DOCK SPIRITS AND WINES,

Imported solely by C. A. R., in wood, from the London Docks, and bottled by him in America. The distinguished and world-wide reputation of these articles has induced the enterprising brewer and obtain the Sole Agency in this country.—They are sold only in Bottles, entirely pure, and without adulteration, and compare the four kinds, as follows:

LONDON DOCK GIN,
LONDON DOCK BRANDY,
LONDON DOCK SHERRY,
LONDON DOCK PORT.

All in cases of one dozen each. In strong shipping order for immediate transportation, and are sold lower than any other liquors and wines in the market, of equal quality.

Pure California Wines.

The large demand for the pure wines of California has made it a fixed fact that no well selected stock of Wines is complete without them. C. A. R. made arrangements for the entire production of

The Largest Vineyard in California!

and is now bottling, and offers for sale, the finest CALIFORNIA WINES ever sent to this MARKET, of four qualities, in splendid style of labels, bottles and cases—such as

ANGELICA—Sweet.
PORT—Rich.
HOCK—Dry.
STILL CHAMPAGNE—Delicious.

Parties attracted by this advertisement, or who have already become acquainted with the qualities of these articles, can have a price list sent by mail, or samples by express, when desired, by addressing the subscriber.

C. A. RICHARDS,

99 Washington street, - - - Boston.

NOTE.—C. A. Richards would also beg leave to state that the above are only a part of the list of articles for sale and imported by him. He has, in addition, one of the largest and best assortments of Fine Bottled Wines and Spirits, of every variety and kind, together with a fine assortment of Liquors and Wines in wood, constantly for sale by the cask or gallon. Also, Fine Cigars, Sardines, Pickles, Sauces and every kind of Fancy Groceries, usual in a first-class wine store in this country or in Europe.

Orders will be promptly collected.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

—AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is specially recommended in these cures of Fluor Albus or Whites in females, where all the old nauseous nostrums have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain which is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Price—CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Sent by Express to any address on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE GREAT

INDIAN MEDICINE,

COMPOUNDED FROM

ROOTS, HERBS AND LEAVES,

CHEROKEE CURE.

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-pollution; such as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficult Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the direful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and one on which all can rely, and it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn cases.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ For full particulars, get a circular from any drug store in the country, or write the proprietors, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatment in pamphlet form.

☞ Prices, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express to all parts of the world.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

DR. WRIGHT'S

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and original article, and in no respective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.

A few doses cure Hysterics in females.

One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.

A few doses restore the organs of generation.

From one bottle restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.

A few doses restore the appetite.

Three bottles cure the worst cases of Impotency.

A few doses cure the low spirited.

One bottle restores mental power.

A few doses bring back the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and robust health the poor debilitated, worn-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The listless enervated youth, the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness in the organs, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir or Essence of Life.

Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express, on receipt of money, to any address.

Sold by all druggists everywhere.

SUGAR-COATED.

FEMALE REGULATOR.

Health Preserver!!

CERTAIN AND SAFE.

☞ For the Removal of Obstructions, and the Insurance of Regularity in the Recurrence of the Monthly Periods.

They cure or obviate those numerous diseases that spring from irregularity, by removing the irregularity itself.

They cure Suppressed, Excessive and Painful Menstruation.

They cure Green Sickness (Chlorosis).

They cure Nervous and Spinal Affections, pains in the back and lower parts of the body, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, Giddiness, &c., &c. In a word, by removing the irregularity, they remove the cause and with it ALL the effects that spring from it.

Composed of simple vegetable extracts, they contain no mineral substances to any constitution, however delicate, their function being to substitute strength for weakness, which, when properly used, they never fail to do.

They may be safely used at any age and at any period, except during the first three months, during which the unfailing nature of their action would infallibly procure abortion.

All letters seeking information or advice will be promptly, freely and discreetly answered.

All directions accompany each box.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is effectually prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would invite those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases from the fuel, rushing at once into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of fuel, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE SOLDIER'S WELCOME.

BY DAVID BARKER.

[Last Spring, just before the March election, when Lewis Barker, Esq., the eloquent stump orator of Maine, was here, an incident happened at the railroad station in this city, which he told to his brother David, who has weaved it into the following poetic form.—Manchester Mirror.]

The tick of the clock brought the hour for a march,
Brought a parting one terrible day—
When a mother knelt down with her boy at her side,
And she prayed as a mother can pray.

Then he rushed for the wars, and he mixed in the fight,
And he swept through the fires and the flood,
And the reapers he met with their sickles in hand,
Coming thick to the harvest of blood.

On the red tented field, where the thunder had passed,
All gory he lay with the slain,
And many he saw with their arms folded up,
For that long, narrow box on the train.

But the Chief o'er the States writes the warrior his pass;
When time with his chariot rolls
The soldier once more to his own native home,
With a weapon we use at the polls.

A creature was there, from his own native town,
(Thank God, there's but few of his make,)
Though his carcass was built in the shape of a man,
His spirit was formed like a snake.

Then he who I said was formed like a man
Hissed out through the slime in his throat:
"The niggers are now in command of the war,
And the loafers are coming to vote."

The soldier stood calm, like a statue of old,
Though wounded, and weary, and weak;
Not a move of a nerve, not a flash of the eye,
But a tear trickled down on his cheek.

But he brushed out the tear, and the hero in blue
Turned to him from his own native town,
And he did what the angels in heaven would do,
He knocked the vile Copperhead down!

AN EPITOME OF "JEFF'S" LIFE.—John Wentworth, at the late Chicago meeting, said:

Jefferson Davis entered Congress about the same year that I did. I have met him often and know him well. But there was this difference between Jeff. Davis and me—I paid for my education, Jeff. didn't for his. He was taken at a tender age and placed at West Point, and your father and mine were taxed to pay for the instruction that rescued him from oblivion. We made the very common mistake of judging by his head rather than his heart, and did not notice the viper that was coiling there, and which was nursed into life to sting us if possible to death. When his school-boy days were over, Jeff. was sent out West—out West here at the government expense—and spent a year or so in surveying around Calumet, fishing, and lounging, and shooting grouse at government expense, and eating them himself. (Laughter.) He then married into the government; his wife being a daughter of General Taylor, who was supported by the government; went to the Mexican war and returned to become Secretary of War and to villify the gallant soldiery of Illinois for their part upon the field of Buena Vista. For this Governor Bissell called him out, but on this particular occasion Jeff didn't come out. (Great laughter.)

— Some excitement was created on Tuesday, among the horse fanciers, by the sale of the fastest horse in Newburyport, owned by Mr. Renton M. Perley, which had been driven in 2,38, and has not attained the maximum of its speed. Mr. Perley purchased the horse something more than three years ago, for less than three hundred, perceiving that he had bottom and would have value, and gave him to the care of a groomsman for training. Gradually as he has developed his qualities, he has advanced in his price from $500 to $800, to $1000, to $1200, and to $1500. On Tuesday a gentleman from Boston called, inquired his price, and was asked $1600; when having ascertained the character of the horse, he promptly paid over the money. It was a small bay horse, with black mane and tail; about six years old, and one of the most gentle, beautiful animals to be found. The price was higher than was ever known to be paid in this city before.—Herald.

☞The Boston Courier, Sept. 7th, said:—In an old Democratic State like Maine, a State having but a small shoddy interest in war, and moved by patriotic impulses alone, the old party should be able to repossess itself of the reins of government. The people have witnessed the weakness and inefficiency of Republican rule, the impracticability of its doctrines, and its total incompetency either to make war or peace; and if a united effort, earnest, confident and strong is made by the Democrats of Maine on Monday next, we believe the first gun will be given by the Pine Tree State wheeling into line for McClellan, Union and Peace.

The Portland Advertiser of election day, however, said:

We fear its great importance has not been duly appreciated by those who ought to have imparted to the Democratic canvass a vigor which it has not had, and a success which we may not hope for. In this we have felt a huge and irreparable mistake was being committed.

This did not look like great confidence. The first gun has been fired, and the people of the state wheeled the other way.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and assiduous practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Old Established Hospital,
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!
DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private disease, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of the Marital Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsle and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. J. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER'S great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on the nature, treatment and cure of a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it in cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichoit's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should not send their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (in letter per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P. M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No stamps or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof, and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Gens. Grant and Sherman each urge that the draft be made immediately. Sec. Stanton announces that it is ordered to commence in all States and districts where the quota is not filled by volunteers, on Monday the 19th, and will go on until completed. Volunteers and substitutes will be received and credited to as late a period as possible. Volunteering is still progressing with vigor in most of the States.

Rebel dispatches say: All was quiet at Mobile on the 9th. On the 1st, the rebel Gen. Gowan, and the 6th and 7th regiments of his brigade, were captured by Gen. Sherman's forces near Jonesborough; also 8 pieces of artillery: many of the rebels were killed and wounded. Gen. Sherman is reported to be erecting earthworks from Atlanta to Essport, and to be repairing the Augusta railroad. He has burned every cross-tie and broken every rail for fifteen miles on the Weldon, Macon and Western railroad north of Jonesboro'.—2000 or 4000 Union troops from Vicksburg were reported to be at Big Black river on the 5th, with pontoons and five days' rations. Gov. Brown of Georgia appointed Sept. 15 as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer. Gov. Watts has called an extra session of the Alabama Legislature, to meet Sept. 26. Gen. Grant on the 9th was perfecting his earthworks on the Weldon railroad, and pushing his line slowly to the west of the road.

Although the main channel across Dog River Bar is blockaded by the sunken rebel iron-clad Baltic, the double-turreted monitor Winnebago is said to have found a passage through to a point whence she can drop shell into Mobile. The Sebago, Metacomet and Kennebec are with her.—The rebel rams and gunboats are in sight. The largest of the three rebel launches, hovering around the Mississippi Sound, has been captured. Gen. Granger has constructed strong fortifications at Cedar Point and other places. Polignac's and Walker's rebel divisions are reported to have crossed the Mississippi, on route for Mobile.

The rebels are still in force at Bunker Hill, Va.

Dick Taylor has assumed command of the rebel troops in Alabama.

Texas advices say the Union troops have fortified Brazos Santiago, and will probably remain there.

THE MASSACHUSETTS Union State Convention was held at Worcester on Thursday, Hon. Alex. H. Rice being President. There were 1526 delegates present. Gov. Andrew was re-nominated by acclamation, as were also the other State officers. Hon. Edward Everett was nominated as one of the Electors at large, Hon. Whiting Griswold being the other.

FAT.—In most families many members are not fond of fat; servants seldom like it, consequently there is frequently much wasted; to avoid which, take off bits of suet fat from beefsteaks, etc., previous to cooking; they can be used for puddings. With good management there need not be any waste in any shape or form.—Exchange.

It is quite as well to keep it for soap-fat. Let every one make their own soap; they will put fat to much better use than making puddings with it.—Scientific American.

A cheaper way perhaps is, not to buy fat meat at all. An observant friend of ours who is fond of fat meat of all sorts, and don't like any other, says that most people pay an extra price for very fat meat which they can't eat just for the idea of the thing, when they would, actually prefer even the lean parts of poorer, meaner meat — the idea that they like the lean parts of fat meat better, being also a mistake and an expensive one.

But for our part, while we don't agree exactly with the Scientific American, but most allow our friend above referred to as in the main correct, we think children ought to be taught to love the fat parts of meat, as the better portion. Many of them do love it, and their parents try to dissuade them from eating it.

— The poisonous character of the liquors sold at the present day was illustrated in the case of a negro who died at Philadelphia the other day of intemperance. A post mortem examination was made, and when the abdomen was laid open it was found that by the direct action of liquor, the membrane lining the stomach had been corroded and eaten through. The mucous membrane of the viscera was so nearly destroyed that the victim may be literally said to be "eaten" by poisoned and "doctored" liquor.

A similar and fatal case, in the person of an Irish woman in this city, occurred within our observation.

— A party of nine persons, men, women, and children, were recently overtaken by a waterspout near Aurora, Cal. The wagon in which they were traveling through a canon when the spout burst was swept away, and immersed in fifteen feet of water. Only the men, three in number, escaped.

— Gen. Sherman has ordered all families in Atlanta, having members in the rebel armies, south, and all others, north.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Nashua company of Heavy Artillery left for the front on Thursday.

—— Dover's quota is 149; and the city has furnished 160 men.

—— Col. Aaron P. Stevens, of the 13th N. H. regiment, now commands the 1st brigade, 1st division, 18th army corps.

—— Recruiting for the 18th regiment continues brisk. A company was raised in Lebanon and vicinity in four days.

—— John H. Blodgett of Concord has been appointed Acting Assistant Surgeon in the Navy.

—— Manchester has filled its quota, with the exception of Ward 5,—the copperhead stronghold.

—— R. N. Batchelder, of Manchester, has been made Colonel, and is on the staff of General Meade as Chief Quartermaster, Army of the Potomac.

—— Forty-five years ago this fall one thousand bushels of potatoes were delivered at the State Prison in Concord, at ten cents per bushel.

—— The Dover Enquirer states that the numerous friends of Hon. John P. Hale will regret to learn that he has been suffering for several days under a severe attack of dysentery. He is now decidedly better.

—— The camp of the 18th Regiment in Concord, is to be known as Camp Head, in honor of our popular and efficient Adjutant General. About three hundred recruits are now in camp.

—— The Concord company of Heavy Artillery left for the front on Tuesday. Pick-pockets operated with considerable success among the crowd at the depot on their departure.

—— Col. Thomas Rundlett of Manchester died on Saturday, last, aged 73 years. He was formerly commander of the Amoskeag Veterans, and a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity.

—— W. H. D. Cochrane, of Manchester, lately promoted to Major and Division Quartermaster, has been assigned as Assistant Chief Quartermaster, of the 9th Army Corps. He went out as a private in the 1st N. H. Vols.

—— A Mount Washington letter says: nearly all the waiters at the hotels are young lady school-teachers, of intellectual aspect, and easy manners. They take this plan each season of seeing the mountains and of making an honest dollar at the same time.

—— By an order from the Surgeon General's office, all sick and wounded New Hampshire soldiers in Beverly, N. J., General Hospital, who are able to travel, and will not be fit for duty for thirty days, are to be immediately transferred to the Manchester Hospital. The buildings have been completed, and have been pronounced by the inspector fit for occupation. The transfer of our soldiers in New York hospitals, has already been ordered. The Governor is doing all in his power to secure the transfer to this State of every sick and wounded N. H. soldier, and with every prospect of immediate success.

☞ The Providence Bulletin gives the following as an instance of very blind justice:

A young woman of quite defective eyesight came from Boston the other day to a town in the vicinity of this city to visit her child. While stopping at the house of an acquaintance, she went out to see another acquaintance a little distance off, and did not return until after dark. Mistaking the house on her return, she found the people gone to bed, and threw a handful of pebbles against the window to arouse them. Thereupon, instead of gaining access to the house, she found herself in the hands of an officer, and conveyed before a Justice of the Peace, who fined her $1 and costs for breaking windows, and sent her forthwith to jail in default of the money, where she remained that night. If the affair is as bad as it is told, the list of Rhode Island Justices of the Peace should be purged at the earliest opportunity.

THE WORLD AT WAR.—The whole world seems to be in a state of convulsion. Germany and Denmark are still in arms—England looks on uneasily. France is kept quiet only at the point of the bayonet. Poland is always under the Russian heel. Italy, Austria and Spain watch the progress of events vigilantly. Russia is rapidly constructing an iron-clad navy. The Swedish navy is already on a war-footing, and one squadron has gone to sea. All the great Powers of Europe mistrust each other's intentions; and it would seem that only a slight provocation was needed to precipitate the whole eastern Continent into war.

It is the same on this side of the Atlantic. Besides our own great struggle for national life, Mexico is torn by intestine troubles, Chili and Peru are at loggerheads, and the South American States generally are in a chronic state of uproar and confusion. The whole world seems tending to war most rapidly.—Scientific American.

Well, hasn't "the whole world" always "been tending to war?" What is history but the record of wrangling and quarrelling? War seems to be the normal condition of man, who is a fighting animal, — yes, the fighting animal, — bewail it as you will.

— Gold 228 3-4.

— Gen. Wool in a published letter opposes the election of McClellan.

— The Petersburgians observed Tuesday as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— A Gloucester boy, thirteen years old, recently caught, in a cruise of seven weeks, eighteen barrels of mackerel, being "third high line" on board the vessel.

— There was an extensive land slide, embracing a quarter of a mile of the levee, ten miles above Baton Rouge some days ago.

— Official returns from the elections in the parish of New Orleans, give a majority of 3875 for the new Constitution. The vote was 5443.

— Mice gnaw harness for the salt contained in the perspiration exuded from the horse. To prevent the gnawing, place salt in places where the mice can get at it.

— The peace men held a meeting in New York on Wednesday night, and voted to call a convention at Cincinnati during the present month.

— A New York butter speculator a few days ago sent orders to his agent in Potsdam, to sell a thousand tubs of butter which he had been holding for higher prices, for the most he could get.

— Admiral Gregory and Chief Engineer Wood are now in Boston, for the purpose of making arrangements with the contractors to resume work on the light-draft Monitors.

— The dwelling house of F. A. Benson, Esq., of Newton, Mass., was entered a few days since while the family were out, and robbed of silver ware to the amount of five hundred dollars.

— An old kid glove makes excellent lacing for securing small belts on sewing machines and other places. Cut the gloves in strips half an inch wide and roll them up tight.

— THE VOTE IN PORTLAND.—Cony, Republican, 2734; Howard, Democratic, 1760; Scattering 2. Cony's majority this year 972, against 677 last year. Net gain 295. Seven towns give Cony 3892, Howard 2950.

— Hon. John A. Peters, in a speech at Portland, 'brought down the house' with the remark: 'If McClellan couldn't take Richmond, making Washington his base, you may safely swear he will never take Washington, making Richmond his base!'

— Hood, having failed in his Court to Mars, has appealed to Venus, and is about to marry the daughter of the man whom Maximilian refused to receive as Minister from the rebels. Hardee tried the same medicine for defeat a short time since.

— Richard Newton has been arrested in New York for murder. The father and son had been on bad terms, and while under the influence of liquor an altercation took place between them, which resulted in the death of the father.

— The proprietors of the Chicago Times have discharged their entire force of printers, and put forty young women in their places. These young women have been learning the art of type-setting in private rooms for several months, preparatory to this event.

— The Erie Railway Company, in order to avoid collision in the Bergen tunnel, when a train has been delayed or stopped, cause to be placed upon the track a small torpedo, the explosion of which warns an approaching train in time to avoid accident.

— The New York World predicted a Democratic gain in Vermont, which did not occur: and at a later date predicted that the administration majority of Maine would be largely diminished if not entirely obliterated in the election of Monday: but it was neither obliterated nor diminished.

— A Vermont soldier thus soliloquized over a Democratic vote that was pressed upon him on election day: "What a fool I should be to go down and fight the rebels for three years with my musket, and come here to stab myself in the back with a piece of paper like that!"

— The new State law in relation to liquor sellers has been put in operation in San Francisco. It requires the proper authorities to ascertain and record the cost to the people in every case where crime was caused by liquor. Once a year these costs are aggregated, and the sum assessed pro rata in the licenses issued to retailers by the county.

— They have a queer monarch in India, whom the Bombay press just now are giving "particular fits." He is called the Gaekwar (President) of Baroda. It seems that his highness recently spent £500 in celebrating the "marriage" of a pair of his favorite pigeons: and he is now about to throw away still larger sums on the marriage of some dogs that have just arrived from England.

— The steamer M. V. Gilman, of New Orleans, from Matamoras, laden with lumber and 38 passengers, foundered on the 1st inst., 120 miles southeast of Sabine Pass, and was a total loss. The passengers sustained themselves fifty hours on a raft, when they were rescued by the U. S. steamer Circassian and Mexican schooner Cora. The Gilman was owned by her Commander, Capt. L. H. Mott, son of Dr. Mott of New York, and was insured.

— Judge Howard, democratic candidate for Governor of Maine, voted "No" on the Soldiers' voting bill.

— They have yellow fever at New London, Conn.,—brought by a vessel from Key West. Two or three cases have proved fatal.

— The Alabama rebels are conscripting all negroes for service in their army; and in Texas Kirby Smith has issued an order to enroll all male negroes for army service. This is clearly unconstitutional; our copperhead friends ought to speak to them.

— On the eve of the passage of the Mobile forts, it was suggested to Admiral Farragut, by the officer whose duty it was to look to such matters, that whiskey might be very beneficial in case the men became exhausted from long continued fighting in the coming conflict. The Admiral said that he had no objection to its being used if there was any on board, but that he had never found it necessary in any of his actions, and that he intended to give his men a cup of hot coffee at daylight, and to 'PIPE TO BREAKFAST' inside the bay at 8 o'clock, the usual hour. By 8 o'clock the passage of the forts was an accomplished fact.

HOW TO UNITE THE DEMOCRACY.—There are those that would make the Daily News responsible for division in the Democratic ranks. We can briefly and effectively disprove the charge and fix the responsibility where it belongs. Let General McClellan assert publicly, as he does privately, that he will favor an immediate cessation of hostilities and a convention of all the States, and The Daily News, and we believe the entire Peace party, will admit that he stands upon the Chicago platform, and will give him their earnest support.—N. Y. News.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern chemistry. It is not a "Dye," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

LAUNCH OF THE FRANKLIN.—The steamer Pioneer will leave Railroad Wharf at 11:45 A. M., Saturday, for the Narrows, and Launch, and return at 1 P. M. Tickets 25 cents, at office, Railroad Wharf.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS.—We learn that U. S. detective Kent, of the Provost Marshal's office, and U. S. Deputy Marshal Adams have been busily engaged for the past week in making investigations in relation to some gross frauds which have been committed against the government. The full particulars will be made known in a few days.

☞ Many thanks to one of our old and valued lady subscribers at Christian Shore, for that superb Boquet of Dahlias, sweet peas, asters, &c., on Wednesday. As it adorns our counting room, it looks little as if winter were coming upon us—and winter to the heart never can come, while the love of Nature's floral beauties remains.

☞ An eminent and steadfast "peace democrat" of our city, on reading McClellan's letter of acceptance, said: —"I would rather have Lincoln than McClellan; for Lincoln would get through the war sometime, and then we should have peace: but McClellan would never get through!"

☞ Messrs. Bidwell & Pike's company announce but two more nights of Uncle Tom's Cabin, but the afternoon performance, at a reduced price, will afford an opportunity for ladies and children. See advertisement.

☞ A large Union flag, bearing the names of Lincoln & Johnson, has been thrown across Market street.

HORSE TROT.—A splendid trotting match came off over the Dover track, Thursday afternoon, between the brown mare Brooks Gal, of Eliot, and the bay mare Sally Come Up, of Boston. The race was for a purse of $250 a side, mile heats, best 3 in 5, to sulkeys. Henry H. Smith drove Sally, and John Wiggin of Dover sat behind the Brooks mare. The judges were Elisha Goodwin and O. Hamilton of Boston, and Lew. Chamberlin of Dover. The purse was won by the Brooks Gal, in three straight heats; time 2:48*1*, 2:50*1*, 2:51—which must be called good trotting, considering the rather heavy state of the track on the back side, and the generally received fact that this course always was a 'long' mile. But it was no easy victory, for though little Sally was rather overmatched and outfooted all the way through, yet she come up to her much larger and longer striding competitor so often and so close, as to oblige the Eliot horse to put her best foot forward; and the closeness of the contest rendered it one of the most interesting trots we have witnessed for a long time. Both horses were well driven, and evidently both drivers went in to win; and the race was worth going fifty miles to see—for there was more fun in it than in a score of hippodrome trots between first-class flyers, or unequal matches where there is no chance for more than one side.

The Brooks Gal drew the pole, and at the second scoring they got a good send-off, Brooks with a slight lead, which she kept all the way round. At the first turn Sally broke, but was soon at her work again; then Brooks lost her feet, but instantly proved that she could make rather better breaks than even her shorter-gaited rival. Both were up again once or twice, but only for an instant, before reaching the half-mile pole, at which point Sally was several lengths behind; but she closed up the gap before swinging into the home-stretch, but couldn't stand the press of speed up to the score, and broke—giving Brooks the heat, but only by a short length, in 2:48*1*.

Sally sweat out well, and was stabled and rubbed between the heats, as is usual; but Brooks Gal seemed hardly to be warmed up, and was not unharnessed during the race. The second heat was almost exactly a repetition of the first, and was won by the Gal in 2:50*1*, Sally close to her heels.

On the third heat the big mare broke, and at the first quarter Sally cut in ahead of her and took the pole, and apparently inspired by opportunity, laid down to her work so well as to lead Brooks quite a gap at the half-mile; and as Sally kept the lead well into the home-stretch, it was generally thought she had the heat—but Brooks came after her like a rushing torrent, and swept Sally off her legs not a yard from the score, Brooks winning the heat by a bare head, in 2:51, and so taking the purse of $500.

— It is mentioned in Robert's Life of Hannah More that, in 1793, that lady sat next to Dr. Johnson at a dinner party at the Bishop of Chester's house; She says, "I urged him to take a little wine." He replied, "I can't drink a little, child, therefore I never touch it. Abstinence is as easy to me as temperance would be difficult."

THE DRAFT.—Gen. Grant, in a communication to Sec. Stanton, speaks as follows of the urgency that the draft be made promptly:—

We ought to have the whole number of men called for by the President in the shortest possible time. Prompt action in filling up our armies will have more effect on the enemy than a victory over them.—They profess to believe, and make their men believe, there is such a party North in favor of recognizing Southern independence that the draft cannot be enforced. Deserters come into our lines daily, who tell us that the men are nearly universally tired of the war, and that desertions would be much more frequent, but that they believe peace will be negotiated after the Fall election. The enforcement of the draft and prompt filling up of our armies will save the shedding of blood to an immense degree.

The following telegram has been received from Gen. Sherman on the same subject:

I am very glad to hear the draft will be enforced. First, we need the men; Second, they come as privates to fill up our old and tried regiments, with their experienced officers already on hand; and Third, because the enforcement of the law will manifest a power resident in our Government equal to the occasion. Our Government, though a democracy, should in times of danger be able to wield the power of a great nation.

S. J. COURT, DOVER.—The Grand Jury was dismissed on Thursday,—having returned 4 indictments,—2 of which were for selling liquor, one against the City of Dover for the Rollins road, and one against the Selectmen of Lee for refusing to put soldiers, names belonging in that town on the check list.

The following verdicts have been taken:

James T. Benedict v. Janvrin F. Wiggin—verdict for plff.

Joanna Wingate, Guardian, v. David Cutter—verdict for plff for $427.65.

Stephen Hanson v. Stephen Roberts and Trs—verdict for plff $102.38.

Michael Dyer v. Town of Farmington—verdict for plff $102.38.

State v. David R. Colbath—for playing cards at Farmington, verdict guilty, fine $10 and costs.

The Court adjourned on Wednesday morning after a session of eight days.

BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Boston and Maine Railroad took place at City Hall, Lawrence on Wednesday. There was a very large attendance. James C. Merrill, of Cambridge who unanimously elected Clerk. The President presented the annual report, which, on motion, was accepted, and its reading dispensed with. During the three months, closing August 31st, the receipts of the road was $347,832, and the expenses $207,486—showing an excess of receipts over expenditures of $140,346, or about three and a half per cent. on the capital stock.

The following Directors were elected:—Israel M. Spelman, of Cambridge, Mass.; James M. Duncan, Haverhill, Mass.; Geo. W. Kittredge, Newmarket, N. H.; Daniel M. Christie, Dover, N. H.; Peter T. Homer, Boston, Mass.; Henry Saltonstall, Boston, Mass.; Nathaniel G. White, Lawrence, Mass.

TO CLEAN A HAIR BRUSH.—Put a tablespoonful of spirits of hartshorn (aqua ammonia) in a pint of water, and wash the brush in it. It will very quickly make the brush clean as new.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum;—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation,

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the 1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H, Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank,

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

Morning Chronicle.

THE VIOLIN.—The organ may be the king of instruments, but the fiddle is the prime minister. The very comparison is unfair, for the organ is a large collection of instruments, any one of which—that is, any one stop—is nothing when compared to a very moderate performance on the violin. Nor could an organ of five stops, the very best, successfully compete with the usual quartette of stringed instruments, with a double-bass under all, to give them a substantial growl to stand upon. The organ is, if must be allowed, a sacred instrument, for the use of St. Cecilia and the heavenly choir above, and all the churches which are wise enough to use it here below. The fiddle is the only instrument on which it is an authentic record that the Devil has played. We know that Burns has represented him as performing on the bagpipes, an instrument which should never be sounded out of his own dominions; but this is poetry. The evidence of Tartini is plain prose; the Devil appeared to him in sleep, and played so exquisite a sonata that when he awoke he could only put on paper a very faint imitation of its infernal beauty. It was actually proved, by the testimony of an eye-witness, that, at Vienna, the Devil was seen behind Paganini—very much resembling himself—and guiding his fingers. Why is this glorious instrument the object of slander in all times? The very word fiddle has an injurious twang about it. An old English song describes a travelling orchestra as a "concert of fiddle de-dehs." In a country in which the attachment to the native soil was so strong that in former days there was an objection to wash it even off the face and hands, there was a disorder which it was thought uncleanly even to name; so it was called the fiddle. So completely was this word considered a medical term in the country we allude to, that when a munificent testator left a large fund to one of its universities for the promotion of music, the university authorities proceeded to pay or pension professors of anatomy out of this fund.—Athenæum.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an efficacious cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with months of the science next in importance to the inhabitant of either in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of a blood purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant sensation will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicine.

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible, and when taken are forced through the stomach and bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain in the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy and vigorous action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions throughout the system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with unkindness and contempt. IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check Scrofulous Affections, which, by purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the root fruitful.

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM, AND NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils to which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the Philadelphia Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1826.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to refund to every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 12 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston.

SPEER'S

SAMBUCI WINE,

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physician's Use, Females, Weakly Persons and Invalids.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs; very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by physicians and chemists as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and is excellent as a tonic for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LUXURY FOR INVALIDS, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

C. A. RICHARDS,

99 WASHINGTON STREET,

Boston,

Would most respectfully invite the attention and examination of all Grocers, Druggists, Apothecaries and Hotel Proprietors, desiring to sell or USE STRICTLY PURE

Liquors, Wines, Cordials or Bitters,

to the list of choice goods enumerated below, which are constantly on hand in large quantities in his Large and Spacious

Wine Store and Bottling Establishment,

99 Washington street, Boston.

First on the list, as a reliable pure stimulant, stands the celebrated and widely-known

Golden Sheaf Bourbon Whiskey,

made from Wheat, Rye and Corn, warranted for five years old. Put up in unique style, each bottle in a paper box, in cases of one dozen each, the large and increasing sales of which convince the proprietor that no extended advertisement is needed to extol its real merits. It will recommend itself on trial.

Golden Sheaf Cordial.

A delightful and healthful beverage, aromatic, with a rich flavor of orris, made from the pure Golden Sheaf Bourbon.

Golden Sheaf Bitters.

The best Tonic Bitter ever offered to the public. Mingled with the spirit of pure old Bourbon are a number of other ingredients for restoring the appetite and imparting life and vigor to the whole system.

Golden Sheaf Punch.

Made from fresh, ripe lemons, and other acid fruits, combined as a whole into a fine rich

Bourbon Whiskey Punch.

All the above put up full strength of the whiskey, and in cases of one dozen each. These articles commend themselves to all, and no exposure of climate can affect them.

JOHN AND ROBERT DUNSTER'S

CELEBRATED

LONDON DOCK SPIRITS AND WINES,

Imported solely by C. A. R., in wood, from the London Docks, and bottled by him in America. The distinguished and world-wide reputation of these articles has induced the subscriber to seek and obtain the sole agency in this country.—They are sold only in Bottles, entirely pure, and without adulteration, and comprise the four kinds, as follows:

LONDON DOCK GIN,
LONDON DOCK BRANDY,
LONDON DOCK SHERRY,
LONDON DOCK PORT.

All in cases of one dozen each, in strong shipping order for immediate transportation, and are sold lower than other liquors and wines in the market, of equal quality.

Pure California Wines.

The large demand for the pure wines of California has made it a fixed fact that no well-selected stock of Wines is complete without them. C. A. R. has made arrangements for the entire production of

The Largest Vineyard in California!

and is now bottling, and offers for sale, the finest CALIFORNIA WINES ever seen IN THIS MARKET, of four qualities, in splendid style of labels, bottles and packages, viz:

ANGELICA—Sweet.
PORT—Rich.
HOCK—Dry.
STILL CHAMPAGNE—Delicious.

Parties attracted by this advertisement, or who have already become acquainted with the qualities of these articles, can have a price list sent by mail, or samples by express, when desired, by addressing the subscriber.

C. A. RICHARDS,

99 Washington street. - - - Boston.

NOTE.—C. A. Richards would also beg leave to state that the above are only a part of the list of articles for sale and imported by him. He has, in addition, one of the largest stocks in America of Fine Bottled Wines and Spirits, of every variety and subject, together with a fine assortment of Liquors and Wines in original packages, for sale by the cask or gallon. Also, Fine Cigars, he having purchased of the late firm of Hutchinson & Wickersham, Canal street, their entire stock of Bedsteads, Cradles, Furniture, &c., they now offer to the public, at their New Warehouse, the most extensive stock of Ornamental Iron Goods to be found in the United States.

They have also purchased of the NEW YORK WIRE RAILING CO. the patent right and machinery for making Wire Railing, Farm Fence, Window Guards, Grating, Coal Screens, &c., and will continue the EXCLUSIVE manufacture of the same at their Works.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

—AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as anally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $3 per bottle or three bottles for $8.

Price—CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Sent by express to any address on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE GREAT

INDIAN MEDICINE,

COMPOUNDED FROM

ROOTS, HERBS AND LEAVES.

CHEROKEE CURE.

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-pollution; such as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficult Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the direful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn cases.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, despair not; the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ For full particulars, get a circular from any drug store in the country, or write the proprietors, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatment in pamphlet form.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express to all parts of the world.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

DR. WRIGHT'S

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the result of modern discoveries in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, free equally of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.
A few doses cure Hysterics in females.
One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.
A few doses restore the organs of generation.
From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.
A few doses restore the appetite.
Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.
A few doses cure the low spirited.
One bottle restores mental power.
A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly health and robust health the poor debilitated, worn-down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The ladies executed youth, the over-tasked man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir or Essence of Life.

☞ Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by express, on receipt of money, to any address.

Sold by all druggists everywhere.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plate, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meat is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet over, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable

MAGEE FURNACE.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, are consumed, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the fuel as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

PROGRESS IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.—If you learn at the age of thirty that a warmhearted sailor had saved your life when a child; carried you in his arms to your parents; refused all recompense, and that a week after he died of pleurisy, what would you undoubtedly do under such circumstances? Would you not seek his children, had he left any, or his children's children, to pay them the debt? If rich, would you not give them a part of your fortune? If poor, would you not place your labor at their command to aid them to live? If one of them had received no education, would you not pay for his schooling, or teach him yourself? If another, still more to be pitied, had fallen even lower than want, instead of overwhelming him with your contempt, would you not put forth your hand to save him, as his unfortunate grandfather did to you? In so doing, would you not be simply fulfilling your duty as an honest man? You say you would. I take note of it, and continue: Any man of thirty who reflects a little must know that he owes his life, his health, well-being, his education, all he has, and all he is, to millions of obscure saviors, unknown and undiscoverable, who died at their work, who hardly ever received the reward for their services, which, however, may be repaired to their posterity: for the world is peopled with their sons and their daughters.

The earth is the most ungrateful of stepmothers; her spontaneous productions are insipid vegetables and ferocious animals. The only habitations she furnishes gratis to her children are caves fruitful in rheumatism; leaves and bark are the only clothing she offers us. The only tools she has ever given us are the fingers of our hands; she carefully secretes, deep within her bowels, the metals which might aid us.

All the things that we enjoy to-day are due to the heroic efforts of the men who have preceded us in this world. We have not on our table a fruit, a vegetable, a wine that might not have been the object of a thousand patents of invention, of importation, and ten thousand patents of improvement. We thank nature when we walk in a beautiful garden, but it is to man that we should be thankful. Most of the natural flowers we there admire are the productions of man; if there are some on which he has not labored, at least he has had the trouble to bring them from the other end of the world.

The cereals of the plain, the trees of the orchard — all that appears to spring from the bosom of the earth— are imported, developed, perfected, amended, metamorphosed by the hand of man. The forest itself is filled with trees which man has transplanted from beyond the seas. Our stables, barns, sheep-folds, pig-pens, poultry yards, dog-kennels, swarm with animals more or less exotic, but all subdued, tamed, broken in, modified, as if remolded by the ingenious hand of man. I need only allude, by way of remembrance, to the ferocious animals, whose absence is still another of the blessings due to our predecessors. They have carefully culled the living gifts of nature, suppressing the species perfectly incorrigible, and turning to our profit all that could be tamed. However poorly you may be clad, glance at your clothing from head to foot, and you will perceive that the agriculturist, the spinner, the weaver, the dyer, the navigator, the machinist, the tanner, the tailor, the shoemaker, the bleacher, the hatter, and a score of other mechanics, who practise the difficult, or we may even say the scientific arts, have applied the study and experience of fifty centuries to the making of your modest attire. The smallest nail in your shoe necessitated the discovery of iron, the working of the mines, the smelting of the ore, the refining of the iron, the wonders of wire making, the construction of the forge bellows, the rapid and ingenious work of the nail-maker. It has taken the sweat of the brow of a thousand generations to produce that ugly, but simple, useful and economical suit, which the Parisian workman buys with a few days' wages.

Now take your eyes off my book and look around your room. The geometrician, the architect, the laborer, aided by three or four tools, of which the simplest is a work of art, the quarrier, the mason, the carpenter, the tile-maker the plasterer, the painter, and the chemist who furnishes him with colors, the glass blower, the glazier with his diamond brought from Brazil, the joiner, the lock-smith, etc., have been obliged to contribute a prodigious amount of continued study and accumulated labor to furnish you the simplest habitation. The finest mahogany arm chair has cost the invention of the mariner's compass, the improvement of navigation, the conquest of America! The common varnish which covers it reminds you that the vine has been planted, the grapes pressed, the wine fermented and distilled, the alcohol rectified, in which the turpentine of Bordeaux, colored with the sandal wood of India or the saffron of Egypt, is dissolved. Were it not that I feared to carry the examples beyond the limits of your patience, I would tell you how many sublime inventions have been required to manufacture the book which you now hold; or simply the soap with which you wash your hands, or the clock which will soon interrupt your reading by striking the hour of dinner. I would draw your attention to the catalogue of the most common museum, or the most miserable library, to recall to your memory a few of the admirable things that the dead have bequeathed to you — I will rather, for brevity's sake, point to yourself; your health, for which a million of learned men have studied since Hippocrates; your memory, stored with Divine poetry made for you; your reason strengthened by the your taste, formed little by little by the philosophers of twenty different schools; sight of master-piece; your heart ennobled by the counsels of wisdom and the examples of virtue.

Do you now understand that the men of olden times are more or less your anonymous benefactors? That you owe something to their sons, your contemporaries? That it does not suffice for the discharge of your debt to commit an evil? That it is necessary to do good, and to leave something to posterity, as your predecessors have done to you? You are a ring of the the chain, a step of the ascending ladder, a living transaction, active and laborious between what has been and what will be.

You are not asked to work miracles, you are desired only to leave something behind you. "He who has planted a tree before dying, has not lived in vain." It is the Indian wisdom that says this. In fact, he has added something to the capital of humanity. A tree will yield its fruit, at least it will throw its shade over future generations. A tree, a roof, a tool, a weapon, a good tool, a remedy, a demonstrated truth, a law discovered, a book, a statue, a picture, these are the additions which each of us can make to the common stock.

There is not an intelligent man of the present day who does not feel bound by an unseen tie to all humanity, past, present, and future. We are the heirs of the dead, and partners of the living, the providence of all those yet unborn. To prove our gratitude to the untold generations who have gradually made us what we are, we must perfect the human nature that is in us and around us. To worthily thank the innumerable laborers who have rendered our homes so beautiful and so convenient, we must deliver them to future generations still more beautiful and more convenient. We are better and happier than our predecessors; let us make our posterity better and happier than ourselves. There is not a man so poor or so little gifted that he cannot contribute to the general progress in some way. He who planted the tree has done his part; he who felled the tree and sawed it into boards has done his part; he who made the bench has done his part; he who seats himself on the bench, takes a child on his knees and teaches him to read, has done his part better than all the others. The three first have added something to the common capital of humanity, the last has added something to humanity itself! He has made man more intelligent, therefore better.—EDMOND ABOUT, Le Progres.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Canada, England, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. To Patentees below are given proofs that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes water proof and dry, and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

From Grant's army of the Potomac, Head Quarters, Sept. 13, we learn that picket and artillery firing has been kept up very briskly since Saturday. Monday the large mortar on the right threw shell into Petersburg with great precision. A rebel sharpshooter stole across the Appomattox and shot one of our men at a battery. As he was making his way back a shot struck the boat he was in, tearing it to pieces, and it is supposed killed the occupant. Deserters report that Lee announced to the troops on Sunday that he would give the yankees 14 days to get away from here, but he did not say what he would do if we refused to leave. Have been living on short rations of a poor quality. The rebels are shelling Gen. Grant's new railroad from City Point to the left. No damage yet. Gen. Grant has prohibited cutlers and purveyors from selling liquors in the army.

The flag of truce steamer New York arrived at Fortress Monroe Tuesday evening from James river with 400 returned prisoners of war from the South, including 40 officers, in charge of Major Mulford.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 12th inst., reports a very destructive fire in Manchester, Va., on Friday night last. Gilmore's large tobacco warehouse was burned with 1370 hogsheads of tobacco belonging to Gilmore, and 234 hhds. belonging to the Confederate States. The Messrs. Gory's warehouse was also destroyed, with other valuable property. Total loss $4,000,000.

The World's correspondent at Gen. Grant's Headquarters, 15th inst., says there is every reason to believe that the rebels have in contemplation and are already preparing for the evacuation of Petersburg and retiring their army within the defences of Richmond. This may account for the protracted quiet in our front since their failure to regain the portion of the Weldon railroad captured by us.

There has been considerable firing along a portion of the line to-day, but without assaults of any moment on either side.

On the other hand, the rebels are said to be mining our works at Petersburg. A prisoner, recently captured, mentioned two points where they were engaged night and day undermining our works, and that countermining was going on at another place.

Through rebel sources confirmation is received that four of our gunboats now command Mobile city.

Some interesting items are given by the Richmond papers, showing how sorely Gen. Sherman, has galled the rebellion, by his conquest of Atlanta.

The Richmond Sentinel has an article on Gen. Sherman's "depopulation of Atlanta," styling it "an event unparalleled in the history of the American war, and without example in modern times. It calls Sherman the "chief among savages, the captain among pirates, the leader among highwaymen, the prince among scoundrels and brutes, and the foremost villain of the world." "Sherman," it says, "has given the war a new feature; stern as it has been, it is henceforth to be more so. Better for halting age or lisping innocence to die in defence of home, than to be driven out in hordes to languish in exile. The last man and last boy among us must take his musket, sooner than endure such outrages as that at Atlanta."

A Macon, Ga., dispatch of Sept. 10th, says that U. S. soldiers taken prisoners, report that Sherman will now reinforce Grant, take Richmond, and finish the rebellion. They also state that one-half of his army will go out of service this month. The same dispatch says that the U. S. forces are closely massed about Atlanta, with no indications of a fight at present.

A Charleston dispatch of Sept. 7, says. Our prisoners were landed on Morris Island to-day, and marched in the rear of battery Wagner, guarded by a large body of sentinels. The enemy brought two new guns to Gregg this afternoon, drawn by 12 or 14 horses."

—— Patrick Doyle and Eilen Curran arrived at Boston Wednesday, from Ireland, and on Thursday morning took the cars, via Lawrence, for Manchester, arriving there about 10 o'clock, but did not get out, and when just above the house of reformation they were told that they had passed by Manchester. The man went immediately and jumped off, and was followed by the woman, the train going at a rapid rate. The man was killed instantly, but it is thought the woman is not seriously hurt. They were brought back to Manchester, and medical assistance called to the woman.

☞ The N. Y. World thus refers to McClellan and the Chicago platform:

"We would much prefer to go before the people, not alone upon the personal qualities of our noble candidate, which, wherever known and understood, will command such heartfelt homage, but rather upon those great principles of public policy announced at Chicago, of which he is now the recognized exponent, and of which no word or act of his life is in conflict."

FIRST N. H. CAVALRY.

CAMP NEAR CHARLESTOWN, VA., Aug. 30th, 1864.

Dear Chronicle: — Again New Hampshire has been called upon, and again she has offered the lives of her noble sons as sacrifices to the cause of liberty. On the morning of the 25th, "boots and saddles" were sounded at an early hour, and as soon as day-light we were on the road, one regiment having its advance under Col. Thompson, who joined us the night before, much to the gratification of all the boys. We advanced about a mile beyond Shepardstown, where we encountered the enemy's skirmish line.

Our Division (Gen. Wilson's) was sent off on the left and were slowly advancing up a road, where the Johnies opened a hot fire from over the wall. We turned to the left and went off across the field and ran upon a brigade of Rebel Infantry, and found ourselves under a cross-fire. As it was only a reconoissance to discover the enemy's position, and we had done that, we commenced to fall back. I do not know full extent of casualties. In Company A, Corporal Warren Smith, privates E. Wall and John McCoombs were wounded; Co. B, Corp. McGregor killed; Co I, Serg't Ben. Locke killed; Co. M, Wm. J. Bradsick killed. This is not the full list, but it is all I have learned. The regiment is in good health and spirits. The service has been very hard this summer, and has reduced our numbers greatly, but we have a fighting hundred yet.

We were the happy recipient of a budget of Gazette, a day or two ago from Capt. Bob. Wish they came oftener. More anon.

Yours, etc. R. E. S.

FACTS AND GUESSES.—The Newburyport Herald of Sept. 15 makes the following statements and suggestions, as to the coming elections.

In the elections of 1863, New Jersey alone of the loyal States voted against the administration. So far this year, five States have voted—all in New England, and they have gone Republican by larger majorities than last year. Next month, on the 11th day, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Iowa will vote; and if they should show no change from last year, or not change enough to render it sure that Pennsylvania and Indiana will go for McClellan—for we suppose that nobody anticipates that Ohio and Iowa will go that way—then the Presidential election is decided, and after that no rally can be made by the Democratic party, and we should expect to see Mr. Lincoln chosen unanimously. On the other hand, if Pennsylvania, where the great fight is to be made, and Indiana are democratic, the month following will be one of terrible excitement.

In that case no doubt the excitement would be great,—for the last hopes of the rebellion hang on the election of the Chicago nominees. Their cause is one and the same.—They rise or fall together. U. T.

BELLE BOYD'S HUSBAND.—The Boston Transcript well says that "the escape of the captain of the prize steamer Greybound, in Boston Harbor, and the disappearance of the gold on board the captured vessel, ($6,000 we of the Chronicle think was the amount stolen) are both accounted for, by the recent marriage of prize-master Hardinge to Belle Boyd." Hardinge was Acting Ensign, (never Lieutenant) U. S. N., —and was dismissed (instead of discarding) the service for bad conduct, as we have before stated." Rather slim capital to set up the "chivalry" business with, eh? But it will do for Southern chivalry, though. Sam is remembered here in his native town as rather a loose, rattle-headed boy; while his brother now in New York, and his parents now in Vermont, are people of the highest respectability. From here Sam went to Havre for awhile, and has finally turned out as well as could be expected. We wish Belle Bawl much joy of him.

☞ At midnight, last Tuesday night, in Newburyport, Capt. Young, of the night police, had occasion to arrest a man on Green street, for drunkenness. On their way to the watch-house, the fellow suddenly turned and grabbed the officer by the throat, scratching his neck and forehead, and held on until policeman James came to the rescue, and the prisoner was choked off in turn, and safely conducted to the lock-up. On Wednesday morning he was before the police court, and for the assault went to the House of Correction for four months. He gave his name as John Eaton, of Sandown, N. H.

— The Quebec Custom House was destroyed by fire on Saturday evening last. The fire fire originated, it is thought, from a plumber's fire, where some men had been at work making repairs inside the dome. The building was of fine cut stone, two stories and a basement, and a magnificent portico and colonnade looking towards the river. In beauty it was equal to any public edifice in Canada.

— The negroes of the Methodist congregation at Uniontown, Ala., having recently contributed $1000 to the Association for the Relief of Maimed Soldiers, and being informed that the contribution was sufficient to constitute a life director, they selected the rebel Gen. Forrest, of Fort Pillow notoriety, for that honor.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— The Boston Aldermen are considering a proposition to open the Public Library on Sundays.

☞ Admiral Stringham visited the Navy Yard on Friday, and received the usual salute.

— "Coal oil whiskey" is the name now given to the fluid that sets men crazy, in Philadelphia.

—Rev. A. S. Walker of Rockville, Conn., has accepted a call to become the pastor of the 1st Congregational Church in Dover.

— The soldiers are to be paid before the contractors. The Treasury Department is busy.

— A rebel paper laments that Mobile abounds with spies and traitors. It is even said that traitors can be readily pointed out in that city.

— The Chicago Tribune of last week predicts a great stringency in the money market West, and a downfall of prices of pork, grain, and other produce.

— Plaquemines Parish, La., sent to the New Orleans market last season 19,863 sacks of clean rice, containing 100 pounds to a sack.

— Gen. Martindale has tendered his resignation for the third time, his health being so bad as to render him totally unfit for further field service.

— A young woman in Milton, Wis., died last week from the effects of the sting of a bee on her wrist. She survived the sting only about twelve hours.

— Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher declares that, although he respects McClellan for gentlemanly qualities, his letter of acceptance stamps him as unfit for President.

PROVERBS OF THE BILLINGS FAMILY, Preserved by Joshua Billings.—Don't swap with your relations unless you ken afford to giv em the big end of the traid.

— Henry Tracy, of Hancock Co., Tenn., died on the 10th of April, aged 46. He was 6 feet 6 inches high, weighed over 600 pounds, and in his young days exceeded all his schoolmates in running, jumping, etc.

— This year is the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of the town of Newburyport, but the city government thought it could not be celebrated without a large expenditure of money, which the state of the treasury in time of war would not permit.

— The Boston Herald says: "The politicians can read over the returns from Maine and Vermont, and see the handwriting on the wall." This is not the same wall to which McClellan drove the rebels — on paper.

— The next elections in order are those in Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania, all of which elect State offices on the second Tuesday (the 11th) of October. In Ohio and Pennsylvania the present governors hold over, State officers of minor importance only requiring to be filled.

— Look out for counterfeit tens on the Bay State Bank, Lawrence, Mass.,—fac simile of genuine. In the counterfeit, both signatures are engraved; in the genuine, written. Vignette, carpenter sitting upon bench; in lower right corner, State arms; lower left corner, medallion head.

—The U. S. Service Magazine, for September, contains the second party of the admirable sketch of Gen. Sherman; a valuable article on the militia; and several other articles of great interest. Every military and civil officer should read this monthly regularly.

— The aeronauts who made an ascension at New Bedford, after reaching an altitude of about a mile, came back to earth again in a very rapid manner in consequence of a rent in the ballon extending from the nose nearly to the top of it. The landing was decidedly rough, but the party escaped with only a few bruises.

SUIT FOR LIBEL. Josiah Dunham, Esq. of South Boston, has brought a suit for libel against the Courier for damages to the amount of $5000, for the publication of a facetious account of a political meeting which occurred there Tuesday evening, and was published in the Courier of yesterday.

THE MAINE ELECTION. Returns are in from 116 towns and cities, which indicate a majority for Coney about two thousand more than it was last year. The Democrats say that 7000 less votes are cast than last year. This is lucky for them, or there would be 7000 more against them.—Newburyport Herald.

— A company of swindlers under the firm name of Geo. H. Marvin & Co., Providence, have been raising the wind by sending notices to persons that they had packages in their possession addressed to them, which would be forwarded on the payment of a certain amount of money. They have been arrested and committed for trial.

— Bryant Moore, who some time ago, was pardoned out of the Massachusetts State Prison, to which he had been sentenced for life, for the murder of his wife in Lowell in 1850, is now living in Charlestown, employed as a shoemaker. He has recently "gone into matrimony again," his present connubial partner being his fifth.

— A fight took place in Camden, N. J., between white and black drunkards, about drinking at the same bar, last Friday, and soon grew into such a mob that the whole city was alarmed, the police put into active service, the firemen called out, and firearms brought into use. The disturbance was quelled after some ten persons had been shot, none of them fatally, and ten had been arrested.

The exhibition of aristocracy, in this case, was a ludicrous farce; the result was tragic.

— The man arrested at Indianapolis, supposed to be Quantrell, stoutly denies that he is that notorious guerrilla, but the refugee who procured the arrest is positive A despatch has been sent to Gen. Rosecrans at St. Louis, requesting that some person be sent on who is acquainted with Quantrell, and can swear to his identity.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PATHOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

LAUNCH OF THE FRANKLIN.—The steamer Pioneer will leave Railroad Wharf at 11:45 A. M., Saturday, for the Narrows, and Launch, and return at 1 P. M. Tickets 25 cents, at office, Railroad Wharf.

☞ The steam frigate Franklin is expected to be launched from the Navy Yard to-day, about noon. Unlike most launches, the interest in this will be to see the noble craft stopped, as there is very little room to spare after she leaves the ways, where she has reposed so long. We hope a safe delivery. A fine chance to see the whole is afforded by the Pioneer's trip.

THE DRAFT is publicly announced to be put in operation next Monday, in Districts where deficiencies exist; but we predict that there will be found little if any need of it in our District; for with the enlistments daily coming in by the score, and the allowance for Naval recruits, our District quota must be nearly full.

Substitutes have lowered in price here from $750 to $625. The checking of the enlistment of landsmen in the navy, and filling of town quotas, has decreased the demand.

P. S. We learn that the quota of Portsmouth is full. One hundred and seventy naval enlistments were allowed to the city credit, and the remaining number was filled by volunteers and substitutes.

COPPER AND CORDAGE CASE.—On Friday Sept. 16, Sampson L. Russell was examined before U. S. Commissioner Wm. H. Y. Hackett, on charges of receiving Copper and Cordage stolen from the Navy Yard. He was ordered to give $1000 bonds in the Copper case, and $500 in the Cordage case, for his appearance to answer at the U. S. Circuit Court at Exeter, Oct. 8.

ARRESTED.—Samuel Goodwin, formerly a resident of Eliot, but now of Kittery, who has been employed in the rivet shop at the Navy Yard, was arrested on Friday, 16th, by U. S. Deputy Marshal Adams, on a complaint made by J. Horace Kent, of the Provost Marshal's office, alleging that several hundred pounds of copper were stolen from the Yard and sold to a party in Salmon Falls, and then re-sold to parties in Boston—Goodwin having disposed of the copper at Salmon Falls. The preliminary examination before Commissioner Hackett, of Mr. Goodwin, will take place next Thursday, 22d, at 11 o'clock, and Mr. G. was held to bail in the amount of $600. Until then the particulars will not be made public.

INOPPORTUNE.—While the learned counsel for the defence, in the case of the Government vs. Sampson L. Russell, was rendering his argument, yesterday, before the Commissioner, he took occasion to express a great deal of surprise that the Government officials had done nothing towards causing the arrest of the operatives on the Yard who were suspected of stealing copper, stating that to the best of his knowledge no effort had been made by them in the premises. It so happened that the Government officials were in the Court Room at the time, with an employee of the Yard then under arrest for larceny of copper, and waiting for the legal gentleman to conclude his remarks, for the prisoner to be arraigned. That was a bad mistake for the lawyer. HEARER.

☞ The Ballot correspondent says, that "excursion to the Shoals, by Gov. Gilmore with the boards of directors of the various railroads with which he is connected, was greatly enjoyed by all on board the Pioneer. The steamer is an excellent seaboat, with ample room for a large party of excursionists. In passing Fort Constitution a salute was fired in honor of the Governor, and on the return of the steamer in the afternoon the Governor and a large delegation of the guests visited the fort. The Governor was received by the companies stationed there, which were paraded inside the fort. The soldiers were addressed by Gov. Gilmore, Hon. John P. Hale, Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Col. B. F. Martin and Adj't Gen. Natt Head, who in turn were loudly cheered by the military, the band playing at intervals. As the boat returned to the city, Gen. Head proposed three cheers for Capt. Geo. W. Tucker, the steamboat manager, (to whom the guests were indebted for continued attentions,) which were given with a good will."

☞ At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Steam Factory, held on Tuesday of last week, the affairs of the corporation were reported to be in a very satisfactory condition. The old board of directors were unanimously elected, as also was the clerk. The rise in rents has compelled the company to purchase several tenements of late for the accomodation of their operatives.

☞ Uncle Tom's Cabin, for the last time, at the Temple, to-night. This popular play is said to be put on the stage better th an ever before here.

☞ Newcomb's famous Minstrels are to give a couple of their ever-popular Concerts here next week.

RATIFICATION MEETING

AT PORTSMOUTH,

Saturday, Sept. 17th.

The Bells of the City will be rung for half an hour, at sunrise, noon and sunset; and a National Salute fired.

On the arrival of the trains on the Eastern and Concord & Portsmouth Railroads, a will be formed on Deer Street, with the right resting on Market Street, in the following order.

PROCESSION

Aid. Marshal. Aid.
Portsmouth Cornet Band.
McClellan Club, Portsmouth.
Delegations from the various Towns in Rockingham County.
Band.
Delegations from Towns in Merrimack Co.

☞ All Delegations from the various Towns are requested to report to the Marshal, and proceed under their Marshals to Deer Street.

All Democrats not, with any particular Delegation, are requested to form in the line of Procession.

☞ The Procession will move immediately on the arrival of the Trains at 10 o'clock.

Union Wharf will be reserved for those who participate in the Procession, which will arrive there at 12 o'clock—in season to witness the launch of the U. S. frigate Franklin; after which the procession will again be formed, and march to MARKET SQUARE.

The Convention to nominate an Elector will then be organized. After which the Mass Convention will be organized, and the from the various gentlemen announced will take place. The procession will move through such of the principal Streets as time will permit.

H. F. WENDELL,
Chief Marshal.

Portsmouth, Sept. 17, 1864.

HOW'S THIS?—The Portsmouth correspondent of the Ballot has "heard lots of complaints lately from men who have heretofore traded here, that they can't buy now in Portsmouth as well as in South Berwick, Dover, Newmarket, Exeter, &c. If this continues, our grocers must confine themselves to city trade, and we shall have to pay dear for our country produce." But is it so?

☞ The yellow fever, the draft, and the drought, conspired together to kill the Rockingham County Fair this year.

☞ U. S. Steamer Merrimack was at the Navy Yard on Thursday.

FACTS FOR SOLDIERS.—Throughout the Indian and Crimean Campaigns, the only medicines which proved themselves able to cure the worst case of Dysentery, Scurvy, and Fever, were Holloway's Pills and Ointment. Therefore, let every volunteer see that he is supplied with them.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1,40 per box or pot. 228

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

From the Journal.

THE LAUNCH OF THE FRANKLIN will take place at noon to-day. The short distance to the opposite shore requires a sudden check of the ship after she has passed twice her length. For this purpose ample cables are prepared for her retention. Should the weather be pleasant, there will be many spectators. It can be distinctly seen from our wharves. By the following notice, it appears that a hospitable reception is offered to visitors at the Yard.

LAUNCH OF THE FRANKLIN.

A Free Collation will be served up at the Navy Yard, immediately after the launch of the Franklin, to which the Citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity are most cordially invited.

Preparations have been made to accommodate 2000 persons.

Several eminent speakers have engaged to be present and address the audience. The Celebrated 17th U. S. Band, from Portland, will furnish the music. Come one Come all.

Per order.

LAUNCH OF THE FRANKLIN.—The steamer Pioneer will leave Railroad Wharf at 11:45 A. M., Saturday, for the Narrows, and Launch, and return at 1 P. M. Tickets 25 cents, at office, Railroad Wharf.

THE DRAFT.

Capt. W. Silvey, Provost Marshal for this State, has received orders from Provost Marshal General Fry, to commence drafting in those towns and wards in this State, that have not filled their quota, on Monday next, the 19th inst. It is possible that the rolls may not be so far perfected as to commence on that day, but the order will be carried out as soon thereafter as practicable, commencing in those sub-districts that have done the least towards furnishing men. The quota of this State under the last call lacks only twelve hundred of being full, and the men who have enlisted in our Navy, Heavy Artillery Companies, and Eighteenth Regiment, are from our best class of citizens. Volunteering is now rapidly going on, and in a very short time our whole quota can be filled with a class of men who will do honor to the State and add largely to the strength and efficiency of our army, while the towns and cities are offering high bounties for volunteers. We hope our citizens will fill up our quota and thus relieve the State from a draft. No State in the Union is furnishing a better class of men than New Hampshire. At the rate men are now coming in, the quota of the State will be full in a very short time. Volunteers will be counted on the quotas after the men are drafted, and before they are accepted and sent to the rendezvous, up to the last possible moment. We could hope that under the circumstances the draft might be postponed; as we also hope there will be no necessity for one.—Concord Democrat.

PORSMOUTH QUOTA FULL.—As on Thursday evening there was a deficiency of only six, we may feel justified in saying that our quota will be full by to-day, so that no draft will be made on this call. Much credit is due to Messrs. J. B. Adams and J. C. Brown for their activity and perseverance in this work.

SUNDAY RIDING.—Desecration of the Sabbath has now become so common, that but little notice seems to be taken of it, and unless horses are killed as they were last Sunday by over-driving, there is no damage done. It is to be regretted that the week is so filled with business, that Sunday is made too generally the day for recreation. On no day in the week is the draft on our stables so great as on that day. No men of any claim to moral principle regard the command to "Remember the Sabbath day," as annulled, and it may be fair to infer that the largest proportion of those who ride out for pleasure on that day, are the fast and profligate men and abandoned females, who infest our streets like the frogs of Egypt.

Since "kangaroos" have appeared in our public streets on horseback, there has been little riding by ladies. And so when the character of Sunday riders is understood, decent people will avoid being classed with them.

The First District Democratic Convention for the nomination of elector, is to be held in this city to-day. A grand Mass Meeting will also be held to ratify the nomination of McClellan and Pendleton.

A fine flag has been thrown across Market street, under which their grand procession is at liberty to pass. If they can adopt the motto it bears—"Our Union must and will be preserved." We think, however, they will more likely avoid that avenue.

MORE USE FOR GUNS!—At a meeting of the Democracy held at their Headquarters this week, the following resolutions, "taking aim" at the Government and City authorities, were let off.

Resolved, That the recent act of the Mayor of this city and the Provost Marshal of this District in entering the buildings of citizens of this place and making searches, and seizures of arms, without warrant of law, and without any reasonable cause, are tyrannical and outrageous, dangerous to the personal safety of individuals, subversive to the just rights of the people, and deserving the severest censure of every lover of liberty and good order.

Resolved, That we call upon the public prosecutors to take measures to bring the perpetrators of this crime to justice; and that we declare it to be the duty of every good citizen to resist and punish every attempt to commit similar outrages, to the fullest extent which the law will justify.

SPEER'S WINE.—This article upon trial, we find quite palatable. It is recommended for weakly females and invalids generally.—Portland Argus.

MR. Preston has just received a large invoice of this wine four years old of which he is selling large quantities.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves purgent and disagreeable, are, by this process of life process of extracting, (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also produces which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicine.

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when they do pass through the stomach and bowels, half-dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One dissolved, immediate action, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy and vigorous action to the Stomach and Bowels, Liver, Lungs, Kidneys, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions through the whole system.

A single dose, will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A few doses more for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It invigorates the various organs of the system to act their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LANGUOR, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and palatable aperient—has a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use, more deservedly popular.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, diet, or of the water.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been used for thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1825.

And we fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be considered a good subject therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 19 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine everywhere, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston. ap6—3mo&d&w

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce or which we think has ever yet been made by anybody. Their effects have abundantly shown to the world that they far exceed the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, invigorate the operations of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow diseases, stimulate into healthy action those organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in disease, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for their use, and the certificates of their cures of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Morbid inactivity of the Bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an aperient or purgative medicine, as purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstructions of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S PILLS, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Brackett Hutchings, J. H. Thacher, W. R. Preston, David Kimball, and all druggists. 3yMNew 2m 19

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

C. A. RICHARDS,

99 WASHINGTON STREET,

Boston,

Would most respectfully invite the attention and examination of all Grocers, Druggists, Apothecaries and Other Dealers, desiring to sell or

USE STRICTLY PURE

Liquors, Wines, Cordials or Bitters,

to the list of choice goods enumerated below, which are constantly on hand in large quantities for sale low, cash and country trade.

Wine Store and Bottling Establishment,

99 Washington street, Boston.

First on the list, as a reliable pure stimulant, stands the celebrated and widely-known

Golden Sheaf Bourbon Whiskey,

made from Wheat, Rye and Corn, warranted for five years old. Put up in unique style, each bottle in a paper box, in cases of one dozen each, the large and increasing sales of which convinces the proprietor that no extended advertisement is needed to exhibit its real merits. It will recommend itself to every taste.

Golden Sheaf Cordial.

A delightful and healthful beverage, aromatic, with a rich ginger cordial, made from the pure Golden Sheaf Whiskey.

Golden Sheaf Bitters.

The best Tonic Bitter ever offered to the public. Mingled with the rich flavor of the Bourbon are a number of other ingredients for restoring the appetite and imparting life and vigor to the whole system.

Golden Sheaf Punch.

Made from fresh, ripe lemons, and other art icles, combined as a whole into a fine rich

Bourbon Whiskey Punch.

All the above put up full strength of the whiskey, and in cases of one dozen each. These articles improve by age, and no exposure of climate can affect them.

JOHN AND ROBERT DUNSTER'S

CELEBRATED

LONDON DOCK SPIRITS AND WINES,

Imported solely by C. A. R., in wood, from the London Docks, and bottled by him in America. The distinguished and world-wide reputation of these articles has induced the subscriber to seek and obtain the Sole Agency in this country.—They are sold only by Retail Grocers, strictly pure, and without adulteration, and comprise the four kinds, as follows:

LONDON DOCK GIN,
LONDON DOCK BRANDY,
LONDON DOCK SHERRY,
LONDON DOCK PORT.

All in cases of one dozen each, in strong shipping order for immediate transportation, and are sold lower than any other liquors and wines in the market, of equal quality.

Pure California Wines.

The large demand for the pure wines of California has made it a fixed fact that no well selected stock of the best qualities from them, C. A. R. has made arrangements for the entire production of

The Largest Vineyard in California!

and is now bottling and offering for sale, these CALIFORNIA WINES ever seen IN THIS MARKET, of four qualities, in splendid style of labels, bottles and cases—such as

ANGELICA—Sweet.
PORT—Rich.
HOCK—Dry.
STILL CHAMPAGNE—Delicious.

Parties attracted by this advertisement, or who have already become acquainted with the qualities of these articles, can have a price list sent by mail, or samples by express, when desired, by addressing the subscriber at

C. A. RICHARDS,

99 Washington street. - - - Boston.

NOTE.—C. A. Richards would also beg leave to state that the above are only a part of the list of articles from wood and imported by him. He has, in addition, one of the largest stocks in America of Fine Bottled Wines and Spirits, of every variety and kind, together with the assortment of Liquors and Wines in original packages, for sale by the cask or gallon. Also, Fine Cigars, Sardines, Pickles, Sauces, and every kind of table luxury usually found in a first class wine store in this country or in Europe.

Orders are most respectfully solicited.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Scrofula, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is recommended in these cases of Fluor Albus or Whites in females, where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an alley or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store or druggist in the country, and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Price—CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

INDIAN MEDICINE,

COMPOUNDED FROM ROOTS, HERBS AND LEAVES.

CHEROKEE CURE.

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-abuse, such as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Sight, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficult Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Head, Confusion of Ideas, Insanity, Consumption, and all the dreadful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn cases.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! The CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, without the injurious effects of mercury, which is still used by some of our regular physicians.

☞ For full particulars, get a circular from any drug store in the country, or write the proprietors, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatment in pamphlet form.

☞ Prices, $3 per bottle or three bottles for $8, and forwarded by express to all parts of the world.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for boiling purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes entirely obviated with, as the fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason is quite obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cover can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does not require the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

THE FOOTPATHS.—I think Connecticut is somewhat remarkable for these signs of pedestrianism. They are to be found everywhere. The Quinnipiac is a good deal obstructed by dams which hold the water back in ponds. Near these ponds are large shops, in which I see men at work in the din and dirt. Footpaths radiate from these working places, and stretch away through the fields or along the roadsides. If I walk through these fields early enough or late enough, I meet solitary men whom I suppose to be the ones employed in these shops.

The amount of human interest that is strung upon a footpath like beads upon a string, is immense. If the soles of my feet ever itch, it is when I discover some new footpath; the least probability that it will lead me toward my destination, is enough to allure me from the right way. The woodchuck's path leading out from his hole and heap of gravel into the red clover, has interest; so has the muskrat's path, where it goes down the bank into the water; but an old footpath in which men and women and children have walked for years, following its course up and down, in and out, through the fields, how much more so!

These paths are seldom wide enough except for one pair of feet at a time. They have been made by men who walked alone, and who for once were looking at things through their own eyes. If these byways have ever been the scenes of much sociality, it has been such intercourse as men have with each other face to back, the one aiming his speech at the back side of his listener's head, and the other flirting his words backward over his shoulder.

These footpaths have been made by tired and busy men, who have only cared for the shortest or easiest ways. It is interesting to note how a path finally gets established in just the best place, and leaves no room for new engineering. An old path electrifies a man's weary legs, it is so charged with energy and purpose. Notwithstanding all its directness, a footpath often finds ways to put on grace and lead you through enchantments; still it never once loses sight of its purpose. My path leads me across a brook on a plank, and over an old rail fence worn smooth by many crossings; then it creeps along under the edge of a wood, over the naked roots, and glides down a bank; and taking me over a gully on another plank, it finally lets me through a barway into a highway. This miners' path dips down into a meadow and goes among the daisies, ox-eyes and the meadow pinks, and then it winds up a hill on the opposite side. Clothed in the beauty of simple earnestness, both these paths do something to cure me of nonsense. I see many roadside paths marked off from the wagon track by a green ribbon of grass. They go out of sight in the hollows, reappear again on the other side, and finally vanish where the great road disappears under the distant trees; they all have some of the highway's steady straightforwardness.

I have traveled some in highways; especially those of politics, business and theology; and I have found them dusty. I still find it necessary to travel by those roads, but I shall not promise to say much about the things I see in them. When I can find a side path or a byway, I intend to walk in it and make a note of the freshness which I find.

"BABY-TALK."—"Why," ask some, "need people use 'baby-talk' to children?" Because it is perfectly proper and natural for a loving mother; just as natural as to hug and kiss her babe; and I should like some evidence that it is not just as intelligible as "plain English" to babies. I mean babies, not great, cross, mischievous children, old enough to remember it, if they should happen to get their bump of "sublimity" silenced in the process of silencing their "yelling." I candidly think there is a shorter way of silencing them than by rocking them half a day in a cradle, unattended, too, by the danger of arresting any proper development of the head.

Just across the street lives my excellent neighbor, Mrs. Johnson. A multitude of family cares compel her sometimes to let little Solomon—named after his good old grandfather—lie in his cradle a little longer than he chooses; but her cheerful voice, raised to a musical pitch, exclaiming, "Hi de diddle de de! What a naty mamma's little Sollie! Donty ki, mamma will take de darling birdie dis minute," soon changes Sollie's cry to a happy, crowing laugh.

Now, I suppose a "sensible" woman would have said, "Solomon, my son, why do you weep? It is very unmanly, cease those infantile wailings. I will attend to your necessities as soon as convenient." Probably a would have comprehended every word without danger of stretching his intellect to "idiocy." Bless me! I can imagine such a woman, with a face as seldom lit up by a smile as the remotest corner of the Mammoth Cave is by sunlight, and hear her arguing the propriety of dressing boy-babies in dockskin pants, frock coat and standing collar, because it takes so long "to rid themselves of early impressions."

What sense is there in the "ha, ha," of a good hearty laugh? Much in the pleasant feelings it expresses; but if we were common-sensed people, I suppose instead of "ha, ha," we should keep our faces perfectly straight and say, "I feel a very exquisite sense of pleasure within!" The same with baby-talk." The babe appreciates little beyond the radiant smile and happy voice of its mother, no matter whether expressed in meaning or unmeaning words.

Blessings upon mothers who can use "baby-talk," if I never knew a fretful, impatient one who did, nor ever knew a child injured by it, nor one that ever called this "dosiss," or "wosiss," when he became old enough to speak. One great and good man said, "when I was a child I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man I put away childish things;" and I guess most of our children do the same.

As to its sounding "flat," many people think everything "flat" pertaining to babies; and as to the "logic," I shall not see" the need of any; but I never failed to discover beauty and music in the imperfect language of childhood, nor in the voice of the happy mother as she responded in the same tongue.

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear twice as much longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle, at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the shoe wear enough longer (in more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and therefore keeps your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for equal service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1864.

☞ The Draft for the deficiencies in the First District, will commence this Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Provost Marshal's office in this city.

THE REBELLION.

A letter from an officer on Gen. Grant's staff, dated City Point, Wednesday evening, says:

"I have no striking news to report today, but every thing looks bright and cheering, and every day we lie here we are weakening the enemy more or less. While their troops are deserting to our lines in droves, we are receiving large accessions of recruits. The 11th Florida regiment, which entered the service with 1100 men, has been reduced, deserters say, to less than 100 by desertions and the casualties of war, but principally by desertions."

Intelligence from the front states that the enemy has been annoying our lines on the left for some time past, and Gen. Grant's batteries opened on the 14th to put a stop to the annoyance. Heavy firing was kept up all day Friday. The result had not been ascertained. No doubt the rebel sharpshooters have been silenced.

A large number of idle negroes have been sent from Newbern, N. C., to Gen. Grant, to work in the trenches.

Gen. Butler has arrived at Fortress Monroe from the front, to recruit his health.

The rebel Generals Price and Shelby are about to attack two points in Missouri. Both places are well formed and have garrisons.

On Thursday night the rebels made a dash through our lines at Light-house Point, on the James river, and succeeded in driving off twenty-five hundred head of cattle.

The capture of Quantrel in Indianapolis is doubted. That individual is believed to have been killed in Cass county, Missouri; and Gen. Rosecranz, it is said, has taken papers from a body which seems to confirm this belief.

The Richmond Enquiror of the 12th mentions a rumor that Petersburg was to be evacuated, but ridicules it.

The Richmond papers speak of suffering among the poor of the city, and urge that measures be promptly taken to aid them more abundantly during the winter.

Governor Watts of Alabama and Gov. Brown of Georgia have issued orders requiring all aliens to take part in the defense of these States or at once leave their limits.

South Carolina planters are appealed to by Quartermaster Owen as follows:

"The horses in Hampton's command are dying daily for want of corn. They must depend on you for supplies for the next forty days, and every bushel of corn you have is required at once, or the most disastrous results will follow."

Some days ago the Richmond papers expressed disappointment, because the rebel Gen. Wheeler's raid on Gen. Sherman's communications did not procure any great disaster to Sherman. Now it appears, by a rebel dispatch from Macon, Ga., that Wheeler's forces have been dispersed near Tullahoma, by the U. S. Gen. Steadman.

By Telegraph—Sunday noon.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—No war news has been received from any quarter. The only event in the Army of the Potomac is the great cattle theft by the rebels. Passengers by the mail boat say that about three thousand head were driven off. At last accounts our cavalry had come up with the rebel cavalry, and a fight ensued.—Some of the stolen cattle were probably recaptured.

Sec. Stanton informed several delegations to-day that the draft would not be postponed for an instant from Monday next. It is to take place in every part of the country on that day.

It is stated to-day in well informed circles that Minister Adams is to return from England, and that Ex-Sec. Chase will succeed him.

Ex-Sec. Chase made a few remarks at a raising of a Lincoln & Johnson flag to-night, announcing his cordial support of that ticket.

The ratification meeting held here to-night by the Democracy was a large and imposing affair, much larger than was anticipated. The Democracy here are rejoicing that Alton City, Ill., carried their ticket yesterday. Last year it was Republican.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Commercial's Washington dispatch says our cavalry in pursuit of the rebels who captured our cattle near Harrison's Landing recovered many cattle and some marauders.

☞ At the Democratic Electoral Convention, held in this city on Saturday, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., was nominated for Presidential Elector from this District.

— The report that Gen. Hooker was seriously ill was an error, as he visited a bank in Wall street, New York, on Friday. A great crowd gathered to greet him, but he left the bank by a private door, and thus avoided the intended demonstration.

☞ New and strong bill at the Temple to-night.

TEMPERANCE.—During our few days in New Brunswick, we found that the editor of the Daily Globe in St. John, and of the Sentinel in Windsor, among other prominent men, were teetotallers; and at all entertainments toasted their Queen and our President—in bumpers of water only. We cut the item below from the Sentinel, and hope it don't apply up this way:—

Some of the Canadian papers designate the late visit of the Canadians to this Province, as a "big drunk." Pity that, as now-a-days, the very height of courtesy seems to be in making your friends who come to see you —— jolly.

☞ The Richmond papers make an appeal to the people to rally to the recruitment of the rebel armies. Their weakness is acknowledged; also the fact that the country has been drained of all willing soldiers, and that there are many throughout the South who are seeking to avoid the merciless conscription under any and every subterfuge. The drafting of old men and boys is recommended, also the reduction of the exemption from draft by reason of employment in civil occupations under the government.

☞ A Southern paper relates the following dream to answer all who may enquire when they think the war will end. A friend dreamed that he awoke from a sleep of fifty years and found himself upon the south bank of the Rapidan. He saw at a little distance from the spot where he awoke, a Corporal with seventeen men and a wheelbarrow. He approached and asked the Corporal what this little gathering meant. 'This,' replied the Corporal, 'is the army of Northern Virginia.' Where are the Yankees?' inquired our friend. 'They are on the other side of the river,' replied the Corporal. 'They have the advantage of us in number and transportation, as they have twenty-one men and two wheelbarrows; but we expect to get the advantage in position, will whip them, and then the war will end.'

☞ Ben (not Fernando) Wood's paper, the New York News of Thursday Sept. 15, begins an article by begging the peace men not to make a nomination, and ends it by saying "the Peace party will not nominate a candidate." He gives these reasons for it:

It is too late in the campaign for any independent ticket to have the remotest chance of success. The Peace party could not, within the brief space before the eighth of November, organize sufficiently to exhibit their real strength. But the absence of that strength from the McClellan ticket would be ruinous to it, and we yet hope that General McClellan will recede from his antagonism with the platform. Gentlemen who have hitherto been consistent Peace men, may like Honorable Thomas H. Seymour, James W. Wall, Fernando Wood, and others, choose to efface their record, and give up a Peace platform for one that promises a vigorous prosecution of hostilities; but they cannot carry the masses of the Peace party to the polls. Unless General McClellan should express himself in favor of an immediate cessation of hostilities and a Convention of all the States, hundreds of thousands of Peace men will stay away from the polls on the eighth of November.

GEN. SHERMAN'S CAMPAIGN. — Union and Rebel Losses. It has been estimated that the whole loss of Gen. Sherman in killed, wounded, and missing, since his departure from Chattanooga on his extraordinarily successful campaign, has been 31,000 — including the loss of portions of Stoneman's and Mc Cook's commands by capture, amounting to some 1000. He lost fifteen cannon. He has had two general officers — McPherson and Harker killed, and six wounded, but who are fast recovering.

Up to the period of the battle of Peach Tree Creek, near Atlanta, the rebel loss was less than ours — our advances having generally been made in the face of defenses of a strong character, or by dangerous flanking operations. Probably 10,000 would cover the rebel losses in skirmishes up to the period at which they were driven into Atlanta, while ours was about double that number. But the Confederates have lost in the battles at Resaca 3000, Dallas 4000, New Hope Church 1000, Kenesaw Mountain 1000, and in the battles of the 20th, 22d and 28th July, 1864, at least 24,500 — making their total loss 43,700, or nearly 12,000 more than that of Gen. Sherman. The enemy has suffered severely in the loss of general officers, losing four killed and seventeen wounded, according to their own papers. Their loss in cannon will exceed thirty, including eight 64-pounders, while at least twenty thousand stand of small arms have been left by them upon the field and come into our possession otherwise. In two battles they lost twenty-three stand of colors.

A LOADED BALE OF COTTON.—The Lowell Courier states that on Monday last while a bale of cotton was being opened on the Suffolk corporation, the workmen discovered a heavy iron shell somewhat conical in form imbedded in the centre of the bale. Appearances indicate that it is a regular percussion explosive shell, or else an infernal machine of some other character, placed in the bale purposely to do the work of death. It is about fifteen pounds in weight, and near it among the cotton were found two iron bands weighing perhaps fifteen pounds additional. The bale of cotton is quite an expensive one to the company, taking into account the sum of about $1.50 per pound paid for the metal found in its centre.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— Gold: Saturday, from 220 5-8 to 223 1-4.

— Sam. Medary's paper, the Ohio Crisis, repudiates McClellan.

The receipts for internal revenue during the past week have been nearly a million and a quarter per day.

Three free negroes, convicted of theft, were ordered to be sold into slavery at Richmond on Monday last.

— Brig. Gen. Hinks, who has been at home for a week recruiting his health, leaves Boston to-day, Monday, for Court Martial duty at Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

☞ The N. Y. News says there will be no new peace nomination. Nevertheless, on Wednesday night, in New York city, the peace democrats held a meeting and voted to call a Convention at Cincinnati during the present month.

— The price of coal fell six dollars per ton in Chicago last Monday—so the Tribune of that city says.

— Gen. Garfield, in a recent speech, says that the reason why the Chicago Democrats call the war a failure is, that if it succeeds it makes a failure of them.

—— In Jaffrey, on Wednesday, Sept. 14, Josiah Sawyer, a worthy and highly respected citizen, aged 64 years, was killed by an unmanageable colt, which ran away with the fore wheels of a wagon, and ran against Mr. Sawyer, giving him a fatal blow.

—— At Concord, on Friday, Sept. 16, Jane Morrison, representing herself to be of Dover or Nottingham, was arraigned before Commissioner Fowler for passing a counterfeit $20 greenback, altered from a $2. For want of $5000 bail she went to jail. The evidence is abundant and conclusive.

—— Four young women of Manchester, members of the convent, took the black veil a few days since, Rev. Dr. Bacon, of Portland, received the vows and conferred the veils, assisted by Rev. Mr. McDonald, of Manchester and two other clergymen.

— The Chicago Tribune says that the coal dealers of that city have formed a combination with the dealers in Buffalo and other Eastern ports, and with the managers of the lines of railroads running from those ports to the mines, not to let a ton of hard coal come to Chicago without first passing through their hands.

THE AMERICAN BOARD.—It will be gratifying to the many friends of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions to know that the call recently made upon the churches has been liberally responded to, and that the Board has received more than it asked. the Treasurer expects to be able to report at The annual meeting at Worcester. "There is no debt."

—Paymaster Lawrence, who has been tried and convicted of forging signatures upon pay rolls, has been sentenced to be cashiered and dishonorably dismissed the service of the United States with forfeiture of all pay, to be imprisoned at hard labor for six years, and to pay a fine of thirty-five thousand dollars, and be imprisoned until said fine is paid, provided that the entire term of imprisonment shall not exceed twelve years. The President has approved the sentence, and directs that it be carried into effect.

A CLEAN SWEEP IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—In view of the fall of Atlanta, Gov. Bonham of South Carolina has issued orders requiring all persons liable to military service to assemble at certain designated places for organization, and adds that the persons liable under this order include those between sixteen and seventeen years of age, residents, aliens, exempts from Confederate service between seventeen and sixty years of age, and all detailed persons who are not in some Confederate military organization.

A SKILFUL COLORED MECHANIC.—Prof. A. W. Smith, of the Naval School, Newport, R. I., exhibited at our office, a few days ago, a very ingeniously constructed minature steam engine and boiler of about six-fly power, we should judge, which was designed and constructed by Benjamin Boardly, once a slave in Maryland. Attracted by the mechanical genius and skill of Boardly, a few gentlemen clubbed together and purchased him and gave him his liberty. He soon found employment in the Naval Academy, and under Prof. Smith he now has the sole charge of the philosophical apparatus of the institution. Scientific American.

A SIGNIFICANT CONFESSION.—Saturday forenoon, (says the Portland Press) when the report came of the capture of Mobile, a democrat who claims to be exceedingly loyal, in a sneering way said he supposed by Monday morning there would be news of the fall of Richmond, in order to influence the election!

This remark, intended as a sneer, covers a very significant confession that news of a rebel defeat in the South will aid in securing a Copperhead defeat at the North—that Union victories in the field will give victory to the Union cause at the polls!

We should like to know (continues the Press) how a person expects to be credited for loyalty to the government, who voluntarily connects himself and acts with a party whose success or defeat he thus confesses to be identified with those of the enemy?

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

Local.

THE DEMOCRATIC RATIFICATION MEETING of the nomination of McClellan and Pendleton, was held in this city on Saturday, according to announcement. The weather was superb, and several hundred people gathered to participate in the exercises. On the arrival of the morning trains, a Procession was formed, with H. F. Wendell, Esq., as Chief Marshal; and after parading the streets, to the splendid music of the Portsmouth and Wilton (Fort Constitution) Bands, and witnessing from Union Wharf the launch at the Navy Yard—they marched to Market Square, where stands had been erected for the bands and speakers.

As our entire reportorial force, and indeed all the Chronicle hands we believe, like almost everybody else, considered the Navy Yard the more attractive exhibition, we are unable to speak much of this celebration, except from hearsay. And our informants, both strangers and citizens, all regard the celebration as rather a cold failure—but perhaps they were all prejudiced; no doubt they were. We hope those who got it up enjoyed the day.

The following were the officers of the meeting:

President — Hon. Charles H. Peaslee, of Portsmouth.

Vice Presidents—Hon. John S. Bennett, New Market; Hon. John M. Weare, Seabrook; Hon. Clement March, Greenland; Col. Thomas J. Parsons, Rye; Hon. James H. Butler, Nottingham; Thomas Tarlton, New Castle; Frank T. Pickering, Newington; J. P. Elkins, North Hampton; Hon. Uri Lamprey, Hampton; Bard P. Roberts, So. New Market; Alvah Wood, Exeter; Israel N. Gale, Deerfield; Hon. Robert Morrison, Northwood: Hon. Thomas P. Treadwell, Concord; Dr. Josiah C. Eastman, Hampstead; Alonzo Connor, Concord; Daniel Melcher, Exeter; Dr. J. H. Smith, Dover; Judge Whittemore, Hooksett; Dr. Nat Batchelder, Epping.

Secretaries—Richard Walden, Wm. Marvin, Thomas Norton, of Portsmouth; O. C. Coffin, Concord; Maj. H. H. Smith, New Market; James Hanson, Dover; Wm. P. Foster, Concord.

Speeches were made—some of them long, and said to be able, and we have no doubt interesting to the thousand or two of people who were gathered round the stand when we passed—made by Messrs. W. C. Wilson and E. R. Wiggin of Maine, H. P. Scott and W. H. Hetzel of New York, Wm. Alger of Mass., and perhaps others.

We did not hear a word of them, but presume the statements and arguments advanced, were the stereotyed talk of the Opposition party of late. One friend of ours says that as he passed, he heard one spouter say that slavery was the cause of the war, the same as woman is the cause of bigamy; and another speaker, we are told, stated that Gen. Hooker told him a day or two ago, in New York, that he should vote for McClellan. (If so, Hooker must have been sick, as reported, notwithstanding the contradiction.)

Ex-President Pierce was in town on Friday, and we were told he was here on Saturday; but, at any rate, we are pretty sure that he took no part in this meeting, nor did John H. George, we think, although he was announced.

The city was full of people, our own citizens generally being "out," and hundreds coming in from the country, in teams and on the railroads. But hardly one in ten seemed to take any interest in the ratification—"the launch" was the great attraction. We are told there were actually but seven or eight Portsmouth men in the procession, before the launch; and while we have not heard a person estimate the full number who joined in the march, nor indeed have we met a man who even saw it; a friend argees with our passing guess, that there were from 1,000 to 1,500 present to hear the talking.

Salutes were fired at sunrise, noon and sunset, and we believe also on the arrival of the cars. It was designed also to have the church bells rung, and arrangements were made with the sextons therefor; but the wardens forbade it, and very properly too. For we never knew the bells to be rung for any party or private celebration, and it would be especially absurd to use them to glorify the party that denounces the churches and their pastors so bitterly.—For the rejoicing over a National victory or blessing, or the inauguration of any President, it is entirely a different matter.

Large and elegant flags, with the names of McClellan & Pendleton, but without other inscription, were swung over Daniel, Pleasant and Water streets. There was plenty of good music during the day, from the two full and splendid Bands—which was the best part of the performances, as it is of all celebrations. And in the evening, after most of the people had left, the Portsmouth Cornet Band was out, with a crowd of the democracy, and played at the house of Gen. Peaslee, who with his guests, some of the orrtors of the day, briefly addressed the company.

But we have devoted more room to this pow-wow than it is worth, (to us, at least,) and we will now leave it, to speak of a matter of vastly more interest to us than any political meeting—a pleasure visit to the Navy Yard, to see the launch.

THE LAUNCH of the U. S. Steam Frigate Franklin, from the great ship-house at the Navy Yard, at high noon of Saturday, was indeed a grand spectacle; but, as we expected, many were disappointed at the very short run she was allowed to make.—The water-room in rear of the immense craft, would allow her to clear the ways only by a short length; so four cables were run out and attached to heavy anchors sunk on the Yard, to check her—only one of which she parted, we believe. A boom of logs, and heavy log-buoys, were also anchored near, to aid in stopping her. And all arrangements were admirably made, and operated to a charm; and the result must have been as much to the satisfaction of the Officers of the Yard in charge, as to the gratification of the world of spectators. Promptly on time, the usual shout from the crowd, (without which we never saw any vessel launch, nor do we believe one can be got off without it,) announced that the noble craft had started; and in less time than it takes a three-minute horse to turn a mile track, this magnificent specimen of naval architecture had settled quietly into her native (?) element, and was as calmly riding at her anchor, as if she had always been used to it. But what a shame it was, to pull her up so short, just when she had got on so good speed. None of the lookers-on liked it a bit, to have their fun cut off in such a manner; nor did the gamey craft herself relish her curb, for she parted one cable which held her to her land-buried anchors, and would doubtless have carried-away the other three, had not the two huge anchors surrendered their deep earth hold, and been dragged down to the head of the ways.

There was an immense attendance, from far and near, to witness the launch; and the animated scene presented, with the tide full, the river covered with craft of all sorts moving about, and the U. S. Ship Vandalia and her tender, the schooner Beauregard both gaily dressed with all their bunting, "the blue above and the blue below" clearly brought out by the bright morning sun, and the thousands of men, women and children who crowded the shores on all hands—was indeed beautiful and inspiriting.

After the launch, Adm. Pearson received his friends in large numbers, at his residence on the Yard—including many of our prominent citizens, and distinguished gentlemen from abroad. Of the press, we noticed Messrs. Gilman and Lincoln of the Portland Press, and Mr. Prescott of the Concord Ind. Dem. Mr. Pearson has now spent four years at the Yard, as Commandant; and with many present, this call to offer the congratulations of the occasion, and enjoy the always-bountiful hospitalities dispensed by the family, was regarded as a farewell to this faithful and highly-respected Officer, and courteous gentleman.

Messrs. Proctor and Childs, clerks at the Yard, also had prepared a beautiful ball in a spacious loft of one of the storehouses—and with its tasteful drapery of the flags of all nations, and the elevated orchiestra on which the Quadrille Band had just mounted, and the charming partners then beginning to gather, the attraction was almost too great for a susceptible man to resist; but on this occasion we had to dance attendance on a different sort of business altogether.

Capt. Bowers, of the Vandalia, also received and handsomely entertained, large numbers of his friends, on board his ship.

The Mechanics at the Yard also served up an immense Collation, in the new boat-house, to which everybody and his wife were invited, and they went too. The U. S. Band from Portland furnished the music, and all hands seemed to be enjoying themselves.

The Franklin was commenced in 1855 by William L. Hanscom, Esq., who was then Naval Constructor of the Yard. The Franklin is a first-class steam frigate, capable of carrying 50 guns, and the only one in our Navy which can really be considered as such; for, although the Wabash, Colorado, Minnesota, Roanoke (razeed), Merrimac (destroyed), and Niagara are rated in the naval register as frigates, they never could carry a frigate's armament. The Niagara assumed to a frigate's title, and attempts were made to arm her with a heavy battery, but it resulted in a lamentable failure, as many of the guns had to be removed to render her fit for sea service.

The Franklin measures nearly 4000 tons, and is a magnificent vessel. She was built with scrupulous care, and the very best timber and material were employed in her construction. Particular pains were taken in securing the best mechanics to work on her. Those who superintended her building were desirous of producing the finest vessel in the navy, and this was the reason why they used such unusual precaution.

The Franklin originated from an old line-of-battle ship of that name built in 1797.—Secretary Dobbin of the Navy Department proposed to re-build her, and she was sent to Portsmouth for that purpose. She was examined, but found so rotten that the idea was abandoned. A frigate was then designed, on which was used what thoroughly sound wood was found in the hulk of the Franklin. And this fine vessel is the offspring of that old line-of-battle ship, and bears her name.

She has been lying now on the stocks for nearly ten years ready for launching. Why she has not been fitted for sea, when so formidable a vessel was so greatly needed, has been the source of no little surprise to those who are acquainted with the character of the ship.—Boston Traveller.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank, "
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an official cure for

CONSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the initiation of the use of surgical, Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (or vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicines. They are also made in form PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are passed through the stomach and bowels, half dissolved, without the slightest TASTE, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, operates, while two will produce more sensible and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffusive throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulates the secretory and morbid secretions through the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obstinate and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It mollies the various organs of the system to act their allotted parts, and removes the causes which induce RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no poisonous substance, is perfectly innocuous, and stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—not a drastic, violent cathartic. Invalids, the feeble, and there are here no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public as the proprietor of SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New York Eclectic Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1826.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative and healing effect Vinnie, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to such person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 13 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston. aug—3moeod&w

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce or which we believe ever yet been made by anybody. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow disease, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their healthy action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also dangerous and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Many cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The above bottles below named are pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for their use, and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in the Region of the Bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Worms, Colic, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Rheumatic Affections, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of the vital organs.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Would most respectfully solicite the attention and examination of all Grocers, Druggists, Apothecaries and Private Individuals, desiring to sell or Use STRICTLY PURE

Liquors, Wines, Cordials or Bitters,

to the list of choice goods enumerated below, which are constantly on hand in large quantities in his Large and Spacious

Wine Store and Bottling Establishment,

99 Washington street, Boston.

First on the list, as a reliable pure stimulant, stands the celebrated and widely-known

Golden Sheaf Bourbon Whiskey,

made from Wheat, Rye and Corn, warranted for five years old. Put up in unique style, each bottle in a paper box, in cases of one dozen each, the large and increasing sale of which convinces the proprietors that no extended advertisement is needed to extol its real merits. It will recommend itself on trial.

Golden Sheaf Cordial.

A delightful and healthful beverage, aromatic, with a rich ginger cordial, made from the pure Golden Sheaf Bourbon.

Golden Sheaf Bitters.

The best Tonic Bitter ever offered to the public. Mingled with the rich flavor of the Bourbon are a number of other ingredients even more agreeable and imparting life and vigor to the whole system.

Golden Sheaf Punch.

Made from fresh, ripe lemons, and other articles, combined as a whole into a fine rich

Bourbon Whiskey Punch.

All the above put up full strength of the whiskey, and in cases of one dozen each. These articles improve by age, and no exposure of climate can injure them.

JOHN AND ROBERT DUNSTER'S CELEBRATED

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being thinner, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and air-tight heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet and oven in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this and vicinity can testify, who now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this novel valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air is brought in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE NATIONAL SAILOR'S FAIR. — A writer in the September number of the United States Service Magazine, on "The Naval Hospital Establishment," after showing the inadequacy of the existing means to relieve the distresses of disabled seamen, thus speaks of an enterprise started by private individuals, and to which we have frequently called the attention of our readers:

For reason such as have been briefly alluded to in the course of this article, some benevolent citizens, who are thoughtful of the welfare of our naval seamen, propose to hold a National Sailor's Fair at Boston, Mass., in November next, with a view to devoting its proceeds towards the foundation of a free-home system, that for the temporary and permanent accommodation of such disabled persons of the navy as are not admissible under the laws and regulations into the naval asylum, but extending under many; and capable of being expanded to the localities in the vicinity of our principal naval stations, so that the invalid may be accessible to his home-friends without cost of much time or money for travel.

No plan has been yet determined, because the extent and general nature of the institution must depend very much on the amount of money at command to found it. One suggestion is that there shall be a village, composed of snug cottages, each containing three or four small apartments, and each in the midst of a small garden: so that the invalid who has a family may still preserve his domestic ties, provided that the wife and children can support themselves by labor of any sort. A barrack for the bachelors, and a suitable hospital or infirmary for the sick, a public school-house, a library, a church, a museum, etc., are to form the centre of this Seamenstown, inhabited by the no legged and one-legged, the one-armed and no-armed, the one eye-l and no-eyed seamen and marines of the navy, with their wives and children.

As in every American town, the inhabitants of Seamanstown are to participate in the government so far that all may be interested in securing for themselves a peaceful and orderly existence and be in some measure responsible for their own happiness. The principal magistracies are to be filled by retired veteran officers, who would serve as physicians, fiscal agents, schoolmasters, chaplains, etc. This proposed community, founded for the destitute and decrepit, is to be so conducted that the comfort and happiness of its members will be contingent, in some degree at least, upon their efforts to augment their resources by employment suited to their maimed condition. Hope of profit or advantage of some sort is to be made a motive for exertion. Idleness is to be discountenanced. Public opinion is to be the chief power; but all are to be bound to be amenable to military tribunals and the laws of the Navy of the United States.

There is to be no palace for paupers; no vast pile of brick and mortar, trimmed with marble or sandstone, to delight the eye of the passer-by, while with seeming comfort there is a reticent misery within, sheltered from general observation by military formalities and ceremonies and uniforms. It is designed to assist those lamed, war-worn, sea horses with plain oats; not a grain is to be gilded; no habits of life or forms of food to which they have not been accustomed are to be imposed upon the recipients of the proposed bounty of the benevolent who have the means to indulge themselves in the luxury of generously giving. The beneficiaries are to be assisted; their deficiencies are to be filled up only so far as will enable them to live in the plain manner they would have lived, most probably, had no physical misfortune checked their career and given them a claim to be helped by those who have not been curtailed of their ability to help themselves.

NORTH CAROLINA. — The Newbern Times says there is no doubt but that the interior of North Carolina is in a complete uproar over the conscripts and deserters. On the 18th of August a collision took place in Moore county between the deserters, some seven hundred in number, and the State Guards, in which the latter were repulsed with a loss of four killed and one wounded. A continued stream of refugees is constantly pouring into the "Yankee wigwam at Newbern." There is evidently a deep seated feeling of enmity to the Confederates, or the swelling tide of refugees would cease.

— Brig. Gen. Joshua B. Howell, of Terry's division of the 10th corps, was accidentally killed on the night of the 14th by his horse rearing and falling over upon him. He was upward of 65 years old and highly respected.

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.
LADIES, READ THIS!
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning or evening dew.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Editorials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and all accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made only seven rejected applications for CITIZENS' ORIGINAL PATENTS, EVERY one of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

From the Valley of the Shenandoah, "One of our men, who was a prisoner and who has escaped, reports the enemy as having taken a pontoon train through Winchester in the direction of Martinsburg three days ago, and that report says the enemy's pioneer corps is engaged in constructing pontoons. Early's headquarters are near Stephenson's. Quite a number of conscripts have arrived to reenforce Early. Two hundred and eighty Union prisoners are held near Winchester.

A reconnoissance found rebel cavalry at Bunker Hill, and infantry four miles north of Stephenson's.

From Chattanooga we learn that a newspaper called the Griffin Rebel of the 14th, contains an order by Governor Brown, of Georgia, withdrawing the 15,000 militia from General Hood's army, for thirty days.

The 35,000 Federal prisoners at Andersonville, Ga., have been sent to Savannah and Augusta.

Scarcely a vestige has been found of the nine persons who were blown up with the rebel powder mills at Augusta, Ga., on the 27th ult.

The Vicksburg Herald of the 10th says there has been a concentration of the rebel forces at Jackson, Miss. Forrest's, Taylor's, Gilson's and Wirt Adams' troops are encamped around that city for several miles. The force is estimated at 20,000, with extensive wagon, pontoon and artillery trains.

The rebel Gen. Forrest crossed Coldwater on Monday of last week, and camped fifteen miles from Memphis. Marmaduke with 7000 men, is to cross at St. Francis, intending to invade Missouri. Price is threatening Little Rock.

Mexicans just arrived at New Orleans report that Cortinas, finding himself unable to cope with the French, crossed his forces 2000 men, with 16 cannon, over the Rio Grand, and occupied Brownsville, after driving out the rebels under Ford. Cortinas then hoisted the American flag, declaring that he was born on that side of the river, that he was a citizen of the United States, and he would hold Brownsville for that Government. He immediately notified the American Commander at Brazos of his proceedings, and offered through him to the United States Government the services of himself and army.

Dr. Bowles, of Bowles Springs, Indiana, was arrested on Sunday by order of Gen. Hovey, on a charge of treason.

SEMMES.—A recent letter from the Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Times says: A good deal has been said in the American papers about the relation in which Capt. Semmes now stands in regard to Capt. Winslow; but nowhere has the case been as well stated as was done by Capt. Winslow himself, at Paris, after the combat.

"When a man surrenders, he takes upon himself the obligation to deliver up his person to his enemy, for if such were not the case no surrender would be accepted; there would, in fact, be no such thing as a surrender. The defeated man would be fired at until he was killed, or until he had arrived under the control of his enemy. When a man surrenders, therefore, he does so in order that his enemy may cease the fire which is destroying him; and if it were not a rule that the surrendering man was to come and deliver up his person, his enemy most assuredly would never stop firing at him, and thus no such thing as a surrender could exist.

Captain Semmes surrendered to me, and I stopped firing in order not to destroy him; and, instead of delivering himself up as he engaged to do by this act, he took advantage of the cessation in the firing to escape, and this escape was accomplished in a way which I could not have deemed possible, and therefore did not foresee. His conduct in this matter I shall not qualify; it will be properly appreciated by every sailor. By all the rules of honorable warfare he is now my prisoner, on parole. In my opinion Semmes also regards himself as a prisoner on parole, and I do not believe he will go into service again unless he is exchanged. The fact of his finding refuge under a foreign flag or on foreign soil has nothing to do with his personal relations to me, and Capt. Semmes so well understands this that he will not again be caught on the sea."

☞ The Army and Navy Journal says, "the young man who disgraced himself by running away with Belle Boyd, as she is called, cannot in any sense be regarded as a representative of our Navy. Having had some little experience on merchantmen, he was appointed in our Navy, and at the time of his desertion he bore the rank of Acting Ensign. During his service at sea he distinguished himself chiefly by writing letters to a New York daily newspaper. Being a weak-minded fellow, he was easily led into dishonor by the woman he had under his charge."

"When a superior race like ours," said one of the chivalry to a modest looking federal soldier, "comes in contact with an inferior race like negroes, what do you think will be the results? "I guess the contact must result in a big crop of mulattoes in your State, judging from the complexion of a good many of your people," retorted the soldier.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The 7th Company Heavy Artillery, Capt. Libby, left Concord, Saturday morning for Washington. Also, eighty-five volunteers and substitutes, for the several N. H. regiments in the field.

—— The following deaths have occurred in the Hampton Hospital since last report: J. H. Wells, 4th U. S. artillery; J. C. Nappelle, 3d New Hampshire.

—— Mr. Daniel G. Carter, of Fitzwilliam, committed suicide on the 13th inst. by hanging himself.

—— Hon. E. W. Harrington of Manchester has sold his splendid span of grey horses to Mr. R. E. Carter, of Boston. Price about $800.

—— The following New Hampshire soldiers, released from prison at Richmond, arrived at the Naval School Hospital, Annapolis, Md., in August: 3d Reg't., J. D. Comings, Lee, Co. D; Dan'l W. Gilbert, Co. I; Amos Jennings, Unity, Co. F.—4th Reg't., George W. Heath, Atkinson, Co. E; Rufus Knapp, Co. H.—5th Reg't, Frank Avery, Co. D; D. C. Conway, Gorham, Co. F; Simon Kenney, Tuftonborough, Co. H.—8th Reg't., F. W. Archer, Orford, Co. A; C. W. Symonds, Co. I.—1st Cavalry, D. A. Smith, Rindge, Co. C.

—— The Manchester Mirror says the Martin Guards, (10th Battery Heavy Artillery N. H. V.) was mustered in for one year at Portsmouth, Friday. The commissioned officers are: Captain, George C. Houghton: Senior First Lieutenant, Charles L. Bailey; Junior First Lieutenant J. Edgar Johnson; Senior Second Lieutenant, Henry A. Lawrence; Junior Second Lieutenant, Edward J. Wing.—The Union says Mr. H. H. Huntress, Manchester, is authorized to recruit 25 men for the Guards, now at (Fort Constitution.)

—— A few weeks since the owner of the stallion George Wilkes, (late Robert Fillingham) Mr. William Simmons, of New York, offered Peter W. Jones, of Amherst, this State, the owner of Empress, three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) for a two year old trotting colt; but Mr. Jones politely declined the offer.

—— Gen. Hooker authorizes the editor of the Washington Republican to say, that any and all statements that he intends to declare for McClellan are false.

☞ At the Vermont State Fair, last week, for the first class premiums of $100, there were entered the mare Empress, owned by Peter W. Jones of Amherst, N. H., and which took a prize at the recent Springfield exhibition; the mare Mickey Free of Boston, formerly known as the Pet Roan; and the Wellington horse, of Hartford. The conditions were best two in three, mile heats. The first stakes of $100 was taken by Empress. She was well driven and was the favorite among the spectators. Her speed was 2 42, 2 39 and 2 35.

THE STATE QUOTA lacks only about one thousand of being filled, and this number will be largely reduced by enlistments between this and the last hour of grace. After all, Gov. Gilmore was not far out of the way when he said there would never be another draft in New Hampshire.

CRINOLINE is a nuisance, and we are glad to see it stated that the Empress of Austria, among others, has exerted herself to put it down. She has ceased to wear it herself, and forbidden all persons to wear it in her presence. The curates of several provincial churches, supported by their vestry, have levied a tax of twenty cents on every person habited in crinoline who enters their church. One curate has been so bold as to interdict his church to crinoline, and he has provided a dressing room where the offensive article of dress may be taken off. The manager of the Paris Grand Opera has likewise forbidden all persons connected with the Opera from wearing it.

☞ In New York City, Collector Draper's investigations into alleged corrupt practices at the Custom House, according to the Express, are developing villanies. Officials have been not only in the habit of helping themselves to the most costly goods and in the most extravagant quantities, but if a merchant even hinted at a complaint, cases of this most costly goods would be placed in a damp place, where they would soon lose half their worth. The wives and lady friends of officials, after being introduced to the importers, would always visit their stores and select whatever they wanted, and order it to be sent home without paying a cent. If they were refused, the officials were informed and the merchant made to suffer severely.

— The two men of the 56th N. Y. Vols. who were captured recently at Port Royal Island, under peculiar circumstances, have returned to our lines, having been sent back by the rebel Gen. Jones, on his becoming cognizant of the facts in the case. He declined to approve the action of his pickets in entrapping these men by false representations, and would not regard them in the light of prisoners of war. By the very first opportunity, he turned them over to our authorities, without equivalent, and declared them duly exchanged.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

— Gold in New York, Monday, 225 1 4.

— There is a report of a pirate among the fishermen on the Banks.

— Every stock exchange in Europe quivered at the news of Louis Napoleon's being capped.

— General Gillem has been made a Brigadier-General, as a reward for his exploit in killing John Morgan and capturing his staff.

— The total subscription to 7.30's to date is over thirty-five millions, and the notes are ready for immediate delivery.

— Twenty-five "pinchbeck" stores have been closed in Baltimore, to protect the soldiers' money.

— Colonel T. W. Higginson is at Worcester, Mass., still much out of health, and not likely to return to his regiment.

☞ Thanks to Messrs. H. B. Rand and John O. Hanscom, for late California papers.

— There is a hospital for the insane of the Army and Navy at Washington, which contains two hundred and fifty persons from the Army and twenty from the Navy.

— The Army and Navy Journal says, "It is the day of platforms, and we give ours with the rest. The Union first; Peace next; War last; Separation never."

— The Boston Journal says four young Kentuckians seceded from Exeter Academy the other day, because a colored lad from New Bedford was admitted to the institution.

"It was not the sword of Cæsar that destroyed the liberty of Rome, but the demagogues that thronged the forum with souls dead to their country's honor, and spotted with corruption."

— Nine hogsheads and fifteen large boxes of personal effects belonging to the estate of the memorable Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, were sold at auction at Baltimore last week. Included was a china dinner set of 270 pieces, presented to the illustrious patriot as a birth day present.

LAUGHING GAS.— A single Dental establishment in Boston has supplied the Nitrous Oxide over forty-two hundred times during the last year, and have extracted more than twelve thousand teeth by its aid, —in no instance failing, and affording ample satisfaction in all cases.

— A dispatch at the Boston Merchants' Exchange from New York, states that accounts from Bahia to Aug. 14, say that the reported capture of an American ship with $72,000 in specie on board, by the pirate Florida, is a hoax.

☞ The number of retailers who sell liquor in the United States is more than one half of that of all the retail dealers in the country, for the 10 dollar retail dealers' license produces 1,226,912 dollars, while the 20 dollar liquor retail license is credited for 1,476,854 dollars.

☞ When a soldier gets drunk at the conscript camp, New Haven, a large piece of tin, labeled, in large letters, "Whiskey," is placed upon his back, and a bottle swung from his coat-tail, and with these adornments he is compelled to parade the grounds.

☞ Ex-Gov. Steele, who started on a trip to the West, and to attend the Chicago convention, met with a serious loss in New York, by some adroit scamp who extracted his pocket book containing $135 in money. Sickness we learn, prevented his attending the Convention, and he is now with his son in Ohio, very much out of health. He will return when convalescent.

INCREASE OF INSANITY. — On January 1, 1849, there were 6,931 patients in private asylums and 7,269 in public. In the former there are now only 4,455, and in the latter as many as 23,880. The Commissioners in Lunacy exercise a watchful care over the welfare of 44,695 persons of unsound or defective intellect. — London Chemist and Druggist.

☞ The Manchester Union says, "It is a fact demonstrated by long observation, that war is never so destructive as to diminish the fighting population of a country.—Notwithstanding the large losses in this war, it is a fact that there are more men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five in both the North and South, than there were three years ago."

— There "are good reasons for believing that an attack on Wilmington, N. C., will be made before long. It is said the naval force will be commanded by Rear Admiral Porter, though a strong pressure is being made upon the administration to assign the task to Admiral Farragut, who has never yet known what it is to fail in any undertaking."

S17 JOSEPH H FOSTER.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcerations and distresses in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females
IN DELICATE HEALTH.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott street, Boston, may be consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain of their effect are his treatments of that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had a greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, where the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

Local.

THE DRAFT in this District was commenced at the Provost Marshal's Office in this city on Monday afternoon—the result of which we give elsewhere. Respecting the progress of operations, we learn that some of the towns which have done least towards filling their quotas, will be first drawn from.

The Provost Marshal believes that when all the credits are in, the whole deficiency will not be more than 250; and if enlistments at the office go on as they have for they have for the past month, it would require but a few days to supply this.

There is still ample time to finish the work by voluntary effort. The drafting will not be hurried, and Selectmen and Agents of towns still in arrears are urged to proceed with all dispatch in the filling of their quotas, as it is the earnest desire of the Government to accomplish the result with as little resort to compulsory means as possible. The Board of Enrollment will omit no effort to accommodate the public, and volunteers and substitutes for the delinquent towns will be received up to the last practicable moment, both before and after draft.

The following approximates very nearly to the deficiencies still existing in the sub-districts mentioned, though several of them will be considerably reduced by credits still to be reported to the Provost Marshal:

Special Notice.

To the Readers of the Morning Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned would respectfully ask attention to the preparations known as

Hunnewell's Universal Cough Remedy

The Great Remedy for all Throat and Lung Complaints.

HUNNEWELL'S TOLU ANODYNE,

A perfect relief for Neuralgia, all Nervous Complaints, and Loss of Sleep.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS,

Declared to be the most perfect Cathartic and Family Pill; seldom requiring more than One for a dose, without Griping, and one that should be known to every family.

These preparations will be noticed each month, and originating from most potent questions in Medicine, enjoyed for ten years unbounded reputation, readers are invited to accept such notices as a true index of character, and give me their confidence to test them.

☞ We don't know that criticism or complaint is of much use—but we must relieve our excited feelings, by saying that, in our opinion, the streets of this city, generally, were never in so bad a condition at this season of the year, as now. The crosswalks and ledges are sticking high out of the ground, and loose stones and gullies abound everywhere. Not to mention the dust and rubbish which is constantly being spread broadcast in the streets, by people who doubtless consider themselves neat.

☞ The Lyceum Committee of last year, held a preliminary meeting last week; and adjoined to this Tuesday evening, at the Chronicle Counting Room, when it is hoped there will be a full attendance. There will probably be a Course of Lectures this season, to be opened by John B. Gough, the last of October. The price of tickets will have to be increased, if not double; and there is talk of having reserved seats, at an extra price, if the thing can be managed.

☞ The Dry Dock was hauled out at the Navy Yard on Monday, preparatory to receiving the steamer San Jacinto, which is to undergo repairs in coppering and caulking, etc. After this vessel is taken out of the dock, the steamer Franklin is to be taken in for the purpose of being coppered.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

CHRONICLE PRICES AND TERMS.

The price of the Daily Chronicle is $10 a year, or $8 in advance; 75 cents per month—20 cts. per week—5 cents single copy.

The (Weekly) N. H. Gazette $2 per year in advance—6 cents single copy.

Terms Cash—or all bills for Advertising, &c., to be presented at the pleasure of the publisher.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—From this date our Carriers of Subscribers' lists are not allowed to sell copies of the Chronicle, nor to receive pay for any subscriptions, except when furnished by us with receipts for the same,—which will not be given for less term than 1 month, 75 cts., or 3 months $2 in advance. If any prefer to pay weekly, they can do so at our counting room only. Will all concerned please remember this, and thus aid in the more prompt and accurate delivery of our papers. Sept. 1.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. Its use always brings a smile to the household; it keeps them in health; it helps make the weak strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. As you value health, use it. Most all grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ Special attention is asked to Hunnewell's preparations, advertised on our inside columns. They are based on true medical laws, used very largely by Physicians, and most undoubted testimonials are in the hands of the proprietor, always open to inspection. Let Portsmouth and its vicinity bear testimony by a confidence to test them, which will be sacred. ☞

FACTS FOR SOLDIERS. — Throughout the Inndia and Crimean Campaigns, the only medicines which proved themselves able to cure the worst cases of Dysentery, Scurvy, and Fever, were Holloway's Pills and Ointment. Therefore, let every volunteer see that he is supplied with them.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 228

Special Notice.

To the Readers of the Morning Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned would respectfully ask attention to the preparations known as

Hunnewell's Universal Cough Remedy

The Great Remedy for all Throat and Lung Complaints.

HUNNEWELL'S TOLU ANODYNE,

A perfect relief for Neuralgia, all Nervous Complaints, and Loss of Sleep.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS,

Declared to be the most perfect Cathartic and Family Pill; seldom requiring more than One for a dose, without Griping, and one that should be known to every family.

These preparations will be noticed each month, and originating from most potent questions in Medicine, enjoyed for ten years unbounded reputation, readers are invited to accept such notices as a true index of character, and give me their confidence to test them.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank, "

and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and afford

EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one. We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS.—This popular Troupe will give two entertainments at the Temple on Friday and Saturday next, Sept. 23d and 24th. Newcomb is well known here. The Providence Journal, not given to general puffing, has the following:

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS.—The popularity of this company was indicated last night by the fact that, notwithstanding the northeast rain-storm, the Academy of Music was full beyond its capacity to afford seats. And the enthusiastic applause was prompt, spontaneous and irrepressible. "Newcomb in Old Virginia", came near closing the performance, for it did seem for a time as though the audience would hear nothing else. There was not a dead or even a tame piece on the programme, but everything was lively, from the introductory overture to the unapproachable musket drill of Sergeant Childers, who brought down the house by his manual of arms.

☞ A vagrant cripple, who claims to have been a soldier, and to belong in Rockland, Me., and who had been putting an enemy into his mouth to steal away what brains he had—got straight in the way of a carriage which was passing down by the Post Office, on Friday afternoon, and was knocked down by the horse and stunned.—No great damage done—and the poor fellow came out as well as usual, next morning, after spending the night at the free-blow hotel, in charge of City Marshal Dresser.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with more difficult science and skill in importance to the inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves powerful and disagreeable, are by a new and analytic process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and sickening pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant sensation will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicine.

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible, and often tables are passed through the stomach and bowels, half-dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain in the parts connected with their passage.

One pill dissolved, sensation ceases, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy tone and vigor to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and inactive secretions through the system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and hope. THE BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR, if a continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve the other organs of APPETITE—which will be by this purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their allotted parts, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SICK HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—but a decided, salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure from a change of climate, of water, or of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of this Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1824.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offer to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the money which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 19 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr Richardson's Office, No. 41 Hanover street, Boston. eod—1mo3d W

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhea, and is especially recommended in those cases of Urine Albus or Whites in females, where all the old numerous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites, as its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordees and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the casting being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely obviated. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 25 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and pipe-joints for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as I suppose her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Spring, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which effected a perfect cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors." I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of the Medicine. JOSIAH PRESCOTT.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all my food. I tried everything I could, but nothing relieved me until I commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, I have enjoyed good health so far as to feel equally by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CURRIER.
Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 2 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Important to the Afflicted.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his rooms, No. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most aggravated cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Tumors, Ulcers, Gonorrhœa and Gleet, Stricture of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Tumors, frightful swellings, and the thousand and one other serious disease of this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those diseases caused by a state of solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by this habit are—Loss of sight, Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The mental effects on the mind are much to be dreaded—loss of memory, Confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils it produces. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of their cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotics, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.
Highly Important to Females
IN DELICATE HEALTH.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and a speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. Females already certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the delicate female sees rapidly returning to health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days, under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours 7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
CERTAIN CURE
In all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. on the above named diseases, and he will cure cases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to visit him at his office.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.
Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given show that the MOST SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them as full and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all of which patents have been granted, and that in one pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of a large practice, made twelve hundred applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Old Established Hospital,
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!
THE ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being by correspondence, he has dealt with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the latest as well as the latest remedies for those diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blotches, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other Impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with unknown success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their manhood, and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all the blessings of a healthy and happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of the various diseases of this class.
Also,
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling Disclosures. Dr. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage, is now ready—full set of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. Dr. Teller's Lecture on the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr Teller has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Nichols' Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female complaint unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package. For the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the World, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 9 to 5 P. M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, and inclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted to be cured or no charge.
N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Commercial's Washington special dispatch says: "The report that Sherman's troops are passing through Washington to reinforce Grant was caused by the movements of large numbers of Western recruits who are crowding the railroads in this direction. Sherman has plenty of work for his troops in another quarter."

At New Orleans there is much dispute over the Mexican news. It is not generally believed, but some knowing ones assert positively that it is true. Cortinas is said to be still at Fort Brown with 16 guns bearing on Matamoras. Col. Ford's rebel cavalry are encamped ten miles up the Rio Grande, and the French have moved on ten miles from Bagdad.

The news of the fall of Atlanta produced great despondency among the rebels, and corresponding joy among loyal people.

Hood's army is reported, through loyal sources, to be greatly demoralized.

All the trans-Mississippi rebel army with the exception of Buckner's brigade, has moved up toward White river, and Buckner confronts the remnant of our army at Morganzia. Our main force has been sent away from Morganzia, and its destination is contraband.

Col. S. Leyermanke, the rebel Commissioner of Exchange, and Col. Dwight, the Federal Commissioner, were in consultation at Morganzia Sept. 12th, and it is hoped a general exchange of prisoners will result from their interview.

Official accounts from the Shenandoah Valley, give the gratifying intelligence that on Monday, Sept. 19, our Gen. Sheridan gained a great victory over the rebel army. Gen. S. says, in his report to Gen. Grant:

I attacked the forces of Gen. Early, over the Berryville pike, at the crossing of Opequan creek, and after a most stubborn and sanguinary engagement, which lasted from early in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening, completely defeated him, driving him through Winchester, and capturing about 2500 prisoners, 5 pieces of artillery, 9 army flags, and most of their wounded.

The rebel Gen. Rhodes and Gen. Gordon were killed, and three other general officers were wounded. All their killed fell into our hands.

Our losses are severe. Among them was Gen. D. A. Russell, killed; Gens. Upton, McIntosh and Chapman, wounded. I cannot yet tell our losses.

The conduct of the officers and men was most superb. They charged and carried every position taken up by the rebels, from Opequan creek to Winchester.

The enemy were strong in numbers and very obstinate in their fighting.

Unofficial reports say the rebels lost 5000 in killed and wounded,—and that we lost 2000.

News has been received from Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 20, that a number of rebels from Canada captured the little steamers Parsons and Island Queen, near Bass Island, in Lake Erie, Monday afternoon. They have gone down or across the Lake, probably for reinforcements, guns and ammunition. The capturing party number about 30 men, armed with revolvers and bowie knives. No arms were noticed.

☞ By the latest advice from London, the Times newspaper is in a quandary as to American war news, peace prospects and elections. The Times of the 6th, under the feeling of panic which the peace prospects have created, seeks to modify the financial apprehension it has raised, by arguing that it is premature to regard peace as certain, owing to the North maintaining the restoration of the Union as one of the absolute conditions.

A correspondent writing to the Times, thinks if President Lincoln should propose an armistice, it will only be to influence the election, and will not lead to peace, as the result. He says: "One thing is certain; if Mr. Lincoln be re-elected, by whatever means, the threats of the Democratic party to resist will be found to mere talk."

☞ A circular from the twenty type foundries in the loyal States, informs us that the prices of types and all printing materials, have been marked up again 25 per cent, making 100 in all during a year or so. [Paper excepted—and that having gone up 300 or 400 per cent already—from 10 cts. to 30 and 35 cts. per pound—seems to be satisfied for the present.] Well, go it, onward and upward, lead, antimony, and brass—and you'll get to be "the highest type of civilization," by and by, sure.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester Mirror states that the great Chicago Mass Convention which met at Manchester last Saturday, to ratify the nomination of McClellan & Pendleton, was very small, and the attendance from out of the city quite limited. The meeting was called at 2 o'clock, and three-quarters of an hour afterwards the number present by actual count was 325, about 100 of them ladies. From the efforts made it would be proper to suppose thousands of strangers would be in attendance. The Mirror adds:—"A gentleman from Pembroke informs us that the farce of all who would attend were offered. That should bring out a crowd. The Chicago platform killed the Democratic party dead as a coffin nail, and it is impossible to get up any enthusiasm for the nominees."

—— Nathaniel Woodbury shot a crane last week, which measured six feet from tip to tip. Woodbury is 70 years old, lives in Salem, this State, what was called New Salem thirty years ago, and sees well enough to shoot at a turkey match.

—— The term of service of the First N. H. Battery, enlisted chiefly from Manchester, expires on the 27th of this month.

—— The Draft commenced punctually, on Monday, everywhere.

—— Gen. Morton's health is said to be rapidly improving.

—— The 8th Heavy Artillery, raised in Newport and vicinity, started for Washington Monday. Like the companies which have preceded it, the Eighth is composed of first-class men who will make their mark on the rebels.

—— The 4th N. H. Reg't. (i.e. those who did not re-enlist,) are on their way home.

—— The following deaths took place during the two weeks preceding the 16th inst., in the hospitals in and around N. York:

George N. Abbot, Co. H. 36th Mass., residence Wakefield, N. H; Sergt. Joseph F. Delaman, C, 6th N. H., died on steamer W. Metropolis; Thomas Hubbard, A, 32d Me., residence Portsmouth, N. H.; Henry C. Moore, A, 10th N. H., residence Manchester, N. H.; O. Nash, I, 9th N. H., residence Concord; Hollis S. Pearvey, 6th N. H., residence Farmington; Russell T. Powell, D, 4th N. H., residence Concord.

Prof. Patterson. — The Claremont Eagle truly says of Hon. J. W. Patterson, M. C. from the 3d district: — "Our Representative is in great request, as a most effective popular speaker. We should be proud of him, for he is in the very front rank of New England orators and scholars."

Loss of Ship Frank Pierce. — Capt. Bush, of ship Frank Pierce, of Portsmouth, before reported abandoned on the passage from New York for Panama, with a load of coal, reports:—Sailed from New York March 16th, with a crew of 24 persons—the mate's wife as a passenger. On the 31st, M. Melvin, seaman, a native of England, fell from the foreroyal yard, on deck, and died a few days after. May 25th, made Cape St Johns, on Staten Island, and on the 27th of May was in lat 55,50 S, lon 64,50 W, by observation, after which the weather was thick and stormy and no observations. May 29th, the ship lay to under storm sails, head to the SSE, blowing very heavy, sea running mountains high, and wind hanging more southerly; at 12 o'clock noon wore ship to westward. At midnight it was blowing a terrific gale, with a high cross sea, the ship rolling, lee rail under; found that the cargo was shifting to leeward; endeavored to veer ship, but she would not pay off; set the jib and reefed the foresail but to no avail.

While thus employed, the ship gave a heavy pitch forward, which as afterwards ascertained, caused a large quantity of the coal to shift from midships forward, as the same time rolling to leeward, which bove the ship on her beam ends, washing bulwarks and everything away fore and aft on the lee side. In this position I saw she was likely to remain, and, not knowing what moment she might fill and go down, the water standing up to hatch commons, I ordered the mast to be cut away, which was accordingly done; but she continued to lay on her beam-ends.

By this time I found that the rudder head was twisted off, and that we were drifting at the mercy of wind and sea. I sent a man down in the pump well, and another down in the forehold to ascertain what water there was in the wreck. They reported the water standover the keelson in the well, and up to the lower deck beams in the forehold. Nothing was left us but to pump or sink. The ship lying over so much, the men had to sit down on deck to work the pumps. So I got one gang at work throwing overboard coal from lee side of upper between decks, which we continued night and day up to Sunday, June 5, when we saw a barque about six miles distance from us. Finding the barque was coming toward us, I concluded to leave the wreck if possible, five of the men being laid up, and the rest exhausted and ready to give up.

Commenced getting our two small boats ready, the long boat being stove by the falling of the mast. We succeded in getting one of the small boats afloat, but the other was swamped and lost. It then being quite dark, and the barque close by us, got the mate's wife and one boy in the only remaining boat, intending to put all the sick men in the first boat, but, through some misunderstanding, the boat's crew pulled alongside the barque, and put the two former on board the barque; when the boat returned we were all ready to get in, but unfortunately the boat was stove and sunk, and Peter Boardman, a native of France, was drowned. All that night and next day it was blowing a gale, and nothing could be done but pumping ship to keep her afloat. The barque kept around us all the time. On Tuesday, June 7, the wind moderated; we went to work patching up the holes in the bottom of the long boat with canvas, the only means left us to get off the wreck, and by noon got her safely afloat, and by making two journeys to the barque got all safely on board."

The barque proved to be the Charles Lambert, (of Sunderland E) Capt Thomas Roberts, bound to Coquimbo, which bore up for Falkland Islands, and landed the shipwrecked crew at Port Stanley June 13. Capt. Bush returns his thanks to Capt Roberts and first officer, Mr. Benj Harris, for their kindness while on board the barque.

ITEMS—NEW AND OLD.

"I don't remember having seen you before," as the lawyer said to his conscience.

An old lady who sells eggs in Cincinnati has over her door: "New laid eggs every day, by Betty Briggs."

—Tom Moore compared love to a potatoe, "because it shoots from the eyes;" or rather, exclaimed Byron, "because it grows less by pairing."

☞ Peterson's Magazine for October comes out, as good as ever; and what is very strange, is as cheap as ever too. Frontispiece is Master Mischief.

—A school boy being asked by his teacher how he should flag him, replied: "If you please sir, I should like to have it on the Italian system of penmanship—the heavy strokes upward and the down ones light."

—The Biddeford Journal says there are 84 grog shops in that city, every keeper of which is a copperhead—not one Union man among them.

—The choirs of the Freewill Baptist societies of Biddeford and Saco exchanged "singing seats" last Sabbath, as the clergymen exchange pulpits.

—A political flag was being raised in Philadelphia, when a passer asked, "Is that a party flag?" and a bystander replied, "No—it's the flag of the Union."

——A meeting is to be held in Lancaster next Tuesday, to ascertain if the town will vote to assess and collect forthwith, $20,000, with which to reduce its war debt.

—A cattle buyer, named Owen Thompson, was clubbed almost to death by a robber at West Albany, N. Y., Saturday night. He was also robbed of nearly four thousand dollars in checks and certificates.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for October, has four engravings, the Fairy's Court, the Young Draught Players, grand Fashion Plate, and a ludicrous wood cut of Leap Year. Owing to the high price of paper, the publisher is to raise the club price, to a rate not yet stated.

—A visitor to the White Mountains, who was refused a room at the Glen hotel, while there were spare rooms in the house, because he ascended the mountains from the Alpine House, proposes to test the question in a court of justice, whether or not a landlord is bound to take in an unobjectionable traveler.

—Joseph Gledhill, of Kent, England, went into his garden and ate a ripe plum, in which was a wasp, which stung him in the throat. So rapid was the effect of the virus, that in about three quarters of an hour after the infliction of the wound, and before medical aid could be procured, Mr. Gledhill died.

—A petition is in circulation in Roxbury, asking the City Government to appropriate a sum of money for the building of a public market house in that city. The idea is to build a substantial edifice in a central location, with a large hall in the upper part for public meetings, and apartments for the military organizations of the city.

—Under the new tax law, which went into operation on the 1st of August, receipts for money over $20 require a stamp of 2 cents, the same as bank checks. A note for $100, which paid one cent under the old law, will now pay five cents, and the same for each additional $100, or fractional part thereof.

—It is not generally known that Mr. Tennyson is indebted to Mr. Thomas Woolner, the sculptor, and the author of the recently published volume of pleasant poems, for the story and the plot of "Enoch Arden." Mr. Woolner was a guest at Farringford, the Laureate's home in the Isle of Wight, and told the story as having, in the main, actually occurred. The poet was struck with the simple yet startling narrative, and determined to make it the groundwork of the poem which has just appeared.

—Artemus Ward says: — "I went to Washington, and put up at a leading hotel, where, seeing the landlord, I accosted him with 'How d'ye do squire?' 'Fifty cents, sir,' was the reply. 'Sir?' 'Half a dollar. We charge twenty-five cents for lookin' at the landlord, and fifty for speakin' to him. If you want supper, a boy will show you to the dining-room for twenty-five cents. Your room bein' in the tenth story, it will cost you a dollar to be shown up there. 'How much do you ax a man for breathing in this equinomical tavern?' 'Ten cents a breath,' was the reply."

—The latest "mode" in regard to dessert at fashionable tables of Paris, is to serve the fruit, still growing, in pots. Pears, cherries peaches, grapes, plums, figs, nectarines, etc. are placed on the table growing on dwarfed espaliers, the pots standing on silver sockets or on trays. Strawberries thus growing are easily obtained. A pot containing a strawberry plant in full bearing is placed before each guest.

A Ghost in the Erie Tunnel.—A night or two since some workmen engaged in the Erie Railway tunnel, at Bergen, were made to emerge very quickly from that subterranean cavern, by the sudden appearance among them of what they believed to be a real ghost. One, however, more courageous than the rest, stood his ground, and when the specire approached seized upon it, and with the help of some of his frightened comrades succeded in securing the supernatural visitant, which proved to be a crazy woman in a nude condition, who had escaped from Newark. She was properly cared for, and subsequently reclaimed by her relatives.

—The Council Bluffs Nonpareil newspaper announces that having been deserted by the printer boys, who have "gone to the wars," it has "enlisted" about half a dozen of the best looking girls in town, and is now "training up" a corps of compositors not subject to the draft. The jubilant editor adds:—

"Come on, now, with your "calls" and your "conscriptions," Father Abraham, we are ready for you; take all the soldiers you want, only leave us our pressman. And ye, peregrinating printers, of the masculine persuasion, don't come this way; we want none of you; every case is taken; we have all the force we need. Blessed be crinoline! Multum in Hoops!"

In the garden of Garrick's villa, at Hampton Court, a curious scene occurred between Hannah More and Lord Monboddo. That whimsical, but learned man, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Garrick at the same time as herself. They were walking together in the garden, when his lordship astonished his fair companion by a declaration of love, and an offer of his hand and heart. His advances met with a positive refusal; and Lord Monboddo on this returned to the drawing-room, when he amused Mrs. Garrick by telling her what had just occurred, adding, "I am very sorry for this refusal; I should have so much liked to teach that nice girl Greek."—Revollections of Wilberforce.

Facts for soldiers. — Throughout the India and Crimean Campaigns, the only medicines which proved themselves able to cure the worst case of Dysentery, Scurvy, and Fever, were Holloway's Pills and Ointment. Therefore, let every volunteer see that he is supplied with them.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 228

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ The Draft was not continued in this District on Tuesday. Our list of substitutes is subject to corrections, if any are needed.

49 men were examined and accepted on Monday and Tuesday, at the Provost Marshal's Office in this City. Capt. Hall, the gentlemanly and efficient Marshal, and the whole Board, are devoting themselves assiduously to their arduous duties, and seem determined that the 1st District shall soon fill its quota, as appears by the large number of men they have taken for the past two days, and that too in the midst of drafting.

LIST of Portsmouth Enrolled Men, who have furnished Substitutes in the Infantry, Naval and Marine Service, toward the last quota:

William H Hackett	Charles H Mendum
Henry S Bodge	William G Cole
John J Pickering	James H Dow
Samuel B Childs	J Howard Dodge
Charles C Salter	Sullivan Holman
George Annable	Joseph A Grace
Frederick A Fernald	Joseph Sise
William A Paul	Moritz Emil Richter
Samuel A Badger	Asa Merrill
Albert L Payne	Samuel L Lunt
George H Rogers	John Knowlton 2d

Henry C Walker	Richard L Randall
William B Trask	Samuel P Fletcher
Charles Davis	Solomon Jenness
John P Davis	Samuel J Twombly

☞ We are frequently under obligations to Capt. Hall, and indeed to all members of the Board of Enrollment of this District—for valuable services in furnishing us, and so the public, with interesting and important information, not otherwise to be procured. To the politeness of Mr. Fred L. Dodge, for instance, (during the absence of our regular reporters,) we are indebted, for the lists of the drafted men, and also this morning for the names of those of our citizens who have furnished substitutes under the last call.

As to "representative recruits"—that is, volunteers put into the service by persons who themselves are not enrolled or liable to draft—there is but a single one from this whole District; and that is in the case of Mr. Henry Peyser of this city, which we mentioned some time ago. But we did not imagine that he would be the only individual to evince his patriotism and liberality in this commendable manner.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.—The monster steam frigate Franklin on Tuesday was towed from her moorings near the ship house from which she was launched, to the wharf near Navy Yard Landing. The tugboats Charles Pearson of Boston, and the Portfire, were employed for this purpose, one on the starboard and the other on the port side of the vessel, and after contending with the giant craft for six hours or more, succeeded in getting her to her moorings at the wharf.

— The steamer San Jacinto was docked on Tuesday.

— The machinery of steamer Colorado was set in motion on Tuesday, and we learn that it worked admirably.

— It is understood that the keel of a large steamer will be laid immediately, on the ways from which the Franklin was launched.

— The workmen at the Navy Yard on Monday and Tuesday, received the pay due them for the month of August. About $128,000 was required to pay off this roll.

— There are about 2500 workmen employed on the Portsmouth Navy Yard at the present time.

☞ Common, low-priced tenements, have for a year or two been in great demand in Portsmouth; but in these times it will not pay to build. So, to accommodate the overplus of Navy Yard workmen and others, there is talk of running a special daily train to and from Great Falls, on the Eastern Railroad, as rents are cheaper and more plenty in that locality. About 200 men are ready to join such a movement, we hear—to live at the Falls, and ride down each morning, and back at night.

☞ An anonymous correspondent "Justice" writes us that to Mr. Samuel B. Childs alone, is due the credit of arranging and decorating the beautiful dance-hall we mentioned, at the Navy yard, on the occasion of the launch.

☞ The fellows who tore down the recruiting flag of Geo. S. Leach & Co., at the head of Market St., on Monday night, we are desired to say, are pretty well known; and if they do not return it, they will be justly dealt with.

☞ The Theatrical representations of Messrs. Bidwell & Pike's Company, at the Temple, this week, are drawing good houses and giving good satisfaction.

— The value of foreign exports last week from Portland, amounted to $33,665.15.

EXCHANGE OF OPINIONS.—As we were quietly entering the shop of Messrs. Lowd & Jenness, on Congress street, Tuesday morning, a certain dog-type-r who growls and snarls in a kennel near by; and who, although what business he does needs sunshine, yet never allows any genial rays to enter his heart, or gizzard—the only effect of light on him being, to reflect the "copper" of his plates till it permeates his entire system; and who perhaps thought that because his name is like that of some of the popes, he could apply the Inquisition to us—disregarding, as no well-bred cur would do, the civil salutation we involuntarily gave him, by mistake for a gentleman, in passing; with a grunt, spoke at us, or after us:—

Question—"Did you say my boy stole?"

Our Answer—"Did you hear us say so?"

Same question repeated three or four different times, by Growler, in a tone each time waxing louder and more excited, as we ascended the stairs on our previous business—though we might well have gone up there for the same reason that John Randolph stepped out of the way of a brawling fellow in his day; who, getting in his path, bristled up and said, "I don't move for every puppy I meet." "I do," replied Randolph, and gave Blower th: whole capitol gateway.

So we, also answering Sorehead's question each time, with our very softly-put query, as at first, "Did you hear us say so?" kept on the even tenor of our way. But in this instance, a soft answer did not turn away wrath; our dog-gish friend began to call hard names and shake his fist at us, as we stood perhaps ten feet above him. Our only answer to his blackguardism was, to advise him to keep cool, and to inform him (and all his stripe) that "we don't allow him the right to catechise us." Had we gone down to him, no doubt he might have preserved the peace by saying, as another blusterer did once, to a friend of ours three times as powerful as himself, and not older certainly, under very similar circumstances, "your age alone saves you!" But it was as well perhaps that we were out of the reach of all his weapons save that which reaches farthest, and probably is his most powerful one, but didn't touch us at all—his tongue; for had he laid his paw on us, he might have had his barking stopped by being kicked into the street, as he so richly deserved.

But as it was, we let him yelp and rave like any mad dog, as long as he pleased—though he didn't seem to be pleased at all, at something—we don't know what. And when he talked about "rascal," "liar," and "skunk," (an animal which decent dogs don't chase) of course we didn't know who he meant, and so we went our way.

We did think of sending a muzzle (or warrant) after him, for assault and abusive language, and may do it yet; but we were too busy yesterday to trouble Judge Odell. Meantime, we advise all such testy individuals as he, to be sure and not "go off half-cocked," else sometime the rebound may do more harm than the charge.

THE LAUNCH.—Our New York correspondent 'N.' says it was entirely due to the efficient arrangements of two of our young City Fathers, that the Franklin was got off in such good shape, and without accident. So it seems Messrs. Pearson, Pook, Chandler, Stimpson, and all, have been unduly praised. "N." has it that:

"It having been found impracticable to remove the Navy Yard any further from Kittery Foreside, the following arrangements were made:

"Looking glasses were erected on Stratham Hill to reflect the launch, and the neighborhood thereof recommended as perfectly safe for spectators.

"Near-sighted persons could obtain a splendid view from the shoals.

"First class accomodations were found at the leading hotels, for those who always wish to see a launch through a glass.

"No whales or mackerel were allowed in the river during the launch.

"The toll on the Portsmouth Bridge was raised from two to three cents, in order to keep persons away from dangerous position's.

"Aldermen Hadler and Ridley were appointed a Committee to see that these regulations were carried into effect."

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS.—This troupe will give their first entertainment Friday at the Temple. An exchange just now says "Mr. Raynor, the middle man, is a splendid singer, and is unsurpassable in his part; while Tom Baker the comedian, and Newcomb in his 'Essence of Old Virginia', are pronounced unapproachable. The company is a strong and talented one, and cannot fail to attract crowed houses here as it has in every place where it has performed."

☞ About the best green Corn and case-knife Beans we ever did see, were left at our office a day or to ago, by the man with the shortest name in town—only one letter to each of the six feet of his measure. That don't look much like a famine in Woodburyville, Asa, even if they do have to tax us all up pretty well.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank, "
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are lighted, being made in them if allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

A full supply of Linings and Repair Pieces constantly on hand, and all orders attended to with dispatch. E. A. STEVENS.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.
IT IS, IN FACT,
The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
Are the most perfect purgative which so are yet known to the medical world, and are the best cathartic for use by anybody. Their effects have been clearly seen by every community long enough for the world to know what they are for, and to know that they do all that they claim to do. They are so easy to take, and powerful to cure. Their compounding properties eliminate the vitals of medicinal virtue, leaving the obstructions of no medicine behind to cause pain or sickness. They are the purest and best aperient which tested and proved, they are thoroughly sluggish or unorganized bowels, they rouse and regulate them, impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they overcome everyday complaints of everybody, but those formidable complaints which require the most powerful cathartic. Because they are so powerful and yet so safe, they are at the same time, in diseased and broken-down systems and yet so that not the least danger is to be apprehended. Purgatives, the compounds not to take, are very purely vegetable, so as to run no risk of harm. Cases have been added to the list of those in which they have proved to be one of certain cured positive and character to be tested the complete of extract. Many cases of every form of disease have been cured by them, from the most trivial to the most dangerous, and yet so mild and so safe, that no injury will result from their use. Their sugar coating keeps them fresh and good in any climate, and they are the most agreeable of all cathartics. Prepared by J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., and sold by druggists everywhere.

THE EFFECT OF MARRIAGE.—Doubtless you have remarked, with satisfaction, how the little oddities of men who marry rather late in life are pruned away speedily after their marriage. You have found a man who used to be shabbily and carelessly dressed, with a huge shirt collar frayed at the edges, and a glaring yellow silk pocket-handkerchief, broken of these things, and become a pattern of neatness. You have seen a man whose hair and whiskers were ridiculously cut, speedily become like other human beings. You have seen a man who used to sing ridiculous sentimental songs leave them off. You have seen a man who took snuff copiously, and who generally had his breast covered with snuff, abandon the vile habit. A wife is the grand wielder of the moral pruning knife.

If Johnson's wife had lived there would have been no hoarding up of bits of orange peel; no touching all the posts in walking along the street; no eating and drinking with disgusting velocity. If Oliver Goldsmith had been married he would never have worn that memorable and ridiculous coat. Wherever you find a man whom you know little about, oddly dressed or talking ridiculously, or exhibiting any eccentricity of manner, you may be sure that he is not a married man. For the little corners are rounded off, the little shoots are pruned away, in married men. Wives generally have much more sense than their husbands, especially when the husbands are clever men. The wife's advices are like the ballast that keeps the ship steady. They are like the wholesome, though painful, shears nipping off little growths of self-conceit and folly.—Fraser's Magazine.

DESERTERS. — Friday night three men deserted from Fort Preble, Portland, escaping, as is said, by the connivance of one of the guard. Saturday morning they took the train for Boston at Scarborough, but happened to get into the car containing the band of the 17th U. S. Infantry, by whom they were immediately recognized and arrested. Portland police officers were on the train, who took charge of the deserters and carried them to Portsmouth, where they were confined in the Provost Marshal's office until the afternoon train for Portland was ready to start, and then brought back and sent to the fort. They were armed with revolvers, but were seized before they had an opportunity to resist.—Press.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEYT'S PANACEA, and several boxes of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Sweyt's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since. I am a public agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with diseases of the stomach, loss of appetite, and other vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEIT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841

DR. SWEYT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweyt's medicine shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEIT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26

VERNATELLA.

Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one-third longer.

VERNATELLA

Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle, at retail everywhere.

But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving as a net gain the making of these Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the health.

☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜

SAVE YOUR HEALTH.

Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Assist'nt U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but though it is inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to form a large and valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN ADDITIONAL EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Old Established Hospital,

No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.

QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private disease, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus rendering themselves of no pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsle and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. Young men should of course be aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody—Startling disclosures. DR. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price by mail, only 25 cents, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy, a lecture now, showing how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

DR. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Nichols's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 30,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy; unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid these pills. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 9 to 5 P. M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

THE REBELLION.

Official dispatches from Harper's Ferry, Tuesday evening 8 o'clock, give later news from Gen. Sheridan's army.

Several officers report the number of prisoners to be in excess of 3000. The number of battle-flags captured was 15 instead of 9. All concur that it was a complete rout. Our cavalry started in pursuit at daylight that morning. Sheridan when last heard from, was at Kearnstown.

Sec. Stanton's Washington dispatch of Tuesday evening says the President has appointed Gen. Sheridan a Brigadier in the Regular Army, and assigned him to the prominent command of the Middle Military Division.

Gen. Grant has ordered the army under his command to fire a salute of 100 guns, in honor of Sheridan's great victory.

A dispatch just received from Gen. Sherman at Atlanta says—"Everything continues well with us."

The reports of to-day show that the draft is proceeding quietly in all the States. In most the districts vigorous efforts are continued to fill the quota by volunteers before the drafted men are mustered in.

A fortress Monroe dispatch mentions the capture of a schooner in Warnick river by five rebels in a boat.

Information from City Point repeats that the rebels continue to throw occasional shells at our working parties on the new railroad, but with little or no effect.

Gentlemen arrived from Hagerstown state that on Sunday, the rebels under McCausland and Johnson advanced from Bunker's Hill and attacked Averill at Martinsburg. The latter, after a spirited resistance, fell back to Hainesville, a short distance from Falling Waters, on the Virginia side of the river, where he took position. During Sunday night Gen. Averill received reinforcements, and yesterday morning advanced against the rebels and drove them back to Bunker Hill, and reoccupied Martinsburg.

On Sunday, a body of dismounted cavalry were dispatch from the camp at Hagerstown to Williamsport, where they were, at the latest accounts, guarding the fords of the river.

Considerable excitement prevails in government and military circles with regard to the two rebel steamers on Lake Erie.

It is reported at St. Louis, said to be derived from Gen. Herron's Adjutant, that Col. Scott, commanding the rebel troops near Baton Rouge, sent a proposition to Gen. Herron to surrender, with 4000 men, provided Gen. Herron would grant unconditional pardon to the general officers of his command.—Rather doubtful.

At New York on Tuesday flags were hoisted all over the city, and there was general rejoicing over Sheridan's victory.

An official dispatch from the War Department at Washington, Wednesday, says that Gen. Sheridan had pursued the rebels 30 miles from the spot where he attacked them, and at 3 P. M. Tuesday he was crossing Cedar Creek near Strasburg. No fighting. Following is a list of the rebel Generals killed and wounded. Generals Rhodes, Ramseur, Gordon, Terry, Goodwin, Brady, Johnson and Fitz Lee. From all he can learn, the prisoners will approximate to 5000. Some letters from Washington estimate the rebel loss at 10,000 killed, wounded and prisoners.

There are reports of an expected battle near Petersburg.—The Richmond Sentinel mentions that on Monday morning a party of Yankee raiders, whose numbers are not known, visited Rapidan bridge, and after destroying it, proceeded to Liberty Mills, five or six miles above, which they also destroyed.

History Repeats Itself, in such a way, that the events of the past often throw light on the present and future. A friend hands us the following array of facts and figures, showing a most remarkable coincidence of duration, between the bondage of the Israelites in Egypt, and that of the Americans in the United States. It is worthy of attention by the curious and the thoughtful.

Abraham went to Egypt in 1920 B. C. It is said that he delivered a course of lectures on astronomy during his sojourn there. Jacob and his family went to Egypt 1706 B. C. Joseph died in 1635, aged 110 years. He lived in Egypt 97 years. Levi died in 1419 B. C., aged 137 years. He was the grandfather of Aaron and Moses. Moses was born 1571 B. C. Six years before his birth, and 58 years after the death of Joseph, the children of Israel were made bondmen or slaves. May 5th, 1291 B. C., Almighty God, by the hand of Moses, delivered them, after a bondage of 86 years, four hundred and thirty years from the time Abraham went to Egypt.

In 1776 the United States declared their Independence, and that all men are born free: but forget the poor blackmen. In 1862 President Lincoln issued his Proclamation of Emancipation, being just 86 years from 1776!

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

The Congressional Com. Excursion—S.

At Home, Sept. 21.

Dear Chronicle:

I meant to have told you in my last how we got from Eastport to St. John; but before I knew it I found myself down in the pleasant Province of New Brunswick, enjoying over again the delightful days we spent there. But let us try once more.

Reembarking on board our good little cutter at Eastport, after a few minutes stop at the highest wharf we ever climbed (the steps up alongside which looked like the hundred down which Gen. Putnam's horse is absurdly pictured in the children's books as flying), to call at the Post Office for letters for our party; and up the beautiful St. Croix river we steamed, in the twilight and moonlight, to Calais, about a dozen miles.

The St. Croix, or river of the holy cross, so named, it is said, on account of the cross formed by two of its branches or arms, is the most singular river we ever traversed. For six or eight miles, broad, deep, and beautiful; then shoaling gradually, and narrowing rapidly, until for the last mile or two, at low water, there is absolutely no water at all; and the town of Calais, which at flood has a good depth of water at the wharves, about half the time is left as high and dry as our Market Square.

Well, arrived at Calais, something on the better side of midnight, there was a reception indeed; all the people of the place agog, a band of music playing a little back, off the wharf; and a big gun belching and thundering forth a loud welcome, directly on the wharf where we landed! Sounds! of all the salutes we ever heard, this came the nearest home to our heart, and especially to our ears. At each flash, the more sensitive of the party would clap their hands to their ears; and our old friend the Judge, of break-down wagon remembrance, would dodge down behind us for shield.

But finally we all got to the hotel, where the people gave us a most cordial reception, and soon had a capital hot supper spread for the whole party and many of their own people, which was accompanied by good music from that band.

And what was singular to us, currants, and abundance of most delicious raspberries, were here and everywhere spread before us, from Mt. Desert to the Provinces, when at home the time for them was over before we left. But for these, and everything else, their season is several weeks later than ours.

But better even than the raspberries, were the salmon—put on the table an hour after taken from the water, instead of having the juices and flavor frozen out of them by being packed in ice a week. What a fishing party that would be, which could go out and catch one of these silver-sided, golden-hearted "kings of the sea," for a broil, of an afternoon! Never did our teeth meet in a more succulent morsel than the salmon served up at Calais and St. John, and elsewhere down east.—Talking of fish, reminds us of the scollops, a nice sort of flat, large, thin-shelled clam they praise highly at Castine and along the coast. And also of good Father Ballard's story about the oyster-shells, at Damariscotta; where there are piles as large as one-story houses — and the shells are very large, too, many of them measuring a foot long, but narrow. It is supposed the Indians used to gather here, at the mouth of the river, each year, to eat oysters — roasting the delicious bivalves at the fire in the centre of their circle, as they sat or squat, and throwing the shells behind them. This sort of clam-bake, attended by hundreds of Indians and continued for hundreds of years, would leave, and has left, singular monuments of remembrance, in the shape of these circular hollow pyramids of oyster-shells.

At Calais we were personally indebted to Brother Hay, of the St. Croix Herald, who formerly printed his paper across the river, at St. Stephen's, on the British territory; and who, it will be remembered, was mobbed a year or two ago and driven thence by the secesh sympathizers, according to his own statement — though the Provincials insist the affair was more personal than political. No matter which, Mr. Hay has our thanks for his courtesy; as also do we most heartily and cordially give to our editorial brothers across the line, and wherever we met them.

Well, supper over (and, for once in the way, no desert of speech-making), the next thing was to get to bed. And the hotel not having accommodations for the three score or so of "our crowd," why some of us again consented to accept the invitations of prominent citizens to occupy their best chambers on this occasion. So down to Deacon Sombody's we go, under escort, at 2 o'clock at night, or rather next morning — "yours truly," and Cary (son of Shepard Cary) of the Aroostook Times; and after rattling the man of the house out of his bed, we were soon oblivious of him and all things else, in another and good one he showed us to.

Next morning, half-past five o'clock found us promenading the town — for we had but a couple of hours to "do" Calais in. Luckily meeting Judge Godfrey of Bangor, who formerly lived here, he told us more than we could have dug out in a week. In our walk we passed the house of Mrs. Dr. Holmes, sister to Vice President Hamlin; also that where Miss Prescott the novelist was born — her father, Mr. J. M. Prescott, who is said to be still living, in Oregon, having gone to Calais and married, from Newburyport, where we believe Miss P. now lives with her mother. There are less brick buildings in Calais than in almost any place we ever saw; and the river, though it don't run exactly both ways, does describe a right-angle in its course through the town.

There are but two railroads in the whole Province of New Brunswick, though it is larger than the entire New England States, with New York and New Jersey thrown in. One of these, which we have spoken of before, was built by the Provincial Government, and runs from St. John to Shediac, and is the best railroad we ever saw; the other is a private enterprise, and runs from St. Andrews, opposite Calais, up the river, seventy miles we believe.

After a capital breakfast served for us by the citizens of the town, at the hotel, at 6 o'clock, we must be off down the river again. But the river had itself gone down stream during the night; and the forty feet or so of difference between the water level of the night before and now, left no river at all within a mile or two of the town. So our cutter had dropped down stream, and was lying half a dozen miles below. And even to get on board the little river steamer Queen (with the British flag flying), we had to ride a mile or two to her lower wharf; (and for all these rides nobody would take a cent, either). Finally, all aboard, and with three cheers for the citizens of Calais, off we go, and are soon deposited on board the Mahounting, once more, (and for the last time;) three cheers for the steamer Queen and her captain, and then for a delightful morning sail down that broad and beautiful river to Eastport. By the way, the "salute," which we have generally found to be three screams of the whistle, is reduced to two down that way.

Catching fish for the oil is a great business throughout all the eastern country. At Belfast the air is redolent with the odor of defunct pogies, which are boiled for their oil, and ground for manure. Whew! And all along the St. Croix river are nets, traps, and all sorts of fixtures for taking fish, — which the great tides renders easy, of course. Ah, yes, and salmon too are taken in traps in this and the river St. John, but we trow not for oil. We were told that fish oil brings $1.25 per gallon, and that two and a half hogsheads of fish will yield a barrel. Three hundred thousand dollars worth is sold yearly at Eastport.

What looked to be sandy bottom and shores of the river, we were told was sawdust from the mills; and that your weight upon it would land you several inches if not feet below. It is filling up the river, and on the St. John river the law forbids any waste being put into it. The St. Andrew's and St. Stephen's Bank, we should say, has a good chance, with its British and American circulation on both sides of the line.

On the passage down, our historian, Hon. John A. Poor of Maine, pointed out the little island of St. Croix, "the classic soil of New England, where DeMonts made the first attempt at settlement north of Florida." Mr. Hilgards, Chief of the Coast Survey, being of our party, with his agreement the name of the isle was changed to DeMonts Isle, amid three cheers for the voyager's memory. Prof. Patterson read from Messrs. Ballard and Poor's great Popham volume, a very interesting bit of early history concerning it. But we cannot speak of these matters now. Crossing into the rushing, whirling tides at the mouth of the river, we were soon at Eastport again. Here we bade good bye to our dear little cutter, her officers and crew, and took a passenger steamer to St. John. Of which, more anon.

Yours truly. F.

Death of one of the Buckleys.—Mr. Fredrick Buckley, whose death occurred last week in Boston, will be greatly lamented, not only by his numerous friends but by the musical fraternity generally. He had arrived at that standard in his many pleasing compositions, that his success as a composer was as well known in the musical world, as that of the late Stephen H. Foster and others. Among many of his pieces which we now call to mind, are, "Where are my school mates gone?" "Break it gently to my Mother," and "She is waiting for us there," &c., which will hold a favored place in our musical albums for years to come.

Mr. B. was born near Liverpool England, in 1832; consequently he was 31 years of age. He commenced his studies on the violin in Boston, under the tuition of Keyser; and so far progressed that in 1846 he visited Europe, where he completed a musical education, through the instruction of the greatest masters. His first composition was at the age of 10 years, and the great rapidity with which he arranged music in its most difficult parts, astonished the best critics. His violin solos were considered the best in the United States. The last time he ever appeared upon any stage was in this city, at the Temple (June 22) in conjunction with his brothers, Buckleys Minstrels, and his last solo was "The Dream." We little thought then, that those sweet strains which held that crowded audience spellbound with delight, were the last from the young and favorite artist, Fred Buckley.—But he is dead.

☞ On Monday forenoon, as Capt. Enoch Hale, of Newburyport, was driving in an open wagon in that city, a large dog came out barking at his horse, and finally frightening him till he sheered to the sidewalk, throwing Capt. Hale to the ground with violence, breaking his right wrist, cutting his head badly over the right eye, and bruising him in different parts of the body and head. As he is more than 70 years old, the fall was dangerous.

☞ Copperheads tell us "the war has proved a failure." It did prove a failure while McClellan was at the helm, but since Grant took charge everything has moved right along.

Fall in Prices.—A large auction sale of domestic goods took place in New York Tuesday, when every article except flannels sold at ruinously low prices for the seller. The Express says: "The goods in this sale at one time could have been disposed of at a profit of 10 a 15 per cent., but the owner to-day lost $30,000 or $40,000 on the entire sale."

☞ An advertisement in the Newburyport Herald states that the McClellan and Pendleton Ratification Meeting proposed to be held at Newburyport to-day, Thursday, the 22d inst., is postponed on account of neither Mr. Cushing nor Mr. Spofford being able to attend and speak on that day. Due notice will be given hereafter of the time of holding the meeting. It is understood that both the gentlemen are sick.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR RESTORATIVE" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain a particle. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off, and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "RESTORATIVE" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

THE FIRST DISTRICT DRAFT,

AT PORTSMOUTH,
Wednesday, Sept. 21st.
TAMWORTH.
Deficiency 17, drawn 34.
In presence of Chas. F. Brown, esq., Hamp. Falls.

Charles O Meader	Henry T Page
Nicholas H Varney	Alonzo Nickerson
Lowes Ham	Alpheus D Remick
Charles Ames	Enoch Blokford
Joshua Elliot Jr	John F Gilman
Benj L Smith	Enoch S Eastman
Francis N Burleigh	William Cushing
James K Perkins	Martin V B Tilton
Andrew Gilman	David D Merriman
William Kenerson	Chas H Edgell
Levi E Remick	James W Blokford
Edward P Kingsbury	Clinton Mason
William S Gardner	Daniel Dow
William Tewksbury	John Glidden
Charles F Cook	Exra Standley
James Perry	Joseph F Granville
James M Pease	William Sanborn

☞ The Draft was resumed at the Provost Marshal's office in this city, on Wednesday, for Tamworth, which we report elsewhere. Besides which, 34 substitutes were examined, of which 24 accepted and 10 rejected. This we call smart work.

ARREST OF A BOUNTY-JUMPER.—Deputy Provost Marshal Kent, of this District, on Tuesday arrested a notorious bounty-jumper in this city. His real name is supposed to be Joseph Banks, from Vinal Haven, Maine; but he has several aliases, viz.: Joseph Burgess, Joseph Brown, John Bruce, etc., etc. He enlisted at the Provost Marshal's office in this city, in September, 1863, as a substitute for Charles A. Hanson, receiving his bounty. After being forwarded to Concord, he escaped from the General Rendezvous by scaling the fence. He then visited New York city, where he enlisted and escaped again. He subsequently enlisted in Concord, N. H.; and on Monday presented himself again at the Provost Marshal's office in this city.

His appearance at once caused Mr. Kent to suspect him, and he immediately started on his track; but did not feel fully authorized to make any arrest until Tuesday, (before which time the scoundrel had re-enlisted again, in the Navy, this time as a substitute for a resident of ward one, this city, receiving $850 bounty, but $300 of which was recovered after his discovery.)—when Officer Kent visited the U. S. ship Vandalia, and by permission of Capt. Bowers, brought the fellow to the Provost Marshal's office, where after being confined in irons, he acknowledged to Mr. Kent his guilt, and made a full confession, at the same time making an offer of $300 to be released; instead of which, however, he was more closely confined, and sent to Concord, to the Headquarters of Capt. Silvey, the A. A. P. M General. He enlisted the last time as a substitute for a gentleman in this city. What money he had left, was returned to its proper owner.

☞ Atlantic Engine Company No. 6, of this city, Charles S. Tucker foreman, with the Portsmouth Cornet Band, left this city on Wednesday, on a visit to Lawrence and elsewhere. The Sixes looked well, as they paraded our streets in their new uniform; and, of course, the Band played finely—it never does anything else. Both are worthy a good reception by their Lawrence friends.

☞ A rare opportunity to procure nice furniture, is offered at Mr. Wendell's sale at a house on Pleasant street, this morning.

☞ Thanks to Mr. Chas. W. Bailey, for frequent favors in the reporting line. Also to Mr. Kent, and Mr. Dodge.

☞ The Theatrical performance at the Temple to-night is the last for this week; as Newcomb's Minstrels have the hall Friday and Saturday evenings.

☞ Over $1300 have been raised in New Bedford for the proposed national sailors' fair. How much in Portsmouth?

☞ Mr. E. D. Coffin, painter, announces that he has removed to his new store on Penhallow street.

☞ John B Gough is to open the Portsmouth Lyceum, Oct. 25th.

☞ The Grand Lodge I. O. of O. F. of the United States, is now in session in Boston. A delegate writes us that they are having a pleasant time. Members present from Canada to California. Among the visitors from Portsmouth are James F. Hartshorn, John E. Rider, Geo. Annable, Jesse N. Wilson, John Stokell, Joseph H. Gardiner. The members on Tuesday evening visited the Boston theatre, by invitation of the managers; Wednesday night a levee in Music Hall, by invitation; on Thursday will visit the Public Schools, and on Friday the Water-works, by invitation of the City Government of Boston. We are indebted to Mr. Gardiner, for the printed daily journal of proceedings.

LYCEUM.—At a meeting of the Portsmouth Lyceum Association, Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for this season. A. M. Payson, President; James H. Head, Corresponding Secretary. Directors—Charles A. Shannon, John E. Ayer, A. C. Hoyt. Committee of Arrangements—John Durgin, S. M. DeMerrit, Lewis E. Smith, James P. Bartlett, Albert Laighton, Frank W. Miller, E. P. Kimball, E. A. Joy, ——Wiggin.

The Committee, it is hoped, will meet again at the Chronicle Counting Room, Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

☞ F. W. Hughes, Jr. of Hartford, Conn., of the firm of Merriman & Hughes, who was badly injured by falling through a scuttle, was insured in the Travelers' Insurance Co. for $5000 in case of death, and $25 per week compensation in case of personal injury. The prompt and honorable manner in which losses are adjusted and paid by this company, will speedily commend this branch of insurance to the public generally. Mr. John Sise, No 5 Market Square, is the agent for the above company in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Surgeon General Barnes has consented to order the transfer of all sick and wounded New Hampshire soldiers immediately on receiving official notice that the Manchester Hospital is complete. Notice to this effect has already been forwarded to Washington.

—— The United States Convention of Universalists begun their session on Tuesday, at Concord.

HOW IT KEEPS STEADY.—Some surprise having been expressed in New York city, at the steadiness of the gold market, the Commercial explains it by saying the regular operators have during the last ten days adopted a general system of accepting due bills in lieu of deliveries of gold, which pass from one to another, probably for a week. This shows up the daily gold brokerage to be somewhat like a humbug, in which the operator's amuse themselves at the expense of the people, and especially the poorer people, who have to pay high prices for their daily food, that a few adventures may feather their nests.

—A man on Cape Cod, who had separated from his wife, married a second with whom he lived a year and a half, and then died. His first wife came forward and took possession of the estate; the second wife sued for pay for services during the time she lived with the deceased, and a jury gave her a verdict for $2 per week.

WE ASSERT IT BOLDLY.—There are no other Medicines so reliable, effectual and convenient as Holloway's Pills and Ointment, always ready for use. They are invaluable to the Soldier exposed to Wounds, Sores, Fevers and Bowel Complaints. They never fail.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 229

Would you save yourself from suffering after eating, or from acidity of the stomach, or burning sensation, or indigestion? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Never use soda if you can procure this article. It will strengthen weak stomachs and relieve dyspepsia; is a saving in the quantity of flour, &c., &c. Try it. Grocers and Druggists most all sell it. The Wholesale Agents are Wholesale Grocers.

☞ Mr. Speer, having some property in New Jersey, turned his attention to the cultivation of the Sambuco, imported from Portugal. It bears a grape whose superior quality, juiciness and richness in saccharine matter is unexcelled by that of the Catawba. After numerous experiments in fermentation, Mr. Speer has produced a wine which will immortalize his name and prove a new honor to America.—[Boston Traveller.

This wine can be found at druggists.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

1st National Bank of Portsmouth, N H,
Nat. Mech. & Traders' Bank, "
and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

All Furnaces, Stoves and Funnels should be thoroughly cleaned out and put in order, as soon as fires are done being made in them. If allowed to remain filled with ashes and soot through the summer, they will decay very rapidly, and useless expense be incurred.

Facts for the People.

The enormous rise in price of Iron, Coal and Labor, has caused manufacturers to advance the price of STOVES and Castings several times since the war began; and it is now arranged to make a general advance of 25 to 50 per cent. this season.

We have not yet raised the price of Stoves in proportion to their increased cost, but shall be compelled to do so very shortly. Persons who expect to purchase anything in the Stove and Furnace line within a year or two, will save money by doing so at once. The price of a Stove is not so much an object, now, as its capacity and the cost of operating it. All things considered, there is no Stove equal to

THE MODEL COOK.

IT IS, IN FACT,

The Best Stove Out,

for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Many people think it best to use an old stove as long as possible, but it is far better to throw it away and purchase a MODEL COOK, than to keep it at the present high price of fuel.

One of our shrewdest citizens who purchased a MODEL COOK STOVE a year since, says he has saved more than its cost already.

A careful, prudent farmer purchased one, and after it had been in operation some days his son came into the store and said, "something was wrong at their house;" his father and himself used wood off the same pile, he burned three baskets full a day, and his father only one! We sold him a Stove before he left, and there has been no complaint since.

These Stoves are in use in many hotels and boarding houses, and in hundreds of private families in this city and vicinity, and give the best of satisfaction.

SATISFIED WITH THE TERMS.—A certain good natured old Vermont farmer preserved his constant good nature, let what would turn up. One day while the black tongue prevailed in the state, one of his men came in, bringing the news that one of his red oxen was dead. "Is he?" said the old man; "well, he always was a breechy cuss. Take his hide off and carry it down to Fletcher's; it will bring cash." An hour or so after, the man came back with the news that "lockback" and his mate were both dead. "Are they?" said the old man; "well, I took them of B——, to save a debt that I never expected to get. It's lucky it ain't the brindles. Take the hides down to Fletcher's; they will bring the cash." After the lapse of another hour the man came back to tell him that the high brindle was dead. "Is he?" said the old man; "well, he was a very old ox. Take off his hide and send it down to Fletcher's; it is worth cash, and will bring more than two of the others. Hereupon his wife, who was a very pious soul, taking upon herself the office of Elisha, reminded her husband very severely of his sins, and asked him if he was not aware that his loss was the judgment of Heaven for his wickedness. "Is it?" said the old fellow; "well, if they will take the judgment in cattle, it is the cheapest way I can pay it."

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce or which we think it possible to produce. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to destroy life-generating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body; remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out of the foul humors which breed and grow diseases, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases which they produce powerful effects; they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Sugar-coated, they look like and taste like candy, and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to recommend to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing a dozen testimonials, and certificates of their current cures of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid function of the Bowels and in a word, throughout, Liver Complaint. All these and many others which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which, at this season, not one person either studied complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstructions of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other pretenses which they may make more profit on. Demand AYER's and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

and the best remedy ever prepared for

Diseases of the Liver,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood, and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the Blood Root Elixir, is attended with results to medical science next in importance to the discovery of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves powerful and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process, so extracted and combined as MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the use of other vegetable cathartics. They are also made to become HIGHLY PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE, and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no nauseous or reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are its elements in purgative medicines.—

A Diffusive and Alterative Effect,

The hard and compact manner in which pills are prepared renders them indigestible—and when taken are forced through the stomach and bowels, half-dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with the stomach and bowels. The Elixir, diffused, acts on them, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a single dose.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action into the bowels, but is equally diffused there and throughout the whole circulation of the blood, imparting a healthy action of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and disorbed secretions through the whole system.

A single will convince you of a cheerful and unblistering COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence and assurance of IMPLIATE RELIEF. A few days continued use of the medicine will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface, of the skin, and relieve or check consumptive Asymptoms, purifying and strengthening the blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to set their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS and COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild effective action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and does not use no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers, both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils to which they are subjected to endure from a change of diet, water, or of climate.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the Blood Root Elixir, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his well known SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years since, member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1826.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his Blood Root Elixir, that he hereby offers to any person who will call at his office, one dollar for a bottle of his Elixir and yet be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to refund to said person the amount which he paid for the same, by returning the village bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 per Bottle.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, opposite the Post Office, and No. 19 Market Square; and by Dealers in Medicine generally, and at Dr. Richardson's Office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston. 4m6—3moeoiw

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in these cases of Fluor Albus or Whites in females; where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is a powerful diuretic in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an auxiliary assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and removing all smarting, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are stopped, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Price—CHEROKEE INJECTION, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

DR. WRIGHT'S

REJUVENATING ELIXIR,

OR ESSENCE OF LIFE.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Extracts,

Containing nothing injurious to the most delicate.

The Rejuvenating Elixir is the most valuable discovery in the Vegetable kingdom; being an entirely new and abstract method of cure, irrespective of all the old and worn-out systems.

This medicine has been tested by the most eminent medical men of the day, and by them pronounced to be one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

One bottle will cure General Debility.

A few doses cure Hysterics in females.

One bottle cures Palpitation of the Heart.

A few doses restore the organs of generation.

From one to three bottles restore the manliness and full vigor of youth.

A few doses restore the appetite.

Three bottles cure the worst case of Impotency.

A few doses cure the low spirited.

Two bottles restore mental power.

A few doses bring the rose to the cheek.

This medicine restores to manly vigor and restoration of the powers of the mind, worn down and despairing devotee of sensual pleasure.

The ladies enervated youth, the over-tasked student, the victim of secret or exclusive devotion, the individual suffering from general debility, or from weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief by the use of this Elixir or Essence of Life.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would, especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cod-fish heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the throwing of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, which is considered very and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and performance in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would invite those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, passed into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the application of a current of atmospheric air, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, without the ability of the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Communication.

THE PRESENT HIGH PRICES of almost everything would seem to indicate a present, or an expected future famine, although there is an abundance of agricultural products, especially in some of our Western States, and the prospect for good crops this season is very good. A great plenty tends to reduce the prices, not only of the fruits of the earth, but of dry goods, and most other articles. Why, then, the present exhorbitant and unreasonable prices? Their origin may be traced to unscrupulous and unprincipled speculators taking advantage of the times to increase their wealth. New York city is the grand emporium of trade, which governs the other markets, and there wealthy citizens reside. Speculators in our principal cities from selfish motives follow their example, regardless of the injury they may do to the common or poorer classes of the community.

But we are happy to learn from the public press that the high prices are falling, and will probably soon be largely reduced. Our recent victories have an effect, and if the rebellion soon be crushed out, as may be expected, the present prices may be greatly reduced. Then, should the speculators suffer, or be ruined by the reduction, they would not deserve the public sympathy. They hoard up the gold and silver specie in order to profit by the depreciation of the national paper currency, expecting, or hoping, that our arms will not be victorious, or else that the war will long be continued. They evince their ignorance of the vast resources and physical energies of the North. Although gold bears a premium over the notes and bills of the government, the latter are of equal value for all the ordinary business transactions, except to pay the import duties, and debts due in Europe, and for manufacture; for not only a hundred millions, to be paid in specie for the import duties, which furnishes a solid basis for the redemption of the greenbacks, but the whole property of the loyal States is responsible for their redemption. We concede that the expansion of the currency, and the high rate of the wages of labor, tend to enhance prices, but deny that they justify the present prices.

All depends, more or less, upon our agricultural products; but the times and circumstances afford no justification for our farmers in demanding unreasonable prices. Let them, as honest men should do, vend their surplus products at fair and reasonable prices, and the other classes would be induced to follow their example.

CALCULATA.

VALUABLE "SECRETS."—The unpleasant odor produced by perspiration is frequently the source of vexation to persons who are subject to it, as well as to others. Nothing is simpler then to remove this odor much more effectually than by the application of such costly unguents and perfumes as are in use. It is only necessary to procure some of the compound spirits of ammonia, and place about two table-spoonsful in a basin of water. Washing the face, hands and arms with this, leaves the skin as clean, sweet and fresh as one could wish. The wash is perfectly harmless, and very cheap. It is recommended on the authority of an experienced physician.

DISTURBANCES AT HAVERHILL.—There was some excitement at Haverhill, Mass., on Saturday, because two leading citizens had obtained an injunction restraining the town treasurer from paying out money for substitutes. There was at one time a fear of violence by the mob, but cooler counsels prevailed, and a subscription paper was started, when the gentlemen who had obtained the injunction, led off with two hundred dollars each. Messrs. Duncan and Marsh were the parties obnoxious to the crowd.

There is one curious instance of an original thinker who did not like rambling—at least country rambling—Charles Lamb. But no man was less under guideship, and the manner in which he stood by his city walks and associations was bold and original. A friend to whom he maintained that all the world should be "Town," asked him where his favorite peas would grow then. True to his principles, he answered promptly, "On the roofs of the houses."

He infused similar notions into his friend Talfourd; but behold the force of truth! Talfourd came into Scotland, and meeting with some good fellows there, took to wandering. He did so rather awkwardly, as all beginners will—trying afterwards, for instance, to get to top of Mont Blanc, and failing. Had he "taken to the hill" some twenty years earlier, he might have been living now to cheer the world with his kindly smile and glittering wit.

VERNATELLA.
Warranted to make the Soles of Boots and Shoes water and dampness proof, and wear one third longer.
VERNATELLA
Is a preparation from Copper, having no grease, linseed oil, or anything of the kind, and when the soles are once saturated with it, water can no more get through them than through copper itself. Price 25 Cents Per Bottle,
at retail everywhere.
But its cost to the purchaser is really NOTHING, as it makes the soles wear enough longer to more than pay for it, leaving a net gain the making of them Water and Dampness Proof, and the preservation thereby of that priceless gem, the feet!!
☞ LADIES, READ THIS! ☜
SAVE YOUR HEALTH.
Use Vernatella on the Soles of your Shoes. It makes them water proof and thereby protects your feet from dampness, for the ground is always more or less moist, either from rain or the morning and evening dew.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!
DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being the largest and most extensive Dispensary of Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a safe and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health, and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now robust in all that constitutes the desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures Dr. Teller's great work for the Married or those contemplating Marriage, 300 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married, and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr Teller has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. Teller still continues the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vighon's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P. M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1864.

A NEW COMIC WRITER.—Jack Downing, Artemas Ward and Josh Billings must hide their diminished heads now. Mr. Sweetser, who presided over the McClellan meeting at Worcester on Wednesday, has eclipsed them all, in a speech which he read on taking the chair. He said:

Under McClellan the people were marching to sure victory over all enemies of Constitutional liberty.

This joke is too good to be lost. The reader may remember the poetry? of the Potomac army when the hero McC. took command, which ran thus:—"No more retreats, no more defeats." And then the reader may also remember, that that army under McClellan were not "marching on to victory" nor to anything else, but were kept all winter shivering under tents, while the enemy built and lived in comfortable huts, our General all the time making great promises, but doing nothing.

Mr. Sweetser says again: to-day we will say to the friends of Constitutional liberty in the Middle States, that if they will gain one half what we will gain in Massachusetts, victory shall be theirs and ours.

Very likely the friends of liberty will gain,—but "we" the friends of slavery don't seem to be gaining very fast.

The best and most cheeky joke of the whole Sweetser series is the last, as follows:

He alluded to the successes of Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Farragut, claiming them as Democratic victories.

No one need object to the claim of their being democratic in the true sense of the word;—but they are gall and wormwood to the copperhead leaders here and every where, as they look to the subjugation of the rebels and rebellion together, and put a wet blanket on the prospects of the sham general whose exploits in politics are about equal to his heroism in the field, and whom the wirepullers are trying in vain to pass off as a hero, that they may make him a tool whereby they may dig their way into office and power. They find it up hill work. U. T.

GEN. SHERMAN'S LETTER.

The following is the reply of Gen. Sherman to Gen. Hood's charge of studied and ungenerous cruelty, which was received in Washington on Wednesday. It is a thorough answer to the rebel General, and equally so to the leading copperhead papers in New York, Boston and elsewhere, which have echoed Hood's groans.

"To General J. B. Hood:

General,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of this date at the heads of Messrs. Ball and Orr, Eags., consenting to the arrangements I had proposed to facilitate the removal South of the people of Atlanta who prefer to go in that direction. I inclose you a copy of my orders, which will, I am satisfied, accomplish my purpose perfectly.

You style the measure proposed "unprecedented," and appeal to the dark history of the war for its parallel as an act of "studied and ungenerous cruelty." It is not unprecedented, for Gen. Johnston himself very wisely and properly removed families all the way from Dalton down, and I see no reason why Atlanta should be excepted.

Nor is it necessary to appeal to the dark history of war, when recent and modern examples are so handy. You yourself burned dwelling-houses along your parapet, and I have seen to-day fifty houses that you have rendered uninhabitable because they stood in the way of your forts and men. You defended Atlanta on a line so close to the town that every cannon shot and many musket shots from our line of investments that overshot their mark went into the habitations of women and children. Gen. Hardee did the same at Jonesboro; and Gen. Johnston did the same last summer at Jackson, Miss.

I have not accused you of heartless cruelty, but merely instance these cases of very recent occurrence, and could go on and enumerate hundreds of others, and challenge any fair man to judge which of us has a heart of pity for the families of "a brave people."

I say it is kindness to those families of Atlanta to remove them now at once from scenes that women and children should not be exposed to, and a brave people should scorn to commit their wives and children to rude barbarians who thus, as you say, violate the laws of war as illustrated in the pages of its dark history.

In the name of common sense I ask you not to appeal to a just God in such a sacrilegious manner. You who in the midst of peace and prosperity have plunged a nation into civil war—dark and cruel war, — who dared and badgered us to battle, insulted our flag, seized our arsenals and forts that were left in the honorable custody of peaceful ordnance sergeants, seized and made prisoners of war the very garrisons sent to protect your people against negroes and Indians, long before any overt act was committed by the, to you, hateful Lincoln Government; tried to force Kentucky and Missouri into rebellion spite of themselves, falsified the vote of Louisiana, turned loose your privateers to plunder unarmed ships, expelled Union families by thousands, burned their houses, and declared by an act of your Congress the confiscation of all debts due Northern men for goods had and received.

Talk thus to the marines, but not to me, who have seen these things, and who will this day make as much sacrifice for the peace and honor of the South as the best born Southerner among you.

If we must be enemies, let us be men and fight it out as we propose to-day, and not deal in such hypocritical appeals to God and humanity. God will judge us in due time, and He will pronounce whether it be more humane to fight with a town full of women and families of a "brave people" at our back, or to remove them in time to places of safety among their own friends and people.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, (Signed) W. T. SHERMAN.

— There was a rumor in New York to-day that the sloop-of-war Hartford, flag-ship of Admiral Farragut, and the Mobile pay, had blown up.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Concord is a little behind with her quota, and the city government has voted that a bounty of $450 be paid to all citizens who shall enlist for the term of one year. A large meeting of citizens had before recommended $500.

—— The Secretary of War, as we learn from the Monitor, has informed Gov. Gilmore that the organization of the twelve N. H. companies of Heavy Artillery has been ordered; and the people should congratulate themselves on the action of the Executive, which has thus secured the privilege that the New Hampshire companies shall be consolidated under officers whom he may select.

—— The extension of the New Hampshire State House, at Concord, has been marked out, and workmen are breaking ground for the foundations, in front of the old structure. The work will now be rapidly pushed to completion.

—— Private Joseph P. Lovering, Co. G, 8th N. H., has been sentenced to death for desertion.

—— The health of Gen. Marston is rapidly improving.

—— A dispatch from Fortress Monroe, dated 18th, says the 4th Regt. left for home that afternoon.

—— The 9th Company of Heavy Artillery, N. H. V., Capt. Charles O. Bradley, left Concord on Wednesday, for Washington. This is the third time Capt. Bradley has marched to the field.

—— John Stearns of Manchester was arrested on the charge of passing counterfeit U. S. currency. He was held in $5000 for trial at Exeter in October.

—— Henry L. Patten, late of the 20th Mass., who died Sept. 10, of wounds received in a skirmish at Deep Bottom, Va., was born at Kingston, N. H., 1836, and was a brother of W. C. Patten, Esq. He was in the Cambridge Law school, where he obtained a commission from Governor Andrew. His remains were brought to Cambridge, and he was buried from the College chapel, Revs. President Hill and Prof. Peabody officiating. So says the Boston Correspondent of the Ballot.

—— The Manchester Mirror says that a nicely dressed lady supposed to be on her way to the Universalist Convention at Concord, died suddenly on the train from Boston on Wednesday morning. The name on her handkerchief was B. P. Lamoine, Boston. The body was taken to Concord.

—— Counterfeit Fives on the New Ipswich Bank, have made their appearance in Boston. Vignette, female holding shield, and eagle, in upper left; a large figure 5 in the middle of the bill, with the word Five in the top; ship on the stocks in lower right corner; figure 5 in upper right and lower left corners, much smaller than in the genuine; also word Five, in red, below name of Bank, the letters close together; in the genuine they are wide apart.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Commercial's special Washington despatch says:

"A Virginian reports that he conversed Tuesday with an acquaintance from Richmond, who states that Lee has positively but 40,000 troops independent of Early's command."

Official dispatches to St. Louis announce that a fight occurred on the 19th at Powder Mill, on Little Rock river, in southeast Missouri, between a detachment of the 3d Missouri militia and a portion of Shelby's command. Our loss was twenty killed and wounded. The rebel loss is unknown. Wounded prisoners report that Price and his whole army are at Pocahontas, Arkansas. One thousand rebels are at Chalk Bluff, and four hundred at Kennett's, preparing to attack Bloomfield in Stoddard county. Shelby was at Powhattan, Arkansas, on the 12th, with 4000 to 8000 men.

The 203d Pennsylvania Sharpshooters, over 1000 strong, left Philadelphia for the front on Wednesday.

The pirates, or copperheads, or whatever they are, on Lake Erie have come to grief. Commander Carter, of the steamer Michigan, telegraphed to the Secretary of the Navy, dating Johnson's Island, Wednesday, concerning the capture of the pirates of the steamers Parson and Island Queen. He says they were pursued by him, and that he has got the principal agent a prisoner on board, and many accomplices. He adds: "All well and safe at present." Col. Hall has six of the pirate party on Johson's Island.

☞ Messrs. Paine and Plunkett were re-nominated at Worcester, Mass., on Wednesday, to run as the McClellan candidates for Governor and Lieut. Governor of Massachusetts. The platform is wholly Presidential;—no State issue is made.

—"War has never been known to increase the piety of a country, much less of a city. Richmond, above all cities, is experiencing its full share of internal corruption. It is estimated there are ten thousand publicly and privately kept women in Richmond."

— It is reported that the second daughter of King Christian of Denmark is about to be betrothed to the Czarwitch Emperor of Russia; also that the King of Greece is to marry a Russian influence at Athens completes.

ARE THE GERMANS WRONG IN WANTING OUR BONDS?—Not a bit of it! No shrewder, thriftier people, in matters of money, exist on earth. Our Jersey people and New England people are a frugal, industrious people, but they can't save money like the Germans. All Germany is a great savings bank. It is true that their working men are not so rich, on an average, as our working men, because they don't get more than one quarter of the wages of our men. But a German can save money, and he knows when it is safe. Now these shrewd, thrifty Germans want our bonds. They want them by millions. They turn aside from the great beggars of the world in Europe, and come to us Republicans. They treat the notes of Napoleon and Joseph and Maximilian with indifference, but want to discount all the American notes they can get.

The London Times says this is all wrong—that the Republicans in America are all bankrupt, and the Germans must be crazy to slight British and French beggars, and go begging, themselves, to America. Are they crazy? We asked Poor Richard what he thought about it. "Why," said he, "how can they be crazy, when they are doing just what I did a little more than a year ago, when I put my little savings into Government six per cents? Now see what I got by it; just count up. I have received six per cent, in gold, which averaged 100 per cent. in currency, making 12 per cent. income. Now, to-day, my bond is saleble in the New York market at 10 per cent. premium. Put these together, and to day I have 22 per cent. for one year's use of my money! What do you think of that? You know, as well as I do, that there are thousands of people who did this, and to-day they have 22 per cent. on their investments.

Why, I saw Miss Jones, our school-maam, go to the bank and buy a $500 bond. How she got the money I don't know, but these Yankee schoolmistresses are first rate hands at taking care of themselves. Well, now, count up. If Miss Jones sells her bonds to-day she gets her $500 back safe, and has $110 clear gain. Can you sharp fellows down there in William street do any better? You know I told Mr. Smith, the banker, my ideas about that, and he bought $5,000 six per cent. bonds, and you see he got $1,100 for a year's use of his money. I met him the other day, and he said. 'Poor Richard, you are right; I begin to think, the Government can take care of itself and us to. For my part, I mean to buy some of the 7.30's. The rate of interest is high enough, and in three years they will turn into six per cent. bonds again.' 'Yes, Mr. Smith, it is right on the money side; but, it is right on the country's side too. Help your country, or it can't help you.

Now, I say the Germans are not only right, but they would be right if they got half of that interest. They cannot take a quarter of it at home." So thought Poor Richard, and so think we. When we think of the German opinion of our situation and our financial strength, we must remember that they are far better judges of our condition than we are, or our enemies are. They are lookers on, at a great distance. They have none of our enmities or prejudices. They can examine the facts disinterestedly. They do; and the result is a verdict that the American Government is stable—its ability and integrity in meeting its financial engagements unquestionable. This verdict, too, is founded on a series of facts which are unimpeachable, and well known to every intelligent American. Take two or three of the most important:—1. The United States doubles its population each twenty-five years. The population of the country, which in 1850 was twenty-three millions, will in 1875 be forty-six millions.

But the rebellion! says some one. How much has the rebellion diminished the strength of the United States? Take this astonishing fact, that if all the rebel States had been sunk in the Pacific Ocean, the United States would in 1875 have a population equal to that of the whole in 1860. In other words, fifteen years will supply the total loss of the eleven original Rebel States! What can impede the progress of such a country? 2. The wealth of the country increased 127 per cent. in ten years! Now let it increase but 80 from 1860 to 1870, and it will amount to ten times all the loans of the government. The German knows what he is about. He will get the largest income from loans in the world, on the safest security. No such opportunity has occurred before for the investment of money, and in all probability will never occur again. If the American does not know and take advantage of this, the German and Frenchman will.—Ex.

"A Wonderful Discovery."

DR. TEBBETTS' "PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR" is compounded in strict accordance with the well known laws of Physiology and modern vegetable Chemistry. It is not a "DYE," and will not stain or parboil. It will "RESTORE GRAY HAIR" in all cases to its original color. It promotes a luxuriant growth of new HAIR in all cases on BALD HEADS, when the glands or roots of the hair are not completely disorganized. It prevents the hair from falling off and removes all dandruff, heat, humors and itching from the scalp. It keeps the hair soft, moist and perfectly healthy, and gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance. It is highly perfumed, and as a Dressing it has no superior. The "REGENERATOR" is warranted to produce the above results in all cases, if not the money to be refunded. With it every "GRAY HEAD" in New England can be restored in less than sixty days.

☞ There was no Drafting in this District on Thursday.

Thirty Substitutes and Volunteers were examined on Thursday. Twenty-three accepted and the remainder rejected. All though the Draft for Conway, in this district, took place on Monday, we understand that the quota was filled and also a surplus furnished yesterday. All honor to the Conway Volunteers.

☞ Com. Theodorus Bailey has been ordered to the command of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, in place of Com. George F. Pearson, who has been ordered to the command of the Pacific Squadron.

☞ Atlantic Engine Co. No. 6, of our city, Capt. Chas. E. Tucker, returned last evening from a visit to the cities of Lawrence and Salem, Mass. They were accompanied on their excursion by the Portsmouth Cornet Band. At Lawrence they were the guests of several members of Ex-Co. No. 2. The present fire department of Lawrence being furnished with steam fire engines, there is no general organization. At Salem they were received by Engine Co. Relief No. 3, the Wm. Penn Hose Co. No. 1, and Steamers Nos. 2 and 3. Much gratification was expressed with the hospitality extended them in each city, and we feel sure that Portsmouth cannot suffer abroad in the reputation of her fire department when so worthily represented as on this occasion. The returning Co. brought with them to our city several relics or trophies of their pleasant excursion, among which was a fire-axe, taken by a Salem Co. at the late disastrous conflagration in Gloucester, and an old bell, the gift of the Wm. Penn Hose Co. of Salem.

On the arrival of the Atlantic Co. in our city, last evening, they proceeded to the house of Laconia Engine Co. No. 2, Capt. Hiram Locke, on Court street, where a bountiful colation was spread for them. After partaking of this substantial token of Laconia's regard, and a short season of social intercourse, Atlantic Co. were escorted to their own house by the Band.

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS.—Were we to refer back a century or two, we would ascertain that great Statesmen and even Ecclesiastics did not consider it beneath their dignity to recruit and solace themselves, after important business, with the conversation of their fools; but the custom was long ago abolished, and since then entertainments of a varied nature have been multiplying for the amusement of all classes; but none have been so universally admired or pleased more than Ethiopian Minstrelsy. The Intellect of the country seems to derive more enjoyment from these entertainments than any other, and if we had space to spare, we might give them affirmation in their own glowing language.

Who can resist the sallies of wit with the broad humor, or the grotesque pantomime of Newcomb? or fail to admire the interrogater Rainer, who piles the "end men" with queries that elicite such ridiculous answers? or not feel charmed at the touching ballads of Rainer, Dunnie and Chrosher? or admire the perfect time of the clog dance of young Hengler? Shall we still proceed to, and allude to their Burlesque operas, which are such rich caricatures of the original performers? their comedies, which put to blush many a professional, and so on, ad infinitum?

Mr. Newcomb has long been a favorite, and our citizens will be glad to hear that we are to have a series of his inimitable soirees. Attached to the troupe is Sergeant Childers, the best drilled in the manual of arms of any man in America.

Newcomb's Troupe appear at the Temple, this and to-morrow evenings.

☞ Respecting the four sons of chivalry, belonging to Kentucky, who had entered as students at Phillips Academy, and who seceded last week because a colored student from New Bedford was admitted to the advantages of the institution, the Ballot says, the Academy survives, and so does the student by whom they feared to be eclipsed.

— The fast line train going eastward on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which left Pittsburg Tuesday night, ran into the rear end of a freight train on the eastward track at Thompsonton station, Juniata county, early next morning. The engine was driven into the front passenger car, which took fire from the overturning of a stove, and with three other passenger cars was burned. It is supposed that six persons were killed or held among the ruins of the cars and consumed with them. Thirteen passengers were taken from the broken cars, wounded, some seriously.

— A soldier who was reading inscriptions on the transparencies in a democratic procession in Trenton, and discovered nothing inscribed thereon but abuse of the President of the United States and insults at our own government, turned to a companion and exclaimed: "I say, Jim, this is the first rebel raid we've seen since we left Virginia!"

— The total deficiency on the quota of Massachusetts on Wednesday, was 72 men, of which 21 were wanting from Springfield. A number of towns deficient last week, were supplied from contraband enlistments at the South. Newburyport is supposed to have a surplus of about 80 men, counting her "contrabands."

☞ Gen. Sully's official report of the battle at Tahkahokuty mountain, situated on the Little Missouri, has been received in Washington. The report states that there were at least 5000 or 6000 Indian warriors, while Sully's entire force numbered on the field only about 2200 men. The country is intersected by deep ravines and felled timber, of which the savages took advantage, but by the skilful manœuvres of our officers they were driven in a circle of about 3 miles to the base of the mountain beyond the line of skirmishers, and many of them killed. The Indians fought with skill and extraordinary desperation, but they were all finally put to flight. By sunset there were none on the ground, and our troops that night slept on the battle-field.—There were subsequent successful operations against the Indians, whose vast quantities of goods left in the timber and ravines were destroyed. Early in August Gen. Sully marched towards the Yellow Stone, expecting again to overtake the enemy on the way.

☞ Late advices from England give these items:

The British Government has declined to interfere in the case of the pirate Georgia.

The steamer Damascus, from Liverpool 1st inst., has put back with her machinery disabled.

The agent of Lloyds gives a report that a large and swift steamer had arrived at Bremerhaven and hoisted the Confederate flag. She carries 300 men, and is pierced for 40 guns, and is said to be commanded by Semmes.

The London Gazette announces the Queen's order, that no war ships of either of the North American beligerents will in future be allowed to enter or remain in any British port for the purpose of being dismantled or sold.

JEFF. DAVIS ON RE-UNION.— Mr. Jefferson Davis, in a speech before the legislature of Mississippi, on the 26th of Dec, 1862, which will be found in the Rebellion Record, vol. 6, page 584, expressed himself in the following manner while referring to a re union with the North. We commend the extract to the "Peace" democracy, that they may understand the estimation in which their real chief holds them. Mr. Davis says;

"Our enemies are a traditionless and homeless race. From the time of Cromwell to the present, they have been the disturbers of the peace of the world. Gathered together by Cromwell upon the fens and bogs of the north of Ireland and of England, they commenced by disturbing the peace of their own country. They disturbed Holland to which they fled, and disturbed England on their return. After what has happened the last two years, my only wonder is that we consented to live for so long a time in association with such miscreants. Were it ever proposed to enter again into a UNION with such a people, I could no more consent to it than to trust myself in a DEN OF THIEVES."

Such are the men and such the acknowledged leader, to whom the Democratic party are holding out the Olive Branch, and entreating again to take part in the management and control of the Federal Government—men whose treason has already cost us half a million men, and more than two thousand millions of money! For such men they have no word of reproach, while every possible contumely is thrown upon those who are seeking to subdue their rebellion, and to maintain our national honor and integrity.

WE ASSERT IT BOLDLY.—There are no other Medicines so reliable, effectual and convenient as Holloway's Pills and Ointment, always ready for use. They are invaluable to the Soldier exposed to Wounds, Sores, Fevers and Bowel Complaints. They never fail.

If the reader of this "notice" cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, 80 Maiden Lane, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. 35 cents, 88 cents, and $1.40 per box or pot. 229

Would you save yourself from suffering after eating, or from acidity of the stomach, or burning sensation, or indigestion? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Never use soda if you can procure this article. It will strengthen weak stomachs and relieve dyspepsia; is a saving in the quantity of flour, &c., &c. Try it. Grocers and Druggists most all sell it. The Wholesale Agents are Wholesale Grocers.

☞ Mr. Speer, having some property in New Jersey, turned his attention to the cultivation of the Sambaco, imported from Portugal. It bears a grape whose superior quality, juciness and richness in saccharine matter is unexcelled by that of the Catawba. After numerous experiments in fermentation, Mr. Speer has produced a wine which will immortalize his name and prove a new honor to America.—[Boston Traveller.

This wine can be found at druggists.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of This Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discount.

Convertible into a 6 per ct. 5-20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in different parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.
